Publisher’s Foreword

Islam has given two reliable pathways for the guidance of mankind. One of them is the clear Verses of Qur’ân while the other, quite consistent with the first, is what we call Sunnah or Hadith.

To explain and interpret its basic and brief teachings, Qur’ân has itself mentioned the need for Sunnah and the Prophet’s model lifestyle. The latter explains the former. The Sunnah is an indispensable guide to understand the commandments and passages of Qur’ân. Without Ahādīth, the entire faith and the entire Shari’ah (Islamic Law) will become no better than a riddle. It is to be noted that the wealth of expository material relating to Shari’ah, as found in Ahādīth, was also given to the Prophet ﷺ by Allāh through the archangel Gabriel (Jibra’il). This is why Qur’ân is called Revelation Recited (Wahy Matlu) while the Hadith is called Revelation Unrecited (Wahy Ghair Matlu).

The Arabic word Hadith means conversation, account, narrative, report, and also novel or modern. But as a technical term, however, it means the deeds, utterances, circumstances and matters of Allāh’s Messenger ﷺ and his mission (through his Companions and their followers). Hadith is also called Sunnah (Tradition), Akhbār (information, report, communication, and message) and Athar (track, trace, sign, mark). Hadith may be verbal, or practical or just tacit (that is, when the Prophet ﷺ did not object to some thing, thereby giving his tacit approval). However, some include even the Prophet’s Sharā’il (his physical descriptions, natural disposition and habits) under the general heading of Hadith.

The authority of Hadith, its truth and its position in Shari’ah is indisputable. The proper art of writing began soon after the Prophet ﷺ began his mission. The Verses of the Revelation “Who has taught by the pen,”[1] and “Nun; by the pen and by what they write (therewith),”[2] gave impetus to the art of writing during the era of the Prophet ﷺ. The people of Arabia who boasted of a retentive memory and their ability to reproduce with accuracy what they committed to memory now began to set down what they learnt in writing. We have come to know from varied sources that the scribes of Qur’ân totalled more than fifty in numbers. As for the narration and recording of Ahādīth, a much wider and more elaborate system evolved in the succeeding ages.

The things being set down in writing, in addition to Qur'an, during the Prophet's era were: official letters of the Islamic State, the Prophet’s letters, the State Constitution, the Prophet’s sermons, treaties, deeds of gift, writs guaranteeing security, census, writs of manumission of slaves, names of governors and officials appointed for different regions and provinces, state instructions and guidelines, details of revenues and expenditures of Baitul-Mül (Exchequer), and the Ahâdith based on what the Companions saw the Prophet do or heard him say. All these documents, written down with great care and accuracy, make an invaluable treasure. Moreover, we have authentic details that prove the Companions recorded Ahâdith carefully and responsibly.

On many an occasion did the Prophet instruct his Companions to put in writing what he said. For example, the Farewell pilgrimage sermon was set down in writing at the request of Abu Shah of Yemen. These Traditions dating back to the era of the Prophet and his Companions, set in motion a trend that continued during the successive generations of Muslims, till an elaborate science of Hadith blossomed forth with many technical terms, like Riwa‘iyah (narration), Dirâyah (cognizance), Al-Jarhu wat-Ta‘dîl (Science of Validation of Ahâdith), terms that gave a scientific dimension to this branch of knowledge ensuring the safeguarding, preservation, and interpretation of Ahâdith. The Biographies of Narrators (Asmâ‘ur-Rijāl), a branch of Hadith sciences, holds a prominent place among the arts and sciences developed by mankind. It is about this branch of knowledge that German Orientalist Dr Springer, while editing Al-Isâbah fi Tanmīz-Sahâbah, remarked: “No nation in the past or in modern times ever invented an outstanding science like Asmâ‘ur-Rijāl that provides information about five hundred thousand Muslims.”

Of course, we concede that the enemies of Islam, hypocrites and liars fabricated some Ahâdith in an attempt to spread them. But, then, the Hadith scholars goaded by faith and endowed with keen observation, knowledge, and comprehension, while using scientific methods of inquiry, challenged and eliminated those fabrications from the treasure of (genuine) Ahâdith. No doubt, it was a notable achievement worthy of praise in the annals of human knowledge. Here is an incident illustrating the scholars’ achievement in this field:

The Abbasid caliph Harun Rashid (170–193 AH) had a disbeliever arrested for fabricating Ahâdith and ordered his execution. The disbeliever said to the king: “O Commander of the Faithful, how will you deal with those four thousand Ahâdith I have already fabricated, making lawful things unlawful, and the unlawful lawful, although not a word in those ‘Ahâdith’ was ever spoken by Allâh’s Messenger.” Thereupon, the king retorted: “O enemy of Allâh, how can you escape from Abu Ishâq Fazârî and ‘Abdullah bin Mubârak? They will sieve them out and eliminate them letter by letter.”

It is a well-known fact that the painstaking efforts of scholars gave Ahâdith a high degree of reliability next to Qur'ân. When the Ahâdith had been read over carefully, revised, corrected and expounded in the light of the principles of Hadith sciences like Jarh (invalidation), Ta'dîl (validation), and Asma‘ur-Rijâl, the stage for the recording of Ahâdith was set. Thanks to the exhausting efforts of Hadith scholars and their deep sense of responsibility, the Muslim nation got, in addition to Sihâh Sittah (the Sound Six books of Hadith) a vast treasure that included Musammatât (Hadith compilations according to subject-headings), Jawâmi’ (comprehensive books of Ahâdith), Sunan (collections of legal and doctrinal Ahâdith), Masânîd (Hadith compilations according to complete chains), Ma‘âjin (compilations arranged according to names of Companions or regions or names of teachers of compilers), Mustadrakât (compilations of Ahâdith meeting the conditions of other compilers but not found in their books), and Mustakhrajât (compilations containing Ahâdith of other compilers with different chains of narration), the manuscripts of which—numbering in thousands—researched, edited and furnished with explanatory and marginal notes, exist even today in international libraries attracting the attention of research scholars. Anyhow, among those compilations, the six canonical books of Ahâdith (Sihâh Sittah) rank as the centerpiece.

I have a wish since long to present the Sound Six (Sihâh Sittah) translated into modern English in such a way as to list the inferences and gainful conclusions drawn from each Hadith, to remove any misgiving and misunderstanding, satisfying the mind and soul, and reinforcing the faith. With this noble cause in view, Darussalam has solicited the services of several learned scholars and researchers who are working with zeal on the translation of the Sound Six and writing commentaries on them.

All the Ahâdith of this collection have been documented, referenced and traced by the great research scholar, Hâfiz Zubair ‘Ali Za‘i.

One thing I want to mention is that in these collections, the original Arabic texts of the Ahâdith contain complete chain of narrators while in translation, for the sake of simplicity, only the name of the first narrator is mentioned who narrated the Hadith from the Prophet ﷺ.

Hadith is next only to Qur’ân as a source of Islamic laws and proofs. The term Hadith applies to the words and acts of Allâh’s Messenger ﷺ as well as his tacit approvals called Taqrîr. The latter refers to acts done in his presence but he did not disapprove of them, his silence indicating his approval. All these three categories of Ahâdîth are variously known as (1) Khabar, (2) Aithar, (3) Hadith and (4) Sunnah. (All these words have already been mentioned under the technical terms employed by Hadith scholars).

In contradistinction with Khabar and Aithar, the words Hadith and Sunnah are widely popular, so much so, that a mere mention of any of these two words, inevitably brings to mind the words, acts and tacit approvals of Allâh’s Messenger ﷺ. No other thought comes to our mind except the foregoing at the mention of the word Hadith or Sunnah. Yes, of course, some people have made a distinction between Hadith and Sunnah, advancing as argument the words of some scholars, but, in fact, this distinction is not right. The Hadith scholars make no distinction between the two. According to them, Hadith and Sunnah are synonymous terms. Similarly, taking Sunnah as referring to the Prophet’s habits, modes of behavior and manners and thereby denying their legal authority is equally wrong. It is, in fact, a deception, a concealed escape route leading to the rejection of Ahâdîth. Again, in the same way, considering only the acts of the Prophet ﷺ that he did persistently and uninterruptedly as binding is, in fact, a rejection of a vast number of Ahâdîth. Those who say so have, in deed, allied themselves with the rejecters of Ahâdîth. Moreover, rejecting a Hadith on the ground that it is in conflict with Qur’ân and entrapping people into believing so, is not the way befitting a Muslim. That is the way of the crooked, the sectarians and the dissenters who reject a lot of Ahâdîth on the seemingly attractive plea of being in disharmony with Qur’ân.

Two centuries after the advent of Islam, the Mutazilites (Mu’tazilah)\(^1\) rejected some Ahâdîth. Their purpose was to justify their wrong and misleading beliefs. Likewise, about a century and a half ago, the naturalists, too, criticized the canonical authority of Ahâdîth, their purpose being no more than to affirm naturalism and reinterpret Qur’ân according to their own desires and whims. It is the same group of naturalists who, impressed in our times by the ‘rare research works’ of the Orientalists and charmed by the wizards of the West and their civilization, are working in an organized way to alienate the Muslims from their own culture and Islamic values and traditions and are moulding them according to modern civilization.

Anyhow, the term Hadith or Sunnah applies to whatever the Messenger of Allah said, did, or gave his tacit consent to. This, like Qur’ân, is an independent, distinct and reliable source of faith and law (Shari’ah). To benefit by Hadith and rely on it in giving legal rulings, we need to know the following:

Things worthy to note

1. The faith revealed by Allah is Islam and only Islam. "Truly, the religion with Allah (is) Islam."[1] "And whoever seeks a religion other than Islam, it will never be accepted of him and he will be one of the losers in the Hereafter."[2] Allah commanded the believers to hold fast to the religion and forbade them to divide and fall apart: "And hold fast, all of you together, to the Rope of Allah, and be not divided among yourselves."[3] Allah also warned us through His Messenger ﷺ: “And (He commands you, saying): This is My straight path, so follow it, and follow not (other) paths, for they will separate you away from His path.”[4]

2. Since Qur’ân has warned us, in several Verses, against separation and disunion, which means only dissenting and dividing up into sects, and since the Prophet ﷺ has commanded us to follow one course only and condemned other courses as wrong, it naturally follows, therefore, that the True Path can only be one, not many. How can many paths be true at one and the same time? It is not possible, neither by reason nor by tradition. Qur’ân declares: “After the Truth, what else can there be except error?”[5]

3. What is this religion of Islam or the Straight Path? Where is it to be found? It consists of two things: Qur’ân and the Hadith of the Prophet ﷺ. Allah’s Messenger ﷺ said: “I am leaving to you two things. You will not go astray as long as you cling to them: the Book of Allah and the Sunnah of His Prophet.”[6]

4. This religion, unlike other religions, is not unguarded. It is secure from tampering. Since this religion is final and the only way of deliverance for mankind till the Judgment Day, Allah has undertaken the responsibility of guarding it. He said: “Verily, We, it is We Who have sent down the Reminder and surely We will guard it.”[1] The intended meaning of the Reminder is Qur’an that is guarded and made secure. It remained unchanged and will remain ever so in future. Since it was impossible to understand it and act by it without Ahâdîth, the safeguarding of it implies the safeguarding of Hadîth also. Therefore, in order to safeguard the Ahâdîth, Allah created a group of Hadîth scholars who took pains to safeguard the Ahâdîth, separating the genuine from the spurious. Hence, Qur’an and Sunnah are the only two basic sources of religion. However, to understand them correctly, the way of the Prophet’s Companions and the righteous predecessors is an indispensable aid.

5. None of the founders of the schools of Islamic jurisprudence ever claimed that their ruling was final. On the contrary, they acknowledged they may have erred and, hence, advised their followers to ignore their ruling in case a sound, authentic Hadîth is ever found contradicting their ruling. Moreover, they are known to have recanted some of their opinions. In case a Hadîth was found later on contradicting the ruling of some jurist, his students are reported to have declared that the Hadîth in question had remained unknown to their Imam (the jurist) and that he would have surely recanted his ruling if only he had known it. It should be noted that Ahâdîth were collected, recorded and examined long after the founders of the schools had gone. For example, the Sound Six (Siûh Sittah) and other books of Ahâdîth were compiled later on. But, no doubt, those Imams of jurisprudence were excusable for their errors. Hopefully, they may be rather rewarded because their intent was good. Anyhow, now that Ahâdîth have been collected and recorded, insistence on a particular legal ruling and rejecting a Hadîth on different pleas is quite unjustified.

6. The students of the Imams of Fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence) disagreed with their own teachers and mentors on some issues, but none blamed or rebuked them for having done so, but rather praised them for their truth and scholarly ability. So it is no error or sin if today someone disagrees with the learned Imams of Islamic jurisprudence. He deserves praise, rather than condemnation.

About the Four Books of Sunan

The Four Books of Sunan (Sunan Arba'ah) refer to Sunan Abu Dawud, Sunan Tirmidhi, Sunan Nasa'i and Sunan Ib'n Mājah. The term Sihāh Sittah, widely known in the Indo-Pakistan subcontinent, refers to the six books of Hadith, that is, the foregoing four books of Sunan and the Sound Ahādith of Bukhārī and Muslim (Sahih Bukhārī and Sahih Muslim). The latter two books, also called Sahihain, are believed by orthodox Muslims (Ahlus-Sunnah) to contain only Sound (Sahih) Ahādith. With respect to the chain of narration (Sanad), no Hadith in those two books is weak.

Shah Waliullah wrote, while commenting on the two books: “As for the two authentic books of Ahādith (Bukhārī and Muslim), scholars of Hadith sciences are unanimous that the Mutassal (Connected) and Marfu' (Traceable) contained in the twain are absolutely Sound and Muḥawwar (Continuous) up to their compilers and that anyone who belittles the two is an innovator (Mubtadi'), following a way other than that of the believers.”

Anyway, it is accepted by all, that the Four Books of Sunan do contain some Ahādith that are Weak (Da’if). They are grouped together with the two books of Bukhārī and Muslim and often referred to as the Sound Six (Sihāh Sittah). This collective name is in popular usage. This title has been given to them, not because all the Ahādith of the Four Sunan are Sound like those of Bukhārī and Muslim but because most of them are, except some that are Weak. In other words, the Ahādith of the Four Sunan are generally, not totally, Sound. That is the reason why they are grouped together with those of Bukhārī and Muslim and collectively called Sihāh Sittah. Anyhow, this collective title created an impression among the laymen that all the Six are the collections of Sound Ahādith. Besides, a large section of learned scholars who are usually unaware of the science of the Methodology of Critical Evaluation of Ahādith (Naqdul-Hadith) and the science of Biographies of Narrators (Asma’ur-Rijāl), believe that the mere fact a Hadith exists in any one of the Four Sunan is enough to guarantee its soundness and, especially in the event of argumentations, they make good use of it and the Weak Ahādith of the Four Sunan are taken as Sound and advanced as argument to prove their point. The majority of scholars find it difficult to tell the Weak from the Sound because this matter cannot be decided without a thorough knowledge of the science of the Methodology of Critical Evaluation of Ahādīth and Biographies of Narrators. Only a few scholars are expert in the Hadith sciences.

This state of affairs continued till our times when the great traditionist and Hadith scholar of this century, Shaikh Nāsiruddin Albānī (d. 1999 CE) undertook, by grace of Allah, the task of researching Ahādīth all over again, in a spirit of revival and reformation. Ever since the recording and compilation of Hadith books, no notable research work on Ahādīth had been done. This field of activity was almost stagnant. It was Shaikh Albānī who initiated this work in modern times with a renewed determination. On the one hand, he prepared a team of experts, endowed with a talent for research and inquiry, from amongst his own students and, on the other hand, he himself carried out an immense and wide-ranging research work on Ahādīth. His achievements in the field of Ahādīth are briefly given below:

One of his notable achievements is that he researched the Ahādīth of the Four Sunan and identified the Weak and the Sound, a work that proved that, unlike Bukhārī and Muslim, not all the Ahādīth of the Sunan are Sound and that the mere fact a Hadith exists in the Sunan is not enough to prove its reliability but, rather, its soundness or weakness can be determined only in the light of the principles of Hadith evaluation. He divided each book of the Four Sunan into two parts, the Weak and the Sound, thereby making it easy for any cleric not skilled in the methodology of evaluation to benefit by this division and know the Weak from the Sound.

Shaikh Albānī also called for the term ‘the Sound Six’ (Sīhāh Sittah) to be changed. He proposed a new name: the Six Books (Kutub Sittah) for all the six books of Hadith because the four books of Sunan contain some Weak Ahādīth. To call all the six books Sīhāh Sittah (Sound Six) conveys the idea to general public that all of them are Sound. His view was that the four books of Sunan should be called the Four Sunan (Sunan Arba‘ah), Bukhārī and Muslim the Sound Two (Sahihain) and all the six be renamed the Six Books (Kutub Sittah).

An Earnest Plea
I entreat the readers of Kutub Sittah (the Six Books), a publication of Darussalam, to make their intent clear and pure before reading or teaching them, and determine that they would accept without hesitation each and every Hadith of the Prophet ﷺ and give it precedence over the opinions of others.

Second, they should pray to Allah fervently and sincerely to guide them to the Straight Path. We say ”(O Allah,) Guide us to the Straight Path” in our daily prayers, but it seems to have little effect on us because we do not realize what we say. I entreat you, dear readers, to pray from the deepest depths of your hearts for guidance and not to take for granted or remain self-satisfied with your denomination that may well be an accident of birth or milieu.

Third, Allah has given you intellect, good sense and reasoning faculty. You use them to improve your material wealth and worldly possessions. You do not feel contented with what you inherit from your parents but ever strive to increase it and add to your material comforts, although you know that the joys of the world are short-lived and will perish sooner or later. Is it sensible to strive day and night for the fleeting pleasures of the world and ignore the joys and comforts of the Hereafter that are abiding, unending and supreme? Is it wise of us to keep on following the religious traditions we inherited from our family or acquired from our environs, no matter what they are?

Surely, it is not a good use of the gifts of Allah, the gifts of reason and intellect. Reason demands of us to seek the Straight Path. Not to do so is to wrong yourself as well as your children. Remember that straying away from the Straight Path means loss in the Afterlife. It is our duty, therefore, to save us and our children from that great loss that is the inevitable end of those who digress from the Straight Path. And the only way to avoid losing in the Afterlife is the one we have outlined in the foregoing pages.

Our Actions and Day of Accounting

We, too, are not exempt from what we have said earlier. Our instructions to others are equally binding on us as on them. We call Allah as witness that we have been fair in our evaluation of Ahadith. While deciding the soundness or weakness of a Hadith, we never let ourselves be swayed by bias for any particular sect, party or denomination or mental reservations, or preconceived notions or circumstances. We have been completely fair, just and honest in our evaluation of Ahadith. We have tried to be completely neutral. We have kept our inquiries untainted with prejudice. Our research is purely scientific. We followed only the accepted principles of Hadith evaluation. Only then did we decide a case or give a ruling as to which course is right or preferable. Twisting or distorting a Hadith, or wriggling out of it, or stretching it in an attempt to arrive at far-fetched meanings, dubbing a Sound Hadith as Weak or a Weak one as Sound, declaring without proof a Hadith as abrogated or abrogating—all these things we believe to be fraud, deception, and concealment of truth. We seek Allah's refuge from these trickeries. Of course, we may have erred in applying the principles of Hadith evaluation, or we may have erred for lack of access to information, or we may have misunderstood something—and we will be grateful to those who point out our errors and we pledge to correct them forthwith—but, by grace of Allah, we remained honest and fair throughout our research work, there being no taint of bias for or prejudice against any school of thought, or party, or sect, or denomination, nor self motive or desire for profit. Allâh is the Warden over what we say.

Conclusion

If a person realizes the greatness of Allâh, his fear of Him will increase. And if a slave is afraid of His Lord’s retribution, he will increase in righteous deeds. Fear of Allâh is a cure for idleness. It is also an excellent trait for a believer.

Hasan Basri said, “I have kept the company of a people who are more worried of their righteous deeds being rejected than of their being punished for their misdeeds.”

Yusuf bin Abdul-Hasan was described as follows: “Whenever he emerged, he would look as if he was coming from the funeral of a close relative of his; and whenever he sat down, he would look as if he was a captive who was about to be executed. Whenever Hell-Fire was mentioned, he would react as if it was created exclusively for him.”

Know that a Muslim should maintain balance between fear and hope. For, fear only, if it is not accompanied by hope, can kill. Breeze of hope enlivens the souls.

Fear is the driver of the soul while hope is its guide. If it becomes slack with its guide, its driver eggs it on; and it refuses to abide by the instruction of its driver, its guide encourages it. Coolness of hope ameliorates the hotness of fear, and the sword of fear deals a deadly blow on procrastination. If a servant ponders over the favor of his Lord, he will show gratitude to Him and forsake anxiety and worries. If he looks at his sins, he will take precedence and will spend the night seeking pardon and forgiveness.

My dear brother, death in the cause of seeking knowledge is better than perdition in the path of idleness. Continue to awake in the night and observe frequent supererogatory fasting. Leave sleep alone for the sleepers. Endeavor to catch up with righteous people. After you have attained cure to your ailment, rejoice with the assurance of Allâh: “And give good news to those who believe (in the Oneness of Allâh and in His Prophet Muhammad ﷺ) that they shall have with their Lord the rewards of their good deeds?” (Yunus 10:2)

But if you die in your ailment, console yourself with Allâh’s promise for the martyrs: “Verily, the Muttaqûn (the pious), will be in the midst of Gardens and Rivers (Paradise): In a seat of truth (i.e., Paradise), near the Omnipotent King (Allâh, the All-Blessed, the Most High, the Owner of majesty and honor)." (Al-Qamar 54:54-55)

Be always in remembrance of Allâh; perhaps your little remembrance of Allâh may make Him also remember you, as He said: “And the remembering (praising) of (you by) Allâh (in front of the angels) is greater indeed [than your remembering (praising) of Allâh in prayers].” (Al-‘Ankabut 29:45) So be sincere in your remembrance of Him.

Abu Hurairah Narrated: “Allâh’s Messenger was traveling along the path leading to Makkah that he happened to pass by a mountain called Jumdan. He said: ‘Proceed on, it is Jumdan The Mufarridun have gone ahead.’ The Companions said: ‘O Allâh’s Messenger, who are Mufarridun?’ He said: ‘They are those males and females who remember Allâh much.’”[1]

Abu Hurairah said, while he was in the house of Umm Darda: “The Messenger of Allâh reported from his Lord that He said, ‘I am with My slave when he remembers Me and his lips move (in My remembrance).’”[2]

Abu Darda said: “Those who always remembered Allâh shall enter Paradise smiling.”

One of the signs of a lover is that he feels stirred up whenever the name of his beloved is mentioned. If you love someone from among the people of this world and you hear his name being mentioned, you feel stirred up from within.

However, remembrance of Allâh is being recited to you and nothing changed in you! You hear Allâh’s commands and prohibitions many times and yet you fail to reflect upon them; though He has made the reflection on His Verses easy for whoever strives in His way. But there are some among His slaves who ponder, implement His commandments, and abstain from His prohibitions. Whenever such people look at their good deeds they realize that they have not done enough. They never enjoy any food, drink or sleep without remembering Allâh. Can’t you hear Him describing such slaves of His and commending them in His Glorious Book saying: “The believers are only those who, when Allâh is mentioned, feel a fear in their hearts and when His Verses (this Qur’ân) are recited unto them, they (i.e., the Verses) increase their Faith.” (Al-Anfûl 8:2)

He also describes them as: “As-Sâbirun [who patiently bear whatever may befall them (of calamities)].” (Al-Hajj 22:35)

So He thanked them for that and concealed their misdeeds. He informed them that He will be pleased with them on the Day the sky shall split open and, the Day "Man will be informed of what he sent forward (of his evil or good deeds), and what he left behind (of his good or evil traditions)." (Al-Qiyāmah 75:13)

On that Day, the sinner shall regret and be in sorrow for his negligence. He will be weighed down with his misdeeds. When he will be called to read his record of deeds, he will see that it is full of evil acts and he will be confused. When he sees other sinners like him being sent and dragged to Hell, he will then show a remorse that will be of no avail to him. He will cry but he will not be heard. He will neither be shown mercy nor be excused.

The punishment is severe for those who transgressed and behaved arrogantly. Therefore, my admonition for you is that, you should repent and give up sinning. Perhaps, you will be lead aright. For, Allāh helps those who seek refuge with Him and work righteously.
Introduction

Methodology of Research and Tracing of Ahādith
Praise is to Allāh. We extol Him and seek His help. None can misguide him whom Allāh guides and none can guide him whom Allāh misguides. I bear witness that there is no God except Allāh, Alone, without any partner, and I bear witness that Muhammad is His slave and His Messenger. The best speech is the Book of Allāh and the best course is the course of Muhammad while the worst things are (religious) innovations and every innovation is an error and a delusion.

I thank Allāh, our Lord, Who made it possible for me to research and trace the Ahādith of Sunan Arba'ah (Sunan Abu Dāwūd, Sunan Tirmithi, Sunan Nasā’i and Sunan Ibn Mājah).

Among the four Sunan, Sunan Ibn Mājah holds a prominent place. I have already done research work and written a commentary on it in Arabic under the title Tas-hilul-Hadādji Mukhtasar Takhrij Sunan Ibn Mājah. It is included in the Urdu edition now. To know my work and methodology, in this treatise, the following points need to be borne in mind:

- Sunan Ibn Mājah contains two types of Ahādith:
  a) Ahādith that occur in Sahih Bukhāri or Sahih Muslim or in both.
  b) Ahādith that occur neither in Bukhāri nor in Muslim.
- My own research finding is that all the Musnad (with chains of narrations) and Marfu’ (traceable to the Prophet) Ahādith of Sahih Bukhāri and Sahih Muslim are Sound (Sahih). This is also the opinion of all the scholars of the nation. As for the other Ahādith, I have given my verdict as to their soundness or weakness. See, for example, Hadith no. 50: the chain of narration is Hasan (Good), and Hadith no. 11: the chain of narration is Da‘if (Weak).
- If I ruled a narration to be Weak, I also stated my reasons for that. For example, Hadith no. 19: Abu Bakr bin Khallād Al-Bāhili narrated to us from Yahya bin Sa‘e‘ed from Shu‘bah from Ibn ‘Ajlān that ‘Awn bin ‘Abdullah told him, narrating from ‘Abdullah bin Mas‘ud. After I had declared it to be Weak, I wrote: “There is an interruption (Inqi‘āt) in its chain of narration because ‘Awn bin ‘Abdullah did not hear from ‘Abdullah bin Mas‘ud.”
- When I ruled a Hadith to be Hasan or Sahih, I also gave the reference of another Hadith scholar in case he also declared it to be so. See, for example, Hadith no. 87.
In case a narration of Ibn Majah occurs in Bukhari and Muslim as well as in other books, I have given the reference of Bukhari and Muslim only while tracing it. See, for example, Hadith no. 10: (Muslim) although this narration also exists in Sunan Tirmidhi (Hadith no. 2229).

The references of Bukhari and Muslim do not mean that the narration, with respect to its text, is exactly the same in both Bukhari and Muslim. It only means that the narration in both the books is the same with respect to the chain of narration. As to the text, it may be long in one and short in the other or vice versa or words may differ but the meaning is the same.

Since, according to research scholars, Bukhari has precedence over Muslim, I have given precedence to Bukhari while tracing Ahadith. But in some places, Muslim has been mentioned first while tracing. The reason for that is that a greater part of the chain of narration exists in Muslim. See, for example, Hadith no. 58: collected by Muslim on the authority of Sufyân bin ‘Uyainah and by Bukhari on the authority of Malik. The following chart explains it further:

    \node (D3) [below of=D2, xshift=3cm] {Imâm Ibn Mâjah}; \end{scope} \end{tikzpicture}

It is clear from the foregoing chain that Muslim is closer to Ibn Majah. Hence, he has been mentioned before the other.

[For some reasons, like explicit affirmation of a Mudallis (Truncated - immediate narrator not known) having directly heard from whom he is reporting, references from outside the Sound Six have also been given. See, for example, Hadith no. 35, collected by Ahmad from Hadith of Muhammad bin Ishâq about whom it was affirmed that he had heard directly from him.]

- Two things should be noted about Tadhis (truncation):

  a. There are those who cannot be accused of truncation, any such charge against them being baseless and false, like Bukhâri, Muslim, Abu Qilâbah Jarmi, Makhul Shâmi, Zaid bin Aslam, Jubair bin Nufair, and Hammâd bin Usâmah. All of them are leading Hadith scholars and narrators of the First Level. Their Mu'an'an Ahâdith (in which the narrator relates using the preposition ‘an, meaning ‘from’) are considered to have been heard directly by narrators unless there be a reason ruling it out.

  b. The Mu'an'an narrations, in Hadith books other than those of Bukhâri and Muslim, by narrators like Qatâdah, A'mash, Sufyân Thawri, and Abu Ishâq Sabî'i against whom it is proved that they did truncate, are considered Da'if (Weak) in case they did not hear them directly or any follow-up. Imam Shâfi'i said: “We do not accept a Hadith from a Mudallis (truncater) until he says ‘so-and-so told me’ or ‘I heard’”[1]. In the matter of Tadlis, his opinion is generally prevalent and preferred.

  - Some scholars take the Mu'an'an narrations by Sufyân Thawri, Sufyân bin 'Uyainah, A'mash and others as Sound and those of Hasan Basri, Abu Zubair, and Abu Ishâq etc., as Weak. I do not see it as the right methodology. In my opinion, a decisive and categorical stand should be taken regarding this issue. See my treatise At-Ta’sis fi Mas'alah At-Tadlis for details.

  - In case there is a difference of opinion among scholars about a narrator regarding his trustworthiness or weakness, finding it impossible to apply a single, consistent rule or reconcile between divergent opinions, I have always preferred the opinion of the majority of scholars.

  - If a narrator is considered trustworthy by the lenient (Mutasâdil) experts in the science of Biographies like Tirmidhi, Ibn Hibbân, Hâkim, I have classified him as Unknown (Mujhul), but if he is endorsed as trustworthy by two of them, for example, by Tirmidhi and Ibn Hibbân, I have classified him as good (Hasanul-Hadith) and truthful (Saduq).

Note: Some scholars consider Imam 'i'jâ as lenient. I do not agree with this view but consider Imam 'i'jâ as moderate (Mu'tadil).

- When a narrator is classified as trustworthy or good, it endorses the reliability of each narrator in the chain of the narration. For example, Nâfi‘ bin Mahmud Al-Maqdisi’s narration has been graded Hasan (Good) or Sahih (Sound) by Dârâqutni and Baihaqi. Hence, he is trustworthy (Thiqah), according to them. See also Nasbur-Râyah 1/49 and 3/264, and Silsilatus-Sahihah 7/16, Hadith no. 3007. It is wrong to classify such a narrator as Unknown (Majhul) or concealed (Mastur).

- While grading a Hadîth as Sahih or Hasan, I have taken into account other Ahâdîth as corroborators (Shawâhid) or follow-ups (Mutâbi‘ât). So some Ahâdîth have been graded Sahih or Hasan in the light of Shawâhid and Mutâbi‘ât.

- Despite these methodologies of Hadîth evaluation, errors may creep in. To err is human. But I declare hereby that I will not hesitate to recant if it is proved that there is an error in my inquiry and the tracing of Ahâdîth.

- While validating or invalidating narrators, I have invariably referred to original books of biographies of narrators and, after thorough investigation, selected the most correct and most preferable opinion. In case, the name of a preceding scholar of Hadîth has been given without remark or note, it means I agree with him.

The Six Collections and what the Eminent Scholars said about them

Sahih Bukhāri:
Ibrāhīm bin Maʿqil Nasāfī said that he heard Muḥammad bin Ismāʿīl Bukhāri saying: "I collected the book Al-Jāmiʿ in ten plus years and I made it a proof between me and Allāh."

Ibrāhīm bin Maʿqil Nasāfī also said that he heard Bukhāri say: "I did not include in the book Al-Jāmiʿ but only that which is authentic. I have excluded many other authentic Ahādīth to avoid prolongation."[1]

Sahih Muslim:
Hāfīz Abū Abdullah bin Mandah said that he heard Abū ʿAṭīf Abī Ḥusayn bin ʿAlī Nishapūri saying: "There is no book of Hadīth under the heaven more authentic than the book of Muḥammad bin Hajjāj."[2]

Muḥammad bin Ḥusayn Masarjāsī reported from his father who said that he heard Muḥammad bin Hajjāj saying: "I compiled this Al-Musnad As-Sahih out of a collection of three hundred thousand heard Ahādīth."

Sunan Abū Dāwūd:
Abū Bakr bin Dasah said that he heard Abū Dāwūd saying: "I collected five hundred thousand Ahādīth reported from the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. And I selected from this number four thousand eight hundred Ahādīth that I included in this book of mine - the Sunan. In this collection, I mentioned those that are authentic or closer. Four of these authentic Hadīth are enough for a Muslim as the basis for his religion. These four are:

1. The Prophet’s saying: “The reward of deeds depends upon the intentions.”[3]
2. The Prophet’s saying: “The proper practice of one’s Islam demands that he should leave alone that which does not concern him.”[4]
3. His saying: “None of you believes until he loves for his brother what he loves for himself.”[5]
4. His saying: “The lawful things are clear and the forbidden things are clear. But between the two are things are not so clear...”[1]

Abu Bakr Sawlî reported that he heard Zakariya bin Yahya Saţî saying, “The Book of Allâh is the foundation of Islam, and the book of Sunan by Abu Dâwud is the covenant of Islam.”

Ismâ’il bin Muhammad Saffar narrated that he heard Muhammad bin Ishâq Saghani saying, “Knowledge of Hadîth was softened for Abu Dâwud as iron was softened for Prophet Dâwud ﷺ.”[2]

Abu Sulaimân Khattâbî reported: I heard Ibn A’rabi saying while he was reading to us the Sunnah by Abu Dâwud, he pointed the manuscript from which he was reading and said, “If someone has no source of knowledge beside a copy of Allâh’s Book and then this book - Sunan Abu Dâwud - they are enough for him.”

Khattâbî then said, “There is no doubt in what Ibn A’rabi said. This is because; Allâh revealed His Book as explanation for everything. He says: ‘We have neglected nothing in the Book.’ (Al-An’am 6:38) In the Verse, Allâh the Exalted informs us that there is nothing in matters of religion that the Qur’ân does not address.”

However, this explanation is of two kinds: clear and explicit explanation and hidden and implicit mentioning. The detailed explanation of the latter was assigned to the Prophet ﷺ. This is the interpretation of Allâh’s saying: “And We have also sent down to you (O Muhammad ﷺ) the Dhikr (Reminder) and the advice (i.e., the Qur’ân) that you may explain clearly to men what is sent down to them, and that they may give thought.” (An-Nahl 16:44) Therefore, whoever combines between the Qur’ân and the Sunnah has indeed attained both sources of explanation.

In his book, Abu Dâwud included Ahâdîth about foundations of knowledge and traditions and rules of Fiqh. As far as I know, no scholar before Abu Dâwud or after him had accomplished this.

Abu Sulaimân said: A report reached us that Abu Dâwud said, “I did not include this book of mine a Hadîth that the scholars unanimously rejected.”[3]

Sunan Tirmidhî:

Hâfîz Abu Sa’eed Abdur-Rahmân bin Muhammad Idrisi said, “Muhammad bin ‘Isa bin Sawrah is one of the leading scholars of Hadîth. He had a number of works among them are: Al-Jâmi’, Tawârikh and Al-‘Ilal.

These works are compilation of a widely-read scholar, who is cited as an example in erudition.”

Abul-Fadl Muhammad bin Tahir Maqdisi said: I was with Imâm Abu Ismâ’il Abdullah bin Muhammad Ansâri at Hîra’ when the mentioned was made of Abu ‘Eisa Tirmidhi and his book. He said, “In my view, his book is more useful than those of Bukhâri and Muslim because; the benefits that are in the books of these two scholars can only be attained by well-versed scholars. But as for the book of Abu ‘Eisa Tirmidhi, all the people can benefit from it.”

Sunan Nasâ’î:
Abul-Fadl bin Tahir said: I asked Imâm Abu Qasim Sa’d bin ‘Ali Zanjâni at Makkah about the situation of one of the reporters of Hadîth and he declared him as trustworthy. I then said: But Abu Abdur-Rahmân Nasâ’î regarded him as Weak. Thereupon Zanjâni said: “My son, the condition of Abu Abdur-Rahmân on narrators of Hadîth is stricter than that of Bukhâri and Muslim.”

Hâkim Abu Abdullah bin Bayya’ said: I heard Abu Hasan Ahmad bin Mahbub Ramali at Makkah saying: I heard Abu Abdur-Rahmân Ahmad bin Shu’âib Nasâ’î saying, “When I decided to compile the book As-Sunan, I made Istikhârah to Allâh concerning some Shaikh about whom I had some reservations. The result of the Istikhârah was that I should reject their narrations. As a consequence, I had longer chains of narrators in some Hadith in which I would have had shorter chains.”

Hâfiz Abdul-Ghani bin Sa’eed Misri said: I heard Abu Hasan Khidr As-Suyuti saying, “I saw the Prophet ﷺ in my sleep while there were in front of me many books among them was As-Sunan by Abu Abdur-Rahmân Nasâ’î. The Prophet ﷺ then told me: ‘When are you going to stop gathering books and how much books are you going to acquire before you stop?! This is enough!’ He then picked with hand part one of the Book of Purification from Sunan Nasâ’î. It then occurred to me that what the Prophet ﷺ meant was that Nasâ’î’s book is dearest book to him.”[1]

Sunan Ibn Májah:
Abu Zur’ah Râzi said, “I read the book compiled by Abu Abdullah Ibn Mâjah and I did not find there but few Ahâdith whose authenticity is contestable.” And he mentioned some Ahâdith that are less than twenty.

Abu Abdullah Ibn Mâjah said, “I showed this transcript to Abu Zur’ah Râzi. He checked it and said, ‘I think if people lay their hands on this book, all or most of other great compiled works will become unnecessary.”[1]

Comparing Ibn Mājah’s Book with Other Collections
Comparisons have been made between Sunan Ibn Mājah and other collections such as Muwatta’ of Imām Mālik, Sunan Ad-Dārimi, Musnad Ahmad and Sahih Ibn Hibbān. Yet, Sunan Ibn Mājah succeeded in becoming the sixth of the major collections. The following are books compared to Sunan Ibn Mājah:

Muwatta’ by Imām Mālik
Abu Abdullah Mālik bin Anās ⁵⁶ was born in the year 93 or 94 AH. He was among the leaders of the generation that succeeded the Tābi’in. He was a pious scholar and a great jurist. He showed great concern for the Prophet’s Sunnah. He valiantly defended it and ferociously waged war against those who sought to oppose the Sunnah. He gave the Sunnah priority over all other things and never did he rely on invalid analogies at the expense of the Sunnah. He died in the year 179 AH.[2]

As regards comparing Muwatta’ to Sunan Ibn Mājah, Shamsuddin Jazari said about Sunan Ibn Mājah: “It is the sixth of the six major collections, according to the scholars of Hadith. What Ibn Athir said that Muwatta’ - not Sunan Ibn Mājah - is the sixth of the major collections is his personal view.”[3]

There are scholars who regarded Muwatta’ as the sixth of the major collections. Some of these scholars are: Razīn bin Mu’awiyah ‘Abdari and Ibn Athir Jazari.[4]

Musnad by Imām Ahmad
Imām Ahmad bin Hanbal is a real leader and Shaikhul-Islam. He is one of the eminent Imāms.

Ibrāhīm Harbi said, “I saw Abu Abdullah — Imām Ahmad. It was as if Allāh has endowed him with the knowledge of the earlier and latter generations combined.”

A man said, “I have never seen anyone more knowledgeable about Fiqh and Hadith and its meanings more than Ahmad.”

Ishâq bin Râhwaih said, “I would sit in the company of Ahmad and Ibn Ma’een and we would do joint study. Whenever I inquired about something as regards its meaning and interpretation, no one but Ahmad would dare speak."[1]

His book, Al-Musnad, is one of the greatest and most comprehensive books of Hadith. But it needs some arrangement.

Ibn Kathir said, "There are in Musnad of Imám Ahmad many Isnād and narrations that are equal in status to many of those found in Sahih Muslim, even in Sahih Bukhārī, but which none of them and none of the four collectors of Sunan had collected.

As for the statement of Hāfiz Abu Musa Muhammad bin Abu Bakr Al-Madini concerning Musnad Ahmad that its Ahādith were Sahih, is not correct. This is because; the book contains, in addition to authentic Ahādith, Weak and even spurious narrations such as narrations about virtues of Marw, 'Asqalān and Birthal-Ahmar, as pointed out by the scholars.

This is in addition to the fact that Imám Ahmad had missed many Ahādith. It is said that there are narrations from close to two hundred Companions that Imám Bukhārī and Imám Muslim recorded but that Imám Ahmad did not have in his Musnad.[2]

Sunan Ad-Dārīmi

Ad-Dārīmi is Hāfiz Abdullah bin Abdur-Rahmān bin Fadl bin Bahrām bin Abdullah Abu Muhammad Tamimi Dārīmi As-Samarqandi.

Abu Hātim bin Hibbān said, "Dārīmi was one of the learned scholars of Hadith and was pious. He was well-versed in Hadith and Fiqh. He authored may works and taught Hadith to others. He promoted the Sunnah in his country, called unto it, defended it and defeated those who sought to oppose it."[3]

Some eminent scholars such as Hāfiz Ibn Salāh, Nawawi, Salahuddin 'Alāʾi and Hāfiz Ibn Hajar believed that it would have been had Sunan Ad-Dārīmi been regarded as the sixth of the six major collections.[4]

Sahih Ibn Hibbān Al-Busti

Imám Abu Hātim Muhammad bin Hibbān was a great and well-versed scholar. He was the leading scholar of Khorasan. He has many great and famous works to his credit. He was born in the year 270 AH.

Abu Sa’d Idrisi said about him, "He was the judge of Samarqand for quite sometime, and he was one of the eminent jurists and scholars of Hadith. He was also well-versed in medicine, astrology and other sciences.

Among his works are: Al-Musnad As-Sahih, Al-Anwā' wat-Taqāsim, Kitābut-Tārikh, Kitābud-Du'afā' and many others. And he taught people Fiqh at Samarqand.

Hakim Nishapuri said, “Ibn Hibbān was one of the vessels of knowledge in Fiqh, Arabic language, Hadith and admonition. He was among the wisest men.”[1]

Yāqut said, “Ibn Hibbān accomplished in the science of Hadith what others failed to do. People used to travel to Khorasan to read his works.”

His book Al-Musnad As-Sahih is regarded as more authentic than Sunan Ibn Mājah.[2]

Signs the Scholars Adopted for Sunan Ibn Mājah:

After the six major collections - Sahih Bukhārī, Sahih Muslim, Sunan Abu Dāwud, Sunan Tirmidhi, Sunan Nasā’i and Sunan Ibn Mājah - have become popular among the scholars, they adopted signs as a shortcut to each of them.

The signs that are used as shortcuts for the each of the six collections, according to Suyuti are as follows:

( خ ) for Bukhārī ( م ) for Muslim ( ق ) for Bukhārī and Muslim ( د ) for Abu Dāwud
( ت ) for Tirmidhi
( ن ) for Nasā’i
( ه ) for Ibn Mājah
( 4 ) for the four collectors of Sunan
( 3 ) for the collectors of Sunnah excluding Ibn Mājah ( حم ) for Ahmad in his Musnad[3]

An Important Point

Most of the collectors of the Sunan died with close intervals.

Imám Abu Abdullāh Muḥammad Ibn Mājah Al-Qazvīnī died in the year 273 AH.

Imám Abū Dāwūd Sulaymān bin Ashʿath As-Sijistānī died in the year 275 AH.

Imám Abū ‘Eisa Muḥammad bin ‘Eisa bin Sawrah Tirmidhī died in the year 279 AH.[1]

A number of scholars wrote eulogies in honor of Imám Ibn Mājah. Among his scholars are: Yahya bin Zakariyya Tāqī and Muḥammad bin Aswād Qazvīnī.

A Life Sketch of Imâm Ibn Mâjah

Imâm Ibn Mâjah, ﷺ is a bright star that continues to shine to this day on the firmament of Hadith sciences. He is counted among the greatest and most high-ranking Imâms of Hadith. He has also the honor of being one of the six Imâms whose collections of Hadith are widely popular among the Muslims.

Like other Imâms, he earned great fame for serving the Hadith sciences and played an important role in the recording of Ahâdith. His whole life he spent watering the garden of this science. To collect and record the sayings of the Prophet ﷺ, he traveled to several countries, learning from the greatest Hadith scholars of his times and then gathering together those pearls in a single place for the benefit of later generations.

Ibn Mâjah was a great scholar of Hadith, Qur'ânic interpretation and history. Especially in the field Hadith sciences, he was counted as a great memorizer of Ahâdith and an expert in this field. For this very reason, Hâfiz Shamsuddin Muhammad Dâhâbî, Hâfiz Ibn Hajar and other critics in the field of Hadith sciences have acknowledged his leading position, high station, breadth of vision, and the ability to memorize Ahâdith, extolling his academic and technical services in this field.

Name and Lineage:
Abu ‘Abdullah Muhammad bin Yazid bin ‘Abdullah Rab’i Al-Qazvini nicknamed Ibn Mâjah. He was a non-Arab. He was Rab’i because he belonged to the tribe of Rab’i and was called Al-Qazvini because he belonged to Qazvin (Iran). Various explanations have been given for his nickname. Allamah Zubaidi, writing in Ṭâjul-’Urus, has given several explanations for the nickname, one explanation being that Mâjah was his mother’s name. Imâm Nawawi gives weight to this explanation. Shah ‘Abdul-’Aziz Dehlavi in Bostânul-Muhâdîthîn says: (The correct opinion is that Mâjah was his mother.) That is why the Arabic word for son (Ibn) is written with the Arabic letter alif to indicate that Ibn Májah qualifies Muhammad, not ‘Abdullah. Anyhow, some scholars believe that Mâjah was his father’s name. That is also the opinion of Hâfiz Ibn Hajar.

Birth and Early Education:
He was born in 209 AH corresponding to 824 CE. Yâqut bin ‘Abdullah Al-Hamavi, quoting Ja’far bin Idris’ Ṭârikk Qazvin, wrote: Abu ‘Abdullah died in the year 273 AH and I heard him say “I was born in 209 AH.” Much of Ibn Mājah’s childhood is unknown but it appears that, according to the practice of those days, after receiving his early education, he turned to the Hadith sciences in his own hometown first that had become by then the cradle of Hadith sciences.

Travels in Pursuit of Knowledge:
After learning from the teachers in his own home town and the towns nearby, he began his travels in 230 AH, when he was 21 or 22 years old, to other countries to acquire more of Hadith sciences. Ibn Jawzī writes in Al-Muntazim: “He travelled to Khorasan, Iraq, Hijaz, Egypt and Shām and attended the gatherings of Hadith scholars.” Imām Hanbal writes: “He journeyed to Kufah and Basrah, Egypt, and Shām. He also learned from the scholars of Makkah and Al-Madinah and, later, traveled to Baghdad.

His Teachers:
Imām Ibn Mājah had the honor of learning Hadith sciences from a number of great scholars of his times including those of Makkah, Al-Madinah and Qazvin. Among those of Al-Madinah were Hāfiz Ibn Mus‘ab Zubairī, Ahmad bin Abu Bakr Al-‘Awfi and Hāfiz Ibrāhīm bin Al-Mundhir. His Makkan teachers were Hāfiz Jalwānī, Abu Muhammad Hasan bin ‘Ali Al-Khilāl, Hāfiz Zubair bin Bakkār, the judge of Makkah, Hāfiz Salamah bin Shabīb, etc. Notable among his teachers in Qazvin were ‘Amr bin Rāfī’ Bajali, Ismā‘īl bin Tawbah and Muhammad bin Abu Khalīd Qazvīnī. He also studied under other prominent teachers like Jubārah bin Mughallis, Abu Bakr bin Abu Shaibah, Nasr bin ‘Alī Nishapuri, Abu Bakr bin Khallād Bāhīlī, Muhammad bin Bashshār, Abul-Hasan’Ali bin Muhammad Tanāfīsī and ‘Alī bin Mundhir.

His Pupils:
The list of his pupils is very long. They are scattered far and wide, in Qazvin, Hamadan, Isfahan, Baghdad, and other places. Notable among them are ‘Alī bin ‘Abdullāh Al-Falānī, Ibrāhīm bin Dinār Al-Jarushi, Ahmad bin Ibrāhīm Qazvīnī, Hāfiz Abu Ya‘la Al-Khalīlī and Abu ‘Amr Ahmad bin Muhammad bin Hakīm Al-Madani Al-Isfahānī.
Narrators of Sunan Ibn Mājah:

Among his closest students who had the honor of narrating Sunan Ibn Mājah were Abul-Hasan Al-Qattān, Sulaimān bin Yazid, Abu Ja'far Muhammad bin 'Eisa, and Abu Bakr Hāmid Al-Abhari.

Recognition of his eminence by Scholars:

A great Hadith scholar, interpreter of Qur'ān and historian, his outstanding rank, especially in the field of Hadith sciences, has been acknowledged by scholars of Hadith sciences in every age.

- Imām Dhahabi says: "Imām Ibn Mājah remembered Ahādīth by heart. He was a critic in the field of Hadith sciences, truthful, upright and a man of wide learning." Imām Dhahabi wrote in Tadhkiratul-Huffaz: "He was a great memorizer of Ahādīth and a Hadith scholar and Qur'ān interpreter of Qazvin."

- Abu Ya’la Khalili said: "He was very trustworthy and an authority; and had a deep knowledge of Hadith sciences."

- Allamah Sindi said: "Among the Imāms of Hadith, he had a high rank, was pious and a trustworthy scholar by consensus."

Writings of Ibn Mājah:

After completing his education, Ibn Mājah turned to writing and composing and left behind three great works:

As-Sunan: The Sunan Ibn Mājah is counted among the Sound Six (or, say, the Six Books) and ranks sixth. A detailed account can be seen in the following pages.

At-Tafsir: It was a large commentary on Qur'ān in which the Imām had collected Ahādīth and comments of the Companions and Tābi’in supported with chains of narrations. Sayuti counted this commentary and that of Ibn Hātim among the voluminous commentaries of Qur'ān. Ibn Kathir, in Al-Bidāyah, said the same thing.

At-Tārikh: A great history book and a manifestation of his great scholarship and learning, Ibn Kathir called it a complete history while Ibn Khalkān, the famous historian, called it Tārikh Malih (nice history).

It is a pity that the last two books are no longer extant.

Death:

The Imām died on Monday, 22 Ramadān, 273 AH corresponding to 887 CE, aged 64. May Allāh forgive him and have mercy on him. Amen.

[1] Literally, the word means 'Followers' or 'Successors'. A technical term meaning those who saw and met a Companion of the Prophet ﷺ.
Hâfiz Abul-Fadl Muhammad bin Tâhir Maqdisi said, “I saw a book Ibn Màjah authored on biographies and history of regions from the time of the Companions till his time. At the end of the book, there is a statement with the handwriting of his student Ja’far bin Idris that reads: Abu Abdullah Muhammad bin Yazid Màjah died on Monday and was buried on Tuesday 22nd of Ramadân 273 AH. I heard him saying, ‘I was born in the year 209 AH.’ He was aged 64 years. The funeral prayer was performed on him by his brother Abu Bakr, and he was buried by his brothers, Abu Bakr and Abu Abdullah; and his son, Abdullah.”

Some scholars said that Ibn Màjah died in the year 275 AH.¹

Many a poet wrote moving elegies on his death. Hâfiz Ibn Hajar, in Tahdhibut-Tahdhib, quoted a verse written by Muhammad bin Aswad Qazveni: “The loss of Ibn Màjah weakened the columns of the throne of knowledge and shook up its pillars.”

Ibn Mājah’s Book: As-Sunan

Ahādīth began to be put down in writing even during the era of the Prophet but these Ahādīth were no better than compilations by individuals. Their purpose was just to put them down in writing, with no regard for order or sequence. Later, during the caliphate of 'Umar bin 'Abdul-'Aziz (99 AH-101 AH), the state undertook this task but most of the works in this field were the products of individual labor. During the second century of the Hijra calendar, famous books like Muwattā’ of Imâm Mâlik and Musnad of Imâm Shâfi’i were prepared but the third stage of recording Ahādīth, known as the Golden Age, came only in the third century AH. Many a collection was made in this age. These included the Six Books (Kutub Sittah), popularly known as the Sound Six (Sahah Sittah), Sunan of Ibn Mâjah being one of them and considered the last of them.

Sunan Ibn Mâjah began to be included in the Six Books by the end of the fifth century AH. Since then, in every succeeding age, it kept on growing in value and importance. With respect to soundness and strength, Sunan Ad-Dârimi, Sunan Ad-Dârâqutni and other books of Sunan were superior to Sunan Ibn Mâjah but they did not gain popularity like Sunan Ibn Mâjah.

It is to be noted that Sunan is a technical term used by scholars of Hadith sciences to denote a book of Ahādīth relating to legal rulings, from the Chapters of Purification (Abwāb-Tahārah wa Sunanha) down to the Chapter on Wills (Kitâb-ul-Wasâya) in the same order as followed in books of Islamic jurisprudence.

How important and useful the Sunan Ibn Mâjah is, can also be gauged by the fact that when Ibn Mâjah showed his work to Imâm Abu Zar’ah, the latter remarked: 'If this book reached the public, all or most of the existing Jawâmi’ would cease to be used. The words of Imâm Abu Zar’ah proved to be true to the last letter. Several Jawâmi’, Musnads and Sunan were eclipsed by Ibn Mâjah’s Sunan.

Hâfiz Ibn Hajar, writing in Taqribut-Tahdhib, termed the book Jâmi’ Jaiyid (a good, comprehensive Hadith collection).

The book, As-Sunan by Imâm Ibn Mâjah was an excellent and beneficial work that stunned the scholars of his time.

He himself said about the book: “I showed this book to Abu Zur’ah Râzi. He checked it and said, ‘I think if people lay their hands on this book, all or most of other great compiled works will become unnecessary.’”[1]

The book was published and is popularly known among students of knowledge as Sunan Ibn Mājah.

There was also an old edition of the book printed in Egypt in whose cover was written: ‘Sunan Al-Mustafa by Ibn Mājah’. However, there is no authentic proof for correctness of this latter name, and no one has ever called the book of Ibn Mājah with this name.

As for the first name Sunan Ibn Mājah, it is inconceivable that author could give his work this name. For, the custom is that the author gives his book a name and then adds 'by so-and-so'. It is not in the habit of the scholars to ascribe their books to themselves in a genitive construction. It is even unimaginable.

There is a very old and authorized manuscript of Sunan Ibn Mājah that dates back to year 601 AH. The manuscripts had writings of a number of scholars including Ibn Qudāmah and Imām Mizzi, in this manuscript, Ibn Mājah's work is called As-Sunan li Ibn Mājah. This is the correct title of the work.

One should not say that there is little difference between the title Sunan Ibn Mājah that means 'the Sunan of Ibn Mājah', or As-Sunan li Ibn Mājah that means 'the Sunan collected by Ibn Mājah'. For, in the second title, what normally comes to mind is that you are talking about the Sunan (traditions) of Allāh's Messenger ﷺ while in the first title; the reader will think that you are talking about the Sunan of Ibn Mājah and not that of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. Also, if you compare between the two titles, you will realize that the respect the second title commands in the hearts is greater than that of the first one.

All this is in addition to the fact that the author did not title his work Sunan Ibn Mājah. Therefore, books and opinions of their authors in giving titles to their books should be respected. It follows then that, Ibn Mājah's book should be called 'As-Sunan by Ibn Mājah', especially when printing the work.

It is, however, strange that though this book has been published several times, the correct title did not appear in the cover of any of these editions. What is more astounding is the fact that one of the editors of the book, Dr. Muhammad Mustafa A'zami adopted the authorized manuscript in which this title appeared. Yet, he disregarded this title.

While the scholars might be excused if they refer to Ibn Mājah's work as Sunan Ibn Mājah in their normal conversations, this usage should not be condoned if it is written on the cover of the book.
The Work's Printed Editions:
The work of Ibn Mājah was first printed in 1233 AH in India. One volume of it was printed. The printing was then discontinued until the year 1273 AH when the second volume was printed, also in India. The work was republished once again in Lahore, India in 1311 AH.

In 1313 AH, it was published in Cairo. It was this Cairo edition that has in its margins the commentary of Sindi.

The book was published several times thereafter, the latest and most recognized of these editions is the one edited by Muhammad Fuwād ‘Abdul-Baqi published in 1373 AH. It is the edition recognized by most scholars whenever they wanted to quote a Hadith from Ibn Mājah’s collection. This edition was reedited by Dr. Muhammad Mustafa A’zami and published again in 1404 AH.

General Information on Sunan Ibn Mājah:
It has been pointed out earlier that the work is published in two volumes. It consists of thirty-two books on knowledge and Fiqh, and of one thousand five hundred and fifteen (1515) chapters.

According to Muhammad Fuwād ‘Abdul-Baqi’s edition, it consists of four thousand three hundred and forty-one Ahādīth; and according to A’zami’s it consists of four thousand three hundred and ninety-seven Ahādīth.

Ibn Mājah started his collection with ‘the Book of Sunnah’, which is alternatively called ‘the Introduction’. Indeed, this book with which he started his work is one of the most beautiful and most wonderful introductions for such a work. This is because; the collection itself is about the Sunnah and its fundamentals. It is therefore, very appropriate to start by discussing the Sunnah.

In this wonderful introduction, Ibn Mājah mentioned many chapters. If he were to separate them, each of them would have been like individual Sunnah books such as As-Sunnah by Abdullah bin Ahmad, As-Sunnah by Laikā’i and As-Sunnah by Ibn Abu ‘Asim.

Ibn Mājah then mentioned chapters that deal with the virtues of the Prophet’s Companions such as Abu Bakr, ‘Umar, ‘Uthmān, ‘Ali and others. He then mentioned chapters concerning the Khawārij and Jahmiyyah.

In the Book of ‘Aqidah, Imām Ibn Mājah mentioned chapters concerning a person who introduced good practice or bad practice; a person who revived a Sunnah that was extinct; and the virtue of a person who learnt the Qur’ān and taught others.

These and other chapters mentioned by Ibn Mājah are like fundamentals and principles of the science of Sunnah that should be inevitably read by whoever wants to learn the Sunnah or is keen about the Prophet’s practice.

The first Hadith in the Sunan by Ibn Mājah is as follows:

Ibn Mājah narrated with his Isnād that goes to Abu Hurairah who narrated that the Messenger of Allāh said: “Whatever I have commanded you, do it; and whatever I have forbidden you, refrain from it.”[1] This statement from Allāh’s Messenger seems like an interpretation of Allāh’s Word, “And whatsoever the Messenger (Muhammad) gives you, take it; and whatsoever he forbids you, abstain (from it).” (Al-Ḥashr 59:7)

Starting the book with this Hadith also has its significance. The comprehensiveness of the Hadith in the sense of its command that the Prophet should be followed is an indication that the ‘Book of Sunnah’ is the best and the most beautiful thing the compilation can be started with.

The last Hadith in the Sunan by Ibn Mājah is the one he reported with his Isnād to Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allāh said, “There is no one among you who does not have two abodes: An abode in Paradise and an abode in Hell. If he dies and enters Hell, the people of Paradise inherit his abode. This is what Allāh says, “These are indeed the inheritors.” (Al-Mu‘minun 23:10)[2]

Though this Hadith is one of those ones that only Ibn Mājah narrated to the exclusion of the other five collectors, it is authentic. The other five collectors are: Bukhārī, Muslim, Abu Dāwūd, Tirmidhi and Nasā’i.

One of the wonderful lessons this Hadith teaches is that entering Paradise is the goal of all slaves and the consequence of all their actions. Ibn Mājah concluded his collection with this Hadith to indicate this and that it is the end of whoever followed the Allāh’s pleasure. It also indicates though the misguidance of those who deviated from the Sunnah of the Messenger of Allāh may hurt the Ahlus-Sunnah in this world, they will be comforted on the Day of Resurrection. For, they shall inherit in Paradise the places of the inhabitants of Hell. The recompense shall be according to the deeds.

They were hurt by these people’s abandonment of the religion and the Prophet’s Sunnah in this world, so Allāh rewarded them for that by making them happy in the Hereafter and making them inherit places in Paradise allocated to the dwellers of Hell.

Further, it is also authentically reported from the Messenger of Allāh that he said, “The scholars are the heirs of the Prophets, for the Prophets

[1] Ibn Mājah (1); Albānī classified it as Sahih.
[2] Ibn Mājah (4341); Albānī classified it as Sahih.
did not leave behind Dinar or Dirham, rather they left behind knowledge, so whoever takes it has taken a great share.”[1] The legacy the Messenger of Allah left behind is his Sunnah. Those who inherited it in this world are the scholars who follow his Sunnah and act upon it. Therefore, they deserved to be exclusively described as ‘the inheritors’ in the above Verse.

This should not be surprising; for, in this world, they inherited the legacy of knowledge left behind by the Prophets; and, in the Hereafter, they shall inherit the abodes of Paradise.

The above explanation is an attempt at finding reason for Ibn Mājah’s concluding his collection with this Hadith.

Concerning describing the Sunan Ibn Mājah as collection of Ahādīth that deal about Fiqh issues - in line with the definition of latter scholars who defined Sunan as a collection of Ahādīth arranged according to Fiqh chapters - we do not believe that this description is accurate enough. This is because; the Sunan collections, in addition to their inclusion of chapters on Fiqh, also include chapters that are unrelated to Fiqh. Therefore, it is better to define them as ‘the Sunan collections are books that mostly consist of Ahādīth arranged according to Fiqh chapters.’

For example, Sunan Abu Dāwud consists of Ahādīth about Mahdi, and this has nothing to do with rules of Fiqh.

There are also books in Ibn Mājah’s collection that have nothing to do with rules of Fiqh such as ‘Chapters on the Interpretation of Dreams’, ‘Chapters on Asceticism’ and ‘Chapters on Tribulations’.

The Chapters on Asceticism, which is the last part of the collection, consists of Ahādīth that describe the Day of Resurrection and its horrors, description of the Prophet’s Water Fountain, and mentioning of the Prophet’s intercession. Ibn Mājah then mentioned Ahādīth about description of Hell-Fire and then description of Paradise.

It is therefore clear that Ibn Mājah’s collection does not consists of chapters of Fiqh only but also comprises other chapters of knowledge.

The Sunan Ibn Mājah is the sixth of the six major collections of Ahādīth. Others are: Sahih Bukhāri and Sahih Muslim, Sunan Abu Dāwud, Sunan Tirmidhi, and Sunan Nasā‘î. Hāfiz Ibn’Asākir made a collection of parts of each of the Hadith of the collection and Mizzi did the same on all its narrators.

However, Ibn Salāh and Nawawi did not make a mention of Ibn Mājah’s collection in their works. They did not regard it as one of the major collections. They regarded the major collections as only the five, following the way of the earliest scholars of Hadith and methodology of the many of latter scholars. When some of these scholars realized that Ibn Mâjah’s collection is immensely useful and strong in terms of Fiqh and they realized that it included many Ahâdîth that are not in the Muwatta of Imâm Mâlik, they included it among the major collections making them six.

The first ‘Imâm to include Sunan Ibn Mâjah to other five collections is Abû-Fadl Muhammad bin Tâhir bin ‘Ali Maqdisi in his work, Atrâfûl-Kutub As-Sittah. He was followed in doing so by Hâfiz Abdul-Ghani bin ‘Abdul-Wahid bin ‘Ali bin Surur Maqdisi in his work, Al-Kamâl fi Asmâ’ur-Rijâl, which is a work about the narrators of the six major collections, and summarized under the name Tahdhibul-Kamâl by Háfiz Jamâluddin Abu Hajjâj Yusuf bin Abdur-Rahmân Al-Mizzi.

There were scholars such as Razîn bin Mu’âwiyah ‘Abdari and Athiruddin Abu Sa’âdat Mubârak bin Muhammad - otherwise known as Ibn Athîr Al-Jazari Ash-Shâfi’î - who counted Muwatta’ Imâm Mâlik as the sixth of major collection in place of Sunan Ibn Mâjah. ‘Abdari did so in his work Tajrid while Ibn Athîr did so in his work Jami’ul-Usul.

There were also eminent scholars such as Ibn Salâh, Nawawi, Salâhuddin ‘Alâ’î and Hâfiz Ibn Hajar ‘Asqâlânî who believed that it would have been more preferable to count Sunan Dârimi as the sixth of the major collections instead of Sunan Ibn Mâjah.[1]

Date of Composition:
Ibn Mâjah left his home town in 230 AH in quest of Ahâdîth and died in 264 AH. It was during this intervening period that he composed his Sunan and showed it to Abu Zar’ah. This leads us to infer that Ibn Mâjah wrote his Sunan between 230 AH and 264 AH.

Number of Narrations and Their Degree of Soundness:
According to Abûl-Hasan Qattân, the Sunan Ibn Mâjah contains 32 Books, 1510 chapters and 4000 Ahâdîth while, according to Muhammad Fuwâd ‘Abdul-Bâqi, it contains 37 Books, 1560 chapters and 4341 Ahâdîth. The latter opinion has more weight.

According to Fuwâd ‘Abdul-Bâqi’s research, of the additional 1339 Ahâdîth, called Zawî’id of Sunan Ibn Mâjah, 428 Ahâdîth are Sahih, 199 Hasan, 613 Da’îf and 99 Munkar (Denounced) and Maudu’ (Fabricated). Shaikh Nâsiruddin in his book Da’îf Ibn Mâjah, counts 948 Ahâdîth as Da’îf.

Ibn Mājah’s Conditions Regarding the Ahādīth of His Collection:

We did not find that Imām Ibn Mājah wrote any introduction to his book in which he explained the conditions he followed and the methodology he used in compiling his book As-Sunan. He neither did that at the beginning of the book, as most scholars did, nor in a separate booklet, as some of them, such as Abu Dāwūd did.

Also, we did not know of any scholar who gave any assessment to Ibn Mājah’s collection that its Ahādīth are generally authentic, as it happened with the collection of Nasā’ī and those of others. As a result, we could not say that Ibn Mājah stipulated that he would include only authentic Ahādīth in his collection. In fact, the reality of his book indicated the contrary. What the study showed is that Ibn Mājah’s collection contains greater number of Weak Ahādīth and greater number of narrations that can be described as fabricated - though these are very few - than any of the other five collections.

How then can we know the conditions Ibn Mājah followed in compiling his book and the methodology he used? To start with, two things should attract the attention of the reader of Ibn Mājah’s collection:

One: Ibn Mājah was greatly keen on compiling as many Ahādīth as he could as long as they are explicitly related to detailed branches of Fiqh. He was enthusiastic about mentioning evidences for detailed Fiqh issues. That is why his book was praised in this aspect. Ibn Kathir described Ibn Mājah’s collection in his book, Ikhtisār ʿUlumul-Hadīth, as ‘a good and useful work, strongly chaptered in Fiqh.’

While making exhaustive compilation of these evidences of Fiqh, he was compelled to collect as many Ahādīth as he could regardless of authenticity or weakness of the Ahādīth. Perhaps, some scholars of Ibn Mājah’s time used to cite some of these Weak narrations as proofs and he wanted to bring out to our knowledge their chains so that we could know their status.

Two: It is related to the first factor - Ibn Mājah has additional Ahādīth over those of the other five collections. These additions are many. If one was to consider the number of Ahādīth of the two Sahih collections and then those of the other three collections, namely Sunan of Abu Dāwūd, Tirmidhi and Nasā’ī, and he was to consider the fact that the other three collectors also arranged their collections according to Fiqh chapters without stipulating that they collected only authentic narrations; he would realize that Ibn Mājah still had more exclusively additional Ahādīth than any of the other five collectors. The number of these additional Ahādīth is one thousand five hundred and fifty-two (1552) Ahādīth, according to the book Miftah Az-Zujajah by Imam Busairi. This number is undoubtedly great.

In the light of the above two clear factors - namely that Ibn Majah was enormously concerned about branches of Fiqh and collecting proofs on detailed Fiqh issues and that he had more exclusively additional Ahadith than any of the other five collectors - we can then be able to answer the question: What was the methodology of Ibn Majah and what was his purpose of compiling the book?

It is now clear to us that the purpose of Ibn Majah was to bring to us chains of transmitters of reports cited as basis of the rules of Fiqh regardless of the degree of authenticity or otherwise of the chains.

Works Concerning Narrators of Sunan Ibn Majah:
1. Imam Dhahabi wrote biographies for narrators of Sunan Ibn Majah whose narrations were not collected by Bukhari and Muslim. He named this work, Al-Mujarrad fi Rijal Sunan Ibn Majah. The work has been published twice.
2. Dr. Abdullah Murad Ali’s thesis, Al-Matrukunal-ladhinu fee Ikhrâji lahum Ibn Majah; this is a contemporary work.
3. There is also another work in this regard by Dr. Sa’di bin Mahdi Al-Hashimi. It is published by Islamic University of Al-Madinah in 1402 AH.

Distinguishing Qualities of Sunan Ibn Majah:
The Sunan of Ibn Majah possesses some distinguishing qualities that kept it apart from other books of Ahadith, made it outstanding and popular and called the attention of scholars in all ages. Here are those distinguishing qualities:

- The style is excellent. The titles of chapters are in harmony with the Ahadith listed under them. There is no confusion or meshing or disorder. The chapters follow each other in the same order as in the books of Islamic jurisprudence, and the Ahadith, too, are well-ordered—a quality that poses no difficulty in deriving legal rulings.
- The chapters are well-ordered and well-arranged. There is no repetition, a quality lacking in other basic Hadith books.
- The book, though brief, is comprehensive with respect to legal rulings. It is for this quality of comprehensiveness that Ibn Hajir, in Taqribut-Tahdhib, called it a ‘good Jami’.
- On several occasions he identified those Ahadith that are Charib (Unfamiliar). Of course, Tirmidhi is famed for having already done so, yet Ibn Majah’s work in this field, namely, identifying Ahadith in some special chapters and ruling them as Charib is unique. We do not find it in other books.

- There were some Ahādīth specific to some particular town, there being no narrator of those Ahādīth in other towns. But Ibn Mājah, while recording, gives the name of the town the narrator of a particular Hadith belongs.

- Ibn Mājah added 482 Sahih Ahādīth to his Sunan that do not exist in the other five books of Hadith.

- There are 3002 common Ahādīth existing in both Sunan Ibn Mājah and the other five books but Ibn Mājah recorded them with quite different channels of narration. This multiplicity of channels of narration has further strengthened Ahādīth, a distinguishing quality of Sunan Ibn Mājah, a quality that is not found in other books.

- There are 1339 Ahādīth in Sunan Ibn Mājah that do not exist in the other Five books. Hadith scholars have also recorded them as Zawā'id (additions or supplements). It is owing to those Zawā'id that the Sunan of Ibn Mājah has been elevated to the position of 'the sixth of the Six'.

Position of Sunan Ibn Mājah among the Six Collections:

Allāh, High and Exalted has appointed for the Sunnah well-versed and learned scholars who shall protect it against the distortions of extremists, arrogation of liars and misinterpretations of the ignorant. These scholars devised various ways of recording the Sunnah in order to preserve it. One of the best results of these efforts, the most authentic, the most accurate and the most well-accepted by all and sundry is 'the Sahih', collected by Abu 'Abdullah Muhammad bin Ismā'il Bukhāri. This is followed in terms of accuracy and acceptance by Sahih collected by Abu Husain Muslim bin Hajjāj Nishapuri.

These two collections are then followed by 'the Sunan' collected by each of: Abu Dāwud Sulaimān bin Ash'ath Sijistānī, Abu 'Eisa Muhammad bin 'Eisa Tirmidhi, Abu Abdur-Rahmān Ahmad bin Shu'aib Nasā'i and Abu Abdullah Muhammad bin Yazid who is also known as Ibn Mājah Qazvini; though he did not attained the status of the other five.[1]

Rāfi'i (d. 623 AH), said in his book, At-Tadwin about Ibn Mājah's collection: "Ibn Mājah’s collection, As-Sunan can be mentioned along with the two Sahih collections and the Sunan collection of each of Abu Dāwud, Nasā'i and Tirmidhi."

As it has been pointed out earlier, there was a controversy among the scholars as to which of the three collections - Sunan Ibn Majah, Muwatta' Imām Mālik and Sunan Dārimi - should be counted as the sixth of the six major collections. This controversy was widened by Majdūdīn Ibn Taimiyyah's argument that Musnad of Imām Ahmad deserved to be counted instead of Sunan Ibn Mājah.

This controversy was, however, brought to a logical end by the latter scholars; that is by incorporating all the suggested books and raising the major collections to nine. Hence, we have the basic five collections: Sahīhs of Bukhārī and Muslim, the Sunan collected by each of: Abu Dāwud Sulaimān bin Ash'ath Sijistānī, Abu ‘Eisa Muhammad bin ‘Eisa Tirmidhi and Abu Abdur-Rahmān Ahmad bin Shu‘aib Nasā’i with the addition of Sunan of Ibn Mājah. Added to the list are: Muwatta' of Imām Mālik, Sunan of Dārimi and Musnad of Imām Ahmad.

These nine collections are therefore the major basic collections of Hadith upon which the latter scholars finally agreed.

Ibn Hajar, in his work An-Nuṣāt, did mention the reason that made Ibn Tāhir to count Sunan Ibn Mājah as the sixth collection as opposed to Muwatta’ by Imām Mālik. He said, “Ibn Tāhir and others counted Sunan Ibn Mājah as the sixth collection as opposed to Muwatta’ because; Muwatta’ contains fewer fully-connected additions to the Hadith of the five collections whereas Sunan Ibn Mājah contains more and more. Therefore, the intention of the scholars in choosing Sunan Ibn Mājah was to maximize the number of Ahādīth.”

In the above statement, Ibn Hajar mentioned the clear reason for the scholars’ choosing of Sunan Ibn Mājah as opposed to Muwatta’ of Imām Mālik though it is indisputably clear that Muwatta’ is more recognized and more authentic in terms of its contents than Sunan Ibn Mājah. However, by choosing Sunan Ibn Mājah, the scholars were adding a great number of Ahādīth - more than one thousand five hundred additional Ahādīth - to the treasure of Sunnah.

Sunan Ibn Mājah’s Rank among Hadith Books:
Initially, only four were chosen from among the many Hadith books by Ibn Sakan and Ibn Mandah and called them the ‘Four Bases’ that included Sahīh Bukhārī, Sahīh Muslim, Sunan Abu Dāwud and Sunan An-Nasā’ī. Later on, Sunan Tirmidhi was also included in them and a new term ‘the Five Bases’ was coined. Towards the end of the fifth century AH, Hāfiz Abūl-Fadl Muhammad bin Tāhir Al-Maqdisi added Sunan Ibn Mājah to the Five Bases, calling it the sixth of the Six (Sādisus-Sittah) and by writing his book Shurutul-A’immaus-Sittah (The conditions laid down by the six Imāms) included it permanently in the Six Books. Later on, Hâfiz ‘Abdul-Ghani Al-Maqdisi, writing in his book Al-Kâmîl, followed the same line that was laid down by Ibn Tâhir.

The Scholars’ Interest in Sunan Collections:
The scholars showed great interest in Sunan collections. They transcript it, quoted it, memorized it, narrated it, commented on it and explained the situations of its narrators.

- One of these scholars is Imâm Hâfiz Muhammad bin Tâhir bin ‘Ali bin Ahmad the well-traveled scholar and the author of many books. He was born in Jerusalem.

Salafi narrated that he heard Muhammad bin Tâhir saying: “I wrote the two Sahih of Bukhârî and Muslim and Sunan Abu Dâwud seven times for wages. And I wrote Sunan Ibn Mâjah ten times at Ray.”

Ibn Tâhir also said, “I discharged blood while urinating twice in the cause of seeking Ahâdîth: Once in Baghdad and the other time in Makkah. That was due to my walking barefooted in extreme heat. I never rode any mount in the cause of seeking Ahâdîth and I used to carry my books on my back. Also, I never begged anyone for anything while I was a student of Hadîth. I only used to live upon whatever came to me.”

It was also reported that Ibn Tâhir would walk continuously for a day and a night; for he was endowed with the strength to do so.

Abdullah bin Muhammad Ansârî Harawi said, “A student of Hadîth should be fast at reading, writing and walking. Allâh endowed this young man - meaning Ibn Tâhir - with these qualities.”

Shuji’ Dhuhli said, “Ibn Tâhir died when he arrived for Hajj on Friday 28th or 29th of Rabi’ul-Awwal 507 AH.”[1]

- Sakhawi said, “Hâfiz Ibn Hajar read the entire Sunan Ibn Mâjah in four sittings; Sahih Muslim in four sittings, Sunan An-Nasâ’î Al-Kabîr in ten sittings, and each sitting was approximately of four hours. He also read Mu’jam At-Tabarâni As-Saghîr in a single sitting between Zuhr and ‘Asr prayers - And this is his fastest.”[2]

The scholars had shown great interest in the books of Sunan. The lesser the number of narrators of a book and the closer its chain of narrators to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, the higher the status of that book, as long as the reports are authentic. That is why the scholars paid greater attention to some Ahādīth whose chains of narrators are shorter. For instance, they paid greater attention to Ahādīth whose Isnād consist of one, two or three narrators.

As for Isnād with only three narrators in the chains, Imām Shāfi‘ī recorded a number of them in his Musnad. Imām Ahmad also has a lot of them in his Musnad. Bukhāri has about twenty of them; and Abu Dāwud and Tirmidhī have one each. As for Ibn Mājah, he has about five of them but each of his narrators is accused of lying. Tabarāni in his Mu‘jam also has a few of these Isnād.

As for Imām Mālik, he has reports in his Muwatta‘ with only two narrators in their Isnād. Imām Abu Hanifah also has narrations with only one narrator between him and the Messenger of Allāh ṣṣ. However, these reports are rejected because; the fact is that Abu Hanifah never heard anything from any of the Prophet’s Companions. It then follows that one or more narrators must have been dropped between him and the Companions he is reported to have narrated from.

The Scholars’ Interest in Sunan Ibn Mājah:

It is in the habit of the scholars to read and memorize Sunan books. One of the most prominent among such scholars is Abu Zur‘ah Maqdisi. The great scholar, who was well-versed in Hadith was Tāhir bin Muhammad bin Tāhir bin ‘Ali Shaibānī Al-Maqdisi Al-Rāzi Al-Hamdānī. He was born in Ray.

‘Umar bin ‘Ali Al-Qurashi said, “I started reading Sunan Ibn Mājah to Abu Zur‘ah when he came for Hajj. He said: ‘I heard the book from Abu Mansur Miqwāmī, and it was from a copy written by my father.’” Al-Qurashi then said, “We then confirmed that he had Ijāzah (i.e., certificate of approval) from Miqwāmī.”

Abu ‘Abdullah Dubaithi said, “Abu Zur‘ah died in the year 566 AH at Hamdān.”[1]

Another prominent scholar in this regard is Muhammad bin Shāfi‘ī bin Muhammad bin Tāhir Nishapuri who was also known as as-Sinawbarī, the jurist. He visited Baghdad and lived there for sometime. While he was there, he narrated Sunan Ibn Mājah to people.[2]

Scholars Who were Unable to Acquire Sunan Ibn Mājah:
1. ‘Alī bin ʿIsāʾīl bin Abbās bin Qarqīn Al-Baʿli (d. 772 AH).[1]
2. Ḥāfīz ʿAlāmah Shaikhul-Islam Abu Bakr Ahmad bin Husain bin ʿAlī bin Musa Al-Khazrujadi Khorasani Al-Baihaqi. He was a great scholar. His knowledge was blessed and he has many useful works to his credit. He did not have any of Sunans of Nasāʾi, Tirmidhi or Ibn Mājah. He died in the year (458 AH).[2]

Explanatory Commentaries on Ibn Mājah:
Like the other Five Books, in view of the usefulness, importance and fame of Sunan Ibn Mājah, many notable commentaries and marginal notes have been written on it. Some of them are:

1. The first known commentary on Sunan Ibn Mājah is the one done by the Egyptian Ḥāfīz Abu ʿAbdullah ʿAlāʾuddīn Mughaltī bin Qalīj bin ʿAbdullah Bakjari Al-Misri (d. 762 AH). He named his work Al-Iʿlam bi Sunnatihi ʿAlaʾihis-Salām. The author died before he could complete it. It still remains in manuscript and unedited, and it is in four volumes.

3. Some authors mention a book called Mā Tamass ilayh Hājah liman Yutāḥih Sunan Ibn Mājah. This book was written by one of the Indian scholars, Muhammad Abdur-Rashid Nuʾmānī. The impression the title of the book gives is that it is about Ibn Mājah’s methodology and other necessary things a readers should know about Sunan Ibn Mājah. But, sadly, the book is mostly devoid of that. It was only written in response to an issue that affects the Hanafites only. The only important thing the book has is that it made a mention of spurious Ahādīth.

4. Ad-Dibajah fee Sharh Sunan Ibn Mājah is a five-volume work by Kamaluddin Muhammad bin Musa Ad-Damiri, the author of the famous Hayāṭul-Haṭwān Al-Kubra; he died in the year 808 AH.

5. Allāmah Jalāluddin Suyutī also had a commentary on Sunan Ibn Mājah. It was printed along with a very old edition of Sunan Ibn Mājah in New Delhi. Suyutī’s commentary is called: Misbah Az-Zujajah. However, I do not know whether or not this name is authentic.

6. Sharh Sunan Ibn Mājah by Ibn Rajab Hanbali (d. 795 AH); we know nothing about this commentary except that Sindi quoted from it in his own commentary on Sunan Ibn Mājah.

7. Sharh Ibn Mājah: The work of Shaikh Burhānuddin Halabi. According to Imām Shaukānī, it is a very delicate and refined commentary.

8. Misbah Az-Zuwā'id Ibn Mājah by Busairi (d. 840 AH). The unique feature of this work is that Busairi edited those narrations that Ibn Mājah exclusively recorded. He then classified each of these narrations in terms of its authenticity or otherwise. It should be pointed out that this Busairi is different from the one who wrote a poetry in which the Prophet ﷺ was excessively praised and which is recited all over the Muslim world. We ask Allāh for guidance.

9. Kifāyatul-Hājah fi Sharh Ibn Mājah: Marginal notes by Shaikh Abul-Hasan Muhammad bin 'Abdul-Hādi Sindi, a twelfth century AH scholar (d. 1138 AH). In his marginal notes, 'Allāmah Sindi explains odd words, gives correct spellings of words and, in particular, writes on declension inflections of words. It is a bit more comprehensive than 'Allāmah Suyuti's marginal notes.

13. Injāzul-Hājah bi Sharh Sunan Ibn Mājah: A very useful and comprehensive commentary written in Arabic by famous Pakistani scholar, Shaikh Muhammad 'Ali Janbāz. He documented and referenced each Hadith, gave his ruling on its soundness or weakness, wrote a brief biographical note on the narrators of each Hadith, gave accurate names of narrators and places, and quoted Ahādīth similar in meaning to the respective Hadith. Moreover, while writing his commentary, he mentioned the Madhhab of each school of Islamic jurisprudence, quoting from their authentic books and, after an objective analysis of the arguments of each jurist in the light of Qur'ān and Sunnah, mentioned the preferred opinion. At the end of each volume, there is also a list of famous biographies. The foregoing qualities make this commentary very useful, excellent and comprehensive. But it is still incomplete. The commentary on about half the book running into six volumes has already been published. May Allāh help the author complete his work and reward him for his labor. Amen.
How to benefit by Sunan Ibn Mājah

Introduction: The Sunan of Ibn Mājah is one of the basic reference works. It occupies a special position among the six canonical books of Ahādīth (the Sound Six), next to the Sound Traditions of Bukhārī and Muslim. It has been arranged under subject-headings. Imām Ibn Mājah (209 AH-273 AH) divided his work into three parts according to the subject-matter: (1) chapters (2) subchapters (3) Ahādīth. This type of division and arrangement is technically called the Fiqh classification. The Sunan of Ibn Mājah consists of 37 books and 4341 Ahādīth in all.

Chapters: To begin with, titles have been given according to subject-matter, following the Fiqh classification (that is, the classification method followed in the books of Islamic jurisprudence), for example, chapters of Purity and its Sunan, chapters of Funerals. Following this pattern, Sunan Ibn Mājah make 37 chapters, a separate list of which has been given on another page.

Subchapters: These carry titles relating to each of the Fiqh subjects. For example, the chapter of Purity and its Sunan has 139 subchapters. The same method is followed in the chapters on Prayer-call (Adhān), Mosques, etc.

Ahādīth: The Ahādīth quoted under each chapter and each title have been arranged with respect to their contents and follow a well-ordered sequence. The Ahādīth quoted vary in numbers, more in some chapters and less in others. Readers should follow the same order in their search for a Hadīth relating to a particular subject.

References: Readers will notice the word Al-Mu‘jam in the beginning of each subchapter and the word Al-Tuhfah at the end of it in the chapters of the Arabic part of Sunan Ibn Mājah. The following explains the terms:

a. Al-Mu‘jam refers to Al-Mu‘jam Al-Mufahras li Alfāthil-Hadīth, a 7-8 volume work prepared by the (non-Muslim) Orientalists over a period of 65 years stretching from 1922 to 1987. It is an alphabetical list of words occurring in the texts of Ahādīth collected by nine traditionists in their compilations: Sahihul-Bukhārī, Sahih Muslim, Sunan Abu Dāwud, Jāmi’ Tirmidhi, Sunan An-Nasa’i, Sunan Ibn Mājah, Musnad Ahmad, Musulma’ Al-Imām Mālik, and Sunan Ad-Dārimi. Its purpose is to help readers find the text of any Hadīth wherever it occurs among the foregoing nine Hadīth compilations.
b. At-Tukfah refers to Tuḥfatul-Ashrāf bi Maʿrifatil-Aṯrāf, a book prepared by Jamāluddin Abū-Haǧāj Yūsuf Al-Mızzi in the course of 27 years, from 696 AH to 722 AH. It contains the texts of all the Aḥādīth of the Six canonical books plus As-Sunān Al-Kubra of Nāṣaʿī and Ṣaḥmāʾil of Tirmidhī along with the names, alphabetically arranged, of the Companions, their followers (Ṭābiʿīn) and the followers of the followers (ṬābaʿṬābiʿīn), who narrated them. This arrangement is technically called Munṣad. Numbers have also been given along with Al-Muʿjam and At-Tukfah in the Arabic part of Ibn Mājah. These numbers guide the reader to where those Aḥādīth are to be found in Al-Muʿjam Al-Mufahras and Tuḥfatul-Ashrāf, thereby enabling him to get to other reference works relating to Aḥādīth. This arrangement has proved very helpful to research scholars in their search for a particular Hadīth.

- Numbering *Aḥādīth: Muhammad Fuwād ʿAbdūl-Bāqī introduced about 60 to 70 years ago the system of giving number to each Hadīth in the collections: Bukhārī, Muslim, and Sunan Ibn Mājah to make it easy to find a particular Hadīth. It is called in Arabic Raqamul-Hadīth. Now it has become a normal practice in Hadīth books. This method of numbering Aḥādīth has made access to any Hadīth very easy. You can find a Hadīth now very quickly.

- Sanad (chain) of Hadīth: The traditionist transmits a Hadīth, beginning from his teacher (Shaikh) through each narrator up to the Companion of the Prophet ﷺ. This sequence of narrators is called chain (Sanad) of narration.

- Matn (text) of Hadīth: The words beginning at the end of the chain is called Matn (text).

- Comments: To further explain the meaning of each Hadīth and to recount all the rulings and the points of law that can possibly be deduced from a particular Hadīth, a new section, Comments, has been added in the English edition. While writing this section, quotations from Qurʾān and Hadīth books, along with their references, have also been given. Sometimes Hadīth numbers have also been given, the purpose being to help the reader gain more information if he so desires. Readers will note in this English edition of Ibn Mājah that at the end of each Hadīth, the quoted Hadīth has been investigated and traced. It is a technical thing normally useful for learned men and Hadīth scholars but a layman may also benefit by discovering whether a particular Hadīth is Weak or Sound.
Technical Terms used by Hadith Scholars

Definition of Hadith: Whatever has come down to us concerning Allâh’s Messenger ﷺ through narrators is called Hadith. It is also sometimes called Sunnah (practice, usage, etc), Khabar (report) and Athar (track, trace, sign, impression, tradition).

Basic Kinds of Ahâdith:

- Qauli (Verbal): It records the utterances of the Prophet ﷺ.
- Fi’li (Practical): It records the deeds of the Prophet ﷺ.
- Taqrîr (Tact): It records the Prophet’s tacit approval of some action, behavior, etc.
- Shamā’il (physical characteristics): It records the physical characteristics, appearance, habits or behavior of the Prophet ﷺ.

Note: The main text of a Hadith is called Matn, which is preceded by Sanad (chain of narrators). If the chain is complete and no name of the narrator is missing from the chain, the Hadith is called Mutassil (Connected). Else, it is called Munqat’ (Interrupted).

Kinds of Ahâdith with respect to Ascription (Nisbah):

- Qudsi (Sacred): It records the very Words of Allâh narrated by the Prophet ﷺ, transmitted through narrators, and not found in the Qur’ân.
- Marfu’ (Traceable): A Hadith ascribing an utterance, deed, or tacit approval to the Prophet ﷺ.
- Maqüf (Discontinued): A Hadith ascribing an utterance, deed, or tacit approval to a Companion of the Prophet ﷺ.
- Maqfu’ (Intersected): A Hadith ascribing an utterance or deed to Tâbi’i[1] or Tabi’ Tâbi’i.[2]

[1] See the glossary.
[2] See the glossary.
Kinds of Ahâdîth according to the Number of Narrators:

- Mutawâtîr (Continuous): Hadîth fulfilling the four conditions of continuity:
  1. narrated by a large number of narrators;
  2. human reason and usage cannot possibly rule it out as false;
  3. occurring much in each chronological Level (Tabâqah) of narrators, right from the era of the Prophet ﷺ to the time of the compiler;
  4. relates to human senses.

Note: Tabâqah (Era-Level) is a group of narrators hearing Ahâdîth from one or more than one teacher.

- Khabar Wihid (Isolated): A Hadîth which does not meet the four conditions of Mutawâtîr Hadîth. It is of four kinds.

- Mashhur (Well-known): A Hadîth with more than two narrators at each Level (Tabâqah) but not an equal number of narrators at any Level (e.g., three, four, five).

- Mustafid (Extensive): Hadîth with a uniform number of narrators but more than two at each Level or a uniform number of them at the beginning or the end of the chain of narration.

- 'Aziz (Precious): Hadîth with only two narrators at any Level.

- Gharib (Unfamiliar): Hadîth with only one narrator at any Era-Level. If the narrator is a Companion or a Tâbi'i, it will be called Gharib Mutlaq (Absolutely Unfamiliar). In case the narrator is some other person, it will be called Gharib Nisabi (Relatively Unfamiliar).

Note: Of the foregoing kinds, the Mutawâtîr Hadîth gives you certainty or positive knowledge (‘Ilm-ul-Yaqin). The other kinds may be Mardud (Rejected) or Maqbul (Accepted).

Kinds of Ahâdîth according to Acceptance or Rejection:

- Maqbul (Accepted): The one that is obligatory to act by.

- Mardud (Rejected): Hadîth that is not Accepted.

Kinds and grades of Maqbul Ahâdîth according to the extent they meet the conditions of acceptability:

1. Sahih li-Dhâtîhi
2. Sahih li-Chairîhi
3. Hasan li-Dhâtîhi
4. Hasan li-Chairîhi
Technical Terms used by Hadith

- Sahih li-Dhātīhi (Sound by itself): the Hadith that fulfills the five conditions of soundness.
  a. Should have a connected chain of narration. That is, each narrator received the narration from his teacher.
  b. Each narrator should be upright (‘Ādil), commits no major sin, does not insist on minor sins, is good-tempered and of good moral conduct.
  c. Perfectly accurate (Kāmilud-Daţt), transmitting his narration orally from memory or in writing perfectly and accurately.
  d. The Hadith should not be Shādhīh, that is, it should not contradict other Ahādīth.
  e. The Hadith should not be Mā’ul (Defective).

(Detailed definition of Shādhīh and Mā’ul will soon follow).

- Hasan li-Dhātīhi (Good by itself): A Hadith, some narrators of which are less accurate, but it fulfills all the remaining conditions.

(Note: Hasan li-Dhātīhi ranks after Sahih li-Ghairihi. We have changed the sequence to make definitions easier.

- Sahih li-Ghairihi (Sound owing to supporting narrations): If a Hasan Hadith has more than one chain of narration, it is elevated to the grade of Sound (Sahih). It is called Sahih li-Ghairihi (Sound owing to supporting narrations) since it has become Sound by virtue of other supporting narratives.

- Hasan li-Ghairihi (Good owing to other supporting narrations): Hadith having several chains of narrations, each chain being a little weak but the weakness offset by virtue of multiplicity of chains, and, hence, reaching the grade of Hasan li-Ghairihi.

Kinds and Grades of Sound Ahādīth (as they occur in Hadith books):

- Muttafaq Alaih (Agreed upon): Hadith occurring in both Sahih Bukhārī and Sahih Muslim. Such a Hadith is sound to the highest degree.

- Afrād Bukhārī: Hadith occurring in Sahih Bukhārī but not in Sahih Muslim.

- Afrād Muslim: Hadith occurring in Sahih Muslim but not in Sahih Bukhārī.

- Sahih ‘ala Shartihima: A Hadith not found in Sahih Bukhārī or Sahih Muslim but meeting the conditions laid down by both.

- Sahih ‘ala Shartiil-Bukhārī: Hadith not found in Sahih Bukhārī but meets the conditions laid down by him for a Hadith to be Sound.

- Sahih ‘ala Shari’i- Muslim: Hadith not found in Sahih Muslim but meets the conditions laid down by Muslim for a Hadith to be Sound.

- Sahih ‘ala Shari’i-Ghairihima: A Hadith that meets the conditions laid down by Hadith scholars other than Bukhāri and Muslim.

Kinds of Mardud (Rejected) Ahādīth due to Interrupted (Munqati’) chain:

- Mu‘allaq (Suspended): A Hadith with the initial part of its chain of narration or the whole chain deleted (deliberately).

- Mursal (Disconnected): A Hadith narrated by a Ṭābi‘i from the Prophet without an intermediary.

- Mu’dal (Double Break): Refers to a Hadith in which two or more consecutive narrators are deleted in the middle of the chain.

- Munqati’ (Interrupted): This term is applied to a Hadith in which one or more than one narrator has been deleted at random from the middle of the chain of narration.

- Mudallas (Truncated): The term is applied to a Hadith in which the narrator hides the name of his teacher in a subtle way, such as calling him by an unknown or nickname, giving the impression that he did not do so. In this case, the chain is Muttašil (Connected) and the subnarrators are known to have met and heard directly from the relevant teachers but there is no proof that they heard the respective Hadith directly from them.

- Mursal Khafi (Disconnected-hidden): A Hadith in which the narrator narrates from a contemporary whom he could not have possibly heard from or seen, there being no proof of both having met each other.

- Ma’lul or Mu’allal (Defective): A technical term applied to a Hadith that looks Maqbul (Accepted) externally but contains an inherent, hidden defect making it unacceptable. Only an expert and highly skilled in the Hadith science can detect such a defect. It is impossible for others.

Kinds of Rejected Ahādīth, according to lack of integrity of narrators:

- Riwa’iyatul-Mubtadi’ (narration of innovator): A Hadith from a narrator committing innovation (Bid’ah), by word or act, thereby reneging his faith. Anyhow, in case his sin of innovation does not warrant the charge of disbelief, his narration may be reliable providing he is a person of integrity (‘Adl) and accurate (Dābit). It is to be noted that innovation reneging disbelief leads, of necessity, to apostasy.

- Riwa’iyatul-Fāsiq (narration of dissolute): A Hadith narrated by one committing major sins, short of disbelief.
Technical Terms used by Hadith ...

- Matruk (Abandoned): A Hadith narrated by a known liar and whose narrations have been rejected by traditionists (Muhaddithin).
- Maudū’ (Fabricated): A Hadith whose narrator attributed a false report to the Prophet ﷺ on some occasion. Any narration by such a person is called Forged or Fabricated.

Kinds of Rejected Ahādīth according to inaccuracy of narrator:

- Musahhaf (misrepresented): A Hadīth containing a word that looks right apparently but is actually mispronounced or misread due to misspelling or misplaced diacritical marks.
- Maqlub (Inverted): A Hadīth containing words put before or after their proper place by the narrator forgetfully or containing the name of a narrator in place of another.
- Mudraj (Interpolated): A Hadīth containing, in part, intentionally or unintentionally, a narrator’s own word or words that look like a part of the text of the Hadīth itself.
- Al-Mazid fi Muttasīsil-Asānīd (Additional): Narration so named when two narrators, one trustworthy and another more trustworthy, transmit a tradition, the former adding one more subnarrator to the chain.
- Shādhah (Contradicting): A Hadīth transmitted by an accepted (trustworthy or truthful) narrator who contradicts another narrator more trustworthy than himself or several trustworthy narrators like himself. The antonym (opposite) of Shādhah is Mahfuz (Conforming).
- Munkar (Denounced): A Hadīth whose narrator is Weak (Da’īf) and contradicts one or more than one trustworthy narrators. The antonym of Munkar is Ma’ruf (Conventional).
- Riwâyah Saiyyīl Hifz (Poor): A Hadīth narrated by one born with a poor memory.
- Riwâyah Kathirul-Ghaflah (Lax): Term applied to Hadīth narrated by one who is very lax and negligent or commits errors very often.
- Riwâyah Fāhishul-Ghalat (Monstrous): Hadīth narrated by one who commits monstrous errors.
- Riwâyatul-Mukhtalif (Muddled): A Hadīth narrated by one who lost memory through senility, dotage or accident or whose written narrations were lost.
- Mudtarib (Confounding): A Hadīth, the chain or text of which contains conflicting things impossible to be resolved.
Kinds of Rejected Ahâdith due to narrator being Unknown:

- Riwayah Majhulil-'Ain (Unknown): The Hadith of a narrator who is quite unknown, there being no comment about him by a Hadith scholar and no knowledge as to whether he was trustworthy or Weak and there being only one subnarrator narrating from him. Such a narrator is called Unknown.

- Riwayah Majhulil-Hâl: The Hadith of a narrator unknown, there being no comment about him by a Hadith scholar and no knowledge as to whether he was trustworthy or Weak and there being only two subnarrators reporting from him. Such a person is called Unknown (Majhul). He is also called Mastur (Concealed).

- Mubbham (Vague): A Hadith whose chain does not clearly state the name of any narrator.
Kinds of Hadith Compilations

- Kutub Sihah (Books of Sound Ahâdith): Any book, the compiler of which has committed himself to include only Sound (Sahih) narrations in his compilation and made the word Sahih a part of the title of his book. In the opinion of the compiler at least, the narrations of such a book are Sound. If he himself points out the defect in a Hadith he has recorded, it does not tarnish or detract from the soundness of his compilation.

- Sittah Sittah (the Sound Six): This term is applied to the sound six compilations—Sahih Bukhari, Sahih Muslim, Sunan Abu Dawud, Sunan An-Nasâ'i, Jami' Tirmidhi, and Sunan Ibn Majah. They are also known as Usul Sittah (the Six Majors or Basics) or Kutub Sittah (Six Books). The first two are called Sahihain and have earned universal acclaim. They are not considered Sound only by their compilers but by the whole Muslim nation. Anyone finding fault with the Twain is, in the words of Shah Waliullah, the renowned traditionist of Delhi, an innovator disputing the consensus of the nation. The last four books are called Sunan Arba'ah. These contain some Weak (Da'if) narrations but, on the whole, most of them are Sound. Hence, learned scholars include them in the 'Sound Six'.

- Jâmi' (Comprehensive): The term is applied to a book that contains Ahâdith on all subjects relating to Islam like doctrines ('Aqîdah), laws, and commandments (Ahkâm), exegesis (Tafsîr), the Paradise (Jannah), the Hell (Jahannam). Examples: Sahih Bukhari, Jami' Tirmidhi, etc.

- Sunan: Books containing Ahâdith of a practical nature, legal and doctrinal, focusing on topics of relevance to a Muslim's daily life like Sunan Abu Dawud.

- Musnad: A collection of Ahâdith narrated by a Companion or Companions, each collection arranged separately under the name of a Companion, like Musnad Ahmad, Musnad Humaidi.

- Mustakhraj: A genre of Hadith literature in which the compiler gathers narrations from other books and writes them with his chains of narration like Mustakhraj Ismâ'ili 'ala Sahihil-Bukhâri.

- Mustadrak: A compilation of Ahâdith not found in the book of a Hadith scholar but fulfilling the conditions laid down by him. Example: Mustadrak Hâkim.

- Mu'jam: A compilation listing the Ahâdith narrated by each of the compiler's teachers separately, arranged in a particular order.
- Arba'īn: A book listing forty Ahādīth on one or more than one subject like Arba'īn Nawawi, Arba'īn Thunā'ī.

- Juz': A collection containing the narrations of a single narrator or on a single subject like Bukhārī's Juz' Raf'il Yadain and Juz' Al-Qirā'ati Khalfal-Imām and Baihaqī's Kitābul-Qirā'ati Khalful-Imām.
Era-Categories (Tabaqât) of Hadith Compilations

1. The first Tabaqah covers Sahihul-Bukhâri, Sahih Muslim and Muwatta' Al-Imâm Mâlik. The latter precedes the former two with respect to the time of compilation but ranks third in the order of value and importance. Imâm Mâlik and his group of scholars believe all the Ahâdîth in Al-Muwatta’ to be Sound but other traditionists believe some narrations found therein to be Munqatî or Mursal although these are found in other books with Connected (Muttasil) chains. (But a Connected chain is not enough to establish the soundness of a Hadith).

2. The Four Sunans (Sunan Arba’ah) rank second. Some include Musnad Ahmad and Sunan Ad-Dârîmi also in this Rank. The compilers of these books had a thorough knowledge of the Hadith sciences. They were known for their trustworthiness, integrity and accuracy. They were never negligent or lax in achieving their objectives and fulfilling the conditions they had set for themselves. In every age their books were liked and acclaimed by traditionists and learned scholars.

3. The Musannid[1], Jawâmi'[2], and Musannâfât[3], written before, during and after the Sound Six (Sîhah Sittah) fall third in order of rank. The purpose of their writers was just to collect and compile Ahâdîth. This explains why their compilations contain all kinds of Ahâdîth. These books are not unknown to Hadith scholars but, nonetheless, they do not find favor with them. The Muslim jurists did not make much use of the Ahâdîth occurring in these compilations only but not in other books of the first two categories. Nor did Hadith scholars care much to investigate them as to their soundness or weakness, acceptance or rejection, exposition or elaboration. Under this category and rank come the works like Musannaf 'Abdur-Razzâq, Musannaf Ibn Abî Shaibah, Musnad Ât-Tayâlîsi, and the works of Baihaqi, Tahâwi, and Tabarâni.

4. To the fourth rank belong those books that were composed much later, containing Ahâdîth not found in the books of the top two ranks but rather in the compilations of little academic value. These books consist of arguments of preachers, proverbs of wise men and Israeli traditions that some weak transmitters mixed up, accidentally or purposely, with the Prophet’s traditions. Or they are mere speculations or probabilities drawn from Qur’ân and Sunnah that ignorant mystics began transmitting by meanings (not by words) down the ages till the common people took them as the sayings of the Prophet himself. Or they pruned words and lines from a number of Ahâdith, pieced them together, and coined a new Hadith altogether. Examples: Kitâbud-Du‘afî (the Book of Weak narrations) of Ibn Hibbân, Al-Kâmîl (The Complete) of Ibn ʿAdi, and the books of Khatîb Baghdādî, Abu Nuʿâim Isfahānî, Ibn ʿAsâkir, Juzqâ, Ibn Najjâr, and Dâlîmî. They all belong to this category. And so are Musnad Al-Khwârizmi and Al-Mauduʿât of Ibn Jawzî and Mullâ ʿAlî Qârî.

5. To this category belong the books containing the Ahâdîth that were widely current among the circles of jurists, mystics, historians and experts in various fields as well as the Ahâdîth fabricated by ungodly people with fluent tongues who embellished them with eloquent words and even forged chains of narration themselves.

- The books of the first and the second category or Rank are fully trusted by Hadîth scholars. They have always remained deeply attached to them.

- The Ahâdîth of the third Rank can only be advanced for argument by those who are experts in the Hadîth sciences and have profound knowledge of narrators and the degree of their reliability, and have a sharp insight into the hidden defects of Ahâdîth. In general, these Ahâdîth cannot be advanced for argument or evidence except, of course, as supporting evidence for Maqbul (Accepted) Ahâdîth.

- To gather and advance the Ahâdîth belonging to the fourth category (Rank) as argument in support of the Ahâdîth of the top two Ranks is a mere forced, affected behavior of the later scholars. That is the way of the innovators in their bid to support their particular rite of Fiqh or their denomination or religious creed. But Hadîth scholars consider it wrong to advance Ahâdîth from this category for evidence - (synopsis of Hujjatullâhîl-Balîghah).
Meanings of Masâdir (Sourcebooks) and Marâji’ (Reference Works)

- Sources or sourcebooks: These refer to books, the compilers of which recorded Ahâdîth with their own chains of narrations. In the foregoing classification of Ranks, Hadith books mean sourcebooks (Masâdir, plural of Masdar).

- Reference works: The books containing Ahâdîth collected from different sourcebooks. These are of three kinds:

a. Reference works containing only Sound Ahâdîth like Al-lu’lu wal-Marjân fima ittafaqa ‘Ala‘hish-Shaikhân and ’Umdatul-Ahkâm.

b. Reference works containing Ahâdîth, both Sound and Weak, selected from sourcebooks like Mishkâtul-Masâbih, Riyâdus-Sâlihin, At-Targhib wat-Tarhib, and Bulughul-Maram, etc.

c. Reference works containing Ahâdîth from both authentic and inauthentic sourcebooks without inquiry or criterion of selection like Kanzul-Ummâl.

Note: It is not right to advance as argument a Hadith from the second and third types of reference works (b and c) without inquiry.

How to deal with Accepted (Maqbul) but Contradictory (Shâ’dhîl) Ahâdîth

There are different ways to overcome this difficulty:

1. Reconciling between those two Ahâdîth, and taking a common meaning, making it possible to act by both. In this case, preference shall be given to the meaning found in the third Hadith or the one stated by the scholars of Hadith sciences.

2. In case, this is not possible, we shall investigate which of the two has been abrogated. If it is established that one of the two has been abrogated, we shall take the abrogater and leave the abrogated.

3. In case there is no proof of abrogation, the Hadith that has a greater right to preference on technical grounds shall be taken, with no regard for the rite of Fiqh of any school (Madhhab) whatsoever, and the other Hadith abandoned. That is, the Hadith possessing the highest degree of soundness or occurring in a book of superior rank shall be given preference.

Note: In case of conflict between Maqbul and Mardud Ahâdîth, the former shall prevail.
We have already described some basic technical terms in the preceding pages. A revision of them to refresh memory will be hopefully useful:

In the Name of Allāh, the Most Beneficent, the Most Merciful

And may the blessings and peace of Allāh be upon our master Muḥammad, his family, his Companions, and those who love him.

The Book Of The Sunnah

Chapter 1. Following The Sunnah Of The Messenger Of Allāh

1. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allāh said, ‘Whatever I have commanded you, do it, and whatever I have forbidden you, refrain from it.’” (Ṣahīḥ)

Comments:

a. Each and every command of the Prophet is binding on the community. Numerous Verses of the Qur’ān confirm the assertion.

b. Anything and everything the Prophet prohibits must be avoided. Allāh the Glorified says in His Book: “… And whatever the Messenger gives you, take it; and whatever he forbids you, desist from it…” (59:7)

c. The above quoted Verse proves that a command, as a rule, is binding although in certain contexts it could simply mean preferability or recommendation.

2. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allāh said: ‘Leave me as I have left you (Don’t ask me the minor things that I have avoided to tell you). For those who came before you were doomed because of their questions and differences with their Prophets. If I command you to do...”
something, then do as much of it as you can, and if I forbid you from doing something, then refrain from it.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. Permissibility is the rule in all worldly affairs as long as they are not prohibited by the Qur‘an and Sunnah. In the case of acts of worship, however, the rule is that only those acts are allowed that have their proof in the Qur‘an and Sunnah. It, therefore, follows that any newly-invented thing in religious matters is an innovation (Bid‘ah). Not so in the case of worldly affairs.
b. Discussion on matters having no practical relevance must be avoided.
c. Disobedience to the commands of the Prophet means inviting one’s own doom and destruction.
d. In cases where a person is not able to comply with a certain commandment for a reason accepted in the sacred law of Islam as genuine, he will not be reckoned a sinner by Allāh as expressed in the following Verse of the Qur‘an: “Allāh burdens not a soul with more than it can bear....” (2:286)

3. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allāh said: ‘Whoever obeys me, obeys Allāh; and whoever disobeys me, disobeys Allāh.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
The rule quoted above has also been expressed in the Qur‘an in the following terms: “Whoever obeys the Messenger, thereby obeys Allāh...” (4:80)

This is so because the Messenger of Allāh never prescribes any rule of Shari‘ah out of his own likes or preferences; he only communicates what is revealed to him by Allāh, Who says in the Holy Book: “And he (the Prophet) never speaks of (his own) desire. It is only a revelation revealed.” (53:3-4)

In fact the Prophet himself obeyed the commandments of Allāh just like the rest of the community. The Prophet, rather, presented a far greater example of righteousness and piety than the ordinary Muslims.

4. It was narrated that Abu Ja'far said: “Whenever Ibn 'Umar heard a Hadith from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, he would not do more than it said, and he would not do less.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Hadith under reference shows how keen the Companions were to avoid innovation and literally implement each word of the Prophet's ordainments. They left no stone unturned in their effort. Nor did they try to put one step ahead of the Prophet ﷺ. It is because the Qur'an expressly forbids the doing of it in the following terms: “O you who believe! Do not put yourselves forward before Allah and His Messenger.” (49:1)

b. The Hadith would also explain why 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar ﷺ, when he heard a Hadith from the Prophet ﷺ, neither added to it nor omitted from it anything.

5. It was narrated that Abu Dardâ' said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ came out to us when we were speaking of poverty and how we feared it. He said: 'Is it poverty that you fear? By the One in Whose Hand is my soul, (the delights and luxuries of) this world will come to you in plenty, and nothing will cause the heart of anyone of you to deviate except that. By Allah, I am leaving you upon something like Baydâ' (white, bright, clear path) the night and day of which are the same.'”

Abu Dardâ' said: “He spoke the truth, by Allah. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ did indeed leave us upon something like Baydâ' (the white, bright, clear path) the days and nights of which were the same.” (Hasan)

Comments:

a. Poverty is a kind of trial from Allâh. It drives a lot of people to unlawful ways in search of sustenance. Similarly, too much affluence is also a trial, which induces people to indulge in evils like false pride, greed, and so on. The Hadîth, however, seems to suggest that the affliction of affluence is greater than the affliction of poverty. May Allâh protect us from all trials and temptations!

b. The “days and nights of which are the same” probably means that everything in the Divine Law is bright like day. It could also mean that just as right was made completely distinct from wrong during the lifetime of the Prophet ﷺ, the light of guidance would continue to shine even after his death, thanks to the luminous rays of the Book and the Sunnah that would guide the community to discriminate between truth and falsehood.

6. Mu‘âwiyyah bin Qurrah narrated that his father said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘A group of my Ummah will continue to prevail and they will never be harmed by those who forsake them, until the Hour begins.’’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Allâh the Glorified has honored the community of the Prophet Muhammad ﷺ, by decreeing that it will not go astray en masse as was the case with the earlier communities: they went astray so completely that no one, except whom Allâh pleased, remained on the right track.

b. Islam, the religion of truth, is immune from distortion, since the holy book of Islam — the Qur’ân — is fully preserved, and so are the traditions of the Prophet ﷺ, thanks to the efforts of those who faithfully transmitted them, and to those who faithfully implemented them.

c. A great number of scholars hold the view that the people referred to in the Hadîth are Ahl Hadîth, for it is they who do not consider anyone deserving unquestioned compliance after the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.

d. The Hadîth does not imply that those treading the path of truth shall be spared all trials and tribulations in life. It rather means that those trials and tribulations shall not force them to deviate from the path of truth.
e. The phrase “until the Hour begins” means ‘until the time Islam remains in the hearts of the people’ since the last generation of men that shall witness the Hour will be such that no one among them will say ‘Allâh, Allâh’ since the Prophet ﷺ has foretold that.

7. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “A group of my Ummah will continue to adhere steadfastly to the command of Allâh and those who oppose them will not be able to harm them.” (Hasan)

8. Bakr bin Zur‘ah said: “I heard Abu ‘Inabah Al-Khawlâni, who had prayed facing both prayer directions (Qiblah) with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, say: ‘I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: Allâh will continue to plant new people in this religion and use them in His obedience.’” (Hasan)

Comments:

a. Abu ‘Inabah Al-Khawlâni، a Companion of the Prophet ﷺ, is among the earliest entrants into Islam. He, like so many other Companions, prayed for sixteen or seventeen months facing Jerusalem before the revelation came for the change of direction (Qiblah) towards the Sacred House of Allâh in Makkah.

b. Spread of Islam has not been a transitory phenomenon restricted to a particular period in history. People of different religious persuasions have all along been entering and, Allâh willing, will continue to enter its fold, and the Muslim Ummah shall continue to benefit by their capabilities.
9. ‘Amr bin Shu‘aib narrated that his father said: “Mu‘āwiyyah stood up to deliver a sermon and said: ‘Where are your scholars? Where are your scholars? For I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: The Hour will not begin until a group of my Ummah will prevail over the people, and they will not care who lets them down and who supports them.’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. “Where are your scholars?” because there were very few senior Companions at that time.”

b. “…prevail over the people” means: they will continue to prevail over the deviant groups through the might of their proofs and arguments. It could also mean that those on the right path will win discernable supremacy.

c. The hallmark of scholars treading the path of truth is that they popularize the truth, and expose falsehood in belief and action, regardless of whether the number of people supposing them is large or small, or what position of authority their adversaries are holding.

10. It was narrated from Thawbān that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “A group among my Ummah will continue to follow the truth and prevail, and those who oppose them will not be able to harm them, until the command of Allāh comes to pass.” (Sahih)
11. Jābir bin ‘Abdullāh said: “We were with the Prophet ﷺ, and he drew a line (in the sand), then he drew two lines to its right and two to its left. Then he put his hand on the middle line and said: ‘This is the path of Allāh.’ Then he recited the Verse: And verily, this (i.e. Allāh’s Commandments) is My straight path, so follow it, and follow not (other) paths, for they will separate you away from His path...”[1] (Da’if)

Comments:
a. There is only one straight path leading to Allāh; those leading to error are many.

b. In order to exemplify the nature of error, the Prophet ﷺ drew lines on either side of the straight line. By doing so he seemed to suggest that error sometimes arises through exceeding the limits in religion, and at other times through unlawful remission or default. Exceeding the limits leads to innovations and heresies in belief and action.

Chapter 2. Venerating The Hadith Of The Messenger Of Allāh ﷺ And Dealing Harshly With Those Who Go Against It

12. It was narrated from Miqdām bin Ma’dikarib Al-Kindi that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Soon there will come a time that a man will be reclining on his pillow, and when one of my Ahadith is narrated, he will say: 'The Book of Allâh is (sufficient) between us and you. Whatever it states is permissible, we will take as permissible; and whatever it states is forbidden, we will take as forbidden.' Verily, whatever the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ has forbidden is like that which Allâh has forbidden." (Hasan)

Comments:

a. "Reclining on his pillow" indicating the splendor enjoyed by the newly-wedded brides in their decorated beds in the Arabian societies of bygone days. This suggests that the denial of Hadîth is the vocation of the over-fed, luxury-loving individuals, given to sitting and leaning against the backs of their sofas.

b. Nowadays we find such people who say that Qur'ân is enough for the rulings of Islam, while Ahâdîth have been manipulated by some persons with evil intentions in the early times, so these cannot be trusted to be true. Such rejecters of the Ahâdîth are called, by some; Munkir Hadîth.

13. It was narrated from 'Ubaidullâh bin Abu Râfî from his father, that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "I do not want to find anyone of you reclining on his pillow, and when news comes to him of something that I have commanded or forbidden, he says, 'I do not know, whatever we find in the Book of Allâh, we will follow.'" (Sahîh)

Comments:

a. Just as compliance with the commandments of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was mandatory on people who took them direct from his mouth, it is equally binding on all those who receive them from others provided the source of transmission is dependable and trustworthy. It is, therefore, the rule that any Hadith that is adjudged as ‘authentic or Sahih (Sound) or Hasan (Good) in the light of the criteria set by the scholars of Hadith is binding on the believers.

b. To hear a Prophetic Hadith and then respond to it by saying, “I do not know,” is indicative of one’s false pride, willful denial and disrespect to the words of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, which is a grave sin, for Allah says: “... So, let those who go against his (Messenger’s) command beware, lest a trial befall them or a painful torment overtake them.” (24:63)

c. Denial of Hadith means the denial of the Qur’an. The reason being that the Qur’an has again and again commanded the believers to obey and follow the precepts of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم, and declared it as the very purpose of the Prophet’s duty to explain and exemplify the teachings of the Noble Qur’an through his word and action. The first people in the Islamic history to deny the Hadith of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم were the Khārijites (the Seceders).

14. It was narrated from 'Aishah that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever innovates something in this matter of ours (i.e., Islām) that is not part of it, will have it rejected.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. “In this matter of ours” may either mean matters pertaining to religion or to the sacred law of Islam. It may also mean the commandments of Allah and His Messenger ﷺ. Every new thing added to or deleted from the acts of devotion through one’s own whim or desire is Bid‘ah (innovation). The Prophet ﷺ has also said: “Each innovation is an error.” (Muslim, Book of Friday – Shortness of Prayer & Sermon.) Worldly affairs, such as clothes of various types, local methods of cooking, or the use of modern appliances in cultivation – these things are outside the purview of innovation. Nevertheless, matters violating the general rules of Shari‘ah, such as dresses that do not fulfill the basic purpose of covering the concealable parts of the body, or those particular to non-Muslims shall be prohibited.

b. Any action that the Prophet of Allah ﷺ has abstained from doing due to some consideration or expedient reason, although he wished to do it is, in principle, permissible. Therefore, the doing of it after the consideration no longer exists is perfectly in order without the fear of its being branded as innovation. Cases in point are (i) the Prophet’s abstaining from leading the Tarawîh prayer (Ramadân optional night prayer) through the entire month of Ramadân, lest it should assume the status of an obligatory duty, and (ii) the Companion’s decision not to compile the whole of the Qur’ûn as a codex during the lifetime of the Prophet ﷺ, since the revelation had not stopped, and there was always the possibility of a Verse being revealed or another being abrogated by Allâh. There remaining no such possibility after the death of the Prophet ﷺ, when the Companions lost no time in compiling an authentic copy of the Noble Book, and ‘Umar ﷺ reintroduced the congregational form of the Tarawîh prayer.

15. It was narrated from ‘Urwah bin Zubair that ‘Abdullâh bin Zubair told him that a man from the Ansâr had a dispute with Zubair in the presence of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ concerning a stream in the Harrah[1] which they used to irrigate the date-palm trees. The Ansârî said: “Let the water flow,” but (Zubair) refused. So they referred the dispute to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, who said: “Irrigate (your land), O Zubair, then let the water flow to your neighbor.” The Ansârî became angry and said: “O Messenger of Allâh, is it because he is your cousin?” The face of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ changed color (because of anger) and he said: “O Zubair, irrigate (your land) then block the water until it flows back to the walls around the date-palm trees.” Zubair said: “By Allâh, I think that this Verse was revealed concerning this matter: ‘But no, by your Lord, they can have no Faith, until they make you (O Muhammad) judge in all disputes between them, and find in themselves no resistance against your decisions, and accept (them) with full submission.’”[1] (Sahih)

Comments:
a. People with their farms nearest to a river or a rivulet and the first recipients of its water for their farms, have more right over the water. Only after they have done with it, comes the right of others in line.
b. It is the moral duty of a believer to be mindful of the needs of his neighbors.
c. While dispensing justice, the judge must see to it that the judgment takes care of the interest of both the parties. The Qur’ān says: “...And reconciliation is better...” (4:128)
d. To deliver full rights to the deserving party, and no benefits to the opposing party, is perfectly in order. The Prophet ﷺ, in his first ruling, had kept the interest of both the parties in mind. Later on he ruled for full right in favor of Zubair ﷺ.
e. The Arabic word jadr refers to a low, wall-like boundary used to retain water inside the cultivation area. Scholars have defined the encircling wall to be as high as the ankles of men working in the field.
f. Feeling pain in the heart or the appearance of the signs of displeasure on the face is a part of human nature. Our decisions, however, should not be colored by our anger. The Prophet ﷺ has expressly instructed as follows: “The judge must not give his verdict between two parties in a state of anger.” (Bukhari: 7158 & Muslim: 1717).

The Prophet ﷺ enjoyed a special gift of infallibility from Allāh, and as such he spoke nothing but truth even when angry. No one after him is immune from error.
g. Mistrust of others is a bad human trait born of satanic whispering. It was this trait that led the person mentioned in the Ḥadīth to impute kinship bias against the Prophet ﷺ.

16. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Umar that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Do not prevent the female slaves of Allāh from praying in the mosque.” A son of his [2] said: “We will indeed prevent them!” He got very angry and said: “I tell you a Hadith from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and you say, we will indeed prevent them?!” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The women are allowed to go and join the congregational prayer in the mosque. Nevertheless it is preferable for them that they pray at home.
b. The Companions’ displeasure with each other was not prompted by personal reasons. They did not, however, keep quiet when things improper were said or done before their eyes. We would, however, be well-advised to choose the right moment, and proper method, to admonish people against doing things wrong or unfair.
c. If a show of sternness is likely to be more effective, it is all right to adopt this course of action.
d. It was not the intention of Bilal, the son of ‘Abdullâh bin ‘Umar ﷺ to oppose the commandment of the Prophet ﷺ. He only meant to say that ladies of his time no longer took full care of the code of decency required of them outside their homes; hence they should not be permitted to go out to the mosques for prayers. But since the words used by Bilal were apparently improper, Ibn ‘Umar ﷺ showed great anger. Musnad Ahmad (2/36) reports that ever since that day until his last breath Ibn ‘Umar ﷺ never spoke to that son.

17. It was narrated from Sa‘eed bin Jubair that ‘Abdullâh bin Mughaffal was sitting beside a nephew of his; the nephew hurled a pebble and he told him not to do that, and he said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had forbidden that. He (the Prophet) said: ‘It cannot be used for hunting and it cannot harm an enemy, but it may break a tooth or put an eye out.’” He said: “His nephew hurled another pebble and he (‘Abdullâh bin Mughaffal) said: ‘I tell you that the Messenger of Allâh forbade that (and you go and hurl another pebble)? I will never speak to you again.’”

(Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ has prohibited every unseemly or harmful act even though it would seem petty to the naked eye. The reason being that oftentimes a thing may appear petty at the moment, but may have extraordinary consequences in the end.

b. If an evil act, which is a major sin before Allâh, becomes rampant in the society, people begin to take it lightly. We must be on our guard and avoid even those seemingly minor sins.

c. All matters having no spiritual merit or worldly benefit, but fraught with harmful possibilities, must be avoided.

d. It is perfectly in order to sever relations with persons given to committing acts of sin, as part of admonition to them, or an expression of our disgust at their conduct. Such an attitude from us might prompt them to repent and reform their conduct.

e. All acts likely to harm the interests of Muslims must be avoided.

18. It was narrated from Ishâq bin Qabisah from his father that ‘Ubaydah bin Sâmît Al-Ansâri, head of the army unit, the Companion of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, went on a military campaign with Mu’âwiyyah in the land of the Byzantines. He saw people trading pieces of gold for Dinâr and pieces of silver for Dirham. He said: “O people, you are consuming Rîbâ (usury)! For I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: ‘Do not sell gold for gold unless it is like for like; there should be no increase and no delay (between the two transactions).’” Mu’âwiyyah said to him: “O Abu Walid, I do not think there is any Rîbâ involved in this, except in cases where there is a delay.” ‘Ubaydah said to him: “I tell you a Hadith from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, and you tell me your opinion! If Allâh brings me back safely I will never live in a land in which you have authority over me.” When he returned, he stayed in Al-Madinah, and 'Umar bin Khattâb said to him: “What brought you here, O Abu Walid?” So he told him the story, and what he had said about not living in the same land as Mu’âwiyyah. 'Umar said: “Go back to your land, O Abu Walid, for what a bad land is the land from where you and people like you are absent.” Then he wrote to Mu’âwiyyah and said: “You have no authority over him; make the people follow what he says, for he is right.” (Hasan)

Comments:

a. Selling gold for gold or silver for silver is only allowed if it is like for like, and the parties to the deal hand over their commodities on the spot. If the deal is silver for gold, they do not have to be equal in quantity. The deal must, however, be finalized in the same sitting. By the same analogy, exchange of old currency notes with new ones shall also be governed by the same rule. Thus, exchanging new 100 denomination currency notes for the old 110 denomination notes is not permissible in Islam.

b. No one’s word, even that of a Companion, carries any weight if it is in conflict with the words of the Prophet ﷺ. It may, however, be the case that one Companion interpreted the Hadîth in a certain way while the other Companion thought that the Hadîth did not support the first Companion’s deduction, or else he gave more weight to another Hadîth related to the subject. In a situation like this, the right course for us is to analyse the Hadîth to see which interpretation has more weight. Any well-meaning error in making the right choice through Ijtihâd (independent reasoning or exercise of judgment) is condonable.

c. The Companions attached so much importance and value to the Hadîth that, when an opinion sounding different from the meaning of the Hadîth was presented, the Companion was so enraged that he decided to leave the land he was staying in. 'Umar ﷺ appreciated the position taken by him so much that he declared to Muʿāwiyah that ʿUbadah would not be under his authority.

d. If two Companions have divergent views on a matter, the view more in line with teachings of the Qurʾān and Sunnah should be adopted. ʿUmar did just that. He ascertained the views of the two, and preferred the one that was in line with the teachings of the Prophet and enforced it.

19. ʿAbdullāh bin Masʿūd said:

“When I tell you of a Hadith from the Messenger of Allāh, then think of the Messenger of Allāh as being the best, the utmost rightly guided and the one with the utmost Taqwa (piety, righteousness).” (Daʿif)

20. It was narrated that ʿAlī bin Abū Tallib said: “When I narrate a Hadith from the Messenger of Allāh to you, then think of him as being the best, the most rightly guided and the one with the utmost Taqwa (piety, righteousness).” (Sahih)

a. The Hadith means that if we come across an authentic Hadith that seems to contain an impropriety, we should interpret it in such a way that the impropriety is removed. It is because a Hadith can sometimes admit of more than one interpretation. In that situation we must adopt the interpretation that is supported by the Qurʾān and other traditions of the Prophet.

b. Just as some of the Verses of the Qurʾān contain concepts that are beyond the realm of human intellect (not against it), a Hadith may also contain such concepts. The right course to adopt, in such a case, is that we keep faith in the text of the Hadith, and leave the ultimate meaning to Allāh. Traditions referring to the attributes of Allāh and details about life in Barzakh

(intervening period between death and resurrection) belong to this category.
c. The suggested course is the best course, it being nearest to true guidance and piety.

21. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet said:
"I do not want to hear of anyone of you who, upon hearing a Hadith narrated from me, says while reclining on his pillow:
'Recite Qur'an (to verify this Hadith).' (Here the Prophet said:) Any excellent word that is said, it is I who have said it." [How then can you reject what I have said?] (Da'if)

Comments:

a. It is an extremely Weak Hadith. The last sentence of the "Hadith" is in obvious conflict with the more dependable Mutaavittir (Continuous) Ahadith narrated by the 'Ten Companions' (who were given in advance the glad tiding of admittance to Paradise in the life after death.) The Hadith referred to above quotes the Prophet as saying: "Whoever intentionally forges a lie against me, let him take his place in Hell-fire." (Bukhari H.110)

b. A Da'if (Weak) "Hadith" is one that does not fulfill the conditions of a Sahih (Sound) or Hasan (Good) Hadith. Scholars have three different opinions about acting on weak Hadith as follows: (i) A vast majority of traditionists, researchers and scrupulous scholars do not regard the contents of a Weak Hadith as conclusive proof or binding, regardless whether it relates to the rules (of permission and prohibition) in Islam, or to the merits of performing certain acts of virtue or devotion, (ii) Some Traditionists and scholars accept them in matters related to acts of devotion or virtue, as well as for awakening the desire for Divine reward, or creating a fright from the impending doom in the Hereafter, (iii) There is also a third group of scholars that accepts a weak Hadith if (a) it is not extremely weak, (b) the Hadith belongs to some everyday matter and (c) while acting on it, one should not assume that he is doing a bidding of the Prophet and it is none of his commands. Observing all these conditions is, however, a difficult proposition. As such one would be well-advised not to accept a Weak Hadith at all. And Allah knows best of all.

22. It was narrated from Abu Salamah that Abu Hurairah said to a man: “O son of my brother, when I narrate a Hadith of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ to you, then do not try to make any examples for it.”[1] (Hasan)

Comments:
Abu Hurairah ﷺ faulted the conduct of the man, who was Ibn 'Abbas, and warned him for raising objections to it. For more details see no. 485.

Chapter 3. Caution In Narrating Ahâdhîth From The Messenger Of Allah ﷺ

23. 'Amr bin Maimun said: “I used to visit Ibn Mas'ud every Thursday afternoon, but he never uttered the words: 'The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said.' Then one evening, he said: 'The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said,' then he let his head hang down.” He said: “I looked at him and saw that his shirt was unfastened; his eyes were filled with tears, and his veins were bulging out (with fear). He said: ‘Or more than that,

[1] For the first part of this Hadith, see no. 485.
or less than that, or close to that, or something similar.'”[1] (Sahih)

Comments:

a. ‘Amr bin Maimun used to visit ‘Abdullâh bin Mas‘ûd every Thursday since he (‘Abdullâh bin Mas‘ûd) used to hold a weekly session of his scholarly discourse in his house on that day. It is narrated (in Bukhâri, 70) that he was requested to hold those sessions of admonition and knowledge often times once a week, but he said in reply: “The Prophet ﷺ also used to preach only on appropriate times and occasions, lest the audiences should start feeling bored. It follows from this that it is most advisable that we fix a particular time for purposes of preaching or imparting knowledge, so that the people can really benefit by the discourses.

b. The Arabic word ‘Ashiyyah used in the Hadith may mean any time from the decline of the sun until sunset. So, the time of the discourse may have been either after Zuhr or ‘Asr prayer. And Allâh knows best.

c. ‘Abdullâh bin Mas‘ûd avoided giving a verbatim narration of the Hadith, lest a word that the Prophet ﷺ had not spoken should be attributed to him. There were many other Companions who made a verbatim narration of the traditions. Both methods of narration are correct. Direct narration is considered better although the indirect narration is a safer option.

d. It is also a part of the etiquette of Hadith narration that if the narrator does not remember the exact words of the Hadith, he should finish his narration by saying: “Or as the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said.” We shall read about it in the next Hadith that narrates the practice of Anas bin Mâlik in this regard.

24. Muhammad bin Sirin said: “Whenever Anas bin Mâlik finished narrating a Hadith from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, he would say, ‘Or as the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said.’” (Sahih)

[1] That is, Ibn Mas‘ûd was indicating that the Prophet ﷺ said something similar to what he had narrated.
25. It was narrated that ‘Abdur-Rahmân bin Abi Laila said: “We said to Zaid bin Arqam: ‘Tell us a Hadith from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.’ He said: ‘We have grown old and have forgotten, and (narrating) Ahâdith from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ is difficult (not a simple matter).’” (Sahih)

26. It was narrated that ‘Abdullâh bin Abu Safar said: “I heard Ash-Sha’bi saying: ‘I sat with Ibn ‘Umar for a year and I did not hear him narrate anything from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.’” (Sahih)

Comments: 24 & 25
a. It dearly shows that the Companions considered a Hadith something quite great and momentous. They, therefore, only narrated what they remembered well.
b. From this, some Hadith scholars have deduced the rule, that from the moment a scholar begins to make mistakes in narrating the Ahâdith, he should stop narrating them.
c. Our scholars must, therefore, make it a rule to quote only those Ahâdith in their writings and speeches that they know for sure belong to the category of Sahih or Hasan Ahâdith, and avoid narrating weak Ahâdith.

Comments:
- ’Abdullâh bin ‘Umar also avoided narrating Ahâdith in the name of the Prophet ﷺ, for reasons that made other Companions cautious, namely that they were afraid of attributing to the Prophet ﷺ words that he had not spoken.
- Not that the Companions did not engage in the teachings of Islam but their method was different. They clearly told the people the things that were obligatory, or permissible, or unlawful, as well as the things they would do well to avoid. All these things they told them in the light of the Ahādīth they had heard from the Prophet ﷺ, but they did not narrate those traditions in his name.

27. It was narrated from Ibn Tāwus that his father said: "I heard Ibn ‘Abbās saying: 'We used to memorize Ahādīth, and Ahādīth were memorized from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. But if you go to the extremes of either exaggeration or negligence (in narrating Ahādīth), there is no way we can trust your Ahādīth.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Prophetic Ahādīth are conclusive proofs in the Islamic law. That is why the Companions listened to them attentively and memorized them studiously. Ibn ‘Abbās ﷺ, as we know, was passing through the childhood phase during the lifetime of the Prophet ﷺ. As such he could hear only a limited number of Ahādīth from him. He nevertheless memorized a large number of Ahādīth from the senior Companions, so much so, that he came to be regarded as one of the major narrators among the Prophet’s Companions.

b. Real Islam is the word of the Prophet ﷺ. Rulings given by others cannot take the place of Prophetic traditions. It is therefore, imperative that we seek the proof straightaway from the Qur’ān and Sunnah in all matters.

c. Recourse to the words of Companions and the Followers can only be taken where we have no word of the Prophet ﷺ. The Followers sometimes even used to write the words of the Companions. Ibn ‘Abbās ﷺ did not like the idea of writing the words of others beside those of the Prophet ﷺ. That is why he counseled the people to memorize the Ahādīth, not the sayings and rulings of others.

d. The Arabic expression (As-sa’ba wadh-dhalul) literally means ‘to tread the hard and soft ground’. In this Hadith it figuratively means: ‘You cannot distinguish between an acceptable and unacceptable tradition.’ It could also be understood as in; ‘riding both the arrogant and the docile animal but one would be well-advised to avoid the arrogant animal.’ The total meaning of the phrase is thus the same, namely: ‘You must not accept the word of each and every narrator, but only of those narrators that are dependable and trustworthy, lest anything that the Prophet ﷺ has not said be unknowingly attributed to him.’
28. It was narrated that Qarazah bin Ka'b said: "Umar bin Al-Khattab sent us to Kufah, and he accompanied us as far as a place called Sirār. He said: 'Do you know why I walked with you?' We said: 'Because of the rights of the Companions of the Messenger of Allah and because of the rights of the Ansār.' He said: 'No, rather it is because of words that I wanted to say to you. I wanted you to memorize it due to my walking with you. You are going to people in whose hearts the Qur'ān bubbles like water in a copper cauldron. When they see you, they will look up at you, saying: "The Companions of Muhammad!' But do not recite many reports from the Messenger of Allah, then I will be your partner." (Da'if)

Comments:

a. To be moved by the reading of the Qur'ān and the melting of the heart by it, is the characteristic of a true believer, and the sign of the tenderness of the heart.

b. Along with the Qur'ān, it is also essential that we acquire the knowledge of the Hadith since 'Umar did not forbid to narrate the Hadith. He only forbade overdoing it.

c. While teaching, consideration should be given to the level of the students, and they should only be given at a time as much as they can easily take and digest.

d. Forbidding giving too much of Hadith at a time is also meant to keep alive the interest of the students in them, and make their lessons more fruitful.

29. It was narrated that Sa'īb bin Yazid said: "I accompanied Sa'd bin Mālik from Al-Madinah to Makkah, and I did not hear him narrate a single Hadith from the..."
Prophet ﷺ.” (Sahih)

Comments:
The reason for this was the extreme caution the Companions were wont to exercise in the matter. However, they regularly explained the rules of the Shari'ah and engaged in wise counseling or admonition — all drawn from the Ahadith.

Chapter 4. Severe Condemnation Of Deliberately Telling Lies Against The Messenger Of Allâh ﷺ

30. It was narrated from 'Abdur-Rahmân bin 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ûd that his father said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said:
'Whoever tells lies about me deliberately, let him take his place in Hell.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. 'Deliberately telling lies' means fabricating something, then attributing it to the Prophet ﷺ and presenting it as a Prophetic Hadith. It is an act of great sin.

b. It is on the basis of this that the Hadith scholars have drawn the maxim that if, on a certain occasion, one feels the need to narrate a Weak Hadith of the Prophet ﷺ, it must be clarified to the listeners that it is a Weak Hadith. The reason being that a Weak Hadith does not create the conviction as to whether the Prophet ﷺ did really speak those words, or the narrator has mistakenly narrated it as such.

c. 'Taking one's place in Hell' means the person is doomed to be consigned to Hell, and he must be sure that, due to his act of sin, his seat has been booked in Hell. However, it is hoped that, if the person repents and admits before the people that such and such traditions narrated by him in the name of the Prophet were coined by him, his sin may be forgiven by Allâh, although the Hadîth scholars would not even then accept his narrations.

31. It was narrated that ‘Ali said: “The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘Do not tell lies about me, for telling lies about me leads to Hell (Fire).’” (Sahih)

32. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: “The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘Whoever tells lies about me, I (the narrator) think that he also said, ‘deliberately, let him take his place in Hell.’’” (Sahih)

Comments: 31 & 32

a. The narrator (probably Anas bin Mâlik) doubts whether or not the Prophet also spoke the word ‘Muhammad’. There is no such doubt about the rest of the words of Hadîth.

b. It is the proof of the narrator’s integrity that he clearly pointed out his doubt about the authenticity of a word in the Hadîth.

c. Other narrations of the Hadîth confirm that the word ‘Muhammad’ was part of the Hadîth. It is, therefore, not right to doubt its authenticity by the transmitter of the report.

33. It was narrated that Jâbir said: “The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘Whoever tells lies about me deliberately, let him take his place in Hell.’” (Sahih)

Notes:

- It was narrated that ‘Ali said: “The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘Do not tell lies about me, for telling lies about me leads to Hell (Fire).’” (Sahih)

- It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: “The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘Whoever tells lies about me, I (the narrator) think that he also said, ‘deliberately, let him take his place in Hell.’’” (Sahih)

- It was narrated that Jâbir said: “The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘Whoever tells lies about me deliberately, let him take his place in Hell.’” (Sahih)
34. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Whoever attributes to me something that I have not said, let him take his place in Hell.’” (Sahih)

35. It was narrated that Abu Qatadah said: “While he was on this pulpit, I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saying: ‘Beware of narrating too many Ahadith from me. Whoever attributes something to me, let him speak the truth faithfully. Whoever attributes to me something that I did not say, let him take his place in Hell.’” (Hasan)

36. It was narrated from ‘Amir bin ‘Abdullâh bin Zubair that his father said: “I said to Zubair bin ‘Awwâm: ‘Why do I not hear you narrating Ahadith from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ as I hear Ibn Mas‘ud and so-and-so and so-and-so?’ He said: ‘I never left him from the time I became Muslim, but I heard him say a word: ‘Whoever tells a lie about me deliberately, let him take his place in Hell.’” (Sahih)
37. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'Whoever tells lies about me deliberately, let him take his place in Hell.'" (Sahih)

a. Scholars have enumerated several reasons for the evil practice of fabricating the Hadith. A look at the reasons for fabrication would by itself indicate why the narrating of such Hadith, or considering them worth following in matters relating to the supposed merit of doing certain acts or circulating them among the people, is an abominable practice. Some of the reasons are: a desire to buttress the position of one's school of thought and disparage the opposing school, seeking proximity to the rulers, wanting to revile the faith of Islam or using them as a ploy to earn sustenance or gain fame, and so on.

b. Fabricated Hadith create doubts about the infallibility of the Prophets, degrade the position of the scholars, and defile the fair face of Islam. Circulation of such Hadith is, moreover, a major factor in the prevalence of innovations in the community. Therefore, the danger of citing fabricated Hadith is clear.

Chapter 5. He Who Narrated (A Hadith) From The Messenger Of Allah ﷺ Thinking It To Be False

38. It was narrated from `Ali that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever narrates a Hadith from me thinking it to be false, then he is one of the two liars." (Either the one who invents the lie or the one who repeats it; both are liars). (Sahih)
Comments:

a. Just as the fabrication of Ahādīth is unlawful, it is also a grave crime and sin to circulate them in the name of the Prophet ﷺ. And since the carrier of such a Hadīth is an equal partner in crime with the one who minted it, he must also share the same punishment of burning in Hell-fire, as was forewarned for the fabricator of the Hadīth.

b. Quoting such a Hadīth in front of the people with the purpose of dissuading them from being duped is permissible, since the purpose is not to deceive the audiences but to undeceive them.

39. It was narrated from Samurah bin Jundub that the Prophet ﷺ said: “Whoever narrated a Hadīth from me thinking it to be false, then he is one of the two liars.” (Sahih)

Another chain similar to the narration of Samurah bin Jundub.

40. It was narrated from ‘Ali that the Prophet ﷺ said: “Whoever transmits a Hadīth from me thinking it to be false, then he is one of the two liars.” (Sahih)

Another chain similar to the narration of Samurah bin Jundub.
41. It was narrated that Mughirah bin Shu‘bāh said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘Whoever narrates a Ḥadīth from me thinking it to be false, then he is one of the two liars.’” (Sahih)

Comments: 39, 40, 41

The Ḥadīth tells us about the punishment awaiting those who tell lies about the Prophet ﷺ. There is no doubt in the fact that a lie against the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ is among the worst of all lies in the world.

Chapter 6. Following The Path Of The Rightly-Guided Caliphs

42. Yahya bin Abu Mutā’ said: “I heard ‘Irbād bin Sāriyyah say: ‘One day, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ stood up among us and delivered a deeply moving speech to us that melted our hearts and caused our eyes to overflow with tears. It was said to him: ‘O Messenger of Allāh, you have delivered a speech of farewell, so enjoin something upon us.’ He said: ‘I urge you to fear Allāh, and to listen and obey, even if (your leader) is an Abyssinian slave. After I am gone, you will see great conflict. I urge you to adhere to my Sunnah and the path of the Rightly-Guided Caliphs, and cling stubbornly to it. And beware of newly-invented matters, for every innovation is a...”
going astray.”’ (Hasan)

Comments:

a. It is the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ for a departing man to give good advice to those he is leaving behind.

b. Importance of Taqwa (piety; righteousness): Taqwa as a special term means obeying the commands of Allāh, and avoiding evil acts that would displease Him, so as to escape the punishment of Hell-fire.

c. Obedience to a legally recognized ruler is mandatory as long as he does not give an order that openly conflicts with the dictates of Shari'ah.

d. The Prophet ﷺ had already forewarned the people of impending conflicts in the community after him. The prediction came literally true. There cropped up many conflicts on religious and political grounds among the community. The Prophet’s giving advance information about them is proof of the veracity of his prophethood.

e. The best adjudicators in the event of conflicts are the Qur’ān and Hadith.

f. Life stories of the Rightly-Guided Caliphs are the shining examples of adherence to the dictates of the Qur’ān and Sunnah. They had taken them direct from the Prophet ﷺ. We can, therefore, rightly depend on their understanding of Islam, especially because the Prophet himself had declared them as the rightly-guided ones.

43. It was narrated from ‘Abdur-Rahmān bin ‘Amr As-Sulami that he heard Al-‘Irbd bin Sāriyah say: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ delivered a moving speech to us which made our eyes flow with tears and made our hearts melt. We said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh, this is a speech of farewell. What do you enjoin upon us?’ He said: ‘I am leaving you upon a (path of) brightness whose night is like its day. No one will deviate from it after I am gone but one who is doomed. Whoever among you lives will see great conflict. I urge you to adhere to what you know of my Sunnah and the path of the Rightly-Guided Caliphs, and cling... stubbornly to it. And you must obey, even if (your leader is) an Abyssinian slave. For the true believer is like a camel with a ring in its nose; wherever it is driven, it complies.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Deviating from the teachings of the Shari'ah is tantamount to inviting one's own destruction and doom.

b. A true believer faithfully submits to the rules of Shari'ah even though it might seem difficult to do so. The reason why a believer is compared to a camel is because it (the camel) obeys the command of the master, even though the going might be tough for it.

c. History is witness that, even as the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had foretold, wide-ranging conflicts raised their head in the community after the expiry of the first three centuries. New sects and deviant groups took their birth. Each one adopted its own leader or locus of following, although the Prophet ﷺ had instructed that should there arise any conflict, the community was to adhere to his Sunnah and the Sunnah of the Rightly-Guided Caliphs.

44. It was narrated that 'Irâbâm bin Sâriyâh said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ led us in Fajr (morning) prayer, then he turned to us and delivered an eloquent speech.” And he mentioned something similar (as no. 43). (Sahih)

Comments:

a. It is a part of the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ that the Imâm, having finished the prayer, should turn his face towards the worshippers.

b. The best time to give religious instruction to the people is immediately after the conclusion of the obligatory prayer, since the worshippers are all collected in the mosque and are attentive to the Imâm. The speech should not, however, be so long as to create boredom among the listeners.

Chapter 7. Avoiding Bid'ah (Innovation) And Dispute

45. It was narrated that Jābir bin ‘Abdullāh said: “When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ delivered a sermon, his eyes would turn red, he would raise his voice and he would speak with intensity, as if he were warning of an (enemy) army, saying, ‘They will surely attack you in the morning, or they will surely attack you in the evening!’ He would say: ‘I and the Hour have been sent like these two,’ and he would hold up his index and middle finger. Then he would say: ‘The best of matters is the Book of Allāh and the best of guidance is the guidance of Muhammad. The most evil matters are those that are newly-invented, and every innovation (Bid’ah) is a going astray.’ And he used to say: ‘Whoever dies and leaves behind some wealth, it is for his family, and whoever leaves behind a debt or dependent children, then they are both my responsibility.’”

(Sahih)

Comments:

a. The main purpose of the sermon is to caution people against falling into error and the consequences of falling into error. It is therefore imperative that the sermon be used to pinpoint to the people the mistakes prevalent in the present times, and guide them to the right path.

b. It is also perfectly all right to give the sermon an emotional touch in accord with the nature of the subject.
c. The sum total of the true path is in following the Book of Allâh and the Sunnah of His Prophet ﷺ.

d. Pointing with the finger of the hand during the sermon is the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ and the use of appropriate gestures to drive home a point is an acceptable practice.

e. Reference to proximity of the Hour represents the clear indication that Muhammad ﷺ is the last of the Prophets. And just as no finger is there to intervene between the index and middle fingers, there is also no Prophet to come after the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ until the Last Hour. The descent from heaven of Prophet 'Eisa ﷺ does not negate the finality of the prophethood of Muhammad ﷺ for the simple reason that he had already been invested with prophethood, and in his second coming he will follow the Shari'ah of Muhammad ﷺ.

f. Reference to proximity of the Hour contains the message for the community that they must not be so engrossed in the affairs of the world as to lose sight of the approach of the Hour. They should instead prepare themselves more intently for the Hour.

g. It is not proper to classify the Bid’ah into ‘good’ and ‘bad’. In fact Bid’ah in all its forms and manifestations must be avoided.

h. Inheritance of the deceased person must be distributed among the rightful heirs as per the rules given in the Qur’ân and Haddîh. Rulers have no right to interfere in them. It is rather their duty to ensure that each inheritor gets his rightful share.

i. Taking care of the needs of the survivors and other persons in distress is the responsibility of the state. Similarly, if the deceased person has left some unpaid debts, and the property left by him is insufficient to pay off those debts, it is the responsibility of the Islamic state to pay off the debts from the state treasury and look after other genuine financial needs of the surviving members of the family.

46. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Verily, there are two things — words and guidance. The best words are the Words of Allâh, and the best guidance is the guidance of Muhammad. Beware of newly-invented matters, for every newly-invented matter is an innovation (Bid'ah) and every innovation is a going-astray. Do not let the desire for a long life cause your hearts to grow hard. That which is bound to happen is close to you, and the only thing that is far away is that which is not going to happen. The one who is doomed to Hell is doomed from his mother's womb, and the one who is destined for Paradise is the one who learns from the lessons of others. Killing a believer constitutes disbelief (Kufr) and verbally abusing him is immorality (Fusuq). It is not permissible for a Muslim to forsake his brother for more than three days. Beware of lying, for lying is never good, whether it is done seriously or in jest. A man should not make a promise to a child that he will not keep. Lying leads to immorality and immorality leads to Hell. Truthfulness leads to righteousness and righteousness leads to Paradise. It will be said of the truthful person: 'He spoke the truth and was righteous,' and it will be said of the liar, 'He told lies and was immoral.' For a person continues to tell lies until he is recorded with Allâh as a liar.'

(Da'îj)

Comments:
As regards the chain of narrators the Hadîth is Weak. However, most of the sentences contained in it also appear in the authentic Ahadîth. They are, therefore, correct. We will offer our comments on them as and when they occur.

47. It was narrated that ‘Âishah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ recited the following Verse: ‘It is He Who has sent down to you (Muhammad) the Book (this Qur’ân). In it are Verses that are entirely clear, they are the foundations of the Book; and others not entirely clear. (up to His saying:) ‘And none receive admonition except men of understanding.’ Then he said: ‘O Aishah, if you see those who dispute concerning it (the Qur’an), they are those whom Allâh has referred to here, so beware of them.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
Some Verses of the Qur’an deal with ordainments that are either ‘clear’ in themselves or the Ahâdith provide their clarification. As such they can be implemented without any difficulty. All such Verses belong to the category of ‘clear’ Verses. Some other verses deal with the articles of faith, such as the Oneness of Allâh, the prophethood, the resurrection, and so on. All the details and the proofs concerning them have been mentioned in the Qur’an and Ahâdith. These are also ‘clear’. On the contrary there are Verses whose exact meaning cannot be determined such as Muqatta’tt, the initial ‘abbreviated letters’ prefixed to certain Surah of the Qur’an. The right course regarding them is to have the belief that they are also part of the Noble Qur’an, and he who recites them gets the same reward as he gets for reciting other Verses of the Qur’an. There is no need to involve oneself in further investigation. Similarly, there are matters belonging to the domain of the unseen. Regarding them as well, we just need to believe that they do exist, and the events that have been foretold are certain to pass, and whatever details the Qur’an and Ahâdith provide regarding them are sufficient for us, and there is no need to further investigate them. For example, it is enough to know that angels are the obedient creatures of Allâh operating in areas and engaged in tasks assigned to them. Moreover, we just have to believe that our actions shall be weighed on the Day of Judgment, and so on. Avoiding unnecessary debate on Mutashâbihât (matters not entirely clear) is the method of the true scholars.

48. It was narrated that Abu Umâmah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘No people go astray after having followed right guidance, but those who indulge in disputes,’ Then he recited this Verse: “Nay! But they are a quarrelsome people.”[1] (Hasan)

Verse: “Nay! But they are a quarrelsome people.”[1] (Hasan)

Comments:
a. The Arabic word jadil (translated as dispute), in this context, means arguing with falsehood and lies against the truth.

Allah has sent down the Prophets to separate the truth from falsehood. As a result of their preaching, some people have believed in them while others have stuck to falsehood, even though the truth had been made manifest to them. Even among the believers there are some who are of firm faith while others are weak in their faith, thus creating the apprehension that they might go off the track once again. That is why it behooves all of us to continue to pray to Allah for fortitude, so that we remain steadfast in our faith until the last breath.

b. The natural course, which is the only right course to adopt for putting an end to the disputes, is to sincerely discuss them with the intention to arrive at the truth. Once the truth of the matter is proved, it must be accepted at all costs.

49. It was narrated that Hudhaifah said: “The Messenger of Allah said: ‘Allah will not accept any fasting, prayer, charity, Hajj, `Umrah, jihad, or any other obligatory or voluntary action from a person who follows innovation (Bid’ah). He comes out of Islam like a hair pulled out of dough.” (Maudu')
50. It was narrated that 'Abdullah bin 'Abbás said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh refuses to accept the good deeds of one who follows innovation until he gives up that innovation.'" (Da’if)

51. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever gives up telling lies in support of a false claim, a palace will be built for him on the outskirts of Paradise. Whoever gives up argument when he is in the right, a palace will be built for him in the middle (of Paradise). And whoever has good behavior, a palace will be built for him in the highest reaches (of Paradise).’’” (Hasan)

Comments: 50 & 51

a. Effort must be made to end all disputes, be they of mundane nature or of religious type. Allâh says in the Qur'ân: “And reconciliation is better.” (4:128)

b. As soon as a person realizes his mistake, he should recite this Verse so that the dispute is put to an end. The doing of it is of so much greatness, that the person doing it is promised a palace in Paradise as reward.
c. In worldly affairs, it is always possible that a person forgoes his due right and ends the dispute. This kind of sacrifice made for the sake of togetherness and unity is rated very highly by Allâh. As a reward for this, the person shall get a palatial abode in the middle of Paradise.

d. Muslims must excel in morals so that the daily affairs of life continue to run smoothly. They must cultivate the virtues of good demeanor, friendly disposition and tolerance, and thus avert all chances of dispute. The greater the number of such people in a society, the better will be the chances of peace and amity in it. Hence it is that the person doing it shall be ranked higher than the other two mentioned in the Hadîth and shall, therefore, be awarded a higher place in Paradise.

Chapter 8. Avoiding Individual Opinion And Analogy (With Regard To Matters Of Religion)

52. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr bin 'Âs that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh will not take away knowledge by removing it from people (from their hearts). Rather, He will take away knowledge by taking away the scholars, then when there are no scholars left, the people will take the ignorant as their leaders. They will be asked questions and they will issue verdicts without knowledge, thus they will go astray and lead others astray.'” (Sahih) order to forestall such a dangerous situation, the Muslim community must exert its utmost effort to produce scholars specializing in the Islamic sciences and law.

b. It is the duty of a religious scholar to give his verdict in the light of the Qur’ān and Ahādīth, instead of giving it on the basis of his own personal opinion or analogy.

53. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Whoever is given a Fatwa (verdict) that has no basis, then his sin will be upon the one who issued that Fatwa.’” (Hasan)

Comments:

a. It is the duty of a common man to seek religious opinions from scholars who, in turn, must answer them with proofs from the Qur’ān and Ahādīth.

b. Issuing religious edicts and opinions simply on the basis of subjective opinions is an act of sin. The reason being that the questioner puts his faith in the scholar and, if the scholar gives a wrong opinion, the entire responsibility of the action of the questioner will be on the scholar.

54. It was narrated that ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Knowledge is based on three things, and anything beyond that is superfluous: a clear Verse, an established Sunnah, or the rulings by which the inheritance is divided fairly.’” (Da‘if)
Comments:

a. As to the chain of transmitters, the tradition is Weak. Nevertheless, the importance of the knowledge of Qur’ân and Sunnah is established from many other proofs. Similarly, the importance of the law of inheritance can also hardly be overemphasized.

b. The expression ‘Muhkam’ (translated as clear) means a Verse that has not been abrogated, nor is it allegorical or ambiguous. The Qur’ânic Science of Abrogation is an equally important branch of knowledge. To give a ruling in any matter in ignorance of this science can lead one into error. ‘Established Sunnah’ also means the prophetic tradition that has not been abrogated.

55. Mu‘âdh bin Jabal said: “When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ sent me to Yemen, he said: ‘Do not pass any judgement or make any decision except on the basis of what you know. If you are uncertain about a matter, wait until you understand it fully, or write to me concerning it.’” (Maudû')

56. It was narrated that ‘Abdullâh bin ‘Amr bin ‘Âs said: “I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: ‘The affairs of the Children of Israel remained fair until Muwalladun emerged among them – the children of female slaves from other nations. They spoke of their own opinions (in religious matters), and so they went astray and led others astray.’” (Da‘îf)
Chapter 9. Regarding Faith

It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Faith has sixty-some or seventy parts, the least of which is to remove a harmful thing from the road and the greatest of which is to say Lâ ilâha illallâh (none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh). And modesty is a branch of faith.’" (Sahih)

Another chain from Abu Hurairah, from the Prophet ﷺ, with similar wording.

Comments:

a. The likeness of Îmân (faith) is as the likeness of a tree. Faith in Oneness of Allâh and the institution of prophethood is the root, virtuous deeds the branches, and the benefits of this world and of the Hereafter are its fruits. So, if you pull out the root, the tree is gone. As regards the branches, even if you cut them, the tree still remains although in a depleted form. Similarly, sins do harm our faith while good deeds lead to its perfection and growth.

b. All good deeds are but the branches of faith, but the most important of them all is the affirmation by word of mouth of the Oneness of Allâh, namely Lâ ilâha illallâh (none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh) since it is this by which accrue other benefits of faith.

c. Modesty is an important branch of faith, since it protects man from numerous acts of sin. It does not, however, imply that misplaced sense of shame, which prevents man from asking about religious matters, or forbids him from the acquisition of knowledge, or doing a good deed.
d. Faith includes deeds of the tongue, of the heart and of other parts of the body. Affirmation of the formula “Lā ilāha illāllāh” is thus the deed of the tongue. To believe in it is the deed of the heart, and removing a harmful thing from the road is the deed of other parts of the body. All these deeds are thus the parts and branches of faith.

58. It was narrated from Sālim that his father said: “The Prophet heard a man urging his brother to be modest. He said: ‘Indeed, modesty is a branch of faith.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. Modesty (Haya) means that state of morality in man which makes him avoid things improper and unseemly, but does not fall short in giving the rightful person his due.

59. It was narrated that ‘Abdullāh said: “The Messenger of Allāh said: ‘No one will enter Paradise who has even a mustard-seed’s weight of arrogance in his heart, and no one will enter Hell who has even a mustard-seed’s weight of faith in his heart.’”
Comments:

a. Arrogance is an extremely detestable trait. The saying of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ that “arrogance means rejecting the truth and looking down upon the people” reflects the true meaning of the word.

b. If belief in the commands of Allâh and His Messenger is rejected out of arrogance, abiding permanently in Hell is the punishment because arrogance is totally antithetical to faith. Even if arrogance is of another type, and the man belittles others on account of his supposed superiority in wealth, or his presumed good looks and social status, or refuses to accept the truth out of obstinacy, even this is extremely detestable to Allâh.

60. It was narrated that Abu Sa’eed Khudri said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘When Allâh has saved the believers from Hell and they are safe, none of you will dispute with his companion more vehemently for some right of his in this world than the believers will dispute with their Lord on behalf of their brothers in faith who will have entered Hell. They will say: “Our Lord! They are our brothers, they used to pray with us, fast with us and perform Hajj with us, and you have admitted them to Hell.” He will say: “Go and bring forth those whom you recognize among them.” So they will come to them, and they will recognize them by their faces. The Fire will not consume their faces, although there will be some whom the Fire will seize halfway up their shins, and others whom it will seize up to their ankles. They will bring them forth, and will say, “Our Lord, we have brought forth those whom You commanded us to bring forth.” Then He will say: “Bring forth those who have a Dinâr’s weight of faith in their hearts, then those who have half a Dinâr’s weight in their hearts, then those who have a mustard-seed’s weight.” Abu Sa’eed said: “He who does not believe this, let him recite: ‘Surely, Allāh wrongs not even of the weight of an atom (or a small ant), but if there is any good (done), He doubles it, and gives from Him a great reward.’”[1] (Sahih)

Comments:
a. Great Intercession on the Day of Judgment shall only be the exclusive privilege of Prophet Muhammad ﷺ, but other Prophets and believers shall, in their turn, also be allowed to intercede on behalf of the sinners.
b. No Prophets or ‘holy men’ will have the power to extricate anyone from Hell on their own. They will simply pray to Allāh and intercede on behalf of their sinning brethren. Allāh will, then, accept the intercession for whoever He wills, and grant deliverance from Hell to whoever He wishes.
c. Sinners among the believers will be recognizable in Hell-fire through their unburnt faces. A Hadith of the Prophet ﷺ says that the angels shall recognize the sinners from the prostration marks on their foreheads. The Hadith also underlines the singularly important place prayer occupies among all the acts of worship.
d. The sinners shall be subjected to severe or light punishment according to the degree of the gravity of their sins.
e. All believers are not equal in faith since faith increases and decreases.
f. Allāh’s mercy is so pervasive that even those at the lowest level of faith shall get deliverance, not so the polytheists.

61. It was narrated that Jundub bin ‘Abdullāh said: “We were with the Prophet ﷺ, and we were strong youths, so we learned faith before we learned the Qur’ān. Then we learned the Qur’ān and our faith increased thereby.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Knowledge of the Oneness of Allāh and other basic beliefs gets priority over acts of worship and the code of daily dealings. That is why the main focus in Makkan Surahs (chapters) of the Qurʾān is on basic beliefs while the Madinite Surah mostly deal with daily dealings and transactions.

b. Increase in knowledge leads to increase in faith.

c. The last sentence in the Hadith is a proof of the phenomenon of increase and decrease in faith.

62. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Abbās said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘There are two types of people among this Ummah who have no share of Islam: The Murji’ah and the Qadariyyah.”’[1] (Da’if)

63. It was narrated that ‘Umar said: “We were sitting with the Prophet ﷺ when a man came to him whose clothes were intensely white and whose hair was intensely black; no signs of travel could be seen upon him, and none of us recognized him. He sat down facing the Prophet, with his knees touching his, and he put his hands on his thighs, and said: ‘O Muhammad, what is Islam?’ He said: ‘To testify that none has the right to be worshiped but Allāh, and that I am the

[1] The Murji’ah sect has the belief that Iman (faith) concerns with words only, it has no link as far as deeds are concerned. The Qadariyyah sect has the belief that a person is bound to do what has been written for him, he is not free to do anything he wants — as against the Jabariyyah sect whose belief is just the opposite.
Messenger of Allah; to establish regular prayer; to pay Zakat; to fast in Ramadan; and to perform Hajj to the House (the Ka'bah). He said: 'You have spoken the truth.' We were amazed by him. He asked a question, then told him that he had spoken the truth. Then he said: 'O Muhammad, what is Imân faith?' He said: 'To believe in Allah, His Angels, His Messengers, His Books, the Last Day, and the Divine Decree (Qadar), both the good of it and the bad of it.' He said: 'You have spoken the truth.' We were amazed by him. He asked a question, then told him that he had spoken the truth. Then he said: 'O Muhammad, what is Ihsân (right action, goodness, sincerity)?' He said: 'To worship Allah as if you see Him, for even though you do not see Him, He sees you.' He asked: 'When will the Hour be?' He said: 'The one who is being asked about it does not know more than the one who is asking.' He asked: 'Then what are its signs?' He said: 'When the slave woman gives birth to her mistress' (Wâki' said: 'This means when non-Arabs will give birth to Arabs') 'and when you see the barefoot, naked, destitute shepherds competing in constructing tall buildings.' The Prophet met me three days later and asked me: 'Do you know who that person was?' I said: 'Allah and His Messenger know best.' He said: 'That was Jibril, who came to you to teach you your religion.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Hadith is known as the Hadith of Jibril. It encompasses important matters of our religion. It deals with acts of worship; with deeds of the heart and of other parts of the body; with acts that are categorized as compulsory or Sunnah, as well as the acts that are classified as desirable, undesirable or forbidden.

b. The term Islām here denotes the apparent acts, whose doing or not doing determines whether the person in question is or is not a Muslim. Iḥām, however, is the testimony or affirmation of the heart on which depends deliverance in the Hereafter. Iḥsān is the highest form of Iḥām, which bestows beauty to one’s acts of devotion.

c. One must worship Allāh as though one is before Allāh, which means that the focusing of one’s heart towards Allāh and the extent of one’s turning in submissiveness, in fear and in repentance towards Him, must be at their peak. As far as the question of being able to see Allāh within the span of this life on earth, it is an absolute impossibility, for no creature can find itself equal to it. In Paradise, however, the faithful will be able to see Him. The Qurʾān and Hadith bear testimony to this. Al-Bukhārī (H. 7437) and Muslim (H. 1820) expressly mention it.

d. The exact time of the coming of the Hour nobody knows, not even the Prophets and angels. It is Allāh’s special preserve, for He alone is the Knower of the unseen.

e. Constructing large, stately buildings just for worldly benefit and comfort or for ostentation and pride is not right.

f. Beliefs and dealings are all part of religion, and as such right belief and right action are both necessary for deliverance in the Hereafter.

g. ‘Divine Decree’ means the fact that whatever will happen, forever, Allāh knows it all from before. Whatever happens now is absolutely in keeping with what Allāh knows, and what He has already written down. The goodness or badness of the Decree means the things that are good for us, such as good health, economic prosperity, abundance and increase in productivity, or the things that we consider bad for us, such as famine and pain and misery. All this is happening according to Allāh’s wise scheme and will. So, the good or bad is only in relation to us, the creatures. Otherwise, all the actions of Allāh are the reflection of His superior prudence and wisdom, and are, therefore, absolutely good.

h. The coming down of Jibril with Qurʾānic revelations is a proven fact. His coming down for the clarification of the teachings and tenets of Islam is also proved from this Hadith.

i. There are different methodologies for learning religious and Islamic teachings. One of these is to hold question-answer sessions. Lessons are very well driven home through this method.

j. Etiquette demands that the one who is asking should sit respectfully with folded legs before the one being asked, and the manner of his asking should be polite and reverential.

k. The faithful angel Jibril was dressed in white. The Prophet also emphasized his preference for white clothes and even chose white raiment for himself. Even for the dead he chose the white shroud. (Tirmidhi: 2810).

64. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “One day the Messenger of Allâh appeared among the people. A man came to him and said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh, what is Imân (faith)?’ He said: ‘To believe in Allâh, His Angels, His Books, His Messengers and the meeting with Him, and to believe in the Final Resurrection.’ He said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh, what is Islam?’ He said: ‘To worship Allâh (alone) and not to associate anything with Him; to establish the prescribed prayers; to pay the obligatory Zakât; and to fast Ramadân.’ He said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh, what is Ihsân?’ He said: ‘To worship Allâh as if you see Him, for even though you do not see Him, He sees you.’ He said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh, when will the Hour be?’ He said: ‘The one who is being asked does not know more than the one who is asking, but I will tell you about its signs. When the slave-woman gives birth to her mistress, that is one of its signs. When the shepherds compete in constructing tall buildings, that is one of its signs. And there are five things which no one knows except Allâh.’ Then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ recited the Verse: "Verily, Allâh, with Him (Alone) is the knowledge of the Hour, He sends down the rain, and knows that which is in the wombs. No person knows what he will earn tomorrow, and no person knows in what land he will die. Verily, Allâh is All-Knower, All-Aware (of things)." [1] (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Precise knowledge of the future is the exclusive preserve of Allâh. All matters mentioned in the Qur’ânic Verses belong to the realm of the future. Not to speak of the exact timing of the impending Hour. Even the precise timing of the appearance of its signs, mentioned in the Hadith, are known to no one but Allâh. Similar is the case of the other matters for which man can only conjecture, which may or may not come true. A case in point is the clouds, a sight of which awakens the hope, but holds no guarantee, that it will bring down rain. We can plan for the future but have no means of knowing beforehand what unexpected impediments or circumstances might be in store for us. Likewise, no one except Allâh knows for sure about anyone’s life or death. Man can only conjecture about the future, but cannot guarantee that his conjecture will come true.

b. If a scholar does not know the answer of a question, let him plainly say that he does not know it without considering it an offense to his dignity.

c. A learned man should never get angry but answer the queries of the questioner with tenderness and love.

65. It was narrated that ‘Ali bin Abu Tâlib said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Faith is knowledge in the heart, words on the tongue and action with the physical faculties. (limbs of the body).’” (Maudû')

[1] Luqûnân 31:34.
It was narrated from Anas bin Malik that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “None of you truly believes until he loves for his brother, what he loves for himself.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. We should do to the Muslim brother as we would be done by. For example, if a person does not like to be deceived by the people, let him also not deceive others. And just as a man likes others to help him in his hour of need, he should also help others in their hour of need or difficulty.

b. Man is generally very touchy about his rights, but oblivious of his obligations, although his obligations are the rights of others. Thus, if each one of us respects the rights of others, the rights of all will be safeguarded and peace and amity will prevail in the society.

It was narrated that Anas bin Malik said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘None of you truly believes until I am more beloved to him than his child, his father and all the people.’” (Sahih)
The Book Of The Sunnah

Comments:

a. Love of the Prophet ﷺ is the very foundation of faith. The stronger the love for him, the greater the faith. Increase or decrease in love for him is an indication of increase or decrease in one’s faith.

b. The proof of love is not in lip service but in obedience. Allâh the Glorified says: “Say (O Muhammad to mankind): ‘If you (really) love Allâh, then follow me.’” (3:31)

c. The real test of a person’s having more love for Allâh and His Messenger ﷺ than others, comes when the love of one’s children, parents, a religious leader or friend, demands that one do a thing that Allâh and His Messenger ﷺ have prohibited, but he will not bother about the displeasure of others and obey and follow the example of the Prophet of Allâh in disregard of his love for others. If, on the other hand, the love of others is greater, then he will go against the dictates of Shari’ah in order to please those others, and thus fall short of achieving the required level of faith. The same criterion holds true in respect of one’s love for the traditions of the Prophet ﷺ and customs prevalent in one’s tribe or community.

68. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘By the One in Whose Hand is my soul! You will not enter Paradise until you believe, and you will not (truly) believe until you love one another. Shall I not tell you of something which, if you do it, you will love one another? Spread the greetings of Salâm amongst yourselves.’” (Sahîh)

Comments:

a. Iman is an essential requirement for entry into Paradise.

b. Mutual love is a means of gaining complete faith. We must, therefore, do all those things that promote mutual love and avoid things that would generate mutual hatred.

Greeting each other with Salâm is a good way of establishing and maintaining good relations with each other. Other Ahâdhîth speak of the other things as well, such as shaking hands, hugging and exchanging
69. It was narrated that 'Abdullāh said: "The Messenger of Allāh said: 'Verbally abusing a Muslim is immorality and fighting him is Kufr (disbelief)." (Sahih)

Comments:
a. Since maintaining cordial relations between the Muslims is desirable in Islam, our sacred law forbids doing things that might spoil relations. One of those undesirable things is verbally abusing each other—an act wholly unbecoming a good Muslim. That is the reason why it has been branded as an act of disobedience, immorality and sin.

b. Fighting a Muslim is Kufr. The word Kufr as used here does not mean the Kufr that drives man out of the pale of Islam. It only means an act which is unfit for a Muslim. It is technically called a minor Kufr. The Qur'ān says: "And if two parties of believers fight, make peace between them". (49:9)

The Verse is categorical on the point that believers, even when they fight each other, continue to remain believers; they do not turn disbelievers.

70. It was narrated that Anas bin Mālik said: "The Messenger of Allāh said: 'Whoever departs this world with sincerity towards Allāh, worshipping Him alone with no partner, establishing regular prayer and paying Zakāt, has died while Allāh is pleased with him.'"

Anas said: "This is the religion of Allāh which was brought by the Messengers, and which they present with each other. (See Muwatta Imam Mālik: 1731 & Adabul-Mufarad: 594) conveyed from their Lord before there arose the confusion of people's chattering and conflicting desires.

This is confirmed in the Book of Allāh, in one of the last Verses to be revealed, where Allāh says: "But if they repent."

[1] renounce their idols, and worshipping them; "And establish Salāt and give Zakāt."[2] And Allāh says in another Verse: "But if they repent, perform Salāt and give Zakāt, then they are your brethren in religion."[3] (Da'īf)

Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:

a. Translation of the meaning of the first quoted Verse (complete text) shall read: "Then when the Sacred Months have passed, kill the polytheists wherever you find them, and capture them and besiege them, and lie in wait for them in every place of ambush. But if they repent and perform prayer, and pay Zakāt, then let them go their way. Verily, Allāh is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful". (9:5).

Anas comments that repentance here means relinquishing disbelief.

b. The Verses are clear in their meaning, which is that a community will only be recognized as Muslim when, along with affirmation of the Oneness of Allāh and due testimony, they also perform the practical duties such as Salāt and Zakāt etc. In case of refusal, it would be declared disbeliever and deserving of being engaged in Jihād, just like Abu Bakr, in interpretation of the above quoted Verse, had conducted a Jihād against those who refused to pay Zakāt or accept it as an obligatory duty in Islam.

71. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘I have been commanded to fight the people until they testify to La ilāha ill-Allāh (none has the right to be worshipped but Allāh) and that I am the Messenger of Allāh, and they establish regular prayers and pay Zakāt.’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Fighting in the way of Allāh is the collective duty of Muslims with the objective of turning people away from the worship of others to the worship of Allāh.

b. Three things are reckoned as proof of a person’s entry into the fold of Islam: (i) his affirmation of the Oneness of Allāh and the prophethood of Muḥammad ﷺ, (ii) to performing regularly the ritual prayers, and (iii) paying Zakāt, which is a prescribed financial obligation in Islam.

c. The tradition does not mention the other two pillars of Islam, namely fasting and Ḥajj. The reason being that fasting is a hidden act in the sense, that it is always possible for a non-fasting person to make others believe that he is fasting. As for Ḥajj, it is not in the first place obligatory for each Muslim. Secondly, even for the obligated person, it is compulsory just once in the entire lifetime. Additionally, even if the people against whom war is an Islamic duty affirm their commitment to fasting and Ḥajj, the practical demonstration of these acts will have to wait for the particular months of the year. It would, therefore, be against better judgment to link the decision about waging war against them to such matters. And Allāh knows best.

72. It was narrated that Mu‘ādh bin Jabal said: The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘I have been commanded to fight the people until they testify to La ilāha ill-Allāh (none has the right to be worshipped but Allāh) and that I am the Messenger of Allāh, and they establish regular prayer and pay Zakāt.’” (Sahih)
73. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbās and Jābir bin 'Abdullāh said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'There are two types among my Ummah who have no share of Islam: the people of Irjā and the people of Qadar.'" (Da’if)\[1\]

74. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah and Ibn ‘Abbās said: “Faith increases and decreases.” (Da’if)

75. It was narrated that Abu Dardā’ said: “Faith increases and decreases.” (Da’if)

Comments: 74 & 75

Although, as to the principles of Hadith classification, the two traditions are Weak and do not come up to the level of Marfu’ (Traceable) Ahādith, these are Mash-hur (Well-Known) Ahādīth and have all along been consecutively reported from the pious predecessors. As such the concept of increase and decrease in IImān is an established fact among the followers of Sunnah. Imām Bukhārī in his Sahih (Book of Faith, Ch. 1) has cited several Verses of the Qurʾān as evidence, and has followed them up with a number of Ahādīth in the next several chapters, to prove that virtuous deeds are but the parts of faith. It needs to be understood in this connection that anything that has parts shall remain imperfect or defective if one part or more thereof is missing. For further detail, it will be useful to study the relevant chapters of Fathul-Bārī, the well-known commentary of Sahih Al-Bukhārī.

Chapter 10. Regarding The Divine Decree (Qadar)

76. ‘Abdullāh bin Mas’ud said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, the true and truly inspired one, told us that: ‘The creation of one of you is put together in his mother’s womb for forty days, then it becomes a clot for a similar length of time, then it becomes a chewed lump of flesh for a similar length of time. Then Allāh sends the angel to him and commands him to write down four things. He says: ‘Write down his deeds, his life span, his provision, and whether he is doomed (destined for Hell) or blessed (destined for Paradise).’ By the One in Whose Hand is my soul! One of you may do the deeds of the people of Paradise until there is no more than a forearm’s length between him and it, then the decree overtakes him and he does the deeds of the people of Hell until he enters therein. And one of you may do the deeds of the people of Hell until there is no more than a forearm’s length between him and it, then the decree overtakes him and he does the deeds of the people. of Paradise until he enters therein."
(Sahih)

Comments:

a. Man's good and bad deeds, his life span, his provision, and his going either to Paradise or to Hell—all these things—even the angels only come to know when told by Allâh at an appropriate time. The angels then write those things which had been decreed and recorded in the Preserved Tablet since eternity.

b. Everyone has a predetermined life span, and will not die before that. No one should, therefore, abdicate his faith out of his fear for life, but be prepared to lay down his life in defence of his faith.

c. Everyone's quota of provision is predetermined, which he is sure to get anyhow. Man's test lies in what means he adopts to get it. He shall get his allotted provision even through lawful means, and what is not destined for him, he will not get it even through unlawful means. We must, therefore, put our trust in Allâh and try to earn our livelihood only through lawful means.

d. We must not decide, of our own, about someone's being of Paradise or of Hell, for Allâh alone knows who is designated for Paradise or destined to be the fuel of Hell-fire. We must, however, have faith in Allâh's mercy, and keep the hope that a person whom we believe to be virtuous shall, by the grace of Allâh, be admitted to Paradise. Nevertheless, we must have the belief that the people whom Allâh or His Messenger explicitly named as going to Paradise or Hell shall surely go there. Cases in point are the inevitability of Abu Lahab's (and his wife's) being consigned to Hell-fire — as mentioned in the Qur'ânic Surah of that name — and the certainty of a place in Paradise for each of the Ten Companion who have already been given the glad tiding of admittance to that blessed abode.

77. It was narrated that Ibn Dailami said: 'I was confused about this Divine Decree (Qadar), and I was afraid lest that adversely affect my religion and my affairs. So I went to Ubayy bin Ka'b and said: 'O Abu Mundhir! I am confused about this Divine Decree, and I fear for my religion and my affairs, so tell me something about that through which Allâh may benefit me.' He said: 'If Allâh were to punish the inhabitants of His heavens and of His earth, He would do so and He would not be unjust towards them. And if He were to have mercy on them, His mercy would be better for them than their own deeds. If you had the equivalent of Mount Uhud in gold, or the equivalent of Mount Uhud which you spent in the cause of Allâh, that would not be accepted from you until you believed in the Divine Decree and you know that whatever has befallen you, could not have passed you by; and whatever has passed you by, could not have befallen you; and that if you were to die believing anything other than this, you would enter Hell. And it will not harm you to go to my brother, 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ûd, and ask him (about this).' So I went to 'Abdullâh and asked him, and he said something similar to what Ubayy had said, and he told me: 'It will not harm you to go to Hudhaifah.' So I went to Hudhaifah and asked him, and he said something similar to what they had said. And he told me: 'Go to Zaid bin Thâbit and ask him.' So I went to Zaid bin Thâbit and asked him, and he said: 'I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: “If Allâh were to punish the inhabitants of His heavens and of His earth, He would do so and He would not be unjust towards them. And if He were to have mercy on them, His mercy would be better for them than their own deeds. If you had the equivalent of Mount Uhud in gold, or the equivalent of Mount Uhud which you spent in the cause of Allāh, that would not be accepted from you until you believed in the Divine decree, and you know that whatever has befallen you, could not have passed you by; and whatever has passed you by, could not have befallen you, and that if you were to die believing anything other than this, you would enter Hell.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The calamity destined to happen is bound to happen, even if the person concerned - out of the fear of it - leaves the path of virtue and takes to the path of evil. And the bounties and comforts destined for a person are sure to come to him, albeit preceded by a difficult and turbulent phase. We must, therefore, put our trust in Allāh, remain hopeful of His mercy, and never fall prey to despair, for Allāh cites, with approval, the following words of Ya'qub: “Certainly no one despairs of Allāh’s mercy except the people who disbelieve.” (12:87)

b. The Companions were gifted with the kind of knowledge which was as profound as it was strong, which is why their faith was also firm and strong. Even on issues as delicate as the Divine Decree, their self-assurance and awareness of the truth made them brimful of contentment of the heart, with no iota of doubt to disturb their minds.

c. It is perfectly in order to consult more than one scholar on any matter for the satisfaction of one’s heart.

d. Religious opinions (Fatwā) given by the Companions are all drawn from the Qur’ān and Ahādīth. Not only this, they oftentimes quote the very words of the Hadīth without mentioning the Prophet’s name.

e. The issue of the Divine Decree is among Islam’s fundamentals of faith. No one’s belief is, therefore, of any consequence unless he also has faith in the Divine Decree. Denying the truth of the Divine Decree means inviting one’s own punishment by Hell-fire.

78. It was narrated that ‘Ali said: "We were sitting with the Prophet and he had a stick in his hand. He scratched in the ground with it, then raised his head and said: 'There is no one among you but his place in Paradise or Hell has already been decreed.' He was asked: 'O Messenger of Allāh, should we not then rely upon that?' He said: 'No, strive and do not rely upon that, for it will be made easy for each person to do that for which he was created.' Then he recited: "As for him who gives (in charity) and keeps his duty to Allāh and fears Him and believes in Al-Husnā.11 We will make smooth for him the path of ease (goodness). But he who is a greedy miser and thinks himself self-sufficient. And denies Al-Husnā. We will make smooth for him the path for evil."[2] (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Hadith affirms the reality of Divine Decree.

b. Divine Decree is another name for Allāh's attribute of knowledge. It does not mean predetermination in the sense that man has no power over his actions.

c. Admittance of man to Paradise or Hell is linked to his actions. Nobody knows what the future holds for him. It is, therefore, necessary that we keep trying to do righteous deeds and avoid sinful acts.

d. Faith in the Divine Decree does not mean that man give up trying and doing hard work. He should rather make it a point not to be afraid of impending dangers nor despair of Allāh's mercy for, if success is to come

[1] Al-Husnā: The Best (i.e. either Lā ilāha illallāh: none has the right to be worshipped but Allāh) or a reward from Allāh (i.e. Allāh will compensate him for what he will spend in Allāh’s way or bless him with Paradise).

by Allāh’s permission, it is bound to happen in spite of all odds and difficulties. If not, the person shall at least get reward for his good intentions and hard work. Allāh does not let the good done by anybody go to waste.

79. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘The strong believer is better and more beloved to Allāh than the weak believer, although both are good. Strive for that which will benefit you, seek the help of Allāh, and do not feel helpless. If anything befalls you, do not say, “If only I had done such and such.” Rather say, “Qaddara Allāhu wa mā shâ’ā fa’ala (Allāh has decreed and whatever He wills, He does).” For (saying) ‘If’ opens (the door) to the deeds of Satan.’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Physical, mental and financial strength is a gift of Allāh which must be utilized in the doing of good deeds.

b. A man short of others in any kind of strength is not altogether without good in him. Maybe, the one who is weak in one area is strong in another. It, therefore, behooves us all to be grateful to Allāh for whatever capacity He has given to each one of us, and utilize it for the avoidance of evil and the acquisition and accumulation of as much good as possible.

c. Striving for worldly good is not against the doctrine of trust in Allāh. It is not, however, allowed to use unfair means to achieve one’s goals, nor is it proper to engross oneself in the pursuit of worldly gains so absolutely that all attention is focused on that alone.

d. It is not desirable in the Islamic Shari‘ah that a person, instead of working to earn his bread and be of benefit to others, himself becomes a burden on others. It is wrong to give such an attitude the name of ‘trust in Allāh’. If, however, for some reason, a person is not capable of earning his bread for himself he is exempt from it, and it is the duty of the Islamic community to take care of his needs.

e. If the outcome of an endeavour ends up in an unexpected result that cannot be remedied, there is no reason for the person concerned to give himself up to negative thinking since, far from being beneficial, such an attitude would only be harmful to him, and then it would be no use regretting at the aftermath and say, “Would that I had done this work that way and not this way.” It is nevertheless all right to critically evaluate one’s work so that the mistake done now should be avoided in the future.

80. It was narrated that ‘Amr bin Dinâr heard Tawûs say: “I heard Abu Hurairah narrating that the Prophet ﷺ said: ‘Adam and Musa debated, and Musa said to him: “O Adam, you are our father but have deprived us and caused us to be expelled from Paradise because of your sin.” ‘Adam said to him: “O Musa, Allâh chose you to speak with and He wrote the Tawrâh for you with His own Hand. Are you blaming me for something which Allâh decreed for me forty years before He created me?” Thus ‘Adam won the argument with Musa, thus ‘Adam won the argument with Musa, thus ‘Adam won the argument with Musa.’” (Sâhih)

Comments:
a. Musa ﷺ did not mean to put ‘Adam ﷺ on the dock as to why he committed the mistake, because Allâh had already condoned it. The Qur’ân accordingly says: “Then his Lord chose him, and turned to him with forgiveness, and gave him guidance.” (20:122)

He only meant to say that because of him, the human race had to suffer all those worldly trials and tribulations. ‘Adam ﷺ replied by saying that those trials had already been divinely decreed a long long time ago.

b. The Prophet ﷺ thrice repeated the words: “Thus ‘Adam won the argument with Musa.” The repetition was meant to drive home the idea that what ‘Adam ﷺ did was nothing but the implementation of Allâh’s decree and will.

81. It was narrated that ‘Ali said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said:
'No slave truly believes until he believes in four things: in Allâh alone with no partner; that I am the Messenger of Allâh; in the resurrection after death; and in the Divine Decree (Qadar).’” (Hasan)

Comments:
The Hadîth contains the fundamentals of lÎmân (faith) which also include belief in the Divine Decree.

82. It was narrated that ‘Âishah the Mother of the Believers said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was called to the funeral of a child from among the Ansâr. I said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh, glad tidings for him! He is one of the little birds of Paradise, who never did evil or reached the age of doing evil (i.e., the age of accountability).’” He said: ‘It may not be so, O ‘Âishah! For Allâh has created people for Paradise, He created them for it when they were still in their fathers’ loins. And He has created people for Hell, He created them for it when they were still in their fathers’ loins.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
The tone of certainty with which ‘Âishah spoke about the boy’s being of the people of Paradise did not find favour with the kophets, and he said that knowledge of it rested with Allâh alone. Imâm Nawawi has claimed...
consensus of religious scholars on the fact that all the children of the believers shall be in Paradise. Several Ahādīth of the Prophet ﷺ support the assertion. The Prophet ﷺ probably spoke the above quoted words while still the knowledge of it had not been conveyed to him by Allāh. Maybe, Allāh gave him the knowledge thereof at a later date.

b. The Ahādīth affirms the reality of Divine Decree.

83. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The idolators of Quraish came and disputed with the Prophet ﷺ concerning the Divine Decree. Then the following Verse was revealed: ‘The Day they will be dragged on their faces into the Fire (it will be said to them): ‘Taste you the touch of Hell!’ Verily, We have created all things with Qadar. (Divine Decree)’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Qur’ānic Verse and the Hadith both reaffirm the certainty of the Divine Decree.

b. Idolaters are surely destined for Hell.

c. Allāh does not approve of argumentation on matters that are certain and clear.

84. ‘Abdullāh bin Abi Mulaikah narrated that his father entered upon ‘Aishah and said something to her about the Divine Decree. She said: “I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: ‘Whoever says anything about the Divine Decree will be questioned about that on the Day of Resurrection, and whoever does not say anything about it will not be questioned about it.’” (Da’īf)
Another chain with similar wording.

85. ‘Amr bin Shu’aib narrated from his father that his grandfather said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came out to his Companions when they were disputing about the Divine Decree, and it was as if pomegranate seeds had burst on his face (i.e., it turned red) because of anger. He said: ‘Have you been commanded to do this, or were you created for this purpose? You are using one part of the Qur’ân against another part, and this is what led to the doom of the nations who came before you.’” ‘Abdullâh bin ‘Amr said: “I was never so happy to have missed a gathering with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, as I was to have missed that gathering.” (Hasan)

a. Divine Decree is one of the closely-guarded secrets of Allâh. It will suffice us to have a general belief in it. Similarly, in other matters relating to the unseen world, it is enough that we believe in what has been told, without making an effort to discover the details of things deliberately left unexplained.

b. The main purpose of the study of the Qur’ân and Hadith is to reform one’s morals and deeds. If there is a person who opens the paradox of delicate issues just to demonstrate his gift of the gab, or impress the people by his excessive knowledge and skills, it is an act of distraction from the main objective, and amounts to inviting the wrath of Allâh.
c. During the course of admonition, it is perfectly in order for the speaker to take recourse to a show of anger if the situation so demands, especially if the speaker is a person of eminence and a show of anger is not likely to have a negative effect on the audiences.

d. The Companion in question felt happy at having been absent from the assembly because in it, the Prophet had expressed his displeasure to the listeners. This means that a person's expression of happiness on being able to do a good deed or avoid an act of sin, is not to be considered an act of self-pride or hypocrisy. It is rather a sign of his love of good and hatred of evil, which is a part of Imān (faith).

86. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'There is no 'Adwa (contagion),[1] no Tiyarah (evil omen) and no Hāmah.'[2] A Bedouin man stood up and said: 'O Messenger of Allāh, what do you think about a camel that suffers from mange and then all the other camels get mange?' He said: 'That is because of the Divine Decree. How else did the first one get mange?"' (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The chain of narrators mentioned by Imām Ibn Mājah is Weak. Nevertheless, because of other reliable chains of narrators it must be considered a Sound Hadith. The remark: "That is because of the Divine Decree" is, however, missing in other reports.

b. It is a common perception that if a healthy person comes into contact with a person suffering from certain diseases or shares the meals on the same table with him, or uses his clothing, the former would contract the disease of the latter. These categories of diseases are known as ‘contagious diseases’. The

[1] Meaning one will not automatically be infected by another’s ailment, rather only if Allāh has decreed it.

[2] Scholars mention different meanings for this pre-Islamic belief: It is a worm that comes out of the murdered person’s head seeking vengeance; it refers to the owl which was considered a bad omen if seen in certain circumstances; or it was a bird that came from the bones of a dead person which would fly away. See Fathul-Bāri and An-Nihāyah.
The fact of the matter, however, is that diseases do not travel like that. It could, however, be the case that the very fact that had caused the first man to get the disease might be present in the other fellow as well, which would make him also sick. The ‘germ theory’, as we know, is very popular in modern-day medicine, but the germs only act by Allah’s permission.

c. Arabs took their omen by the movement of the birds and beasts. For instance, if a person desired to start some work, he would throw a stone at a sitting bird or deer etc. to make it fly or run. If it went to the right they would presume that the outcome of their work would be favorable. If, on the other hand, it went left, they thought that their effort would not succeed. Such things just indicate one’s superstitious nature; they have no basis in the world of reality. Even today people have several similar superstitions. For example, if they meet a lame or one-eyed person on their way, or if a black cat crosses their path, they take it as a bad omen. Similar is the case of those who consider certain numbers (13 for example) or days (e.g. Tuesday) or a certain month (Safar or Shawwal) inauspicious for them. To the same category belong acts like drawing ‘magical’ charts or figures by the people, and divining their future through blindly putting their fingers in them, or drawing lots for similar purposes, and so on. All these acts are indicative of a lack of faith.

d. Arab idolaters also had a misplaced notion that if the murder of a person was not avenged, his spirit would assume the form of an owl and haunt around shrieking for revenge. It was primarily because of this misplaced notion that a never-ending chain of killing and plundering continued for generations among them. All these things are baseless. Similarly, it is baseless to consider the owl a symbol of bad omen. The owl is just another creature of Allah which has nothing to do with the destinies of men.

87. Sha’bi said: “When ‘Adi bin Hātim came to Kufah, we came to him with a delegation of the Fuqahā’ of Kufah and said to him: ‘Tell us of something that you heard from the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ),’ He said: ‘I came to the Prophet (ﷺ) and he said: ‘O ‘Adi bin Hātim, enter Islam and you will be safe.’ I said, ‘What is Islam?’ He said: ‘To testify to La ilāha illā lah (none has the right to be worshipped but Allah) and that I am the Messenger of Allah, and to believe in all the Divine Decrees, the good of them and the bad of them, the sweet of them and the bitter of them." (Da’if)

88. It was narrated that Abu Musa Al-Ash’ari said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘The likeness of the heart is that of a feather blown about by the wind in the desert.’” (Sahih)

Comments: 87 & 88

a. The dislodged feather of a bird is so weightless that even a light wind can easily turn its head into tail and tail into head. If it is in an open field, the air shall have more effect on it, since there would be nothing to impede its flight, and it (the feather) would travel to and fro or up and down quickly. Similar is the case with the human heart. Numerous feelings and emotions play upon it in quick succession, which drive him to virtue at one moment, and to sin at the next.

b. Since the condition of the heart could change any moment, man can never rest assured about his ultimate end. It is, therefore, necessary that man pray to Allâh for the safety of his faith at the dying moments of his life.

89. It was narrated that Jâbir said: “A man from among the Ansâr came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh, I have a slave girl. Should I do ‘Azl (coitus interruptus) with her?’ He said: ‘Whatever is decreed for her shall come to her.’” He (the Ansâr) came to him later on and said: “That slave girl has become pregnant.” The Prophet ﷺ said: “Nothing is decreed for a person... but it will surely come to pass.”

(Hasan)

وله شاهد حسن عند أحمد وغيره، وحسن الهيثمي في المجمع: 296/4.

Comments:

a. There is no doubt that the Divine Decree shall overtake man’s planning, but this should not deter man from taking the necessary steps. He should do his bit and leave the result to Allah.

b. ‘Azl (coitus interruptus) means the process by which man, having an intercourse with his wife or slave girl, withdraws from her the moment he feels like ejaculating, so that he discharges himself outside, in the hope that no pregnancy would take place. This was their method of family planning in those days.

c. Recourse to ‘Azl is permitted with the slave girl for the simple reason that her pregnancy might impede her serviceability for the master and interfere with the domestic work, which is the main purpose of her presence in the house. As for the free woman (the wife), there is difference of opinion among the scholars as to the permissibility or otherwise of it.

90. It was narrated that Thawbân said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Nothing extends one’s life span but righteousness, nothing averts the Divine Decree but supplication, and nothing deprives a man of provision but the sin that he commits.’” (Da‘if)

Comments:

a. The promise of extension in one’s life has been variously interpreted as (i) Life span gets Allah’s blessing in the sense that it is spent in the doing of good deeds, and is saved from going waste; (ii) Man is enabled to engage in righteous deeds, whose reward continue to flow to him even after death, as the Qur’an says: “But the righteous deeds that last are better with your Lord for rewards and better in respect of hope”. (18:46) or (iii) The life span made known to the angels, particularly to the Angel of Death, is extended. This extension is only from the angel’s point of view; otherwise Allah had all along the knowledge that the man would do such and such righteous deed, or deeds that would be rewarded by an appropriate extension in the span of his life.
b. 'Averting the Divine Decree' means that, because of man’s supplications, the misfortune that the man dreaded would be blocked, and the calamity that had set in would be warded off.

91. It was narrated that Surâqah bin Ju’shum said: "I said: 'O Messenger of Allah, is one's deed in that which has already dried of the Pen and what has passed of the Divine Decree, or is it in the future?' He said: 'No, it is in that which as already dried of the Pen and what has passed of the Divine Decree, and each person is facilitated for what he has been created.'" (Sahih)

Comments:
The question of a man’s being righteous or otherwise is also linked to the Divine Decree, but he does not know it. He is, therefore, obligated to follow the laws of Shari'ah. For more details please see notes on Hadith 76.

92. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'The Magians of this Ummah are those who deny the decrees of Allah. If they fall sick, do not visit them; if they die, do not attend their funerals; and if you meet them, do not greet them with Salâm.'" (Da’îf)

Comments:
Those who deny the Divine Decree, claim that Allah is only the creator of virtue, while it is man who is the creator of vice. In this way, they invest every man with the attribute of creation. The Magians believe in two deities, one (Ahuramazda) the creator of good and the other (Angra Mainyu or Ahriman) the creator of evil. Thus both, the deniers of Divine Decree and the Magians, ascribe the attribute of the creation of evil to someone other than Allah. Ahlus-Sunnah (People of the Prophet's Path), however, believe that Allah alone is the creator of all things — be they good and virtuous, or bad and evil — while man is the doer of those deeds. Allah in His infinite wisdom has granted His slaves the ability to do the deeds accordingly.

Chapter 11. The Virtues Of The Companions Of The Messenger Of Allah ﷺ

The term Sahabi (Companion) literally means a person who assumes the company and association with another person, although for a short period of time. Scholars, however, hold that a Sahabi is anyone from amongst the Muslims who has transmitted a report from the Prophet ﷺ or has had the good fortune of seeing him. A comprehensive definition of a Sahabi, therefore, would be: "A Sahabi is one who, as a believer, saw the Prophet ﷺ during his lifetime and died a believer."

(1/11) The Virtues Of Abu Bakr Siddiq

His real name is 'Abdullah, born in the sacred city of Makkah, two and a half years after the birth of the Prophet ﷺ. Here is his genealogy: 'Abdullah bin 'Uthman bin 'Amir bin 'Amr bin Ka'b bin Sa'd bin Taim bin Murrah bin Ka'b bin Lu'ai bin Qurashi At-Tamimi, known as Abu Bakr bin Abu Qahafah, the successor of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ as the first caliph. He joins the Messenger of Allah ﷺ in lineage at his sixth ancestor. He is nicknamed Abu Bakr.

93. It was narrated that 'Abdullah said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'I have no need of the friendship of any Khalil (close friend) but if I were to have taken anyone as a close friend, I would have taken Abu Bakr as a close friend, but your companion is the close friend of Allah.'" (One of the narrators) Waki' said: (by the phrase 'your companion'), he was referring to himself. (Sahih)
Comments:
a. The Prophet ﷺ has said: “Verily, Allâh has taken me as His Khalil just as He had taken Ibrâhîm His Khalil. (Muslim: H. 532)
b. The Hadîth affirms the superior position of Abu Bakr ﷺ since the Prophet ﷺ declared him as deserving the highest level of his love.

c. An Imâm (or leader) must appreciate and acknowledge the services of his companions, so that others also develop a love for the service of the faith, and give due respect to them, and try to follow their footsteps.

d. It is all right, as part of some expediency, to give appreciation, and praise to a person to his face, if we are sure that such an act would not create a sense of vanity or pride in his heart, although we should generally avoid praising a person in his presence.

e. The Hadîth under discussion deals with just one aspect of Abu Bakr’s personality, namely his openhandedness in spending for the pleasure of Allâh, although we find numerous other points of his excellence mentioned in the Ahâdîth.
95. It was narrated that ‘Ali said: “The Messenger of Allah said: ‘Abu Bakr and ‘Umar are the leaders of the mature people of Paradise, the first and the last, except for the Prophets and Messengers, but do not tell them about that, O ‘Ali, as long as they are still alive.’”” (Da‘if)

Comments:
a. The expression ‘mature people of Paradise’ means people who died in that age, otherwise there will be no age difference for the people in Paradise, and all those lodged there shall enjoy the bliss of youth in it.
b. The Hadith is also explicit on the point that a non-Prophet, however exalted in rank he might be, can never equal or surpass a Prophet.
c. It also affirms the fact that Abu Bakr and ‘Umar rank the highest after the Prophets, in the sense that they are superior to all other believers, whether of Prophet Muhammad’s community or of the community of previous Prophets.

96. It was narrated that Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri said: “The Messenger of Allah said: ‘The people of the highest degrees of Paradise will be seen by those beneath them as a rising star is seen on the horizon. Abu Bakr and ‘Umar will be among them, and how blessed they are!’”” (Da‘if)

The Book Of The Sunnah

Comments:

a. The difference between two levels of Paradise is not a minor one. It is, therefore, necessary that a believer exert his maximum effort to attain to as high a level as possible.

b. The tradition affirms higher degrees for Abu Bakr and 'Umar as well as contains glad tidings of Paradise for them both.

97. It was narrated that Hudhaifah bin Yamân said: ‘The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘I do not know how long I will stay among you, so follow the example of these two after I am gone,’ and he pointed to Abu Bakr and ‘Umar.’” (Hasan)

98. It was narrated that Ibn Abî Mulaikah said: “I heard Ibn 'Abbâs say: ‘When 'Umar was placed on his bed (i.e., his bier), the people gathered around him, praying and invoking blessings upon him,’ or he said, ‘praising him and invoking blessings upon him before (the bier) was lifted up, and I was among them. No one alarmed me except a man...”
who crowded against me and seized me by the shoulder. I turned and saw that it was 'Ali bin Abu Tālib. He prayed for mercy for 'Umar, then he said: "You have not left behind anyone who it is more beloved to me to meet Allāh with the like of his deeds than yourself. By Allāh, I think that Allāh will most certainly unite you with your two companions, and that is because I often heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ saying: 'Abu Bakr, 'Umar and I went; Abu Bakr, 'Umar and I came in; Abu Bakr, 'Umar and I went out.' So I think that Allāh will most certainly join you to your two companions."

(Sahih)

Comments:

a. This shows that 'Ali ﷺ held a very high opinion of 'Umar ﷺ because the Prophet ﷺ kept the two Companions 'Umar and Abu Bakr ﷺ with him in all important matters.

b. 'Ali ﷺ considered both the venerable Companions superior to himself. That is why he wished that he would also be enabled by Allāh to do acts like them.

c. It is desirable to try to follow those who are better than us in the doing of good deeds. It would, however, be wrong to envy the lot of those who are ahead of us in worldly riches, or are engaged in the doing of evil deeds.

99. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ came out standing between Abu Bakr and 'Umar and said: 'Thus will I be resurrected.'" (Da'if)
100. It was narrated from ‘Awn bin Abi Juhaifah that his father said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Abu Bakr and ‘Umar are the leaders of the mature people of Paradise, the first and the last, except for the Prophets and Messengers.’” (Hasan)

Comments:
A Nabi (Prophet) is one who receives the revelation while the Rasul (Messenger) is a special category of the Prophets. Some scholars hold that a Rasul, as distinct from Nabi, is the one given a separate Book and Law, and sent down towards a particular nation or people. As for the Nabi, he keeps him company and engages in preaching among the people the message delivered to the Rasul. The revelation (Wahy) is, however, sent down to both.

101. It was narrated that Anas said: “It was said: ‘O Messenger of Allah, which of the people is most beloved to you?’ He said: ‘Aishah.’ It was asked, ‘And among men?’ He said: ‘Her father.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The Hadith clearly affirms the superior position not only of Abu Bakr ﷺ but also of ‘Aishah ﷺ.
b. Abu Bakr and ‘Aishah ﷺ were the best beloved of all to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. Therefore, anyone who loves them would be loved by the Prophet ﷺ, and he who harbors hostility or enmity towards them would attract the displeasure of the Prophet ﷺ.
102. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Shaqiq said: "I said to 'Aishah: 'Which of the (Prophet's) Companions was most beloved to him?' She said: 'Abu Bakr.' I said: 'Then which of them?' She said: "Umar.' I said: 'Then which of them?' She said: 'Abu 'Ubaidah.'" (Sahih)

Comments:
The Hadith affirms the superiority of the three venerable Companions mentioned in it, for the Prophet had extreme love for all the three of them. By the same token they were also loved by Allâh.

103. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "When 'Umar became Muslim, Jibril came down and said: 'O Muhammâd! The people of heaven are rejoicing because of 'Umar's Islam.'" (Da'îff)

104. It was narrated that Ubayy bin Ka'b said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The first person with whom Allah will shake hands will be 'Umar, (and he is) the first person to be greeted with the Salam, and the first person who will be taken by the hand and admitted into Paradise.'" (Da’if)

105. It was narrated that 'Aishah said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'O Allah! Strengthen Islam with 'Umar bin Khattab in particular.'" (Da’if)

Comments:

a. The Hadith is Weak through this chain of reporters, but is Sound from other sources. The event of 'Umar's accepting Islam took place in the 6th year of the Messenger of Allah's Mission, i.e., seven years before the Prophet's emigration to Madinah. (See The Sealed Nectar, Safi-ur-Rahman Mubarakpuri, p. 112).

b. The fact that the Prophet ﷺ prayed to Allah to bring 'Umar to the fold of Islam is a clear proof of his superior standing in the sight of the Prophet ﷺ.

106. It was narrated that 'Abdulrahman bin Salimah said: "I heard 'Ali say: 'The best of people after the Messenger of Allah ﷺ is Abu Bakr, and the best of people after Abu Bakr is 'Umar.'" (Sahih)
Comments:

This shows that 'Ali ﷺ also believed in the superiority of Abu Bakr and 'Umar ﷺ. As such, any statement to the contrary imputed to 'Ali ﷺ is pure fabrication.

107. Abu Hurairah said: "We were sitting with the Prophet ﷺ and he said: 'While I was sleeping I saw myself in Paradise (in a dream), and I saw a woman performing ablution beside a palace. I asked: "Whose palace is this?" She said: "'Umar's." I remembered his protective jealousy, so I turned away and left.'" Abu Hurairah said: "Umar wept and said: 'May my father and mother be sacrificed for you, O Messenger of Allah! Would I feel any protective jealousy against you?'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The dreams seen by the Prophets are part of the Divine Revelation. As such this dream of the Prophet ﷺ is a conclusive proof that 'Umar ﷺ is of the people of Paradise.

b. The leader must respect the sensibilities of his associates; he should particularly consider their honor and dignity as his own.

c. This shows the great sense of reverence and love the Companion, especially the senior ones among them, had towards the Prophet ﷺ. And since love for the Prophet is part of faith, intensity in it is indicative of the strength of one's Iman.

d. There shall absolutely be no impurity or filth in Paradise. Therefore the ablution performed by the woman must be for purposes of added cleanliness and purity.

108. It was narrated that Abu Dharr said: "I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: ‘Allāh has placed the truth on the tongue of ‘Umar, and he speaks with that (truth).’” (Sahih)

تخرج: [صحيح] أخرجه أبو داود، بإخراج والإمارة، باب في تدرين العطاء، ح: 2962

Comments:
There were several instances in the life of ‘Umar ﷺ where he said something out of his own judicious opinion or judgment, and Allāh’s ordainment came in accord with that judgment. Cases in point are: the commandment regarding Hijāb (women’s veil); the question of the prisoners of the Battle of Badr; taking the “Station of Ibrāhīm ﷺ” as a place of prayer; and the decision concerning the funeral prayer of the chief of Hypocrites ‘Abdullah by Ubayy. (See Sunan Al-Kubra, Baihaqi, p. 7/88). This attribute of forming correct opinions was certainly a special gift or favor granted to ‘Umar ﷺ by Allāh.

(3/11) The Virtues Of ‘Uthmān ﷺ

His full name is ‘Uthmān bin ‘Affān bin Abul-‘Ās bin Umayyah bin ‘Abd Shams bin ‘Abd Manāf Qurashi Umawi. He joins the lineage of the Prophet ﷺ at the 5th forefather. He is nicknamed Abu ‘Abdullāh and Abu ‘Amr. The titles given to him are Dhun-Nurain and Amirul-Mu’minin (Commander of the Faithful). His mother Arwa bint Kurāiz was the daughter of the Prophet’s paternal aunt Baidā’. He was born six years after the Year of the Elephant. Was 36 at the time of the Messenger of Allāh’s Call. He was the fourth person to accept Islam at the preaching of Abu Bakr ﷺ. He met his martyrdom in 35 AH at the age of 82.

109. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Every Prophet will have a friend in Paradise, and my friend there will be ‘Uthmān bin ‘Affān.” (Da’if)
Comments:

It is a Weak Hadith. Nonetheless ‘Uthmân’s being of the people of Paradise is above all doubt since it is proved from a number of other authentic Aḥādīth.

110. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ met ‘Uthmân at the door of the mosque and said: “O ‘Uthmân! Jibril has told me that Allâh married you to Umm Kulthum for a dowry like that of Ruqayyah, provided that you treat her as you treated Ruqayyah.” (Da‘īf)

Comments:

a. It is also a Weak Hadith. It is, however, historically proved that the Prophet ﷺ gave his daughter Ruqayyah to him in marriage. After her death he gave his second daughter to him in marriage.

b. The Messenger of Allâh’s giving away his second daughter to ‘Uthmân is a clear proof that he ﷺ was extremely pleased with ‘Uthmân, and appreciated his exemplary conduct.

111. It was narrated that Ka‘b bin ‘Ujrah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ mentioned a Fitnāh (tribulation) that had drawn nigh. Then a man passed by with his head covered. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘On that day, this man will be following right guidance.’ I leapt up and took hold of ‘Uthmân’s arms, then I turned to face the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and said: ‘This man?’ He said: ‘This man.’” (Sahîh)
Comments:

a. The Prophet ﷺ foretold many things about the future at Allâh’s bidding, and they came to pass exactly as he had foretold. This is a proof of the veracity of his prophethood. There are many things that are yet to happen, and it is our belief that they shall all happen at their appropriate time exactly in the manner foretold by the Prophet ﷺ. We must, however, make it a point that, before we attribute to the Prophet ﷺ any news about the future events, we must make sure that the related report has been transmitted through reliable chain of narrators.

b. Forewarning about trials and turbulences destined to take place in the future, is meant to urge upon the believers to stick to the right path and avoid going astray. When what was foretold does happen, it serves to increases the faith in the heart of the believers.

c. The Hadith also proves that the accusations labeled against ‘Uthmân ﷺ by the mischief-mongers were totally unfounded and baseless, and his conduct was absolutely above reproach.

d. The Arabic word Fitnah (literally trial or affliction) here refers to the systematic campaign of false accusations carried out by the miscreants against ‘Uthmân ﷺ, which culminated in his wrongful assassination.

112. It was narrated that ‘Âishah said: The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “O ‘Uthmân, if Allâh places you in authority over this matter (as the caliph) some day and the hypocrites want to rid you of the garment with which Allâh has clothed you (i.e., the position of caliph), do not take it off.” He said that three times. (One of the narrators) Nu’mân said: “I said to ‘Âishah: ‘What kept you from telling the people that?’ She said: ‘I was made to forget it.’” (Sahih)
Comments:

a. The Hadith foretells an impending trial or affliction for 'Uthmân ﷺ that happened exactly as was foretold by the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. This is a proof of the veracity of his prophethood.

b. It also shows that 'Uthmân ﷺ was the rightful ruler (caliph) of the believers.

c. When the ruler of a country is running his administration, it is unlawful to unleash a campaign of distrust and strife, on flimsy grounds, against him unless he is really found guilty of promoting infidelity and unbelief and weakening the foundations of Islam.

d. The tradition is explicit on the point that the adversaries of 'Uthmân ﷺ were all hypocrites.

113. It was narrated that `Aishah said: “When he was ill, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘I would like to have some of my Companions with me.’ We said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh! Shall we call Abu Bakr for you?’ But he remained silent. We said: ‘Shall we call ‘Umar for you?’ But he remained silent. We said: ‘Shall we call ‘Uthmân for you?’ He said: ‘Yes.’ So ‘Uthmân came and he spoke to him in private. The Prophet ﷺ started to speak to him and ‘Uthmân’s expression changed.” Qais said: “Abu Sahlah, the freed slave of ‘Uthmân, narrated to me that on the Day of the House,[1] ‘Uthmân bin ‘Affân said: ‘The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ told me what would come to pass and now I am coming to that day.’”

In his narration of the Hadith, ‘Ali (one of the narrators) said (that he said): “And I am going to bear it with patience.”

Qais said: “They used to think

[1] The Day of the House: This refers to the day when the rebels besieged ‘Uthmân in his house and murdered him.
that that was the Day of the House.” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. This shows that ‘Uthmān was a close confidant of the Messenger of Allāh.
b. The promise here refers to the instruction of the Messenger of Allāh to ‘Uthmān, not to give in to the unjust demands of the miscreants, but remain patient and resolute.
c. So absolute was ‘Uthmān’s devotedness and obedience to the Prophet that he preferred to lay down his life over bowing down before falsehood. At the same time, he revered the Prophet so much that he abstained from taking military action against the rebels in order to avoid bloodshed in the city of the Prophet.
d. Foretelling the future events so exactly, is a proof of the prophethood of the Messenger of Allāh.

(4/11) The Virtues Of ‘Ali Bin Abu Tālib

His full name is ‘Ali bin Abu Tālib bin ‘Abd Al-Muttalib bin ‘Abd Manāf bin Qusai bin Kilāb bin Murrah bin Ka’b bin Lu’āi Qurashi Hāshimi. Mother’s name was Fātimah bint Asad bin Hāshim. He is nicknamed Abul-Hasan and Abu Sibtain. He was born ten years before the Prophet’s Call, and received his breeding under the careful patronage of the Prophet and his venerable wife Khadijah. He was the first among children to accept Islam. The Companions pledged their allegiance to him after the martyrdom of ‘Uthmān. He was martyred in 40 AH at the age of 60.

114. It was narrated that ‘Ali said: "The Unlettered Prophet informed me (saying) that none but a believer would love me and none but a hypocrite would hate me." (Sahih)
Comments:

a. Unmatched are the feats performed in the service and defence of Islam by the senior Companions. That is why anyone who loves Islam loves and respects them, while their very presence was a thorn in the side of the enemies of Islam. 'Ali is also one among such great Companions. Therefore, love for him is the sign of love for Islam, and enmity towards him is the sign of hypocrisy.

b. Love for 'Ali does not mean going beyond all limits, which a trait is found in some of the innovators. Some of these innovators, for example, regard him sinless like Prophets. Others hold him superior to Abu Bakr and 'Umar. Still others invest him with Divine attributes, while others go still farther and deify him.

c. Differences among the Companions were their acts of judgment although, thanks to the machinations of the hypocrites, these differences of opinion sometimes even resulted in wars. It would, therefore, be unfair on the basis of these disputes to brand anyone of them a hypocrite. To believe like this is the hallmark of innovators. Ahlus-Sunnah (People of the Prophet's Path) consider it advisable to hold their tongues and avoid blaming any of them in such matters.

115. Sa'd bin Abu Waqqās narrated from his father that the Prophet said to 'Ali: "Would it not please you to be to me as Hārūn was to Musa?" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Messenger of Allāh spoke these words to 'Ali when the Prophet set out for the battle of Tabuk, and charged 'Ali to look after the affairs of Al-Madinah in his absence. 'Ali grieved at being left out from Jihād (fighting in the cause of Allāh) and said: "Do you want to leave me with children and women?" It was in response to this that the Messenger of Allāh spoke the words quoted above. (Bukhari: 4416).

b. Some people have tried to deduce from this Hadith proof of 'Ali's being the immediate successor of the Prophet. Hārūn, they argue, was the successor of the Prophet Musa, therefore 'Ali must also be considered the rightful successor of the Prophet Muhammad as caliph of the community. It is because of this assumption that they question the validity of the appointment of the first three caliphs and hold them guilty of usurping the right of 'Ali 🛌. This is a clear case of misconception as the commission of Hārūn 🛌 as his brother's deputy was just a temporary arrangement meant to last only as long as Musa 🛌 lived. Similarly, 'Ali’s commission to work as the Prophet’s deputy during the Prophet’s military campaign of Tabuk was for a certain period of time during the lifetime of the Prophet 🛌. Moreover, Hārūn 🛌 never succeeded Musa 🛌, as he had already died during the lifetime of his brother. It was in fact Yusha’ bin Nun 🛌 who assumed the mantle of Musa 🛌 after his death. Thus, even if the Hadith is interpreted as containing a promise of 'Ali’s caliphate, there is no basis to believe that he would be the first caliph after the Prophet’s demise, without anyone intervening in between.

116. It was narrated that Barā’ bin 'Azib said: “We returned with the Messenger of Allāh 🛌 from his Hajj that he had performed, and we stopped at some point on the road. He commanded that prayer should be performed in congregation, then he took the hand of 'Ali and said: ‘Am I not dearer to the believers than their own selves?’ They said: ‘Yes indeed.’ He said: ‘Am I not dearer to every believer than his own self?’ They said: ‘Yes indeed.’ He said: ‘This man is the friend of those whose master I am.’ O Allāh, take as friends those who take him as a friend, and take as enemies those who take him as an enemy.’” (Da‘if)

Comments:
a. The Prophet 🛌 spoke these words in praise of 'Ali 🛌 when he reached the place known as Ghadīr Khum (Lake of Khum) on his way back from the Farewell Pilgrimage. An expression of proximity and close relationship with 'Ali 🛌 was considered necessary by the Prophet 🛌 because some people had come up with complaints against him who had just returned from Yemen.
b. Some people have used even these remarks to establish 'Ali’s title to being Prophet’s immediate successor as caliph, although proximity of relationship or friendship has nothing to do with title for caliphate.

c. The tradition also contains condemnation of the Khārijites who denied the merits of 'Ali, as well as of those extremists among Shi‘ahs who had deified 'Ali, as a consequence of which he had punished them with death. (Bukhārī: 6922) As regards our attitude towards 'Ali, the Ḥadīth simply means that we must have a feeling of love and not of hatred or ill-will towards him.

117. It was narrated that 'Abdur-Rahmān bin Abu Laila said: “Abu Laila used to travel with ‘Ali, and he used to wear summer clothes in winter and winter clothes in summer. We said: ‘Why don’t you ask him (about that)?’ He said: “The Messenger of Allāh sent for me and my eyes were sore, on the Day of Khaibar. I said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh, my eyes are sore.’ He put some spittle into my eyes, then he said: ‘O Allāh, take heat and cold away from him.’ I never felt hot or cold again after that day. He [the Prophet] said: ‘I will send a man who loves Allāh and His Messenger, and whom Allāh and His Messenger love, and he is not one who flees from the battlefield.’ The people craned their necks to see, and he sent for ‘Ali and gave it (the banner) to him.” (Da‘īf)

Comments:
a. The battle of Khaibar took place in 7 AH. When Allāh granted the Muslims victory over the Jews, the Messenger of Allāh concluded with them a share-cropping agreement for 50% produce of the dates. It may be mentioned here that Khaibar is on the road to Syria from Al-Madinah, and is known as the land of forts and date palms.
b. Successors of the Companions revered the Companions so much, that they dared not ask them questions not directly related to education or knowledge. That is why, when they wished to know why 'Ali did not put on clothes appropriate for various seasons, they asked the question through one of their associates who was relatively free with him.

c. 'Ali's being specially summoned to lead the army of the believers is a proof of his special status.

d. The eyes of 'Ali getting cured from the spittle of the Prophet is a miraculous phenomenon that is another proof of his prophethood.

e. The Hadith also makes it clear that the word Maula used in the previous Hadith means 'friend'.

118. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Hasan and Husain will be the leaders of the youth of Paradise, and their father is better than them.'" (Hasan)

Comments:
The Hadith contains the good news of Hasan and Husain being among the people of Paradise.

119. It was narrated that Hubshi bin Junâdah said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: "Ali is part of me and I am part of him, and no one will represent me except 'Ali.'"" (Hasan)

Comments:
- 'Ali is a part of me', is an expression denoting his extreme proximity and closeness to the Prophet ﷺ.
- 'Representing someone' means delivering and proclaiming the message on his behalf.
c. It could also mean fulfilling financial obligations, i.e., he had been authorized to carry out sale-purchase transactions on behalf of the Prophet during his lifetime.

120. It was narrated that ‘Abdād bin ‘Abdullāh said: “Ali said: I am the slave of Allāh and the brother of His Messenger. I am the greatest teller of the truth (Siddiq Akbar), and no one will say this after me but a liar. I prayed seven years before the people.” (Da‘if)

Comments:
It is a Weak Hadith. Nāsiruddin Albānī has declared it a fabrication. A scrutiny of the text will also reveal that it is highly improbable that ‘Ali would claim that he alone prayed with the Messenger of Allāh for seven years which was quite a long period, since after the declaration of the Prophet’s mission. We know that, even during the first three years, a number of people in Makkah had accepted Islam through secret preaching. Moreover, how could a virtuous and modest servant of Allāh like ‘Ali utter words of boasting like “I am Siddiq Akbar,” (the greatest of the truthful)? It is, thus, undoubtedly an extremely weak and false Hadith.

121. It was narrated that Sa‘d bin Abu Waqqās said: “Mu‘āwiyah came on one of his pilgrimages and Sa‘d entered upon him. They mentioned ‘Ali, and Mu‘āwiyah criticized him. Sa‘d became angry and said: ‘Are you saying this of a man of whom I heard the Messenger of Allāh say: “If I am a person’s close friend, ‘Ali is also his close friend.” And I heard him say: “You are to me like Ḥārūn was to Musa, except that there will be no Prophet after me.” And I heard him say: “I will give the banner today to a man who loves Allāh and His Messenger.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. It was a difference based purely on judgment. It is, therefore, not allowed that in such matters we take to reviling a Companion of the Prophet ﷺ.

b. If a person is being criticised in absentia, those present on the occasion are required to speak for him and mention his good points.

c. The Ḥadīth refers to a number of the virtues of ‘Ali ﷺ, some of which have already been mentioned in the previously quoted Ahādīth.

(5/11) The Virtues Of Zubair ﷺ

His full name is Zubair bin ‘Awwām bin Khuwailid bin Asad bin ‘Abdul-‘Uzza bin Qusai bin Kilāb bin Murrah bin Ka’b bin Lu‘ai Qurashi Asadi. His mother Safiyyah, was the paternal aunt of the Prophet ﷺ, his grandfather was the father of Khadijah the Mother of the Believers. He accepted Islam at the age of 15, and met his martyrdom on 10th Jumādah Al-‘Ula, 36 AH during prayer, at the hands of Ibn Jarmuz, approximately at the age of 64. Zubair ﷺ had a charming and handsome figure. He was tall, fairly built, and of brown complexion. He had a sparse beard, and long hair, and enjoyed perfect health at the time of martyrdom.

It was narrated that Jābir said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said on the Day of Quraizah: ‘Who will bring us news of the people?’ Zubair said: ‘I will.’ The Prophet ﷺ said: ‘Who will bring us news of the people?’ Zubair said: ‘I will,’ three times. The Prophet ﷺ said: ‘Every Prophet has a Hawārī (sincere supporter or disciple), and my Hawārī is Zubair.’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The military campaign against Banu Quraizah started just after the Battle of the Trenches. Thus, for all intent and purpose, the two battles were one battle. The term “The Day of Quraizah” here refers to the event of a particular day.
123. It was narrated that Zubair said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ named his parents together for me on the Day of Uhud."[1] (Sahih)

Comments:

a. It was also during the Battle of Uhud that the Prophet ﷺ had named the his parents together for Sa’d bin Abu Waqqas ﷺ, and said: "Shoot the arrows, may my father and mother be sacrificed for you!" (Bukhāri: 6184)
b. Both Zubair and Sa’d bin Abu Waqqas ﷺ are of those ten persons who were given the good news of Paradise in their life.

124. It was narrated from Hishām bin ‘Urwah that his father said: "Aishah said to me: 'O ‘Urwah, your two fathers were of those who answered (the Call of) Allāh and the Messenger (Muhammad) after being wounded,'"[2] (they were) Abu Bakr and Zubair." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The tradition refers to the events that had taken place after the Battle of Uhud. The Prophet ﷺ pursued the enemy until Hamrā’ Al-Asad, at a distance of eight miles. When the idolaters got the news of the pursuit, they were frightened and went back without invading Al-Madinah. (See The Sealed Nectar, p. 291).
b. ‘Urwah bin Zubair is a nephew of ‘Aishah ﷺ. His mother is Asmā’ bint Abu Bakr ﷺ. Abu Bakr ﷺ is, thus, his maternal grand father and Zubair bin ‘Awwām is his father.

The Virtues Of Talhah Bin ‘Ubaidullâh

His full name is Talhah bin ‘Ubaidullâh bin ‘Uthmân bin ‘Amr bin Ka‘b bin Sa‘d bin Taim bin Murrah bin Ka‘b bin Lu‘ai bin Ghâlib Quraishi Taimi, nicknamed Abu Muhammad. He enjoyed many distinctions in Islam. He was one of the Ten given the good tiding of Paradise. He was the eighth entrant into Islam and fifth among those who accepted Islam by the preaching of Abu Bakr. He was a member of the Consultative Committee of ‘Umar, and was killed on Thursday, 10th of Jamadâl-Ukhra, 36 AH, in the Battle of the Camel, by an arrow shot at the behest of Marwân bin Hakam.

125. It was narrated from Jâbir that Talhah passed by the Prophet and he said: "A martyr walking upon the face of the earth." (Da‘îf)

Comments:
a. The authenticity of this Hadîth is under dispute. Shaikh Albâni considers it sound. (Silsilatul-Âhadithus-Sahihah: 126) The Hadîth foretells that he will die a martyr which is a matter of great honour.

b. He met his martyrdom during the Battle of the Camel, which means that the believers killed in battles between the Companions are not sinners before Allâh, or else the news of his death would not have been given as a glad tiding.

126. It was narrated that Mu‘âwiyah bin Abu Sufyân said: "The Prophet looked at Talhah and said: 'This is one of those who fulfilled their covenant.'" (Hasan)

The Book Of The Sunnah

Comments:
The Hadith accords great honor to Talhah by describing his death as a covenant fulfilled by him. In other words, the deeds done by him were considered so meritorious that he was ranked as a martyr even before his death.

127. It was narrated that Musa bin Talhah said: We were with Mu’awiyah and he said: “I heard the Messenger of Allâh say: ‘Talah is one of those who fulfilled their covenant.’” (Hasan)

128. It was narrated that Qais said: “I saw the paralyzed hand of Talhah, with which he had defended the Messenger of Allâh on the Day of Uhud.” (Sahih)

Comments: 127 & 128

‘Defending by the hand’ here refers to the fact that he put his hand in front to block the arrows being directed by the enemy at the Prophet, so as to keep him from harm. This had the effect of permanently paralyzing his hand. Probably there was no shield at hand at that moment.

(7/11) The Virtues Of Sa’d Bin Abu Waqqâs

His full name is Sa’d bin Malik bin Uhaib bin ’Abd Manâf bin Zahra bin Kilâb Qurashi Zahri, nicknamed Abu Ishâq, born approximately thirty years before emigration. He was one of the Ten given the good tiding of Paradise, a famous Arab horseman, an important member of the Consultative Committee of ’Umar, and was the first archer in jihâd (war waged for the cause of Allâh). He was the maternal uncle of the Prophet ﷺ, and the third entrant into Islam. He founded the city of Kufah at the behest of 'Umar ﷺ. He died in a valley of Al-Madinah known as Aqiq at the age of fifty.

129. It was narrated that 'Ali said: "I never saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ mention his parents together[1] for anyone except Sa’d bin Mâlik. He said to him on the Day of Uhud: 'Shoot, Sa’d! May my father and mother be sacrificed for you!'” (Sahih)

Comments:
Zubair also enjoys this distinction, as reported under Hadith 123. It may be that either 'Ali had no knowledge of it, or else he did not hear those words in relation to Zubair directly from the Prophet, while the comments about Sa’d were made in his presence.

130. It was narrated that Sa’eed bin Musayyab said: "I heard Sa’d bin Abu Waqqâs say: The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ mentioned his parents together for me on the Day of Uhud. He said: 'Shoot, Sa’d! May my father and mother be sacrificed for you!'” (Sahih)

Comments:

[1] Meaning, to say 'May my father and mother be sacrificed for you.'
131. It was narrated that Qais said: “I heard Sa’d bin Abu Waqqâs say: ‘I am the first of the Arabs to shoot an arrow in the cause of Allâh.’” (Sahih)

Comments: 130 & 131

It is certainly a matter of honor for anyone to be the first in any work related to Fitâḥ, and there is no harm describing such a feat as part of Allâh’s bounty, and the individual’s thanks and gratitude to Him for the same.

132. It was narrated that Hâshim bin Hâshim said: “I heard Sa’eed bin Musayyab say: ‘Sa’d bin Abu Waqqâs said: ‘No one else became Muslim on the same day as I did; for seven days I was one-third of Islam.’” (Sahih)

Comments:

By all accounts Abu Bakr ™ was the first among the free persons to accept Islam, and there was just one more entrant to Islam between him and Sa’d ™. Thus, Sa’d ™ rightly earns the title and honor of being included in the list of those early Companions who are foremost in good deeds.

(8/11) The Virtues Of The Ten ™

133. It was narrated that Sa’eed bin Zaid bin ‘Amr bin Nufail said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was one of the Ten (given glad tidings of Paradise). He ﷺ said: ‘Abu Bakr will be in Paradise; ‘Umar will be in Paradise; ‘Uthmān will be in Paradise; ‘Ali will be in Paradise; Talhah will be in Paradise; Zubair will be in Paradise; Sa’d will be in Paradise; ‘Abdur-Rahmān will be in Paradise.” He was asked: ‘Who will be the ninth?’ He said: ‘I will.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
The Hadith names nine people given glad timings of Paradise. Together with them the tenth is Abu ‘Ubaidah bin Jarrah. These are known as “The Ten given glad tidings of Paradise.” These ten rank higher than all other Companions of the Prophet ﷺ.

134. It was narrated that Sa’eed bin Zaid said: “I bear witness that I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: ‘Stand firm, O (mountain of) Hira’, for there is no one upon you but a Prophet, a Siddiq or a martyr.”’ Then he listed them as follows: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, Abu Bakr, ‘Umar, ‘Uthmān, ‘Ali, Talhah, Zubair, Sa’d, Ibn ‘Awf and Sa’eed bin Zaid.” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The Hadith is explicit on the superiority of these Companions, because they accompanied the Prophet ﷺ on so many occasions.

b. The Prophet ﷺ spoke these words when the mountain of Hira’ started shaking. The mountain stabilized the moment he spoke the words: “Stand firm.” It is certainly a miracle performed by the Prophet ﷺ.
His full name is 'Amir bin 'Abdullâh bin Jarîrah bin Hilâl bin 'Uhair bin Dabba bin Hârîth bin Fîhr Qurashi. He became known by the nickname Abu 'Ubadah, the last part Jarîrah being the name of his grandfather instead of the father. He joins the genealogy of the Prophet at his forefather, Fîhr. His father never accepted Islam and was killed at the hand of this son of his. He accepted Islam, at the invitation of Abu Bakr, at the age of 29. He is the ninth entrant into Islam. He died during the plague epidemic of 'Amîwâs in 8 AH, approximately at the age of 58.

135. It was narrated from Hudhaifah that the Messenger of Allâh said to the people of Najrân: “I will send a trustworthy man with you, who is indeed trustworthy.” The people craned their necks to see, and he sent Abu 'Ubadah bin Jarîrah. (Sahîh)

Comments:

a. The Prophet deputed Abu 'Ubadah bin Jarîrah to collect the wealth agreed upon in the peace treaty. It was on this occasion that he spoke these words. Soon after, those people accepted Islam. (The Sealed Nectar, p. 452)

b. For offices involving financial responsibilities we should only appoint people who are trustworthy. Alongside other qualities, trustworthiness is the most important attribute for appointment to such offices.

136. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh that the Messenger of Allâh said to Abu 'Ubadah bin Jarîrah: “This is the trustworthy man of this Ummah.” (Sahîh)
Comments:

That is the reason why he is known as the “trustworthy man of this Ummah (community of the believers).”

(10/11) The Virtues Of 'Abdullâh Bin Mas‘ud

His full name is Abdullah bin Mas‘ud bin Ghâfîl bin Habib bin Shamkh bin Fâr bin Makhzum Al-Hadhali, nicknamed Abu ‘Abdul-Rahmân. His mother’s name was Umm ‘Abd Wadd. He embraced Islam in its early phase, and says that he was the sixth entrant into Islam. He died in 32 AH in Al-Madinah at the age of 63. In keeping with his will he was buried at night.

137. It was narrated that ‘Alî said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘If I were to appoint anyone as my successor without consulting anyone, I would have appointed Ibn Umm ‘Abd.’” (Da‘îf) تخريج: [صحيح] انظر الحديث السابق.

Comments:

There is no need to try to rationalize the purported comments because the Hadith itself is weak.

138. It was narrated from ’Abdullâh bin Mas‘ud that Abu Bakr and ‘Umar gave him the glad tidings that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ had said: “Whoever would like to recite the Qur‘ân as fresh as when it was revealed, let him recite it like Ibn ‘Umm ‘Abd.”” (Sahîh)
Comments:

a. The Hadith praises Abdullah bin Mas'ud for his manner of reciting the Qur'an. The expression 'as fresh as when it was revealed' means that Abdullah bin Mas'ud has a precise technique of producing the various sounds and words of the Qur'an without the slightest deviation from the established norm.

b. Just as it is important to read the Qur'an with understanding and follow its teachings, it is also essential and praiseworthy to recite it to the best of our ability. This shows the importance of learning the science of reciting the Qur'an with the accuracy of pronunciation and intonation.

139. It was narrated that 'Abdullah said: "The Messenger of Allah said to me: 'The sign that you have been permitted to come in is that you raise the curtain and that you hear me speaking quietly, until I forbid you.' (i.e. unless I forbid you)."

(Sahih)

Comments:

'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud would most of the time keep himself in attendance with the Prophet, and was often called for various errands. That is why the rules of entry had been relaxed for him. Even slaves and slave girls have been exempted in the Noble Qur'an from seeking permission before entry, except on three occasions in the day and night. (24:58)

(11/11) The Virtues Of 'Abbâs bin 'Abdul-Muttalib

His full name is 'Abbâs bin 'Abdul-Muttalib bin Hâshim bin 'Abd Manâf bin Qusai bin Kilâb bin Murrah; nicknamed Abul-Fadl. He is Prophet's uncle. His mother Natilah, bint Janâb bin Kulaib was the first woman to clothe the Sacred House in silk. Abbâs was two years older than the Prophet, and was the chief of the tribe of Quraish in the pre-Islamic era, and performed the voluntary duty of providing water to the pilgrims. He lost his eyesight in old age. He died in Al-Madinah on Friday the 12th of Ramadân, at the age of 88, two years before the martyrdom of 'Uthmân.
140. It was narrated that 'Abbās bin 'Abdul-Muttalib said: "We used to come across groups of Quraish who would be talking, but they would stop talking (when we approached). We mentioned that to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and he said: 'What is the matter with people who talk, then when they see a man from my family they stop talking? By Allāh, faith will not enter a person's heart until he loves them for the sake of Allāh and because of their closeness to me.'" (Daʿīf)

141. It was narrated that 'Abdullāh bin 'Amr said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'Allāh has taken me as a close friend (Khalīl) as He took Ibrāhīm as a close friend. So my house and the house of Ibrāhīm will be opposite to one another on the Day of Resurrection, and 'Abbās will be in between us, a believer between two close friends.'" (Maudū')

Comments: 140 & 141

Both the Ahādīth quoted here are unauthentic. He is nevertheless a highly respected uncle and Companion of the Prophet ﷺ. This by itself is no insignificant matter of prestige and honor.
142. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said to Hasan: “O Allah, I love him, so love him and love those who love him.” He said: “And he hugged him to his chest.” (Sahih)

Comments:
The Hadith affirms the excellence of Hasan ﷺ in that love for him is the means of getting the love of Allah.

143. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Whoever loves Hasan and Husain, loves me; and whoever hates them, hates me.’” (Hasan)

Comments:
a. Hasan and Husain were the beloved grand children of the Prophet of Allah ﷺ. Love for the Prophet ﷺ, therefore, demands that we love all those whom the Prophet ﷺ loved.
b. Love for the Prophet’s family and the Companions is not a matter of mere lip service. The essence of love for them in fact lies in following their life examples.
144. It was narrated from Sa’eed bin Abu Râshid that Ya’la bin Murrah told them that they had gone out with the Prophet ﷺ to a meal to which they had been invited, and Husain was there playing in the street. The Prophet ﷺ came in front of the people and stretched out his hands, and the child started to run here and there. The Prophet ﷺ made him laugh until he caught him, then he put one hand under his chin and the other on his head and kissed him, and said, “Husain is part of me and I am part of him. May Allâh love those who love Husain. Husain is a tribe among tribes.” (Hasan) Another chain with similar meaning).

Comments:

a. It is a part of Sunnah to accept an invitation for the meal.

b. It is all right if young children play in a street.

c. It is a part of Sunnah to hold a child and kiss him on the face as an expression of love.

145. It was narrated that Zaid bin Arqam said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to ‘Ali, Fâtîmah, Hasan and Husain: ‘I am peace for those with whom you make peace, and I am war for those with whom you make war.’” (Da’îf)
Comments:

It is a weak Hadith.

(13/11) The Virtues Of 'Ammâr bin Yâsir

His full name is 'Ammâr bin Yâsir bin 'Amîr bin Mâlik bin Kynânah bin Qâis bin Husain bin 'Ans, nicknamed Yaqzân. His mother’s name is Sumayyah. He embraced Islam with his parents in its early stage, and withstood tortures at the hands of the idolaters. He participated in the battle of Siffin on the side of 'Ali and met his martyrdom at the age of 93, in the year 37 AH, at the hands of the Syrian army.

146. It was narrated that ‘Ali bin Abu Tâlib said: “I was sitting with the Prophet, and ‘Ammâr bin Yâsir asked permission to enter. The Prophet said: ‘Let him in, welcome to the good and the purified.’” (Hasan)

Comments:

a. “Purified” here means the one whom Allâh has blessed with sincerity, and has exempt from traits and manners unbecoming of a person possessed of complete faith.

b. It is also a part of good manners to warmly welcome one’s friends.
Allāh say: ‘Ammār’s heart overflows with faith (Literally: up to the top of his bones.’” (Da‘if)

Comments:
a. The Hadith is an affirmation of Ammār’s being a sincere believer.
b. It is allowed to praise a person in his face if we are certain that it will not give him false vanity or pride.

148. It was narrated that ‘Āishah said: ‘The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Ammār — no two things were shown to him but he chose the better of the two.”’ (Da‘if)

Comments:
‘This and other similar Aḥādīth have been taken to mean that, in the dispute between ‘Ali ﷺ and Mu‘āwiyah ﷺ, ‘Ali’s position was nearer the truth because, in that battle, Ammār ﷺ had sided with ‘Ali ﷺ.

(14/11) The Virtues Of Salmān, Abu Dharr And Miqdād

Salman: When asked about his genealogy, he replied: “I’m Salmān the son of Islam.” His family tree before Islam is as follows: Mābah (or Rouzbeh) bin Budakhshān bin Moursalān bin Bahbudhān bin Fīrūz bin Sahrak. He is nicknamed ‘Abdullāh, but was famous by his title Salmān Al-Khair.
born in a Zoroastrian family, then spent considerable time in getting Christian education and training, but was finally blessed with the creed of Islam.

Abu Dharr: His full name: Jundub bin Junădah bin Sufyăn bin 'Ubaïd bin Harâm bin Ghifâr Al-Ghifâri, was popularly known by his nickname Abu Dharr. He was the fourth or fifth among Muslims when he embraced Islam in Makkah. He died in Rabâchah in 23 AH. 'Abdullah led his funeral prayer. He occupied a very high place in the attribute of piety and abstinence from worldly pleasures. He was completely averse to accepting official gifts and positions of authority. He was absolutely focused on aversion to this world and fondness for life in the next world.

Miqdâd: His full name is Miqdâd bin 'Amr bin Thâlabah bin Mâlik bin Rabi'âh bin Thumâmah bin Matrûd bin 'Amr bin Sa'd (according to Al-Istî'âb). He was an ally of Aswâd bin 'Abd Yaghuth in the pre-Islamic era.
Aswâd had adopted him as his son. That is the reason why he became known as Miqdâd bin Aswâd in Makkah and elsewhere. He was the first to openly declare his Islam in Makkah. In the battle of Badr he only possessed a horse. He thus enjoys the honour of being the first horseman to take part in jihâd for the sake of Allâh. He died during the caliphate of 'Uthmân 20 at the age of seventy. His funeral prayer was led by 'Uthmân 21.

149. Ibn Buraidah narrated that his father said: “The Messenger of Allâh 24 said: ‘Allâh has commanded me to love four people, and He told me that He also loves them.’ He was asked:
‘O Messenger of Allâh, who are they?’ He said: ‘Ali is one of them,’ and he said that three times, ‘and Abu Dharr, Salmân and Miqdâd.’” (Da‘if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه النمري، المتافق، باب تسميت أربعة أمر يحبهم وآن
الله يحبهم، ح: 3718 عن إسمايل به، وقال: فحسن غريب لا تعرفه إلا من حديث شريك، وهو
مذكور في المسندين (المحفوظ ابن حجر/ المرتبة الثانية) لعله كان يدوس بعد اختلاطه، وأما شيخه فهو حسن الحديث، وثقة الجمهور.

150. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Mas'ud said: “The first people to declare their Islam publicly were seven: The Messenger of Allâh 24, Abu Bakr,
'Ammâr and his mother

خُلْصَت أَخْمَدُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الدَّارَمِيُّ:
خُلْصَتَا يُحَيَّى بْنُ أَبِي بَكْرٍ، خُلْصَتَا زَهَابَةُ بْنُ
قَدَّامَة، عَنْ عَاصِمَ بْنَ أَبِي النَّجُوْد، عَنْ زَرْ
أَبِي حَبْشِي، عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللهِ بْنَ مَسْوُدَة قَالَ:
Sumayyah, Suhaib, Bilāl and Miqdād. With regard to the Messenger of Allāh, Allāh protected him through his paternal uncle Abu Tālib. With regard to Abu Bakr, Allāh protected him through his people. As for the rest, the idolaters seized them and made them wear coats of chain-mail and exposed them to the intense heat of the sun. There was none of them who did not do what they wanted them to do, except for Bilāl. He did not care what happened to him for the sake of Allāh, and his people did not care what happened to him. Then they gave him to the children, who took him around in the streets of Makkah while he was saying, ‘Ahad, Ahad (One, One).’" (Hasan)

Comments:

a. Whatever the Companions said with their tongues, in conformity with the wishes of the idolaters, does not adversely affect their rank or status, since the Qur’ān itself gives us the permission to articulate the words of disbelief to protect our lives, if persecution and torture reach beyond the limits of human endurance (see 16:106).

b. This shows the steadfastness and greatness of Bilāl, that he chose the path of determination and resolution instead of licence and permission.

151. It was narrated that Anas bin Mālik said: “The Messenger of Allāh said: ‘I have been tortured for the sake of Allāh as no one else has, and I have suffered fear for the sake of Allāh as no one else has. I have spent three days when Bilāl and I had no food that any living being stood on its legs in a month.’” could eat but that which could be concealed in the armpit of Bilâl.’”

(Hasan)

Comments:
The Prophet endured the cruelties of the idolaters much before his Companions. This shows that anyone who invites the people to the path of truth, must demonstrate more fortitude and determination so that he becomes an exemplar for others.

(15/11) The Virtues Of Bilâl

His full name is Bilâl bin Rabâh the Abyssinian, nicknamed Abu ‘Abdullâh or Abu ‘Abdullah. His mother’s name is Hamâmah. He was the Prophet’s Mu’âdhîn and treasurer. He was a slave of Banu Jumah of Makkah. He embraced Islam at an early stage and endured great suffering at the hands of the idolaters. He died after reaching the age of sixty in the year 20 AH, in the territory of Syria.

152. It was narrated from Sâlim that a poet praised Bilâl bin ‘Abdullâh and said: “Bilâl bin ‘Abdullâh is better than any other Bilâl.” Ibn ‘Umar said: ‘You are lying. The Bilâl of the Messenger of Allah is better than any other Bilâl.’” (Da’if)

(16/11) The Virtues Of Khabbâb

His full name is Khabbâb bin Aratt bin Jandalah bin Sa’îd bin Khuzaimah Al-Tamim, nicknamed Abu ‘Abdullâh or Abu Ahmad or Abu Yahya. He was enslaved in the days of pre-Islamic Ignorance (Jâhiliyyah) during the plundering of a certain tribe, and was sold in Makkah. Umm Anmâr bint Sibâ’ purchased him. He is the sixth among those who loudly proclaimed their Islam. The idolaters tortured him by making him lie over burning-hot stones that burned the flesh of his back. All these cruelties failed to break his determination. He died after a protracted illness at the age of seventy-three in 37 AH. 'Ali ﷺ led his funeral prayer. He was the first Companion to be buried in Kufah.

153. It was narrated that Abu Laila Al-Kindi said: “Khabbâb came to 'Umar and said: ‘Come close, for no one deserves this meeting more than you, except 'Ammâr.’ Then Khabbâb started to show him the marks on his back where the idolaters had tortured him.” (Da’îf)

Comments:

a. 'Umar ﷺ seated Khabbâb close to himself. This shows both his honour and esteem as well as 'Umar's love for him.

b. Muslim rulers must give due honor and respect to those who strive for the glory of the faith and endure torture and persecution for its sake.

154. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “The most merciful of my Ummah towards my Ummah is Abu Bakr; the one who adheres most sternly to the religion of Allah is 'Umar; the most sincere of them in shyness and modesty is 'Uthmân; the best judge is 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib; the best in reciting the Book of Allah is Ubayy bin Ka'b; the most knowledgeable of what is lawful and unlawful is Mu‘âdh bin Jabal; and the most knowledgeable of the rules of inheritance (Farâ'îd) is Zaid bin Thâbit. And every nation has a trustworthy guardian, and the trustworthy guardian of this Ummah is Abu 'Ubaidah bin Jarrâh.” (Sahîh)
Another chain with similar wording (as no. 154) but he said that Zaid was: "The most knowledgeable of them concerning the rules of inheritance." (Sahih)

a. The Hadith points out the special characteristics of certain Companions. Mention has been made here of the distinctive feature that characterizes each Companion, although the Companions were, in general terms, endowed with all such qualities.

b. A leader must be aware of the qualities of his associates and companions, so that he is able to entrust each one with the responsibility that he is best capable of performing.

(17/11) The Virtues Of Abu Dharr

156. It was narrated that ‘Abdullâh bin ‘Amr said: “I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: ‘There is no one on earth, or under the sky, who speaks more truthfully than Abu Dharr.’” (Hasan)

Comments:

The Hadith does not mean that Abu Dharr ﷺ has outdone Abu Bakr ﷺ in superiority, since Abu Bakr ﷺ had many other virtues as well in which he was superior to Abu Dharr ﷺ.
The Virtues Of Sa’\d Bin Mu’\d\dh

His full name is Sa’d bin Mu’\d\dh bin Nu’m\n bin Imr\'ul-Qais bin Zaid bin ‘Abdul Ashkal Al-Ansari, nicknamed Abu ‘Amr. His mother’s name was Kabshah bint R\afi’. He entered the fold of Islam by the preaching of Mus’\b appointed by the Prophet ﷺ to invite people to Islam in Al-Madinah. He met his martyrdom as a result of excessive bleeding from a wound received in the battle of Banu Quraizah. The Prophet ﷺ himself led the funeral prayer for him. And when the Prophet ﷺ returned from his burial, tears were seen trickling down to his beard. Sa’d ﷺ died at the age of 37 in the month of Shaw\'{w}l 5 AH.

157. It was narrated that Bar\'{a} bin ‘Azib said: “The Messenger of All\'{h} was given a gift of a length of silk fabric. The people started passing it around to one another. The Messenger of All\'{h} said: ‘Are you admiring this?’ They said: ‘Yes, O Messenger of All\'{h}.’ He said: ‘By the One in Whose Hand is my soul! The handkerchief of Sa’d bin Mu’\d\dh in Paradise is better than this.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The Hadith affirms that Sa’d bin Mu’\d\dh will not only be housed in Paradise, but will also receive superior blessings there.
b. Even the most extravagant article of this world cannot match the ordinary item of Paradise.

158. It was narrated that J\'{a}bir said: “The Messenger of All\'{h} said: ‘The Throne of the Most Merciful trembled upon the death of Sa’d bin Mu’\d\dh.’” (Sahih)
Comments:

a. Even the Throne of the Most High swayed in delight when the blessed soul of Sa‘d bin Mu‘ãdh reached the heavens above.
b. The apparently lifeless and irrational objects in Allãh’s creation are not really so. In fact even these objects have consciousness and feelings of their own that are beyond our perception.

(19/11) The Virtues Of Jarir Bin ’Abdullãh Al-Bajali

His full name is Jarir bin ’Abdullãh bin Jãbir bin Mâlik bin Nadr Al-Bajali, nicknamed Abu ’Amr or Abu ’Abdullãh. His mother’s name was Bajilah bint Sa‘d. He takes his family name Al-Bajali from her. He came to the Prophet in the year 10 AH in Ramadãn, and embraced Islam at his hands. He died in 51 or 54 AH.

159. It was narrated that Jarir bin ’Abdullãh Al-Bajali said: “The Messenger of Allãh never refused to see me from the time I became Muslim, and whenever he saw me he would smile at me. I complained to him that I could not sit firmly on a horse, so he struck me on the chest with his hand and said: ‘O Allãh, make him firm and cause him to guide others and be rightly-guided.’”

(Sahih)

Comments:

a. Jarir bin ’Abdullãh was very handsome and tall. ’Umar used to call him ‘Yousuf of this Ummah.’
b. Jarir bin ’Abdullãh enjoyed much closeness to the Prophet.
c. Meeting someone with a smiling face is an indication of joy born of love for the person concerned. It is because a person feels happy when he meets his loved one. This also shows the happy and affable disposition of the Prophet.
d. Horsemanship is an art which is essential for a fighter for the cause of Allãh.
(20/11) The Virtues Of The People Of Badr

160. Râfi' bin Khadij said: "Jibril or an angel came to the Prophet and said: 'How do you regard those among you who were present at Badr?' He said: 'They are the best among us.' He said: 'We think the same (of the angels who were present at Badr), they are the best of the angels.'" (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The Hadith is explicit on the superiority of those Companions who participated in the battle of Badr. According to a well-known Hadith the number of Companions who participated in the battle of Badr was 313 while other reports say it was 314 or 317 (see Fathul-Bârî, 364/7, H. 3956).
b. The angels have come down on occasions other than Badr as well. However, those who witnessed Badr are superior to others in rank.
c. Jihâd is a matter of great virtue. Hence, it is a thing of honor, not only for human beings, but also for the angels.

161. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh said: 'Do not revile my Companions, for by the One in Whose Hand is my soul! If any one of you were to spend the equivalent of Mount Uhud in gold, it would not equal a Mudd spent by anyone of them, nor even half a Mudd.'" (Sahih)

The Book Of The Sunnah

الصحابۃ، باب تحريم سب الصحابة رضي الله عنهم، ح: ٢٥٤٠ من حديث الأعشی بن عمار، في الأصل وصحح مسلم: «عن أبي هريرة رضي الله عنه، والصواب عن أبي سعيد بن أبي معاذ» كما في صحيح البخاری وغيره.

Comments:

a. The Hadith is addressed to all those Muslims who come after the Companions. Even a vastly meritorious act of the late day Muslims would not, before Allâh, equal a seemingly petty act done by the Companions.
b. The reason why the deeds done by the Companions rank so high, is simply this that they made their sacrifices at a time when Islam was just laying its foundations.

162. It was narrated that Nusair bin Dhu’luq said: “Ibn ‘Umar used to say: ‘Do not revile the Companions of Muhammad for the stay of anyone of them for a brief period (with the Prophet) is better than all the good deeds that anyone of you does in his lifetime.’” (Da’îf)

163. It was narrated that Barâ’ bin ‘Azîb said: “The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘Whoever loves the Ansâr, Allâh will love him, and whoever hates the Ansâr, Allâh will hate him.’” (One of the narrators) Shu’bah said: “I said to ‘Adî: ‘Did you hear that from Barâ’ bin ‘Azîb?’ He said: ‘It was to me that he narrated it.’” (Sahîh)
Comments:

Hatred towards those devotees of Islam is indicative of hatred towards Islam, as well as towards the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. It, therefore, follows that hatred towards the Helpers (Ansâr) can only lodge in the heart of a hypocrite.

164. It was narrated from ʿAbdu-Muhaimin bin ʿAbbâs bin Sahl bin Saʿd, from his father, from his grandfather, that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "The Ansâr are an inner garment and the people are an outer garment. If the people were to head towards one valley or a narrow mountain pass and the Ansâr towards another, I would travel to the valley of the Ansâr, and were it not for the Hijrah, I would have been a man from among the Ansâr." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Words of the Prophet ﷺ quoted above confirm not only the excellence of the Ansâr, but also the fact that they occupied a very prominent status in the sight of the Prophet ﷺ.

b. The Hadith points out that just as Hijrah (emigration of the believers for the sake of Allâh) is a laudable act, extending help and assistance to the emigrants (Muhâjir) is also an extremely meritorious act.

c. The Ansâr are the best community second only to the Muhâjir in Islam.

165. Kathîr bin ʿAbdullâh bin ʿAmr bin ʿAwf narrated from his father, that his grandfather said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'May Allâh have mercy on the Ansâr, and the children of the Ansâr, and the grandchildren of the Ansâr.'" (Daʿîf)

Comments: [إسناد ضعيف] * كثير العوفي: ضعيف أفرط من نسبه إلى الذكيد (تربة)، ولم يثبت كذبه عن الشافعي ولا عن أبي داود لجهالة حال الآخر، وحديث مسلم: ٢٦٠٥ ـ يغني عن حديثه.
The Virtues Of Ibn 'Abbâs

His full name is Abdullâh bin 'Abbâs bin 'Abdul-Muttalib bin Hâshim bin 'Abd Marâf Quraishi Hâshimi. He was the paternal cousin of the Prophet and the maternal cousin of Khâlid bin Walid. Due to his amazingly vast knowledge, he was popularly known as the 'Sea of Knowledge' and the 'Learned Man of the Community'. He was born during the Prophet's period of confinement in a narrow tract known as the Valley of Abu Tâlib, and died in the year 68 AH at the age of 71 in the city of Tâif.

166. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allah embraced me and said: 'O Allah, teach him wisdom and the (correct) interpretation of the Book.'" (Sahîh)

Comments:

a. The word 'wisdom' used in the context of this Hadîth means the knowledge of Hadîth.

b. Allâh, the Glorified, accepted the prayer of His Messenger, and bestowed upon Ibn 'Abbâs that high position in the exegesis (interpretation) of the Noble Qur'ân, such that he has come to be known as the Prince of the Exegetes.

c. Prayer for the bestowal of useful knowledge is the best prayer, because it is a treasure that brings honor in this world and earns higher ranks in the Hereafter.

Chapter 12. The Khâwârij

Khâwârij (literally those who go out or secede) are known by several names, such as (i) Hukmiyyah: So named because they had rejected the verdict of the arbitrators appointed by 'Ali and Mu'âwiya under the plea that judgment rests only with Allâh; (ii) Haruriyyah: Nicknamed as such because they were stationed at the place known as Harurâ; (iii) Sharîrât (Purchasers): So called because they thought that they had sold their lives for the pleasure of Allâh; and (iv) Mârîqah (Passers through): So named because they had strayed away from true faith.

167. 'Ubaidah narrated from 'Ali... bin Abu Tālib, that he mentioned the Khawārij, and said: “Among them there will be a man with a defective hand, or a short hand, or small hand. If you were to exercise restraint (i.e. not become overjoyed), I would tell you of what Allāh has promised upon the lips of Muhammad ﷺ for those who kill them.” I (‘Ubaydah) said: “Did you hear that from Muhammad ﷺ?” He said: “Yes, by the Lord of the Ka‘bah!” – three times.” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The Prophet ﷺ has spoken about the Khawārij at some length, and the events happened exactly as he had described them. It is a proof of his prophethood.
b. The Hadith affirms the virtue of ‘Ali ﷺ and his associates that waged a war against the Khawārij.
c. It is allowed to swear by Allāh for purposes of emphasis.

168. It was narrated that ‘Abdullāh bin Mas‘ūd said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘At the end of time there will appear a people with new teeth (i.e., young in age), with foolish minds. They will speak the best words ever uttered by mankind and they will recite the Qur‘ān, but it will not go any deeper than their collarbones. They will pass through Islam like an arrow passes through its target. Whoever meets them, let him kill them, for killing them will bring a reward from Allāh for those who kill them.” (Sahih)
Comments:
a. Innovation in religion, be it in belief or action, is a sign of lack of understanding or stupidity. In other words, only a person who either has no understanding of religion, or considers it imperfect and incomplete, indulges in acts of innovation.

b. The Qur'an 'not going any deeper than the people's collarbones' would either mean that they would repeat the Qur'an by the tongues, but it would not create any effect upon them, or that they would be denied the true understanding of it.

c. An innovator considers his self-invented words and actions as true Islam. That is why he is deprived from the real face of Islam.

d. We must first try to instruct them into true Islam and make manifest their error. In case they refuse to see reason and become a source of misguidance for others, the Islamic government should treat them as traitors and crush their mischief by force.

169. It was narrated that Abu Salamah said: "I said to Abu Sa'eed Khudri: 'Did you hear the Messenger of Allah mention anything about the Haruriyyah (a sect of Khawarij)?' He said: 'I heard him mention a people who would appear to be devoted worshippers: "Such that any one of you would regard his own prayer and fasting as insignificant when compared to theirs. But they will pass through Islam like an arrow passing through its target, then he (the archer) picks up his arrow and looks at its Iron head but does not see anything, then he looks at the shaft and does not see anything then he looks at the band: that which is wrapped around the Iron head where it is connected to the shaft, then he looks at the feather and is not sure whether he sees anything or not."' (Sahih)
Comments:
a. The Khawārij exerted great effort in the doing of devotional acts like prayers and fasting, so much so that even the Companions were amazed at their zeal and zest. But no amount of effort in the doing of acts of worship will be of any benefit if there are flaws in one's faith.
b. The Khawārij are certainly the people gone astray from the right path and lost touch with true Islam. The majority of the scholars, however, consider them just a misguided and rebellious lot.

170. It was narrated that Abu Dharr said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘There will be people among my Ummah (nation) after me who will recite the Qur’ān, but it will not go any deeper than their throats. They will pass through Islam like an arrow passing through its target, then they will never return to it. They are the most evil of mankind and of all creation.’” ‘Abdullāh bin Sāmit said: “I mentioned that to Rāfi’ bin ‘Amr, the brother of Hakam bin ‘Amr Ghifārī and he said: ‘I also heard that from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ.’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Innovators are worse than animals.
b. The Hadīth has been taken to mean that the group of innovators are part of the Ummah, which means that in worldly affairs they shall be treated like other Muslims. They are nevertheless a deviant and sinning lot.

171. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbās said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Some people among my Ummah will recite the Qur’ān, but they will pass through Islam like an arrow passing through its target.’” (Sahih)
172. It was narrated from Abu Zubair that Jabir bin 'Abdullah said: "The Messenger of Allah was in Jiranah and he was distributing gold nuggets and spoils of war which were in Bilal's lap. A man said: 'Do justice, O Muhammad! For you have not done justice!' He said: 'Woe to you! Who will do justice after me if I do not do justice?' Umar said: 'O Messenger of Allah! Let me strike the neck of this hypocrite!' The Messenger of Allah said: 'This man has some companions who recite the Qur'an but it does not go any deeper than their collarbones. They will pass through Islam like an arrow passing through its target.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. To raise objections to an action or word of the Prophet, or to find fault with it, or consider it impracticable — all these are the characteristics of the hypocrites. A true believer will never do any such thing.

b. The incident stands out as a shining example of the Prophet's attribute of tolerance, clemency and patience for which reason he chose not to punish the man for his insolence.

173. It was narrated that Ibn Abu Awfa said: "The Messenger of Allah said: 'The Khawarij are the dogs of Hell.'" (Sahih)
174. It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "There will emerge people who will recite the Qur'an but it will not go any deeper than their collarbones. Whenever a group of them appears, they should be cut off (i.e. killed)." Ibn 'Umar said: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'Whenever a group of them appears, they should be killed' - (he said it) more than twenty times - 'until Dajjāl emerges among them.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

a. The Hadith contains the indication that only a small number of people shall be influenced by the erroneous ideas of the Khawārij. The majority of the people shall not only stick to the right path with regard to this misguided group, but also fight them and liquidate them.

b. It seems that the Dajjāl (False Christ) will also try to misrepresent falsehood as truth in order to misguide the people. The Prophet 'Eisa ﷺ shall kill him and his associates.

175. It was narrated that Anas bin Mālik said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "At the end of time or among this nation (Ummah) there will appear people who will recite Qur'an but it will not go any deeper than their collarbones or their throats. Their distinguishing feature will be their shaved heads. If you see them, or meet them, then kill them.'" (Sahih)
Comments:

Some scholars consider it a Sound Hādith. Shaving the heads as the distinguishing feature of the Khawārij does not mean that anyone that shaves his head is necessarily a Khārijī. It only means that they did it as a habit. Among the noted Companions, 'Ali also used to regularly shave his head.

176. Abu Ghālib narrated that Abu Umāmah said: "(The Khawārij) are the worst of the slain who are killed under heaven, and the best of the slain are those who were killed by them. Those (Khawārij) are the dogs of Hell. Those people were Muslims but they became disbelievers." I said: "O Abu Umāmah, is that your opinion?"
He said: "Rather I heard it from the Messenger of Allāh (Hasan)."

Comments:

a. The Hādith contains a strong condemnation of the Khawārij, and is categorical on the point that they are disbelievers and are of the people of Hell.

b. The Hādith confirms the heretical nature of their beliefs for which reason they have been declared as having gone out of the fold of Islam and entered the realm of disbelief.

c. Muslims fighting the Khawārij shall earn for themselves a higher rank and a distinctive position before Allāh.

Chapter 13. Concerning Denial By The Jahmiyyah (i.e. Seeing Allāh In The Hereafter, etc.)

177. It was narrated that Jarir bin ʿAbdullāh said: "We were sitting..."
He looked at the moon, which was full, and said, 'Indeed, you will see your Lord as you see this moon. You will not feel the slightest inconvenience and overloading in seeing Him. If you have the power not to be overcome and to say this prayer before the sun rises and before it sets, then do that.' Then he recited: "And glorify the praises of your Lord, before the rising of the sun and before (its) setting."[1] (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Jahmiyyah sect takes its name from its progenitor Jahm bin Safwân. This heretical sect differs from the mainstream school of the People of the Sunnah in several conceptual matters.

b. The Hadîth affirms that the believers’ seeing their Lord on the Day of Resurrection and thereafter in Paradise is an undeniable fact. This is, however, not possible in this world for the simple reason that we, with our present body and its potential, are not capable to endure seeing Allah with our mortal eyes.

c. It does not mean that the other three obligatory prayers have no significance. It only means that anyone who can regularly perform the Fajr and ‘Asr prayers is in a better position to perform other prayers as well. It is because Fajr is performed at a time when a person tends to be sleepy and lazy. As for the ‘Asr, it is the peak time for man’s occupation with his business and other worldly activities. That is why it needs much greater effort on the part of the man to perform them on time and in congregation. Anyone who does them well can also take care of other prayers with comparative ease.

d. Striking the similitude of the moon is also meant to convey the idea of Allah’s being above and aloof from His entire creation.

178. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Do you crowd one another in order to see the moon on the night when it is full?’ They said: ‘No.’ He said: ‘And you will not crowd one another in order to see your Lord on the Day of Resurrection.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
The believers shall be able to see Allah with as much ease as they can see the moon when it is full.

179. It was narrated that Abu Sa’eed said: “We said: ‘O Messenger of Allah! Will we see our Lord?’ He said: ‘Do you crowd one another to see the sun at midnight when there are no clouds?’ We said: ‘No.’ He said: ‘Do you crowd one another to see the moon on the night when it is full and there are no clouds?’ We said: ‘No.’ He said: ‘You will not crowd one another to see Him, just as you do not crowd to see these two things.’” (Sahih)

Tafsīr: [صحيح] الأعمش كان يُلقِّب بْنِ يُزَيْد، وكان مُؤنِثاً كثيرة، إنظر الحديث السابق والآتي، ومسند الإمام أحمد: 2/389، وأخرجه مسلم، ح: 2781 من حديث أبي صالح به، نحو المعنى.

180. Waki’ bin Hudus narrated that his paternal uncle Abu Razin said: “I said: ‘O Messenger of Allah, will we see Allah on the Day of Resurrection? And what is the sign of that in His creation?’ He said: ‘O Abu Razin, do each of you not see the moon individually?’ I said: ‘Of course.’
He said: ‘Allāh is Greater, and that is His sign in His creation.’”

(Hasan)

Comment:
The phrase ‘each one seeing (the moon) individually’ is used to convey the idea that, notwithstanding the fact that those seeing Him shall be in multitudes, no one shall have any difficulty in seeing Him.

181. Waki’ bin Hudus narrated that his paternal uncle Abu Razin said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘Allāh laughs at the despair of His slaves although He soon changes it.’”[1] I said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh, does the Lord laugh? He said: ‘Yes.’ I said: ‘We shall never be deprived of good by a Lord Who laughs.’” (Hasan)

182. Waki’ bin Hudus narrated that his paternal uncle Abu Razin said: “I said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh, where was our Lord before He created His creation?’ He said: He was above the clouds, below which was air, and above which was air and water. Then He created His Throne above the water.’” (Hasan)

[1] The calamity that gave rise to the despair.
Comments:

The word 'Amā' occurring in the Arabic sentence Kāna fi 'amā' could stand for the cloud. It could also mean 'something beyond human comprehension'. In other words, the answer to the question asked would be beyond the understanding of man. Anyhow, there was probably the need to rationalize the answer or justify the text if the Hadith were Sound, it is not. It is in fact a Weak "Hadith", (according to Shaikh Albâni) which needs no rationalizing.

183. It was narrated that Safwân bin Muhriz Al-Mâzini said: "We were with 'Abdullâh bin 'Umar when he was circumambulating the House; a man came up to him and said: 'O Ibn 'Umar, what did you hear the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say about the Najwa?'[1] He said: 'I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'On the Day of Resurrection, the believer will be brought close to his Lord until He will cover him with His screen, then He will make him confess his sins. He will ask him: "Do you confess?" He will say: "O Lord, I confess." This will continue as long as Allâh wills, then He will say: "I concealed them for you in the world, and I forgive you for them today." Then he will be given the scroll of his good deeds, or his record, in his right hand. But as for the disbeliever or the hypocrite, (his sins) will be announced before the witnesses.'" (One of the narrators) Khâlid said: "At 'before the witnesses' there is something:

missing.” [1] “These are the ones who lied against their Lord! No doubt! the curse of Allâh is on the wrongdoers.” [2] (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The Hadith contains the affirmation of Allâh’s attribute of speech. The People of the Sunnah hold the belief that Allâh speaks whatever He wills, whenever He wills and, to whoever He wills; and the addressee hears Him speak.
b. It speaks of a great bounty from Allâh which encourages the believers to hope for His mercy. It also mentions the disgrace of the sinners, regarding which the believers are to remain in constant fear of Allâh, since both hope and fear are the necessary ingredients of Imân.

184. It was narrated that Jâbir bin ‘Abdullâh said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘While the people of Paradise are enjoying their blessings, a light will shine upon them, and they will raise their heads, and they will see their Lord looking down upon them from above. He will say: “Peace be upon you, O people of Paradise.” This is what Allâh says in the Verse: “Salâm (peace be on you) — a Word from the Lord (Allâh), Most Merciful.”’ [3] He will look at them and they will look at Him, and they will not pay any attention to the delights (of Paradise) so long as they look at Him, until He will screen Himself from them. But His light

185. It was narrated that 'Adi bin Hātim said: "The Messenger of Allah SAW said: 'There is no one among you but his Lord will speak to him without any intermediary between them. He will look to his right and will not see anything but that which he sent forth.' He will look to his left and will not see anything but that which he sent forth. Then he will look in front of him and will be faced with the Fire. So whoever among you can protect himself from the Fire, even by means of half a date, let him do so.'" (Sahih)

Comments:
- The Hadith also contains the confirmation of Allah’s attribute of speech.
- Each person shall render his account by himself. No one in this world should, therefore, put his trust in some religious or divine person for intercession.
- Virtuous deeds are a prerequisite for deliverance from Hell-fire.
- Charity is also one of the means of securing deliverance from Allah’s punishment.

186. Abu Bakr bin Qais Al-Ash'ari narrated that his father said: "The Messenger of Allah SAW said: 'Two gardens of silver, their vessels and everything in them;"
and two gardens of gold, their vessels and everything in them, and nothing between the people and their seeing their Lord, the Blessed and Exalted, except the Veil of Pride covering His Face in the Garden of Eden (Jannat 'Adn)." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Hadith confirms the certainty of seeing Allâh.

b. The people of Paradise, once inside their abodes, shall be able to see their Lord — the only impediment being the Veil of His Pride. But when Allâh decides to shower His benevolence and mercy upon His servants, the screen will go and seeing will be made possible.

c. Countless and unmatched are the bounties of Allâh in Paradise. What we find mentioned in the Qur'ân and Hadith is only that which man can comprehend. Even the gold and silver in Paradise will be unlike the gold and silver of this world. They are superior beyond imagination.

187. It was narrated that Suhaib said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ recited this Verse: 'For those who have done good is the best reward and even more.'[1] Then he said: 'When the people of Paradise enter Paradise, and the people of the Fire enter the Fire, a caller will cry out: 'O people of Paradise! You have a covenant with Allâh and He wants to fulfill it.' They will say: 'What is it? Has Allâh not made the Balance (of our good deeds) heavy, and made our faces bright, and admitted us to Paradise and saved us from Hell?" Then the Veil will be lifted and they will look upon Him, and by Allah, Allah will not give them anything that is more beloved to them or more delightful, than looking upon Him." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Looking upon Allah is the greatest and most pleasing bounty to be showered over the believers lodged in Paradise, and they will relish it more than anything else.

b. Admittance to the Paradise, in itself a blessing, will also be the means of having the pleasure of seeing their Lord.

188. It was narrated that ‘Aishah said: "Praise is to Allah Whose hearing encompasses all voices. The woman who disputed concerning her husband (Al-Mujādilah) came to the Prophet [pbuh] when I was (sitting) in a corner of the house, and she complained about her husband, but I did not hear what she said. Then Allah revealed: 'Indeed Allah has heard the statement of her that disputes with you concerning her husband.""[1] (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Inclusion of this Hadith in this chapter is intended to confirm Allah's attribute of hearing. It may, however, be pointed out that Allah's attributes are totally unlike human attributes. Even the slightest sound anywhere in the universe is not outside His hearing because, like other attributes, His attribute of hearing is also limitless.

b. The Prophet ﷺ only followed the ordainments of Allâh. He never permitted or prohibited anything except by Allâh’s command and permission. Therefore, he only gave the answer after he received the revelation from Allâh.

189. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Your Lord wrote for Himself with His Own Hand before He created the creation: “My mercy precedes My wrath.” (Sahih)

Comment:

The Hadith confirms Allâh’s attributes of mercy and anger. It also mentions the Hand of Allâh. It is necessary to believe in all of these, even as they are mentioned without coining similitude or imputing resemblance to anything else. It is also not right to claim or suggest that Allâh’s Hand in reality symbolizes His attribute of power.

190. Talhah bin Khirâsh said: “I heard Jâbir bin ‘Abdullâh say: ‘When ‘Abdullâh bin ‘Amr bin (Harâm) was killed on the Day of Uhud, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ met me, and said: “O Jâbir, shall I not tell you what Allâh has said to your father?” Yahya said in his Hadith: “And he said: ‘O Jâbir, why do I see you broken-hearted?’ I (Jâbir) said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh, my father has been martyred and he has left behind dependents and debts.’ He said: ‘Shall I not give you the glad tidings of that with which Allâh met your father?’ I said: ‘Yes, O Messenger of Allâh.’ He said: ‘Allâh never spoke to anyone except from behind a screen, but He spoke to your father

The Hadith confirms Allâh’s attributes of mercy and anger. It also mentions the Hand of Allâh. It is necessary to believe in all of these, even as they are mentioned without coining similitude or imputing resemblance to anything else. It is also not right to claim or suggest that Allâh’s Hand in reality symbolizes His attribute of power.
directly, and He said: “O My slave! Ask something from Me and I shall give it to you.” He said: “O Lord, bring me back to life so that I may be killed in Your cause a second time.” The Lord, Glorified is He, said: “I have already decreed that they will not return to life.” He said: “My Lord, then convey (this news) to those whom I have left behind.” Allāh said: “Think not of those as dead who are killed in the way of Allāh. Nay, they are alive, with their Lord, and they have provision.”[1] (Hasan)

Comments:
a. One should not say to a bereaved person anything that might increase his sorrow and give him pain.
b. The Hadīth confirms Allāh’s attribute of Speech.
c. After a man dies he enters the next world where it will be possible that Allāh will bless him with special attributes.
d. The Hadīth confirms the reality of a higher rank for the martyrs.
e. It is a proof of the high status of ‘Abdullah bin Harām, that Allāh Himself asked him to decide and say what he wanted.
f. All links of men with this world are severed after death, and they can never go back to the world they have left behind. This categorical statement cuts at the root of the people’s belief in the transmigration of souls.

191. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allāh Ṣallallāhu ‘Alayhi was-Sallam said: ‘Allāh will laugh at two persons — one of them kills the other, and both of them enter Paradise, for the first one fought in the cause of Allāh and was martyred, then his killer repented…’” to Allâh and became Muslim, then he also fought in the cause of Allâh and was martyred." (Sahih)

Comments:
a. Allâh’s laughter is an expression of His pleasure. Therefore, pleasure is also an attribute of Allâh.
b. Only Allâh knows what the end of a man would be like. Even the most hardened criminal can be expected to receive Allâh’s guidance at some point in life. As such it is not proper to claim, as long as a person lives, that he will not accept guidance, and as such it is not right to stop inviting him to the right path until the last breath of his life.

192. Sa’eed bin Musayyab narrated that Abu Hurairah used to say: "The Messenger of Allâh said: Allâh will seize the earth on the Day of Resurrection, and He will roll up the heavens in His Right Hand, then He will say, “I am the Sovereign. Where are the kings of the earth?”" (Sahih)

Comments:
a. This confirms the reality of Allâh’s Hand. However, it is not allowed for anyone to invent a mental picture for such attributes of Allâh. It is, instead, necessary that we believe in however much we have been told about His attributes, and not commit the mistake of likening the Divine attributes to those of the created things.
b. The sky as it exists now shall cease to exist on the Day of Resurrection.

193. It was narrated that ‘Abbâs bin ‘Abdul-Muttalib said: “I was in Bathâ’ with a group of people, among whom was the Messenger of Allâh. A cloud passed over..."
him, and he looked at it and said: 'What do you call this?' They said: 'Sahâb (a cloud).' He said: 'And Muzn (rain cloud).' They said: 'And Muzn.' He said: 'And Anân (clouds).' Abu Bakr said: 'They said: 'And Anân.'" He said: 'How much (distance) do you think there is between you and the heavens?' They said: 'We do not know.' He said: 'Between you and it is seventy-one, or seventy-two, or seventy-three years, and there is a similar distance between it and the heaven above it (and so on) until he counted seven heavens. 'Then above the seventh heaven there is a sea, between whose top and bottom there is a distance like that between one heaven and another. Then above that there are eight (angels in the form of) mountain goats. The distance between their hooves and their knees is like the distance between one heaven and another. Then on their backs is the Throne, and the distance between the top and the bottom of the Throne is like the distance between one heaven and another. Then Allâh is above that, the Blessed and Exalted." (Da'îf) heaven, the angels beat their wings in submission to His decree (with a sound) like a chain beating a rock. Then “When fear is banished from their hearts, they say: ‘What is it that your Lord has said?’ They say: ‘The truth. And He is the Most High, the Most Great.’”[1] He said: ‘Then the eavesdroppers (from among the jinn) listen out for that, one above the other, so (one of them) hears the words and passes it on to the one beneath him. The Shīhāb (shooting star) may strike him before he can pass it on to the one beneath him and the latter can pass it on to the soothsayer or sorcerer, or it may not strike him until he has passed it on. And he adds one hundred lies to it, and only that word which was overheard from the heavens is true.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Allāh’s speech consists of both sound and words, which the angels are able to hear.

b. Angels possess the consciousness and knowledge of Allāh’s greatness and pride. That is why they affirm their lowliness and humility on hearing the Words of Allāh. In fact, it behooves man to show greater humility than the angels because he has been given greater status.

c. Soothsayers and astrologers have their links with the evil spirits (satans). Soothsaying and astrology etc. are, therefore, rightly branded as satanic sciences. Muslims must not believe in them. They should even avoid studying them.

195. It was narrated that Abu Musa said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ stood up among us and said five things. He said: 'Allah does not sleep, and it is not befitting that He should sleep. He lowers the Scales and raises them. The deed done during the day is taken up to Him before the deed done during the night, and the deed done during the night before the deed done during the day. His Veil is Light and if He were to remove it, the glory of His Face would burn everything of His creation, as far as His gaze reaches.'" (Sahih)

Comments:
a. Sleep and rest are the needs of the creatures since they remedy the fatigue and weakness caused by work. Allah, by contrast, is Ever Living and Sustainer of the entire creation. He is, therefore, exempt from both weariness and sleep.
b. One of the interpretations of lowering the Scales and raising them is that He, in His infinite wisdom, decreases in this life the provision for some and increases it for others.
c. Nothing in this mortal world can stand the glory of Allah. That is why when Allah manifested the splendor of His glory on the Mount of Sinai (i.e. the Tur), it could not stand it and was reduced to dust.

196. It was narrated that Abu Musa said: "The Messenger of Allah said: 'Allah does not sleep, and it is not befitting that He should sleep. He lowers the Scales and raises them. His Veil is Light and if He were to remove it, the glory of His Face would burn everything of His creation, as far as His gaze reaches.'" Then Abu `Ubaidah recited the Verse: 'Blessed is whosoever is in the fire, (i.e. the light of Allah) and whosoever is round about it!' And Glorified is Allāh, the Lord of all that exists."[1] (Sahih)

Comments:

a. It was not a worldly fire but, as mentioned in Sahih Muslim, the Light of Allāh. The Arabic expression Hijabuhu nur or Hijabuhu när means His Veil is Light or Fire.

b. 'And whosoever is roundabout the fire' means the Prophet Musa ﷺ and the Angel Jibrîl (Tabâris Commentary, 11/165).

197. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "The Right Hand of Allāh is full and that is never affected by the continuous spending, night and day. In His other Hand is the Scale, which He raises and lowers. Have you seen what Allāh has spent since He created the heavens and the earth? And that has not decreased what is in His Hands in the slightest.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Hadith contains the mention of "Hand" as well as "Hands" for Allāh. This is also one of those phenomena (attributes) that needs unquestioning literal faith without searching for resemblance in this world. The Qur’ān speaks of the two Hands of Allāh at several places (e.g. Sād. 38:75).

b. This Hadith describes Allāh’s Hand as 'right'. The Arabic text, in fact, contains the word Yamin that contains the sense of Barakah (blessing). A Hadith in Sahih Muslim (H. 1827) says that both His Hands are Yamin. Therefore, to describe one of Allāh’s Hands as right or blessed does not mean that the other Hand is not so. The truth is that both His Hands are blessed.

198. It was narrated that ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Umar said: "I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say, when he was on the pulpit ‘The Compeller will seize the heavens and the earths in His Hand’ and he clenched his fist and began to open and close it. Then He will say: “I am the Compeller! Where are the tyrants? Where are the arrogant?’’ He said, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was turning to his right and to his left, until I saw the pulpit moving from below and I thought: ‘What if it falls with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ on it?’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Hadith gives us an idea of Allâh’s attribute of greatness and pride inasmuch as this universe, however vast it might be, is no more than a particle of dust before Him.

b. It is allowed to make an occasional show of anger in religious sermons and admonitions.

199. Nawwâs bin Sam‘ân Al-Kilâbi said: “I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: ‘There is no heart that is not between two of the Fingers of the Most Merciful. If He wills, He guides it and if He wills, He sends it astray.’ The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to say: ‘O You Who makes hearts steadfast, make our hearts steadfast in adhering to Your religion.’ And he said: ‘The Scale is in the Hand of the Most Merciful; He will cause some peoples to rise and others to fall until the Day of Resurrection.’”’ (Sahih)

199. نوبياس بن سمان النجاشي رضي الله عنه قال: "أنا سمعت النبي ﷺ يقول: "لا قلب إلا بين انف دجلة اللطيف في يداه، فإن حسر القلب فإن قام به اللطيف، وإن سنة المختارين إلا ما قام به الملك في يوم القيامة، وإن لم يحترم اللهomenp dال camar "أنا سمعت رسول الله ﷺ يوكل: "يا أيها الذين آمنوا إن يكن خيركم وأعلم بأنكم مختارين، وأنا رسول الله ﷺ وهما عليه: " أما الذين آمنوا وعملوا الصالحين و Ста твердо сердце их сердца в прилежании к вере. А он говорил: "Пожалуйста, кто укрепляет сердца, пусть укрепляет сердца своих прилежания к вере."" (Sahih)
Comments:
a. The author has included this Hadith to prove the attribute of the Fingers for Allâh. With regard to all such Ahâdîth, the unanimous view of the pious predecessors is that we must have faith in them without imputing any kind of resemblance in them to anything in the world.

b. Giving guidance is the prerogative of Allâh alone. We must, therefore, keep asking Him for guidance and steadfastness in our adhering to faith.

c. Making someone high or low or endowing someone with honor and the other with disgrace, is sometimes decreed by Allâh in consequence of man's acts of commission or omission. At other times it is a test and trial from Allâh, and it is on the basis of his conduct in these tests and trials that man earns his high or low grades with Allâh.

200. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Allâh smiles at three things: a row in the prayer, a man who prays in the depths of the night, and a man who fights.' I think he said, 'behind the battalion.'" (Da'if)

201. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to appear before the people during the Hajj season and say: 'Is there any man who can take me to his people, for the Quraish have prevented me from conveying the speech (i.e. the Message) of my Lord.'" (Sahih)
Comments:

"Appearing before the people" (i.e. his meeting the people) was in the hope of finding a person or tribe from amongst the people coming from all parts of the Arab world at the time of Hajj that could help him in his preachings, and thwart the designs of his opponents, so that the people could comprehend the truth and accept it.

202. It was narrated from Abu Dardā’ that the Prophet said concerning the Verse: “Every day He is (engaged) in some affair.”[1] “His affairs include forgiving sins, relieving distress, raising some people and bringing others low.” (Hasan)

Comments:

a. The Hadith confirms Allāh’s attribute of action manifested at all times without break.

b. Forgiving sins is also one such matter in which there is absolutely no intermediary between man and God. Some misguided souls think that, even in this, an intermediary is an imperative necessity. Christians believe that forgiving the sins is within the domain of their popes and priests. Hindus consider it impossible to approach God without the mediation of the Brahmins, and it is only through them that they can have their sins forgiven. The Qur’ān, on the other hand, asks in the form of a rhetorical question: “And who can forgive sins except Allāh?” (3:135), i.e., no one has the power to do it.

Chapter 14. One Who Introduces A Good Or Evil Practice

203. It was narrated from Mundhir bin Jarir that his father... said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Whoever introduces a good practice that is followed, he will receive its reward and a reward equivalent to that of those who follow it, without that detracting from their reward in the slightest. And whoever introduces a bad practice that is followed, he will receive its sin and a burden of sin equivalent to that of those who follow it, without that detracting from their burden in the slightest.’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. ‘Introducing a good practice’ means that a need was being felt for an act of virtue but no one was practising it, or else introducing a good practice would mean reviving the implementation of a Sunnah that had since been abandoned, and when someone revived it, others also took to following it. It would also apply to the situation where one devises a new methodology for the promotion of a proven act of virtue. Declaring an action as good and giving it currency in the society on the basis of one’s own subjective opinion is a form of innovation (Bid’ah) which will attract retribution or punishment instead of recompense or reward from Allâh.

b. ‘Introducing an evil practice’ means a situation where a man did an evil act which was non-existent in the society. Then, taking the cue from him, others also started doing the same. The Prophet ﷺ has warned against it.

c. People engaged in the work of Da’wah (calling people to the right path) must be on their guard lest they themselves start doing an act or inviting others to do something, on the basis of some weak or spurious Hadith, not proved from the sound sources. If they do so, not only will their entire labor go to waste but they shall also have to carry on their shoulders the burden of the sins of others who followed them in that act.

d. Crediting the reward or punishment for deeds done by a person to his account is an automatic operation, by the will of Allâh, in which the person concerned has no say either way. It is, therefore, meaningless to argue in support of the concept of the transference of the reward of one man’s actions to another. If such a philosophy of transference were accepted, then, by the same token, the transference of a person’s sins to others will also have to be accepted.
204. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “A man came to the Prophet, who encouraged the people to give charity to him. A man said: ‘I have such and such,’ and there was no one left in that gathering who did not give him something in charity, to a greater or lesser extent. The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘Whoever initiates a good practice that is followed, he will receive a perfect reward for that, and a reward equivalent to that of those who follow it, without that detracting from their reward in the slightest. And whoever introduces a bad practice that is followed, he will receive the complete burden of sin for that, and a burden of sin equivalent to that of those who follow it, without that detracting from their burden in the slightest.’” (Sahih)

205. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Messenger of Allâh said: “Every caller who invites people to misguidance and is followed, will have a burden of sin equal to that of those who follow him, without that detracting from their burden in the slightest. And every caller who invites people to true guidance and is followed, will have a reward equal to that of those who follow him, without that detracting from their reward.
in the slightest." (Hasan)

Comments: 204 & 205

The term 'misguidance' as used here includes things like idolatry, innovation, sinful acts and all those actions that are forbidden in Islam. As such, anyone who invites the people, or persuades them, or cooperates with them in the doing of such acts, will receive the burden of sins equivalent to that of those who follow it. 'Guidance', on the other hand, includes things like believing in the Oneness of Allah, following the Prophet's Sunnah, doing the obligatory duties, and avoiding all things that are sinful or evil. Therefore, anyone who invites others to the doing of such virtuous acts will receive a reward equivalent to the reward of all those who followed him in those matters.

206. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allah said: "Whoever calls people to true guidance, will have a reward equal to that of those who follow him, without that detracting from their reward in the slightest. And whoever calls people to misguidance, will have a (burden of) sin equal to that of those who follow him, without that detracting from their sins in the slightest." (Sahih)

207. It was narrated that Abu Juhaiyah said: "The Messenger of Allah said: 'Whoever introduces a good practice that is followed after him, will have the reward for that and the equivalent of their reward, without that detracting from their reward in the slightest. Whoever introduces an evil practice that is followed after him, will bear the burden of sin for that and the equivalent of their burden of sin, without that detracting from their burden in the slightest.’” (Sahih)

208. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘There is no caller who invites people to a thing but on the Day of Resurrection he will be made to stand next to that to which he called others, even if he only called one other person.’” (Da'if)

Chapter 15. One Who Revives A Sunnah That Had Died Out

209. Kathir bin 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr bin 'Awf Al-Muzani said: “My father told me, narrating from my grandfather, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Whoever revives a Sunnah of mine, which people then act upon, will have a reward equivalent to that of those who act upon it, without that detracting from their reward in the slightest. And whoever introduces an innovation (Bid'ah) that is acted upon, will have a burden of sins equivalent to that of those who act upon it, without that detracting from the burden of those who act upon it in the slightest.’” (Da'if)
210. Kathir bin ‘Abdullâh narrated from his father, that his grandfather said: “I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: ‘Whoever revives a Sunnah of mine that dies out after I am gone, he will have a reward equivalent to that of those among the people who act upon it, without that detracting from their reward in the slightest. Whoever introduces an innovation (Bid’ah) with which Allâh and His Messenger are not pleased, he will have a (burden of) sin equivalent to that of those among the people who act upon it, without that detracting from their sins in the slightest.’” (Da’if)

Comments:
a. The term ‘dying Sunnah’ means an action or deed perfectly in order in the sight of Islam—be it an enjoined duty or a compulsory or desirable act—that was neglected by the people out of their indolence or ignorance. And ‘reviving’ it means promoting it in the society once again.
b. The Hadith holds out a stern warning to those who try to promote innovations in the society and also invite others to indulge in them.

Chapter 16. The Virtue Of One Who Learns The Qur’ân And Teaches It

211. It was narrated that ‘Uthmân bin ‘Affân said that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: (According to one of the narrators) Shu’bah (he) said: ‘The best of you’ (and according to) Sufyân (he) said: “The most excellent of you is the one who
It was narrated that 'Uthmân bin 'Affân said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The most excellent of you is the one who learns the Qur'ân and teaches it.'" (Sahih)

a. The test of a person's excellence, in consideration with Allâh, lies in his good deeds, although the general criterion in the world is to measure up the value and worth of a person by the yardstick of his wealth, his good looks and his status in the society, which is an incorrect criterion.

b. Learning and teaching the Qur'ân means learning and teaching the reading of the Qur'ân along with its rules of recitation, articulation and intonation, as well as its meaning and interpretation. And since Hadîth is but the explication of the Qur'ân, anyone who learns the science of Hadîth and teaches it, is also included in that roll of honors.

c. A person not following the teachings of the Qur'ân has no share in that honor, as proved from other Ahâdîth.

213. Mus'âb bin Sa'd narrated that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The best of you is one who learns the Qur'ân and teaches it.'" Then he (Mus'âb) took me (the narrator) by the hand and made me sit here, and I started to teach Qur'ân." (Da'îf)

تخرج: إسناده ضعيف جدًا والحديث صحيح أخرجه الدارمي: 4/377، فضائل القرآن باب: 2، ح: 379 من حديث الحارث بن أبي سعد، وقال اليوسيري: هذا إسناد ضعيف لضعف الحارث ابن نبهان، وهو متروك كما في التقريب، وح: 211 وغيره يغني عن حديثه.
Comments:
a. 'Āsim whose name appears in the chain of the narrators of this Hadith is the well known Imām (authority) in the science of the Qurʾān recitation.
b. The man gifted with the capacity to do some noble work should be advised and encouraged to occupy himself in it for the benefit of the Muslim Ummah, as well for the sake of his own prosperity in this world and the next.

214. It was narrated from Abu Musa Al-Ashʿari that the Prophet ﷺ said: “The likeness of the believer who recites the Qurʾān is that of a citron, the taste and smell of which are good. The likeness of a believer who does not read the Qurʾān is that of a date, the taste of which is good but it has no smell. The likeness of a hypocrite who reads the Qurʾān is that of sweet basil, the smell of which is good but its taste is bitter. And the likeness of a hypocrite who does not read the Qurʾān is that of a colocynth (bitter apple), the taste of which is bitter and it has no smell.” (Sahih)

Comment:
a. Both reciting the Noble Qurʾān and implementing its teachings are acts of great virtue, and are both required of all of us. Recitation being an outward quality has been likened to the sweet smell of the fruit. Implementation, on the other hand, is an internal phenomenon, since it includes qualities like deep-rooted faith, sincerity of purpose, love and fear of Allāh, as well as righteousness of conduct and piety. As such it has been likened to the taste of the fruit.
b. Both faith and conduct of a hypocrite are sour, but his recitation of the Qurʾān could be of benefit to others. That is the reason why he is likened to a flower whose sweet smell is sensed from afar, but its bad taste makes it unfit to eat.
215. It was narrated that Anas bin Malik said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Allah has His own people among mankind.’ They said: ‘O Messenger of Allah, who are they?’ He said: ‘The people of the Qur’an, the people of Allah and those who are closest to Him.’” (Hasan)

Comments:
The term ‘people of the Qur’an’ means the reciters, the memorizers and the learners of the meaning of the Qur’an, in the light of the Ahadith of the Prophet ﷺ, as well as those who apply the teachings of the Qur’an in their daily lives, and also those who carry its message to others.

216. It was narrated that ‘Ali bin Abu Tâlib said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Whoever reads the Qur’an and memorizes it, Allah will admit him to Paradise and allow him to intercede for ten of his family members who all deserved to enter Hell.’” (Da’if)

217. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Learn the Qur’an, recite it and go to bed, for the likeness of the Qur’an and the one who learns it and acts upon it is that of a sack filled with musk, which spreads its fragrance...”
218. It was narrated that Nâfi’ bin ‘Abdul-Hârith met ‘Umar bin Khattâb in ‘Usfân, when ‘Umar had appointed him as his governor in Makkah. ‘Umar asked: “Whom have you appointed as your deputy over the people of the valley?” He said: “I have appointed Ibn Abza over them.” ‘Umar said: “Who is Ibn Abza?” Nâfi’ said: “One of our freed slaves.” ‘Umar said: “Have you appointed a freed slave over them?” Nâfi’ said: “He has great knowledge of the Book of Allâh, is well versed in the rules of inheritance (Fara’îd) and is a (good) judge.” ‘Umar said: “Did not your Prophet ðg say: ‘Allâh raises some people (in status) because of this Book and brings others low because of it?”’ (Sahih)

Comments:

The Hadith only mentions the Book of Allâh. It, however, goes without saying, that in order to qualify for the title of a scholar of the Book, one also has to be well versed in the science of Hadith, since Hadith is both the theoretical interpretation and the practical application of the Qur’ân.
Allāh said to me: 'O Abu Dharr! For you to come out in the morning and learn one Verse from the Book of Allāh is better for you than praying one hundred Rak'ah, and for you to come out and learn a matter of knowledge, whether it is acted upon or not, is better for you than praying one thousand Rak'ah.'" (Da‘if)

Chapter 17. The Virtue Of The Scholars, And Encouragement To Seek Knowledge

220. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allāh said: 'When Allāh wills good for a person, He causes him to understand the religion.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Only a person well versed in the rules of Shari'ah concerning all important matters of life can achieve the blessings of this world and the next. This underlines the importance and need of acquiring the knowledge of religion.

b. It also highlights the lofty position of teachers of religion. However, the only people capable of delivering this knowledge to the people after the passing away of the Prophet are the scholars of religion. The Messenger of Allāh was himself a teacher, as the Qur'ān says: "And he (the Prophet) will instruct them in the Book and wisdom" (2:129).

The term Hikmah (translated as wisdom), used in the Qur'ān, stands for the understanding of the religion, namely the laws and rules of the Islamic jurisprudence.
221. It was narrated that Yunus bin Maisarah bin Halbas said: “I heard Mu’awiyyah bin Abu Sufyân narrating that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Goodness is a (natural) habit while evil is a stubbornness (constant prodding from Satan). When Allah wills good for a person, He causes him to understand the religion.’” (Hasan)

Comments:
a. The expression “Goodness is a (natural) habit” means that the knowledge of the straight path is already ingrained in human nature. Thus, a person possessed of upright nature has no difficulty treading the straight path.
b. “Evil is a stubbornness” means that a person treading the path of sin is all the time contending with himself. The inciting soul pulls him to the ways of sin and tries to keep him from repentance, while his conscience hies to keep him from the ways of sin.

222. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Abbás said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘One faqih (knowledgeable man) is more formidable against the Shaitân than one thousand devoted worshippers.’” (Da’if)

223. It was narrated that Kathir bin Qais said: “I was sitting with Abu Dardâ’ in the mosque of Damascus, when a man came to him and said: ‘O Abu Dardâ’, I have come to you from Al-Madinah, the city of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, for a Hadith which I have heard that you narrate from the Prophet ﷺ.

He said: 'Did you not come for trade?' He said: 'No.' He said: 'Did you not come for anything else?' He said: 'No.' He said: 'I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: "Whoever follows a path in the pursuit of knowledge, Allâh will make easy for him a path to Paradise. The angels lower their wings in approval of the seeker of knowledge, and everyone in the heavens and on earth prays for forgiveness for the seeker of knowledge, even the fish in the sea. The superiority of the scholar over the worshipper is like the superiority of the moon over all other heavenly bodies. The scholars are the heirs of the Prophets, for the Prophets did not leave behind Dînâr or Dirham, rather they left behind knowledge, so whoever takes it has taken a great share."' (Da‘îf)

Comments:

a. Scholars of religion must either sit in the mosques in order to impart knowledge to the people, or hold sessions at conveniently located places where everyone—rich or poor, high or low—can reach them and profit by their teaching.

b. It is a praiseworthy act if a man travels from one city or town to another, in order to gain knowledge from a learned man.

c. All the creatures of Allâh love and pray for the prosperity of the man who undertakes a journey in pursuit of knowledge.

d. It is a matter of great honor for the scholars of religion to be termed as the spiritual heirs of the Prophets. The honor, however, puts on their shoulders a heavy burden of responsibility to (i) make plain the essence of truth, (ii) invite the people to accept it, (iii) try to wean them away from falsehood.
and, (iv) never allow greed or fear to distract them from the doing of their duty. They should, in short, try to emulate the example of the Prophets of Allah who were the embodiments of fortitude, sincerity of purpose, and commitment to their mission of preaching the message of Islam among the people.

224. It was narrated that Anas bin Malik said: “Seeking knowledge is a duty upon every Muslim, and he who imparts knowledge to those who do not deserve it, is like one who puts a necklace of jewels, pearls and gold around the neck of swines.” (Da’if)

Comments:
The expression ‘Every Muslim’ means both men and women, since following the laws of Shari’ah is the bounden duty of both sexes. It is, therefore, essential for both men and women to know the permissible from the prohibited in Islam. The Prophet also taught the tenets of our faith and its demands to both the sexes alike.

225. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Whoever relieves a Muslim of some worldly distress, Allah will relieve him of some of the distress of the Day of Resurrection, and whoever conceals (the faults of) a Muslim, Allah will conceal him (his faults) in this world and on the Day of Resurrection. And whoever relieves the burden from a destitute person, Allah will relieve him in this world and the next. Allah will help His slave so long as His slave helps his brother. Whoever follows a path in pursuit of knowledge, Allah will make easy for him a path to Paradise. No people gather in one of the houses of Allâh, reciting the Book of Allâh and teaching it to one another, but the angels will surround them, tranquility will descend upon them, mercy will envelop them and Allâh will mention them to those who are with Him. And whoever is hindered because of his bad deeds, his lineage will be of no avail to him.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Hadith confirms the fact that each and every action done by man shall have its appropriate reward or recompense from Allâh.

b. Not all the retribution or recompense for the deeds of man is necessarily postponed by Allâh till the next world, since some of the punishment or reward is also given in this world.

c. The Hadith holds out the inducement for such virtuous deeds as helping the believers in their hour of distress, concealing their faults and failures and doing one’s bit to create ease for his brethren-in-faith. All of this is meant to build relationships between the Muslims on the foundation of mutual love and well-wishing.

d. Educational gatherings are like receptacles for the special mercies from Allâh. It is, therefore, important that one punctually attends and not miss his lessons in the Qur’ân and Hadith study circles, or in the religious institutions.

e. It is a matter of great honor for the seekers of knowledge, that Allâh approvingly mentions them to the angels with Him. It means that the pursuit of knowledge is an important means of gaining nearness to Allâh.

226. It was narrated that Zîr r bin Hubaïsh said: “I went to Safwân bin ‘Assâl Al-Murâdi and he said: ‘What brought you here?’ I said: ‘I am seeking knowledge.’ He said: ‘I heard the Messenger of Allâh say: ‘There is no one who goes out of his house in order to seek knowledge, but the angels lower their wings in approval of his action.’” (Hasan) 227. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: ‘Whoever comes to this mosque of mine, and only comes for a good purpose, such as to learn or to teach, his status is like that of one who fights in ḥijād in the cause of Allah. Whoever comes for any other purpose, his status is that of a man who is keeping an eye on other people’s property.’”

(Hasan)

Comments:

a. The purpose of building a mosque is not only to use it as a place for worshipping the One and Only God, but also to use it as a center for the propagation of Islam, and as a school for imparting and receiving knowledge and education.

b. Engaging in the teaching of religious sciences is also a form of ḥijād, since the real purpose of fighting in the cause of Allah is to extricate the people from the misguided darkness of disbelief into the radiant light of Islam. So, if there were no centers for teaching and learning, it would be a difficult task to educate the new converts to Islam, which would nullify the very purpose of ḥijād.

228. It was narrated that Abu Umâmah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘You must acquire this knowledge before it is taken away, and its taking away means that it will be lifted up.’” He joined his middle finger and the one that is next to the thumb like this, and said: ‘The scholar and the seeker of knowledge will share the reward, and there is no good in... the rest of the people.‘’ (Da‘if)

Chapter 18. He Who Conveys Knowledge

229. It was narrated that ‘Abdullah bin ‘Amr said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ came out of one of his apartments one day and entered the mosque, where he saw two circles, one reciting Qur’an and supplicating to Allah, and the other learning and teaching. The Prophet ﷺ said: ‘Both of them are good. These people are reciting Qur’an and supplicating to Allah, and if He wills He will give them, and if He wills He will withhold from them. And these people are learning and teaching. Verily I have been sent as a teacher.’ Then he sat down with them.” (Da‘if)

(المعجم 18) - باب من بلغ علمًا

230. It was narrated from Zaid bin Thabit that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “May Allah cause his face to shine, the man who hears what I say and conveys it (to others). There are those who have knowledge but no understanding, and there may be those who convey knowledge to those who have more understanding of it than they do.’’”
(One of the narrators) 'Ali bin Muhammad added to it: "There are three things because of which hatred does not enter the heart of a Muslim: Sincerity in doing an action for the sake of Allâh; being sincere towards the rulers of the Muslims; and adhering to the Jamâ‘ah (main body) of the Muslims." (Hasan)

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه الطبراني في الكبير: 5/ 154 ح: 4924 من حديث ابن نمير وغيره

Comments:

a. The Hadîth speaks of the honor and esteem of those who engage themselves in acquiring the knowledge of Hadîth and conveying it to others. It says that the Messenger of Allâh himself has praised those that are engaged in this laudable task.

b. The Hadîth mentions one of the benefits of learning the Ahâdîth, which is contained in the fact that at times it happens that a man knows the Hadîth, but is incapable of exercising his independent judgment, or deducing the rules of Shari’ah that could be derived from it. But the same Hadîth lights up with another man when it reaches him, and he is either able to draw various rules of Shari’ah from it, or draw more rules from it than were done by the first conveyor of the Hadîth.

c. ‘Adhering to the Jamâ‘ah’ means not to create dissensions in the community, and avoid doing things that could do harm to the Muslims and good to their opponents.

231. Muhammad bin Jubair bin Mut‘îm narrated that his father said: ‘The Messenger of Allâh stood up at Khâif in Mina and said: ‘May Allâh cause his face to shine, the man who hears what I say and conveys it (to others). There are those who have knowledge but no understanding, and there may be those who convey knowledge to those who have more understanding of it than they do.’” (Hasan)

Other chains with similar wording.
232. 'Abdur-Rahmān bin 'Abdullāh narrated from his father that the Prophet ﷺ said: "May Allāh cause his face to shine, the man who hears a Hadith from us and conveys it, for perhaps the one to whom it is conveyed may remember it better than the one who (first) hears it." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Hadith contains the glad tiding that each age, even after the age of the Companions, shall have its preservers (memorizers) of Ahādīth, regardless of whether their number is more or less.

b. Memorizing the Ahādīth is generally taken to mean learning them by heart, although the term would also include preserving them in black and white.
234. Bahz bin Hakim narrated from his father that his grandfather Mu‘āwiyyah Al-Qushairi said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘Let the one who is present convey to the one who is absent.’” (Hasan)

Comments:
The expression ‘Those who are absent’ also includes those who, being present somewhere else at that time, were not able to hear the Prophet’s word first hand. It also includes those that were to come after that period, but had the benefit of hearing the words of the Prophet ﷺ from the lips of the Companions.

235. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Umar that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Let those of you who are present convey it to those of you who are absent.” (Da‘if)

236. It was narrated that Anas bin Mālik said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘May Allāh cause to flourish a slave (of His) who hears my words and understands them, then he conveys them from
There are those who have knowledge but no understanding, and there may be those who convey knowledge to those who have more understanding of it than they do.” (Hasan)

Chapter 19. One Who Opens The Door To Good

237. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Some people open the door to good and close the door to evil, and some people open the door to evil and close the door to good. Glad tidings to those in whose hands Allah places the keys to good, and woe to those in whose hands Allah places the keys to evil.’” (Da’if)

238. It was narrated from Sahl bin Sa’d that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “This goodness contains many treasures, and for those treasures there are keys. So glad tidings to the one whom Allah makes a key to good and a lock for evil, and woe to the one whom Allah makes a key to evil and a lock to good.” (Da’if)
Comments:

Arabic phrases, literally translated here as ‘keys of good’ and ‘locks of evil’, are in fact expressions meaning ‘the people who open the door of good and close the door of evil’, and so on. Thus, in plain language the person possessing the keys of good is the one whom Allâh grants the ability to attract more and more people to the path of good, and block the path of evil and, thus, keep the people from falling into error. On the other hand, the person who chooses to be an associate of the Devil, would be the one who opens the door of evil through which multitudes of people go astray, and take the path of Hell. Such a man can be said to have closed the door of good on the people and kept them from taking the path of guidance.

Chapter 20. The Reward Of One Who Teaches The People

239. It was narrated that Abu Dharr said: “I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: ‘Everyone in the universe, in the heavens and on earth, prays for forgiveness for the scholar, even the fish in the sea.’” (Da’if)

Comments:

a. ‘Everyone in the heavens’ means the angels, and ‘on earth’ means Allâh’s creation on earth, namely animals, minerals, insects, birds and sea creatures, etc. The presence of a virtuous man on earth is a blessing for all the creatures.

b. The Hadith confirms the high place of honor and status of teachers and preachers before Allâh. Conveyance of Allâh’s Message and propagating it could be done either through word of mouth, or writing, or formal teaching, provided that the promised honor will only go to a person if he is also acting upon the knowledge he is delivering to others.
240. Sahl bin Mu’adh bin Anas narrated from his father that the Prophet ﷺ said: “Whoever teaches some knowledge will have the reward of the one who acts upon it, without that detracting from his reward in the slightest.” (Hasan)

Comments:
It is because giving knowledge to others is also a form of preaching. The reward of one who engages in inviting others to the path of virtue has already been mentioned under Ahâdhith 205 and 206.

241. ‘Abdullâh bin Abi Qatâdah narrated that his father said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘The best things that a man can leave behind are three: A righteous son who will pray for him, ongoing charity whose reward will reach him, and knowledge which is acted upon after his death.’” (Hasan)

Another chain with similar meaning.

Comments:
a. Children, both sons and daughters, are the priceless gifts of God. The best way to pay one’s thanks to Allâh for these gifts is to give the children good education and breeding, so that they grow into good Muslims and useful members of the society.

b. ‘Ongoing charity’ means doing things whose benefit endures for a long period of time. For instance, it is an act of ongoing charity to make provision of water to the people in a place of scarcity. Another example would be the teaching of the skills of a trade or profession to an unemployed person, so that he is able to earn his livelihood through lawful means.

c. Teaching a branch of knowledge to someone or doing some useful scholarly work, is also an act of virtue whose reward shall endure. Works compiled by the scholars of Ahādhīth and other scholars also fall in that category; their reward shall also continue to flow to the compilers as long as the people keep benefiting by them.

242. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘The rewards of the good deeds that will reach a believer after his death are:

Knowledge which he taught and spread; a righteous son whom he leaves behind; a copy of the Qur’ān that he leaves as a legacy; a mosque that he built; a house that he built for wayfarers; a canal that he dug; or charity that he gave during his lifetime when he was in good health. These deeds will reach him after his death.’” (Da’īf)

Comments:

The Hadīth only mentions a few acts of virtue that would attract Allāh’s mercy and form a basis for the forgiving of a person’s sins and the raising of his status after his death, as though the occurrence of his good deeds were still continuing.

It may be noted that all the acts of virtue mentioned in the Hadīth are those that the dying person had himself performed during his lifetime. Acts like the reading of the Qur’ān or performing the prayers on the dead person’s behalf do not figure in the list.
243. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: “The best of charity is when a Muslim man gains knowledge, then he teaches it to his Muslim brother.” (Da‘if)

Chapter 21. He Who Dislikes Having People Walk Behind Him

244. It was narrated from Shu‘iba bin ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr that his father said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ was never seen eating while reclining or making two men walk behind him.” (Sahih)

Other chains with the same meanings.

Comments:

a. It is a sign of vanity or pride on the part of a man that he walks in front and makes others walk behind him. It means that the person concerned thinks himself superior to others and cannot bear others to walk alongside himself.

b. Some people follow the custom that if a 'holy' man or an elderly person is sitting on a couch, they will not share the couch with him but sit on the ground. This is again a bad custom, since there is more humiliation in it than in walking behind someone.

245. It was narrated that Abu Umâmah said: "The Prophet walked on a very hot day towards Baqi' Al-Gharqad (graveyard of Al-Madinah), and the people were walking behind him. When he heard the sound of their shoes, it affected his soul so he sat down until he made them go ahead of him, lest that make him feel too proud." (Da'if)

246. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "When the Prophet walked, his Companions would walk in front of him, and he would leave his back for the angels." (Hasan)

Comments:

a. What we learn from this Hadith is that it is all right, that of the people, some walk in front of the revered person and others behind him. What is forbidden is that all of them walk behind him.

b. It is no offense to the dignity of the revered person that people walk in front of him.
Chapter 22. Taking Care Of The Seekers Of Knowledge

247. Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “People will come to you seeking knowledge. When you see them, say to them, ‘Welcome, welcome,’ in obedience to the injunctions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, and instruct them in knowledge.”

(One of the narrators said) “I said to Al-Hakam: ‘What is ‘Iqnuhum?’ He said: ‘Instruct them.’” (Da’if)

Comments:

a. Blessed are the seekers of the knowledge as given by the Prophet ﷺ because these are the people who have been declared as deserving of a warm welcome by the Prophet ﷺ himself. It is true that other arts and sciences do not fall in that category, yet the learning of them is also the need of the society.

b. It is the duty of the scholars of religion to treat their students with kindness and love, and make them aware of the place of honor occupied by the religious sciences, so that the students feel inspired to learn them with zeal and passion, and bear with patience the hardships, if any, faced by them in their acquisition of that knowledge.

248. It was narrated that Ismā’il said: “We entered upon Hasan to inquire after him until we filled the house. He tucked up his legs, then he (Hasan) said: ‘We entered upon Abu Hurairah to inquire after him until we filled the house. He (Abu Hurairah) tucked up his legs and said: "We entered upon the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ until we filled the house. He was lying on his side, but when he saw us he tucked up his legs then he said: 'After I am gone, there will come to you people seeking knowledge. Welcome them, greet them and teach them.'" (Mauḍū)

A narrator said: By Allâh! we came across some people who did not welcome us, greet us, nor teach us until we used to go to them, then they treated us rudely.

Comments:
Shaikh Albâni has described it as a fabricated 'Hadith'. Obviously, Al-Hasan Basri is a successor of the Companions. His only teachers were the Companions and their venerable successors. It is, therefore, hard to believe that they treated their disciples inappropriately.

249. It was narrated that Abu Hârûn Al-'Abdi said: "When we came to Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri, he would say: 'Welcome, in accordance with the injunction of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, for the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to us: "The people will follow you; they will come to you from all parts of the earth seeking to understand the religion. So when they come to you, take care of them."' (Da’îf)
Chapter 23. Gaining Benefit From Knowledge And Acting In Accordance With It

250. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “One of the supplications that the Prophet used to say was: ‘Allâhumma, inni a’udhu bika min ‘ilmin lâ yanfa’u, wa min du’ain lâ yusma’u, wa min qalbin lâ yakhsha’u, wa min nafsin lâ yashba’u [O Allâh, I seek refuge with You from knowledge that is of no benefit, from a supplication that is not heard, from a heart that does not fear (You) and from a soul that is not satisfied].’”

(Sahîh)

Comments:
a. Beneficial knowledge for which the supplication has been made in the Hadîth, is that knowledge which is also acted upon, since it is the virtuous deeds that are of benefit to a person not only in this world but also in the next.
b. ‘A supplication that is not heard’ means a prayer that is not answered. ‘Seeking refuge from it’ means praying to Allâh to answer all of one’s supplications, and enable him to articulate his supplications with all its precedent conditions, so that they are met with approval. ‘A soul that is not satisfied’ means a soul craving for worldly riches and fame, and position of authority. Yearning for more and more knowledge and not resting satisfied with the present, is the happy trait of a man’s character. That is why we have been commanded to pray to Allâh thus: “O my Lord! Increase me in knowledge.” (20:114)

251. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allâh used to say: ‘Allâhumma, anfa’ni bima ‘allamtani, wa ‘allimni mà yanfa’uni, wa zidni ‘ilman. Wa’t-hamdu Lillâhi ‘ala kulli hâl.’ [O Allâh, benefit me by that which You have taught me, and teach me that which will benefit me, and increase my knowledge.
Praise is to Allah in all circumstances].’” (Da‘īf)

Comments:
Alongside the prayer for grant of useful knowledge, the supplication also includes prayer to the effect that Allah make beneficial the knowledge already granted by Him to the suppling servant.

252. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: ‘The Messenger of Allah س ૆ said: ‘Whoever acquires knowledge by which the pleasure of Allah is sought, but he only acquires it for the purpose of worldly gain, will not smell the fragrance of Paradise on the Day of Resurrection.’’ (Hasan)

Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:
a. ‘Not to be able to smell the fragrance of Paradise’ means that the person under reference shall be far away from Paradise and, not to speak of the sight of Paradise, he shall not even get a scent of it. It so happens in the world that the scent reaches where even the sound cannot. Being so far away from Paradise obviously means that he shall straightaway go to Hell. May Allah protect us all from this!

b. Learning the religious sciences for purposes of material gains has been condemned, because a person with this characteristic would certainly misrepresent the laws of the Shari‘ah for worldly gains, since his sole intention would be to deceive the people and get them to serve his selfish designs. Thus, instead of guidance, he will make himself a carrier of misguidance.

c. Acquiring the knowledge of worldly sciences with the purpose of being able to earn one’s livelihood through lawful means is not included in this condemnation.

253. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Umar that the Messenger of Allâh سُلَّمُ said: “Whoever seeks knowledge in order to argue with the foolish, or to show off before the scholars, or to attract people’s attention, will be in Hell.” (Da‘if)

Comments:

a. Anyone who acquires knowledge without sincerity of intention is generally prompted by such motives as have been mentioned in the Hadîth. His evil intention, therefore, will drive him to Hell.

b. There are people who either want to be more and more famous among the population, and also wish that many titles are added to their names both in speech and writing. Or else their aim is to secure a high position in a religious or political organization. With these aims in view, they use various tactics for the glorification of self, and the degradation of other scholars. The main reason behind all this is their lack of sincerity.

254. It was narrated from Jâbir bin ‘Abdullâh that the Prophet سُلَّمُ said: “Do not seek knowledge in order to show off in front of the scholars, or to argue with the foolish, and do not choose the best seat in a gathering, due to it (i.e. the knowledge which you have learned) for whoever does that, the Fire, the Fire (awaits him).” (Da‘if)

It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that the Prophet ﷺ said: "There will be some people among my Ummah (nation) who will gain knowledge of the religion, and they will recite Qur'ân, and will say: 'We come to the rulers so that we may have some share of their worldly wealth, and we will make sure that our religious commitment is not affected,' but that will not be the case. Just as nothing can be harvested from the Qatâd[1] except thorns, so nothing can be gained from being close to them except (sins)." (Da‘îf)

He said: 'A valley in Hell from which Hell itself seeks refuge four hundred times each day.' It was said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, who will enter it?' He said: 'It has been prepared for reciters of the Qur'ân who want to show off their deeds. The most hateful of reciters of the Qur'ân to Allâh are those who visit the rulers.'" (Da‘îf)

It was narrated that 'Abdullah bin Mas'ud said: "If the people of knowledge had taken care of it and presented it only to those who cared for it, they would have become the leaders of their age by virtue of that. But they squandered it on the people of wealth and status in this world in order to gain some worldly benefit, so the people of wealth and status began to look down on them. I heard your Prophet say: 'Whoever focuses all his concerns on one issue, the concerns of the Hereafter, Allâh will suffice him and spare him the worries of this world. But whoever wanders off in concern over different worldly issues, "

قُلْ: كَيْ أَرْسُلُ اللَّهُ وَمَنْ يُتَّخِذَانِي نَضَالًا؟ قَالُوا: أَعْلَىٰ لِلْقَارِئِينَ أَنْ يَتَّخِذُوهُمْ، وَإِنَّ مِنْ أَبْعَضِ الْقَارِئِينَ إِلَى اللَّهِ الْذَّينَ يَرْكَزُونَ الْأَمْرَاءَ".

(Da‘îf)

Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:

a. The Hadîth tells us that a man must keep an eye on the gains and losses of the Hereafter, even in matters mundane and temporal. A true believer thus sacrifices his worldly benefits for his gains in the Hereafter. Consequently, he relishes, rather than grieve over his worldly losses and sacrifices, and thus becomes secure from all worldly concerns.

b. Neglecting the Hereafter has its evil consequences, even in this world, to the extent that anyone who does it, is always plagued by worries and concerns. He falls into grief at anything that he loses, while a true believer maintains his patience and fortitude for the simple reason that he hopes of a better reward in the Hereafter.

258. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Umar that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever seeks knowledge for a reason other than for the sake of Allâh, or intends it for a purpose other than for the sake of Allâh, let him take his place in Hell.”

(Da‘îf)

259. It was narrated that Hudhaifah said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Do not acquire knowledge in order to show off before the scholars, or to argue with the foolish, or to attract people’s attention, for..."
whoever does that will be in Hell.'’ (Da‘if)

260. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Whoever seeks knowledge in order to argue with the foolish, or to show off before the scholars, or to attract people’s attention, Allâh will admit him to Hell.’’ (Da‘if)

Chapter 24. One Who Is Asked About Knowledge But He Conceals It

261. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "There is no man who memorizes knowledge then conceals it, but he will be brought forth on the Day of Resurrection bridled with reins of fire.” (Hasan)

Another chain with similar wording.
Comments:

a. Imam Khattab is reported as saying: The knowledge under reference is the knowledge that is essential for each Muslim to have, for example the formula of ritual prayer, etc. The warning does not apply to the sciences of secondary importance, such as the knowledge of grammar, logic, philosophy and so on.

b. Reply to a questioner may be avoided if there is reason to believe that the questioner will put that knowledge to unlawful uses.

c. If questions are put to a person in order to test his knowledge, he must be given adequate opportunity to answer according to his knowledge, and no one else should try to help him in that, otherwise the very purpose of the examination will be failed.

262. It was narrated that ‘Abdur-Rahman bin Hurmuz Al-Araj heard Abu Hurairah say: “By Allah, were it not for two Verses in the Book of Allah, I would never have narrated anything from him, meaning from the Prophet ﷺ, were it not for the Words of Allah: Verily, those who conceal what Allah has sent down of the Book, and purchase a small gain therewith (of worldly things), they eat into their bellies nothing but fire. Allah will not speak to them on the Day of Resurrection, nor purify them, and theirs will be a painful torment. Those are they who have purchased error at the price of guidance, and torment at the price of forgiveness. So how bold they are (for evil deeds which will push them) to the Fire.” (Sahih)

Comments:

Ahâdîth reported in the Books of Hadîth from Abu Hurairah are more numerous than those reported by any other Companion. Reasons for this are as follows:

1. Emigrant Companions devoted part of their time to trade activities etc., in order to earn sustenance for themselves and their families through legitimate means. Moreover, most of the Helpers were cultivators, a profession which naturally took up a lot of their time. Abu Hurairah, however, belonged to the group known as Ahlus-Suffah (People of the Platform). He was not concerned about earning his bread. Instead, he devoted all his time to the acquisition of knowledge, by which reason oftentimes he even had to go hungry.

2. Abu Hurairah did not seek knowledge from the Prophet alone. He even turned to other Companions for the knowledge of Ahâdîth etc. in times when the Prophet was either inside his house or busy with other things.

3. Abu Hurairah enjoyed another point of distinction. The Prophet had made a special supplication to Allâh to grant him good retentive memory. (Bukhâri 118 & Muslim: 6085). The Verses mentioned in the body of the Hadîth speak of the sin of concealing knowledge, and the dire punishment awaiting those guilty of it, especially when it is necessary to reveal it.

263. It was narrated that Jâbir said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'When the last people of this Ummah curse the first, (at that time) whoever conceals a Hadîth will be concealing what Allâh has revealed.'" (Maudû')

264. Yusuf bin Ibrâhim said: 'I heard Anas bin Mâlik say: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: “Whoever is asked about knowledge and conceals it will be bridled on the Day of Resurrection with reins of fire.” (Hasan) تخريج: [حسن] قال البصيري: هذا إسناد ضعيف، فيه يوسف بن إبراهيم، قال ابن جراح: روى عن أبيه ما ليس من حديثه، لا تحل الرواية عنه، وانظر، ح: 266.

Comments:

a. The term ‘concealing’ as used here applies to a situation where a person knew the law of the Shari’ah but abstained from narrating it, for the benefit of others, without any reasonable excuse.

b. This confirms the handing down of dire punishment for those who conceal their knowledge.

265. It was narrated that Abu Sa‘eef Khudiri said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Whoever conceals knowledge which Allah has made beneficial for mankind’s affairs of religion, Allah will bridle him with reins of fire on the Day of Resurrection.’” (Da‘iff)

It is also an act of sin to give out a law of Shari'ah without knowledge, simply on the basis of one's personal opinion. It is, however, a different matter if one gives an opinion based on one's independent judgment after he has done his best, but failed to find the answer either in the Qur'ân or in the Sunnah.
Comments:

a. The Arabic word Tahārah literally means:
   (i) to be cleansed of all filth, and
   (ii) to be blameless in word and deed.

b. In the context of the Islamic law, Tahārah means:
   (i) to remove the impurity of Hadath Asghar (minor impurity caused by passing wind or urine, or relieving oneself) by making Wudu' (ablution), and
   (ii) to remove the impurity of Hadath Akbar (major impurity caused by sexual discharge) by making Ghusl (full bath).

The first practical lesson that we learn in Islam is the lesson of Tahārah (cleanliness). In fact, it is a prerequisite ordained by the Messenger of Allāh for the validity of the ritual prayer (Salāt) offered by a believer.

When comparing this elevated system of purification and cleanliness in Islam with the practices of other religionists, it is no wonder that these people feel amazed at the decent system of purity advocated and practised in Islam. According to a famous report, a Jew once said tauntingly to the Companion Salmān Fārūqī: “It is said that your Prophet even teaches you how to secure purity after relieving oneself?” The Companion answered in a tone of perfect self-assurance and ease, “Yes, our Prophet teaches us everything, even the rules of purification after relieving oneself.

Chapter 1. The Quantity Of Water Required For Ablution And Bath In A State Of Sexual Impurity

267. It was narrated that Safinah said: “The Messenger of Allāh used to perform ablution with a Mudd (of water) and bath with a Sa’.”[1] (Sahih)

[1] Mudd is a measure of two thirds of a kilogram (approx.), while Sa’ equals 4 Mudd (3 kilograms approx.).

269. It was narrated from Jâbir that the Messenger of Allâh used to perform ablution with a Mudd (of water) and bath with a Sâ'. (Sahih)

Comments:
By answering so, 'Aqil means to say that if excessive use of water is intended to secure purification and cleanliness, then the Prophet presented a perfect example of it. If it means taking extra caution, then the

Therefore, your excessive use of water was either the result of your inclination for doubting and satanic whisperings, or of your disposition to extravagance, which must be avoided.

Chapter 2. Allâh Does Not Accept Salât (Prayer) Without Purification

Comments:

The Arabic word Tahârah (cleanliness) or Tahur here means Wudu (ablution) and Ghusl (bath). It is a prerequisite for the ritual prayer that the worshipper be free of both the minor and major impurities in addition to any other apparent filth. And just as one is required to be mindful of the lawful and the unlawful mode of expenditure, he must also be cautious about the lawful and unlawful ways of earning his wealth.

272. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Umar said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Allâh does not accept any prayer without

Chapter 3. The Key To Prayer Is Purification

275. It was narrated from Muhammad bin Al-Hanafiyyah that his father said: "The Messenger of Allâh (Saw) said: 'The key to prayer is purification, its opening is to say 'Allâhu Akbar' and its closing is to say As-salâmü 'alaikum.'" (Hasan)
The Chapters Of Purification...

Comments:

a. Just as no lock is opened without a key, there is also no entering into prayer without freedom from minor and major impurities. This shows that cleanliness is a prerequisite for prayer.

b. Pronouncing the formula of Allâh's greatness (Allâhu Akbar) signals the banning of all things incompatible with prayer. This is why the formula pronounced at the start of the prayer is called Takbir At-Tahrim (formula of prohibition).

c. All restrictions imposed by the utterance of the Takbir At-Tahrim are waived when the worshipper, at the close of his prayer utters the words As-salamu 'alaikum. That is why this action is known as Tahlil (legalizing or loosening), which means that all those things that were specifically prohibited during the prayer are now permissible again.

276. It was narrated from Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “The key to prayer is purification, its opening is to say Allâhu Akbar and its closing is to say As-salamu 'alaikum.” (Hasan)

277. It was narrated that Thawbân said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Adhere to righteousness even though you will not be able to do all acts of virtue. Know that the best of your deeds is Salât (prayer) and that no one maintains his ablution except a believer.’” (Hasan)

Chapter 4. Maintaining One’s Ablution
The Chapters Of Purification ...

Comments:

a. ‘Adherence to the righteousness’ means adherence to the path of Islam.

b. ‘You will not be able to do all acts of virtue’ means none of you would be able to stick to the path of virtue in a manner that all deviations and shortcomings are banished from your life. Nor is it possible for you to offer your obeisance and remembrance to Allâh as would be commensurate with His supernal glory and majesty.

c. Maintenance of ablution or the nullification of it, is a state of being which no one else but the person concerned would generally know, and it could easily be kept hidden from others. It could only be taken due care of by the firm belief that, no matter whether others know it or not, Allâh surely knows it.

d. Imân is a matter of the heart. It finds expression in actions and deeds. And we have been told that the most important of all virtuous deeds is the prayer. Obligatory prayer (Salât) is of so much importance that it has been described as a dividing line between belief and disbelief. No wonder then, that prayer has been described as the highest attribute of the pious and the foremost condition for prosperity in the Hereafter.

278. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin ‘Amr said: “The Messenger of Allâh سلسلة said: ‘Adhere to righteousness even though you will not be able to do all acts of virtue. Know that among the best of your deeds is prayer and that no one maintains his ablution except a believer.’”

(Hasan)

279. It was narrated that Abu Umâmah said, in a Marfu’ Hadith:[1] “Adhere to righteousness and it is a blessing if you are able to do so. Know that the best of your deeds is prayer and that no one maintains his ablution except a believer.”

(Hâfiz)

[1] That is, a Traceable Hadith attributed to the Prophet ﷺ.
Chapter 5. Ablution Is Half Of Faith

280. It was narrated from Abu Mâlik Ash'âri that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Performing ablution properly"[^1] is half of faith, saying Al-Hamdu Lillâh fills the Scale (of good deeds), saying Subhân-Allâh and Allâhu Akbar fills the heavens and the earth, prayer is light, Zakât is proof, patience is brightness and the Qur'ân is proof for you or against you. Every person goes out in the morning to sell his soul, so he either frees it or destroys it." (Sahîh)

Comments:

a. The term Scale here means the side of the Scale that weighs the good deeds done by a man. The formula Al-Hamdu Lillâh (praise is to Allâh) is not only an expression of praise for Allâh, but also an affirmation of the fact that He is the possessor of all those sublime attributes that are commensurate with His glory and majesty. Not only this, all the praiseworthy qualities found anywhere in the creatures are also created and invested in the creatures by Him. This is another aspect of His magnificence, deserving all praise.

b. Subhân-Allâh Glorified is Allâh means that Allâh is exempt from all those matters, actions and attributes that are unbecoming His majesty and glory.

c. Prayer has been dubbed as light because it keeps the worshippers from [^1]: Performing ablution properly means either covering all required areas completely, or, washing them three times, and the scholars have elaborated upon it. See no. 426.

indulging in acts of sin.

d. Giving Zakāt (obligatory sharing of wealth with the poor) is a proof that the man in question is sincere in his profession of faith.

e. Patience means (i) perseverance in obeying Allāh’s commands and steadfastness in the doing of good, (ii) adhering to the principle of piety in the face of worldly temptations of lust and sin, and (iii) abstaining from falling prey to evils, like bewailing and grieving over mishaps and misfortunes, as well as keeping away from other acts of sin.

f. Man’s salvation in the Hereafter is linked to his deeds. This has been illustrated in the Ḥadīth by means of a parable, which says that when man starts his day, open before him are both the options — of good and of evil.
Now, it is for the man to decide whether to sell his soul to Allāh or to the Devil. Thus, anyone who chooses the path of virtue and does good deeds, he certainly secures his salvation. But the one who surrenders his reins to Satan and does his biddings, brings about his own ruin.

Chapter 6. The Reward For Purification

281. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘When anyone of you performs ablution and does it well, then he comes to the mosque for no other purpose than prayer, he does not take one step but Allāh will raise him one degree (in status) thereby, and remove one sin from him thereby, until he enters the mosque.’”
(Sahīh)

تخريج: [صحيح] وهو متفق عليه في حديث أطول منه، وسيأتي طرفة: 77

Comments:

a. Greater reward is promised for those who perform their ablution and do it well.

b. Sometimes when a man comes to the mosque, his intention is to meet someone or to do some other necessary work. In addition to that, he also performs his prayer in the mosque. Of course this does not decrease his reward of the prayer, but if his coming out from the house were solely for the purpose of the prayer, his reward would be much more.

c. It is much more preferable to come to the mosque having performed the ablution at one’s home, or shop, or office.
282. It was narrated from `Abdullâh As-Sunâbîhi that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said:

"Whoever performs ablution and rinses his mouth and nose, his sins will exit through his mouth and nose. When he washes his face, his sins will exit from his face, even from beneath his eyelids. When he washes his hands, his sins will exit from his hands. When he wipes his head, his sins will exit from his head, and even from his ears. When he washes his feet, his sins will exit from his feet, even from beneath his toenails. Then his prayer and his walking towards the mosque will earn extra merit for him." (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The exiting of the sins means the forgiving of sins by Allâh.
b. Sins forgiven through ablution are generally the minor sins. Major sins are forgiven through sincere repentance, or else Allâh in His infinite mercy may pardon them. However, in case the sins had a bearing on the rights of others, their forgiveness depends upon remedying those grievances, or on being pardoned by the aggrieved party or parties.

283. It was narrated that `Amr bin 'Abasah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘When a person performs ablution and washes his hands, his sins exit through his hands. When he washes his face, his sins exit through his face. When he washes his forearms and wipes his head, his sins exit through his forearms and head. When he washes his feet, his sins exit through his feet.’” (Hasan)
The Chapters Of Purification

Comments:
Sins of the hands are the sins of acts either neglected or committed by the hands. Likewise, the sins of the face are the sins related to uttering improper words, or giving ear to things that were not fit to be heard, and so on. If it is just a mistake or slip on the part of the person concerned, then it is a minor sin that would be removed through ablution. In case it is a deliberate and preplanned act, then it is a major sin for which repentance is an essential requirement.

284. 'Abdullāh bin Mas‘ūd said: “It was said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh, how will you recognize those whom you have not seen of your Ummah?’ He said: ‘From the blazes on their foreheads and feet, like horses with black and white traces (which make them distinct from others) which are the traces of ablution.’” (Hasan)

Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:
a. This shows the excellence of the followers of the Prophet, since their distinguishing mark would be a blazing light on their parts of the body washed in ablution.
b. The blaze of light on the parts of body would be generated by the performance of ablution. It means that the Muslims neglecting their prayer shall be deprived of this blessed glow, so they would be indistinguishable from non-Muslims. There can be no greater misfortune for a person calling himself a Muslim, that the Prophet refuses to recognize him as such.
285. Humrân the freed slave of 'Uthmân bin 'Affân said: “I saw 'Uthmân bin 'Affân sitting in Maqâ'îd."[1] He called for water and he performed ablution, then he said: 'I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ sitting in this place where I am sitting, performing ablution as I have done. Then he said: "Whoever performs ablution as I have done, his previous sins will be forgiven."’ And the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “And do not be conceited (due to this great virtue).” (Sahih)

Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:
‘Do not be conceited or deceived’ means that the promise of such a great reward for an act of virtue might make you contented, or neglectful of other virtuous deeds or, maybe, you start taking the acts of sin lightly under the illusion that the ablution would wash off all of your sins. This kind of contentment is in itself an act of sin. Nor should anyone allow the illusion to go into his head that he is the most virtuous or blameless of all his fellow human beings.

Chapter 7. Tooth Stick

286. It was narrated that Hudhaifah said: “Whenever the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ got up for prayer at night to pray Tahajjud (night optional prayer), he would clean his mouth with the tooth stick.” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The mouth and the tongue are the tools of pronouncing the glory of Allāh. It is, therefore, necessary for all of us to be particular about their cleanliness and purity. That is the reason why ablution has been declared as a precondition for the performance of prayers, since it contains both the elements connected with the purity of mouth, namely rinsing and using tooth stick.

b. Sleep creates a kind of foul smell in the mouth that needs to be removed through rinsing the mouth and use of tooth stick, regardless of whether a person gets up to offer Tahajjud (optional midnight prayer) or Fajr (obligatory dawn prayer).

287. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘Were it not that it would be too difficult for my Ummah (nation), I would have commanded them to use the tooth stick at every time of prayer.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. ‘Were it not that it would be too difficult’ means the Prophet ﷺ feared that it might become too difficult for his followers to comply with his orders, since there could be occasions when the tooth stick might not be available, or at least not easily available.

b. ‘Would have commanded’ means that he would have made the use of tooth stick compulsory, since it still enjoys the status of a recommended act. It is not, however, a prerequisite for the validity of ablution.

c. The words 'At every time of prayer' means that if the tooth stick was not used before ablution it would have been ordered to use it just before entering the prayer.

288. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbás said: "The Messenger of Allâh used to pray in the night (Qiyâm al-Layl) two Rak'âhs by two, then when he finished he would use the tooth stick." (Da'îf)

Comments:

a. As regards the prayer of Tahâjjud, the Prophet ﷺ was most often used to perform two Rak'âhs by two, until he made a total of eleven Rak'âhs including the Witr prayer.

b. As has already been mentioned, the Prophet ﷺ often used a tooth stick even while preparing for the prayer of Tahâjjud (see H. 286). Here it is mentioned that he used to do it even after each two Rak'âhs.

289. It was narrated from Abu Umâmah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Use the tooth stick, for the tooth stick purifies the mouth and is pleasing to the Lord. Jibrîl never came to me but he advised me to use the tooth stick, until I feared that it would be made obligatory for me and my Ummah. Were it not that I fear that it would be too difficult for my Ummah, I would have enjoined it upon them. And I use the tooth stick until I fear that I may make the front of my mouth sore. (i.e. my gums) (or cause my teeth to fall out due to brushing them so often)." (Da'îf)
290. It was narrated from Miqdam bin Shuraih bin Hani' that his father said: "I said to 'Aishah: 'Tell me, what was the first thing that the Messenger of Allah did when he entered upon you?' She said: 'The first thing he would do would be to use the tooth stick.'" (Sahih)

Comments:
a. This shows that even outside the prayer timings the Prophet used the tooth stick quite frequently.
b. Some of the scholars of Fiqh (jurisprudence) have added certain conditions with regard to the use of the tooth stick. They say, for example, that the tooth stick must be of the length of one span, or that one must not do it without drenching it in water, and so on. Nothing of these assertions is supported by any evidence or proof.

291. It was narrated that 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib said: "Your mouths are the paths of the Qur'an, so perfume them with the tooth stick." (Da'if)

Comments:
a. It is a Mawquf (Discontinued) Hadith since it is the saying of a Companion, not of the Prophet. Nevertheless, the merits of the tooth stick are proved even from Marfu' (Traceable) Ahâdith, i.e. from Ahâdith traceable back to the Prophet in ascending order.
b. 'Mouths are the paths of the Qur'an' means that, mouths are the media in reciting the noble words of the Qur'an. It is, therefore, necessary that the mouths be in a state of purity at the time of the recitation of the Noble Book.
Chapter 8. The Fitrah
(Natural Inclination Of Man)

292. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'The deeds connected to the Fitrah are five (or five things are connected to the Fitrah): circumcision, shaving the pubic hairs, clipping the nails, plucking the armpit hairs and trimming the mustache.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Fitrah means the things that are part of a religion which are in perfect harmony with the demands of nature and, therefore, part of the Sunnah and Shari'ah of all the Prophets of Allah that have gone before.

b. Circumcision means to remove the prepuce (the foreskin or the fold of skin that covers the head of the male organ) so that the head of the organ is bared. The process has great medical advantage because the filth collected inside the foreskin, if not removed, might breed various diseases.

c. Plucking the hair of the armpit is a Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ. The act of plucking keeps the hair from growing again for a considerable period of time although shaving it also serves the purpose of achieving purity.

d. Nails, if left to grow, also tend to collect filth. It is, therefore, in the interest of cleanliness that they be clipped.

e. Growing the mustache was a custom of the non-Arab polytheists. Arabs also contracted this evil habit from them. The Prophet ﷺ enjoined that it be closely trimmed, but the Hadith only speaks of trimming, and not of shaving it.

293. It was narrated that ‘Āishah said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'Ten things are connected to the Fitrah: trimming the mustache, letting the beard grow, using the tooth stick, rinsing out the nostrils with water, clipping the nails, washing the joints, plucking the armpit hairs, shaving the pubic hairs, washing the private parts with water.'" (Sahih)
The Chapters Of Purification ... 263

(One of the narrators) Zakariyyā said: “Mus‘ab said: ‘I have forgotten the tenth thing, but it may have been rinsing out the mouth.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. ‘Letting the beard grow’ means that, unlike the mustache, it should not be trimmed or shaved. Shaving the beard is unlawful and the person doing it is a transgressor, since he violates the dictates of those Ahādīth that make the growing of beard mandatory.
b. Finger joints also collect filth. One, therefore, needs to be particular about cleaning them well during ablution. Similarly, the other parts of the body that are more likely to collect filth need special attention during a bath. It is necessary because, if no special care is taken, bath water at times fails to reach those spots, and the bath remains incomplete.

294. It was narrated from ‘Ammār bin Yāsir that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Part of the Fitrah is rinsing out the mouth, rinsing out the nostrils, using the tooth stick, trimming the mustache, clipping the nails, plucking the armpit hairs, shaving the pubic hairs, washing the joints, washing the private parts and circumcision.” (Da‘īf)

Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:
The Arabic word Intidāh used in the Hadith means the sprinkling of water on the lower garment. But the narrator also used the word Istinja' to clarify that it means 'washing the private parts'. The rationale of the action lies in the fact that, if perchance a drop of urine trickles down the body unintentionally, the person concerned should not feel unduly bothered about it, but persuade himself that the dampness is from the water sprinkled on the lower garment. Anyhow, it is Allâh who knows best.

295. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: "We were given a time limit with regard to trimming the mustache, shaving the pubic hairs, plucking the armpit hairs and clipping the nails. We were not to leave that for more than forty days." (Sahih)

Comments:

The acts must be performed as and when considered necessary. But even if delayed, the delay must not be for more than forty days, otherwise it shall be counted as sin. It should not, however, be construed that it is forbidden to do these acts in less than forty days.

Chapter 9. What Is To Be Said When Entering The Toilet

296. It was narrated that Zaid bin Arqâm said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'These Hushush (waste areas) are visited (by devils), so when anyone of you enters, let him say: 'Allâhumma inni a'udhu bika minal-khubthi wa'l-khabî'th (O Allâh, I seek refuge with You from male and female devils)."' (Sahih)

Other chains with similar wording.
The Chapters Of Purification ...

Comments:

a. 'Male and female devils' means the devils among the Jinn, that take pleasure in teasing humans just for fun.

b. The devils, of impure disposition as they are, only like unclean places. That is why they frequent the toilets.

c. The supplication quoted above must be recited before entering the washroom or lavatory. (See Bukhari: 142.) It is against the rules of decency to articulate supplications inside the lavatory with the tongue. In case a person is going to relieve himself in an open field, let him pronounce the supplication before undressing himself.

297. It was narrated that 'Ali said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'The screen between the Jinn and the nakedness of the sons of Adam is that when a person enters the Kanif [1] he should say: Bismillah (in the Name of Allah).’’’ (Da’if).

Comments:

It means that it is also necessary to say Bismillah along with the abovementioned supplication in Hadith 296. Alternatively, one may first say Bismillah, then recite the supplication.

298. It was narrated that Anas bin Malik said: "Whenever the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ entered the toilet, he would say: 'A‘udhu Billâhi minal-khubuthi wa'l-khabâ‘ith (I seek refuge with Allâh from male and female devils).’” (Sahîh)

Chapter 10. What Is To Be Said When Exiting The Toilet

299. It was narrated from Abu Umâmah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “None of you should fail to say, when he enters his toilet: ‘Allahumma inni a‘udhu bika minar-rijsin-najis, al-khabithil-mukhbîth, ash-Shaitânir-rajim (O Allâh, I seek refuge with You from the filthy and impure, the evil one with evil companions, the accursed Shaitân).’” (Dâ‘if)

Another chain with a slightly different wording from Ibn Abi Maryam who mentioned similar, but he did not say in his narration: “Minar-rijsin-najis (From the filthy and impure)” he only said: “Minal-khabithil-mukhbîth, ash-Shaitânir-rajim (From the evil one with evil companions, the accursed Shaitân)”

Comments:

a. Asking forgiveness from Allâh after relieving oneself is recommended, because clearly the person concerned was unable to recite words of the remembrance of Allâh during that period of time. Imputing this failure by the person to himself, although for reasons involuntary, is a part of etiquette and respect for the Creator. Hence the appeal for forgiveness. Another likely explanation is that freeing the body of impurity is a great favor from Allâh which must be acknowledged and thanked for. And since we cannot thank our Benevolent Lord as much as we should, we ask Him for forgiveness.

b. The supplication under reference is to be offered after exiting the toilet. In case the person had used an open field for the purpose, the prayer should be offered by the person after he has properly dressed up himself.

301. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: “When aver the Prophet ﷺ exited the toilet, he would say: ‘Al-hamdu lillâhi adthhaba ‘annial-adha wa ‘afâni (Praise is to Allâh Who has relieved me of impurity and given me good health).’” (Da’îf)

302. ‘Urwah narrated from ‘Àishah that the Messenger of Alläh used to remember Alläh in all circumstances. (Sahih)

Comments:
a. ‘Remembering Alläh in all circumstances’ means that the Prophet used to remember Alläh at all times regardless of whether he was in a state of ablution or not. What we infer from the Hadith is that, in order to remember Alläh with the tongue, we do not have to follow all those rules of purity that are a prerequisite for the ritual prayer.
b. ‘In all circumstances and times’ could also mean that, unlike the prayer that is undesirable (Makruh) to perform at certain hours, there is no such restriction on engaging in the remembrance of Alläh.

303. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that when the Prophet entered the toilet, he would take off his ring. (Da‘îf)

Comments:
The Hadith is not only weak but Munkar (Denounced) as well. An authentic Hadith has only this; that the Prophet had a silver ring made for himself, but later on he took it off. (See Sunan Abu Dâ‘wûd, 19). We cannot, therefore, say for sure as to whether or not the Prophet used to take off his ring while entering the toilet. Anyhow, etiquette demands that a ring or a book with Allâh’s Name inscribed or written in it must not be taken inside the lavatory.

Chapter 12. It is Undesirable (Makruh) To Urinate In The Place For Washing

304. It was narrated that ‘Abdullâh bin Mughaffal said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘None of you should urinate in his wash area for most of the insinuating thoughts[1] come from that.’” (Da’îf)

Abu ‘Abdullâh bin Mâjah said: (“Abul-Hasan said: ‘I heard Muhammad bin Yazid[2] saying: “Ali bin Muhammad At-Tanâfisî said: This (prohibition) applies to cases where the ground (in the place used for washing) was soft. But nowadays this does not apply, because the baths you use now are built of plaster, Sârij[3] and tar; so if a person urinates there then pours water over it, that clears it away, and that is fine.’”

Comments:

When all is said and done, it must still be considered a part of the manners and respect for the Sunnah of the Noble Prophet ﷺ that we avoid urinating in the wash area.

[1] i.e., doubts about whether the urine has touched him and made him impure.
[2] That is Ibn Mâjah, being a statement from one of the manuscripts.
Chapter 13. Urinating While Standing

305. It was narrated from Hudhaifah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came to the garbage dump of some people and he urinated on it standing up.

(Sahih)

Comments:

a. The best way to urinate is to do it in a sitting position. It was a part of the Prophet’s normal practice to urinate while sitting.

b. On this occasion the Prophet ﷺ is reported to have urinated in the standing position. Maybe, his intention was to show to the Ummah that this was also permissible, so that a hard pressed man, obliged to do so, does not suffer from guilt-consciousness. There is also the possibility that the Prophet ﷺ himself was faced with a situation where he feared to defile his clothes if he did it in a sitting position, or maybe he found it too difficult to sit down at that hour. However, Allâh knows best of all. It is nevertheless essential that all of us take due precaution lest a splash of urine should defile our clothing.

306. Shu’bah narrated from ‘Âsim, from Abu Wâ’il, from Mughirah bin Shu’bah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came to the garbage dump of some people and urinated standing up.

(Hasan)

Shu’bah said: “That day, ‘Âsim said: ‘Amash reported this from Abu Wâ’il, from Hudhaifah, but he did not remember it (correctly). So I asked Mansur about it, and he narrated it to me from Abu Wâ’il, from Hudhaifah, that the Prophet ﷺ came to a...

Chapter 14. Urinating While Sitting

307. It was narrated that 'Aishah said: "If anyone tells you that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ urinated while standing, do not believe him, for I (always) saw him urinating while sitting down." (Hasan)

Comments:

Denial by 'Aishah ﷺ is based on her personal knowledge and observation, because inside the house, the Prophet ﷺ always urinated in the sitting position and inside the toilet. In the preceding Hadith, however, Hudhaifah ﷺ described what he had seen at the outside, of which the Mother of the Believers was not aware. Both of them are, therefore, right in their respective descriptions.

308. It was narrated that 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saw me urinating while standing, and he said: 'O 'Umar, do not urinate standing up.' So I never urinated whilst standing after that." (Da’if)

309. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ forbade us to urinate through urogenital openings through a shirt or underclothing..."
while standing.” (Da'if)

I heard Muhammad bin Yazid, Abu 'Abdullâh,[1] say: “I heard Ahmad bin 'Abdur-Rahmân Al-Makhzumi say: ‘Sufyân Ath-Thawri said concerning the Hadîth of 'Âishah - 'I (always) saw him urinating whilst sitting down' - a man knows more about that (about such matters) than she.' Ahmad bin 'Abdur-Rahmân said: ‘It was the custom of the Arabs to urinate standing up. Do you not see that in the Hadîth of 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Hasanah it was said: 'He sits down to urinate as a woman does.'”[2]

Comments: 308 & 309

Both the above Ahâdîth are Weak. As such no cognizance can be taken of them, and no interdiction on urinating in the standing position can be proved from them. There is, however, no doubt that the Prophet's normal practice was to urinate in the sitting position. As such the believers should follow this practice. The main issue in this context is to avoid defiling one's clothes from the splash of urine. Failure to take care of that is not pardonable, since there are strict warnings against it in the Hadîth of the Prophet.

Chapter 15: It Is Undesirable (Makruh) To Touch The Penis And To Clean Oneself With The Right Hand

310. 'Abdullâh bin Abu Qatâdah said: “My father told me that he heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: ‘When anyone of you urinates, let him not touch his penis with his right hand nor clean himself with his right hand.’” (Sahih)

Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:

It is one of the features of the Islamic culture that purity and cleanliness occupy such a prominent place in it. The culture even teaches us as to how we are to cleanse ourselves after satisfying relieving ourselves. This Hadith, in particular, gives us the useful direction that we are not to use the right hand for cleaning the secret parts of our body, or even for touching those parts.

311. It was narrated that ‘Uqbah bin Suhbân said: “I heard ‘Uthmân bin ‘Affân say: ‘I never sang a song or told a lie or touched my penis with my right hand after I swore on oath of allegiance to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ to that effect.’” (Da’ā’if)

312. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘When anyone of you cleans himself, he should not clean himself with his right hand. Let him clean himself with his left hand.’” (Hasan)
Chapter 16. Cleaning Oneself With Stones, And The Prohibition Of Using Dung And Bones

313. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'I am to you like a father to his son, and I teach you. So when you go to relieve yourselves, do not face the Qiblah or turn your backs towards it.' He ordered us to use three pebbles, and he forbade us to use dung and bones, and he forbade cleaning oneself with the right hand." (Hasan)

Comments:

a. It is not allowed for a person going out to urinate or relieve himself, either to sit facing the Qiblah, or turning his back towards it. Scholars consider the ruling applicable to the open areas and fields, since sitting inside the lavatory with the back turned towards the Qiblah is proved from the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ himself. (Bukhari: 148 & Muslim: 266)

b. Prophet's order to use three pebbles for cleansing is meant to ensure greater degree of purity. In case one is using water for purification, then there is no need to use the pebbles or lumps of clay. Interdiction on the use of dung and bones for purification stems from the fact that Allāh has willed that they be the food of the jinn.

314. It was narrated from 'Abdullāh bin Mas'ūd: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ went to the toilet and said: 'Bring me three stones.' So I brought him two stones and a piece of dung. He took the two stones and threw the dung away, saying: 'It is..."
impure.” (Sahih)

We can deduce from the Hadith that in case only two stones or lumps of clay are available, they are enough for the purpose, although it is preferable to use three lumps or stones for purification.

315. It was narrated that Khuzaimah bin Thabit said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘For cleaning yourself you need three stones, no one of them being dung.’” (Da’if)

Comments:

The term Raji’ used in the Hadith includes both the dung and the excrement. Here it has been translated as dung. And since even the dung is ruled out for the purpose of cleaning, interdiction on the use of human excrement can very well be understood or surmised.

316. Salmân said that one of the idolaters said to him, while they were making fun of him: “I see that your companion (the Prophet ﷺ) is teaching you everything, even how to relieve yourselves?” He said: “Yes indeed. He has ordered us not to face the Qiblah (prayer direction) nor to clean ourselves with our right hands, and not to be content with anything less than three stones, which are not to include any excrement or bones.” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The religion of Islam is in perfect harmony with nature. Hence it is that it has not neglected any aspect of human life. Even on matters often considered as taboo there is enough guidance for us in Islam.
b. The four things that form part of the lavatory etiquette mentioned by Salmān Al-Fārīsī conclusively prove the superiority of the Islamic culture over others. The concept of reverence for respective Qiblah is there in other faiths as well, but the detailed instructions in the matter that exist in Islam are missing in them. Avoiding to face, while defecating, the Qiblah that is used as direction for the prayers, clearly demonstrates the reverence that Muslims attach to it. No such concept of reverence for the Qiblah is in evidence either among the Jews or the Christians. Particularizing the left and right hands for different purposes is also the specialty of the Islamic culture.

Chapter 17. The Prohibition Of Facing The Qiblah When Defecating Or Urinating

317. ‘Abdullāh bin Hārīth bin Jaz’ Az-Zubā‘īdī said: “I am the first one who heard the Prophet ﷺ say: ‘No one among you should urinate facing towards the Qiblah,’ and I am the first one who told the people of that.” (Sahih)
Messenger of Allah forbid the person who went to the Gha'it to face the Qiblah. He said: 'Face towards the east or the west.' (Sahih)

Comments: 317 & 318:

As will be evident from the Ahadith of the next chapter, the interdiction only applies to open places. In cases where the toilets are constructed facing that direction, it is allowed to sit in them. However, it is preferable not to make them facing towards the Qiblah initially.

319. It was narrated that Ma'qil bin Abu Ma'qil Al-Asadi, who was a Companion of the Prophet, said: "The Messenger of Allah forbade us from facing either of the two Qiblah when defecating or urinating." (Da'if)

320. It was narrated from Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh: "Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudâri narrated to me, that he bears witness that the Messenger of Allah forbade facing the Qiblah when defecating or urinating." (Sahih)

[1] Gha'it refers to defecation, and to the hole in which one defecates.
[2] This applied specifically to the people of Al-Madinah because the Qiblah for them was towards the south.
Comments:

The expression 'He bears witness' means that he bears the testimony that the Prophet ﷺ did forbid facing the Qiblah while urinating or defecating. The tone of the speech used by the narrator has been adopted to make the narration more forceful. It is also meant to convey the idea that the narrator has heard it firsthand from the Prophet ﷺ, without the intervention of any other Companion.

321. It was narrated that Jābir heard Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri say: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ forbade me from drinking while standing and from urinating while facing the Qiblah." (Sahih)

Comments:

The Hadith forbids the people from drinking water in the standing position. Some of the scholars take this prohibition as not punishable, which means that drinking water while standing up, although permissible, is by no means the best option.

Chapter 18. Permission Concerning That In The (Constructed) Toilet And Permitting It Anywhere Except In The Desert

322. ‘Abdullâh bin ‘Umar said: "People say: 'When you sit to relieve yourself, do not face the Qiblah.' But one day I climbed up onto the roof of our house, and I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ sitting on two bricks (to relieve himself), facing the direction of Baitul-Maqdis (Jerusalem)." This is a Hadith narrated by Yazid bin Hârun. (Sahîh)

Comments:

a. This was the apartment of the Mother of the Believers Hafsah ﷺ the sister of the narrator of the Hadith ‘Abdullâh bin ‘Umar ﷺ. (see Bukhârî: 148) The narrator described the house as his own because it was his sister’s house.

b. The words ‘I saw the Messenger of Allâh’ does not mean that Ibn ‘Umar saw the Prophet ﷺ without a screen covering him. The fact of the matter is that the toilet wall being not very high he was able to see the Prophet’s head, which indicated that the Prophet ﷺ was sitting with his back towards the House of Allâh and face towards the Baitul-Maqdis (Jerusalem). As for the mud bricks, Ibn ‘Umar already knew that they were there. (See Fathul-Bâri (Eng.) p. 28/1).

323. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Umar said: “I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ in his (constructed) toilet, facing towards the Qiblah.”
(Da’îf)

(One of the narrators) ‘Eisa said:
“I told that to Sha’bi, and he said:
‘Ibn ‘Umar spoke the truth and Abu Hurairah spoke the truth. As for the words of Abu Hurairah, he said: ‘In the desert do not face the Qiblah nor turning one’s back towards it.’” As for the words of Ibn ‘Umar, he said: “In the (constructed) toilet there is no Qiblah so turn in whatever direction you want.”
Another chain with similar wording.

324. It was narrated that ‘Aishah said: “Mention was made in the presence of the Messenger of Allah of some people who did not like to face towards the Qiblah with their private parts.” [1] He said: I think that they do that. Turn my seat (in the toilet) to face the Qiblah.” (Da’if)
Another chain with similar wording.

325. It was narrated that Jâbir said: “The Messenger of Allah forbade facing the Qiblah when urinating. But I saw him, one year before he died, facing the Qiblah (while urinating).” (Hasan)

Comments: 324 & 325
Jâbir’s narration seems to suggest that the prohibition on facing the Qiblah was subsequently abrogated. But if the prohibition may be taken as applying only to the open fields, or it be construed that facing the Qiblah is permissible although avoiding it is preferable, then the question of abrogation will not arise.

Chapter 19. Cleaning Oneself After Urinating

326. It was narrated from 'Eisa bin Yazdād Al-Yamānī that his father said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘When anyone of you urinates, let him squeeze his penis three times (to remove the remaining urine drops).’” (Da‘īf)

Another chain with similar wording.

Chapter 20. One Who Urinates And Does Not Use Water

327. It was narrated that 'Aishah said: “The Prophet ﷺ went out to urinate, and 'Umar followed him with water. He said: ‘What is this, O 'Umar?’ He said, ‘Water.’ He said: 'I have not been commanded to perform ablution every time I urinate. If I did that it would have become a Sunnah.’” (Da‘īf) ٤٢٣ من حديث عبد الله بن يحيى التوأم، وهو ضعيف كما في التقرير.

Chapter 21. Prohibition Of Urinating In The Middle Of The Street

328. Abu Sa’eed Al-Himyari narrated that Mu’adh bin Jabal used to narrate something that the Companions of the Messenger of Allah had not heard, and he used to keep quiet about what they had heard. News of this report reached ‘Abdullah bin ‘Amr, and he said: “By Allah, I never heard the Messenger of Allah say this, and Mu’adh will put you into difficulty with regard to relieving yourself.” News of that reached Mu’adh, so he met with him (‘Abdullah). Mu’adh said: “O ‘Abdullah! Denying a Hadith from the Messenger of Allah is hypocrisy, and its sin is upon the one who said it (if it is not true). I did indeed hear the Messenger of Allah say: ‘Beware of the three things which provoke curses: Relieving oneself in watering places, in places of shade and in the middle of the street.’” (Da’if)

Comments:

a. The term ‘watering places’ means banks of ponds or rivers etc., frequented by the people for their needs of water or other purposes.

b. The Prophet’s command to avoid relieving oneself in ‘the middle of the street’ is meant to spare the passers by possible inconvenience.
329. It was narrated that Jābir bin 'Abdullāh said: "The Messenger of Allāh  said: 'Beware of stopping to rest and praying in the middle of the road, for it is the refuge of snakes and carnivorous animals, and beware of relieving yourselves in the middle of the road, for this is an act that provokes curses.'" (Da‘if)

Comments:

At night time when traffic comes to a halt on the streets, insects and carnivorous animals come out of their hiding and pass through the streets. So, if someone chooses to sleep there he runs the risk of being stung or bitten by scorpions and snakes etc.

330. Sālim narrated from his father that the Prophet forbade praying in the middle of the road, or defecating there, or urinating. (Da‘if)

Chapter 22. Going Far Away When Relieving Oneself Out Of Doors

331. It was narrated that Mughirah bin Shu‘b‘ah said: "Whenever the Prophet went to relieve himself, he would go far away." (Hasan)
Comments:

Hiding the private parts from the view of others is mandatory at all times. Therefore, it would be best to take shelter behind a tree or wall provided that there is no forbidding factor there, namely the tree is not used as a resting place by the people.

332. It was narrated that Anas said: "I was with the Prophet \(\text{صلى الله عليه وسلم}\) on a journey. He went away to relieve himself, then he came and called for water and performed ablution." (\textit{Da\'if})

Comments:

a. This Hadith is again about going away from the view of others for purposes of relieving oneself.

b. Defecation and urination are the nullifiers of ablution. Therefore, if one feels the need for doing ablution for certain acts, let him do it. Otherwise, performing ablution is not necessary.

333. It was narrated from Ya\'la bin Murrah that when the Prophet \(\text{صلى الله عليه وسلم}\) went to relieve himself, he would go far away. (\textit{Hasan})

Comments:

The previous hadith (331) is related to this Hadith. It was narrated: "Abdul-Rahman bin Abu Qura\'d said: "I went for \textit{Hajj} with the Prophet \(\text{صلى الله عليه وسلم}\), and he went far away to relieve himself." (\textit{Hasan})
335. It was narrated that Jābir said: "We went out on a journey with the Messenger of Allāh and the Messenger of Allāh would not relieve himself until he had disappeared and could not be seen by anyone." (Dā'if)

336. It was narrated from Bilāl bin Al-Hārith Al-Muzani that when the Messenger of Allāh wanted to relieve himself, he would go far away. (Hassan)

Chapter 23. Looking For A Place To Defecate Or Urinate

337. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet said: "Whoever uses stones to clean himself, let him use an odd number of stones. Whoever does that has done well, and whoever does not, there is no harm in it. Whoever uses a toothpick should spit out (whatever he removes) and whoever removes (the particle of food) by dislodging it with his tongue should swallow it.
Whoever does that has done well, and whoever does not, there is no harm in it. Whoever goes to the toilet should conceal himself, and if he cannot find anything except a pile of sand (behind which to conceal himself), then he should use that, for the Shaitān plays with the backside of the son of Ādām. Whoever does that has done well, and whoever does not, there is no harm in it.’’ (Da‘if)

338. A similar report was narrated by ‘Abdul-Mālik bin As-Sabbāh with a similar chain, with the additional words: “Whoever applies kohl to his eyes, let him add it an odd number of times. Whoever does that has done well, and whoever does not, there is no harm in it. And whoever dislodges (a particle of food from between the teeth) by dislodging it with his tongue, let him swallow it.’’ (Da‘if)

339. It was narrated from Ya‘la bin Murrah that his father said: “I was with the Prophet on a journey, and he wanted to relieve himself. He said to me: ‘Go to those two small date-palm trees and tell them: ‘The Messenger of Allāh orders you to come together.’’’ So they came together and he concealed himself behind them, and relieved himself. Then he said to me: ‘Go to them and tell them: “Go back, each one of you, to your places.”’ So I said that to them and they went back.”

(Hasan)

Comments:

It is one of the miracles of the Prophet that, for his sake, Allah moved the trees from their places, then made them go back where they were before. It is also noteworthy that the Messenger of Allah did not address the trees himself directly, but the message was conveyed through a Companion, and the trees obeyed him. This is a supernatural happening (a sort of miracle or Karâmah) performed by a Companion.

340. It was narrated that `Abdullâh bin Ja'far said: “The thing that the Prophet most liked to conceal himself behind when relieving himself was a hillock or a stand of date-palm trees.” (Sahih)

Comments:

It is in order to relieve oneself behind a tree, provided that it is not a fruit tree. Dates are picked at a certain time of the year from the tree. Therefore, no one has any need to go to it and pluck its fruit in other seasons. As regards the shade, the date-palm garden is good for the purpose but the individual tree is not considered worthwhile for it. Nevertheless, trees of small height, not yet attained the stage of bearing fruit are good providers of shade.

341. It was narrated that Ibn `Abbâs said: “The Messenger of Allah turned towards a mountain pass and urinated, until I took pity on him because of the Chapter 24. The Prohibition Of Gathering Or Talking In The Toilet

342. It was narrated from Abu Sa’eed Khudri that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “No two people should converse while relieving themselves, each of them looking at the private parts of the other, for Allâh, the Mighty and Sublime, hates that.” (Da’if)

Other chains with similar wording.

 Comments:

a. There is some weakness in this chain of the Hadith. Nevertheless this very Hadith is also reported on the authority of ‘Abdullâh bin ‘Umar ﷺ and Jâbir which is considered sound. (Sahih Al-Jâmi‘ As-Sahîr: 6013)

b. A person who has uncovered his private parts must avoid conversing with the others, it being against the principle of modesty. That is why it is tantamount to incurring the wrath of Allâh.

c. Talking together is prohibited because in order to do it the persons concerned shall have to sit close to each other which means uncovering themselves before others.

Chapter 25. The Prohibition Of Urinating Into Standing Water

343. It was narrated from Jâbir that the Messenger of Allâh forbade urinating into standing water. (Sahih)

Tafsîr: أخرجه مسلم، الطهارة، باب النهي عن البول في الماء الراکد، ح: 281 عن محمد ابن رمی وغيره به.

344. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘No one among you should urinate into standing water.’” (Hasan) Tafsîr: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه أبو داود، الطهارة، باب البول في الماء الراکد، ح: 700 من حديث ابن عجلان به.

345. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Umar said: “The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘No one among you should urinate into standing water.’” (Da‘îf)

Tafsîr: [إسناده ضعيف جدًا] وقال البصيري: ‘هذا إسناد ضعيف # ابن أبي فرّة اسمه إسحاق متوفى على تركه.’

Comments:

a. ‘Standing water’ means still water in a pond etc., that is not flowing. If people make a habit of urinating in such waters, they shall turn dirty and unfit for other uses.

b. What we infer from the Hadith is that it is not, as a rule, impermissible to urinate in the running water of a stream or river, still it would be best to avoid it, since doing so would be against the principle of cleanliness and purity.

Chapter 26. Strict Rulings Concerning Urination

346. It was narrated that 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Hasanah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came out to us holding a small shield in his hand. He put it down, then he sat down and urinated towards it. Some of the people said: 'Look at him, he urinates like a woman!' The Prophet ﷺ heard that and said: 'Woe to you! Do you not know what happened to one of the Children of Israel? If any urine touched any part of their clothes, they would cut that out with scissors. He told them not to do that, so he was tormented in his grave.'" (Da'îf)

Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:

a. While urinating in an open place, a person must be particular about screening, which could be had either from a tree or a wall etc., or from any other thing available to the person concerned. A case in point is that of the shield which the Prophet ﷺ used for the purpose.

b. Inviting the people to an act of sin, or dissuading them from following some virtuous habit, or doing something good, is a deadly crime punishable even in the grave before the Day of Resurrection.

c. The Hadith confirms the reality of torment in the grave.

347. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ passed by two new graves, and he said: 'They are being punished, but they are not being punished for anything major. One of them was heedless about preventing urine from getting on his clothes, and the other used to walk about spreading malicious gossip.'

(Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Hadith again confirms the reality of torment in the grave.

b. 'Preventing urine from getting on the clothes' means taking due care to prevent any drops of urine from defiling the body or the clothes, and doing proper cleaning of the concerned part after urination with soil or water.

c. 'Not being punished for anything major' means that it was by no means a difficult task to guard against the drops of urine. What was needed was just a little bit of precaution in the matter.

d. The Arabic word Naminah translated here as 'malicious gossip' means carrying the word spoken by one person to another with the intention of creating dissension and bad blood between them. Even if the news thus carried is true, to transmit it with an evil intention is a major sin. In case the report thus carried is false, the seriousness of the crime increases manyfold.

348. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'Most of the torment of the grave is because of urine.'" (Hasan)

349. Bahr bin Marrār narrated that his grandfather Abu Bakrah said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ passed by two graves, and he..." said: ‘They are being punished, but they are not being punished for anything major. One of them is being punished because of urine, and the other is being punished because of backbiting.’’

(Sahih)

Chapter 27. A Man Who Is Greeted While He Is Urinating

350. It was narrated that Muhājir bin Qunfudh bin (Umair) bin Judh’ān said: “I came to the Prophet when he was performing ablution and greeted him with the Salâm, but he did not return (the greeting). When he had finished his ablution he said: ‘Nothing prevented me from returning your greeting but the fact that I did not have ablution.’’

(Da’if)

Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:

Greeting someone with Salâm or returning it is an act of remembering Allāh. And although the remembrance of Allāh is permitted even when one is not in a state of ablution, it is better to be in the state of ablution. The Prophet delayed the returning of the greeting for adopting the better course.
351. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “A man passed by the Prophet while he was urinating, and greeted him with the Salām, but he did not return the greeting. When he finished, he struck the ground with his palms and did dry ablation (Tayammum), then he returned the greeting.” (Da’if)

Comments:
This chain of narration has weakness in it. However, another authentic source also report a similar happening.

352. It was narrated from Jābir bin 'Abdullāh that a man passed by the Prophet while he was urinating, and greeted him with the Salām. The Messenger of Allāh said to him: ‘If you see me in this situation, do not greet me with the Salām, for if you do that I will not respond to you.’” (Hasan)

Comments:
It is not allowed for a defecating or urinating person to return someone’s greeting. It is, therefore, better that he be not greeted in such a situation.
And Allāh knows best.

353. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: “A man passed by the Prophet while he was urinating and greeted him with the Salām, and he did not return the greeting.” (Sahih)
Chapter 28. Cleaning Oneself With Water (Istiqjā)

354. It was narrated that 'Āishah said: "I never saw the Messenger of Allāh صل الله عليه وسلم come out of the toilet without first (cleansing himself) with water." (Da‘īf)

Comments:

a. This shows that the Prophet's normal practice was to clean himself with water, since it is the best method of securing cleanliness.

b. In the outside, he mostly cleaned himself with pebbles, but even there he sometimes carried water with him.

355. Abu Sufyān said: "Abu Ayyūb Al-Anṣārī, Jābir bin 'Abdullāh, and Anas bin Mālik told me that when this Verse: "In it (the mosque) are men who love to clean and to purify themselves. And Allāh loves those who make themselves clean and pure."[1] was revealed, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'O Ansār! Allāh has praised you for your cleanliness. What is the nature of your cleanliness?' They said: 'We perform ablution for prayer and we take bath to cleanse ourselves of impurity due to sexual activity, and we clean ourselves with water (after urinating). He said: 'This is what it is. So adhere to it.'" (Hasan)

The Chapters Of Purification ... 295

Comments:
a. The Hadith confirms that using water for cleaning is better than relying only on pebbles.
b. According to some scholars, the mosque referred to in the Qur’anic Verse is the Prophet’s Mosque, while others take it to mean the mosque of Qubā’.

356. It was narrated from ‘Aishah that the Prophet used to wash his private parts three times. Ibn ‘Umar said: “We did that and we found it to be a healing and a means of purification.” (Da‘if)
Another chain with similar wording.

357. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allah said: ‘The (following) was revealed about the people of Qubā’: ‘In it (the mosque) are men who love to clean and to purify themselves. And Allah loves those who make themselves clean and pure.’”[1] He said: ‘They used to clean themselves with water (after urinating), and this Verse was revealed concerning them.’” (Hasan)

Comments:

It is reported in Sahih Muslim from Abu Sa’eed Al-Khudri that when he enquired the Prophet about the mosque referred to in the Qur’anic Verse, he answered that it was the one known as the Prophet’s Mosque (Muslin: 3221). Nevertheless even the Qubā’ Mosque was founded by the Prophet himself. As such this one can also be described as the ‘mosque founded on piety’.

Chapter 29. One Who Rubs His Hand On The Ground After Cleaning Himself

358. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet relieved himself, then he cleaned himself (with water) from a pot made of brass, then he wiped his hand on the ground. (Hasan)

Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:

Rubbing the earth on one’s hand while washing ensures better purity. The use of soap etc, for the purpose being done these days is also in order. It is not, however, mandatory. Mere washing the hand with water is enough.

359. Ibrâhim bin Jarir narrated from his father that the Prophet of Allah entered a thicket and relieved himself, then Jarir brought him a small water skin from which he cleaned himself, then he wiped his hand in the dirt. (Hasan)

Comments: [Hasan] أخرجه النسائي: 1 / 45، الظهارة، باب ذلك اليد بالآفريض بعد الاستنجاء، ح: 51 من حديث أبائنا، وصححه ابن حبان: 89 * إبراهيم صدوق لكنه لم يسمع
Chapter 30. Covering Vessels

360. It was narrated that Jābir said: "The Prophet commanded (us) to tie up our water skins and cover our vessels." (Sahih)

Comments:

All containers of water or food must be duly covered in order to prevent dust or insects sneaking into them, mainly because some of the insects could be dangerous. Particularly at night time the insects etc., come out of their hiding and possibly enter food and drink items. Hence the order to especially keep the vessels covered at night. (Bukhāri: 5623)

361. It was narrated that 'Aishah said: "I used to cover three vessels for the Messenger of Allāh ṣṣî at night: A vessel (of water) for his ablution, a vessel for his tooth stick and a vessel for his drink." (Da‘īf)

362. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Abbās said: "The Messenger of Allāh ṣṣî never entrusted his purification to anyone nor his charity that he had given to anyone; he would be the one to take care of these matters himself.”

(Da’if)

Chapter 31. Washing A Vessel That Has Been Licked By A Dog

363. It was narrated that Abu Razin said: 'I saw Abu Hurairah hitting his forehead with his hand and saying: “O people of Iraq! Do you claim that I would tell a lie against the Messenger of Allāh so that it may be more convenient for you and a sin upon me?’ I bear witness that I heard the Messenger of Allāh say: ‘If a dog licks the vessel of anyone of you, let him wash it seven times.”’ (Da’if)

Comments:
a. If a dog licks a vessel, it must be washed seven times.
b. In addition, along with washing, it is also necessary to rub the vessel in question with dust.
c. The dog saliva contains rabies that cannot be cleaned by just one wash. As for dust, it contains germ-killing properties. That is why the sacred law of Islam has, of all the animals, particularised this method of cleaning only for the licking of dogs.

364. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allāh said: “If a dog licks the vessel of anyone of you, let him wash it seven times.” (Sahih)
365. It was narrated from 'Abdullāh bin Mughafal that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'If a dog licks a vessel, wash it seven times and rub it with dust the eighth time.’” (Sahih)

366. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘If a dog licks the vessel of any one of you, let him wash it seven times.’” (Hasan) daughter of my brother, do you find it strange? The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘They (cats) are not impure, they are of those who go around among you.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. What is left by the cat after drinking, is not impure.
b. Islam is a religion of facility and ease. Since we cannot take as much precaution from the cats as we can from the dogs, rules of purity from them are more lenient than from dogs.

368. It was narrated that ʿAishah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ and I used to perform ablution from a single vessel, when the cat had drunk from it beforehand.” (Daʿīf)

Comments:
A husband and wife can perform ablution from a single vessel.

369. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Cats do not invalidate the prayer,[1] because they are one of the things that are useful in the house.” (Hasan)

[1] If they walk in front of the worshipper.
Chapter 33. Concession Regarding Water Left Over From A Woman’s Ablution

370. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Abbâs said: “One of the wives of the Prophet took a bath from a large vessel, then the Prophet came and had a bath or ablution, and she said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh, I was sexually impure.’ He said: ‘Water does not become impure.’” (Da’if)

371. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Abbâs that one of the wives of the Prophet took a bath to cleanse herself from sexual impurity, then the Prophet performed ablution and had a bath with the water left over from her ablution.” (Da’if)

372. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Abbâs, from Maimunah the wife of the Prophet, that the
The Prophet ﷺ performed ablution with the water left over after she had taken a bath to cleanse herself from sexual impurity. (Daʿif)

Comments:
The foregoing Ahādith did not mention the name of the Mother of the Believers concerned. This Hadith has indicated that she was Maimunah ﷺ.

Chapter 34. The Prohibition Of That (i.e. Performing Ablution With The Leftover Water)

373. It was narrated from Hakam bin 'Amr that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ forbade men to perform ablution with the water left over by a woman. (Hasan)

Comments:
Imâm Ibn Mājah has expressed the view that the truth is on the side of the first while the second is an illusion. Exact translation of the report is as follows: Abu ‘Abdullah Ibn Mājah said, “The first (narration) is correct, and the second (narration) is Wahm (an error).” It could also be construed from this that the ruling described in the previous chapter allowing both the husband and wife to have a bath from the water left over by each other, while the prohibition to do so as mentioned in the following chapter is not correct.

374. It was narrated that 'Abdullāh bin Sarjis said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ forbade men to perform ablution with the water left over by a woman, and women to perform ablution with water left over by a man, however both (spouses) may start their ablutions at the same time.” (Sahih)

Abu Abdullāh Ibn Mājah said: “The first (narration) is correct, and the second (narration) is Wahm (an error).

Another chain with similar wording.

375. It was narrated that ‘Ali said: “The Prophet and his wife would take a bath from one vessel, but neither of them would have a bath with the leftover water of the other.” (Da‘if)

Comments:
The fact of the matter is that both the husband and wife can have a bath together as well as use the water left over by each other for having a bath.

Chapter 35. A Man And Woman Taking Bath From A Single Vessel

376. It was narrated that ‘Aishah said: “The Messenger of Allāh and I would take a bath from a single vessel.” (Sahih)
Comments:
'Taking a bath from a single vessel' means that each one of the couple is taking water from the same vessel and having the bath individually. This is perfectly in order.

377. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbás that his maternal aunt Maimunah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and I used to take a bath from a single vessel.” (Sahîh)

378. It was narrated from Umm Hâni that the Prophet ﷺ and Maimunah took a bath from a single vessel, a large bowl in which there were some traces of dough. (Da‘îf)

379. It was narrated that Jâbir bin ‘Abdullâh said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and his wives used to take a bath from a single vessel.” (Hasan)
380. Zainab the daughter of Umm Salamah narrated from Umm Salamah that she and the Messenger of Allâh  used to take a bath from a single vessel.
(Sahih)

Chapter 36. A Man And Woman Performing Ablution From A Single Vessel

381. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: “Men and women used to perform ablution from a single vessel during the time of the Messenger of Allâh .”
(Sahih)

Comments:
It was discussed in the previous chapter that both husband and wife can take water from a single vessel and have a bath together. By the same analogy they can also perform ablution together. Ahâdîth of this chapter have further established the permissibility of it.

Men and women performing the ablution together could also mean their being mutually Mahram (near relations forbidden to marry each other).

382. It was narrated that Umm Subyah Al-Juhaniyyah said: “Often my hand would touch the hand of the Messenger of Allâh  while performing ablution from a single vessel.”
(Hasan)

Abu 'Abdullâh bin Mâjah said: “I heard Muhammad say: ‘Umm Subyah was Khawlah bint Qais. I mentioned that to Abu Zur'ah, and he said: “It is true.”

Comments:
A clarification: Imām Abu ’Abdullāh bin Mājah: I heard Muhammad (bin Yahya Dhali) say: Umm Subyah was Khawlah bint Qais. I mentioned that to Abu Zur'ah, and he said: “It is true.” Maybe the report belongs to the pre-Hijāb period or else the lady had some close relation with the Prophet ﷺ which prevented the observance of Hijāb from him. And Allāh knows best.

383. It was narrated from ‘Aishah that the Prophet ﷺ and she used to perform ablution together for prayer. (Sahih)

Chapter 37. Performing Ablution with Nabidh (المحكم 37 - باب الوضوء بالنبيذ)

384. It was narrated from ‘Abdullāh bin Mas‘ūd that on the night of the jinn, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said to him: “Do you have water for ablution?” He said: “No, I have nothing but some Nabidh[1] in a vessel.” He said: “Good dates and pure water. (i.e., there is no harm from the mixing of the two).” So he performed ablution with it. This is the narration of Wāki’. (Da‘īf)

[1] Water in which grapes or dates are soaked, but not fermented.
385. It was narrated from 'Abdullāh bin 'Abbās that on the Night of the Jinn the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said to Ibn Mas‘ūd: “Do you have water?” He said: “No, only some Nabdīth in a large water skin.” The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Good dates and pure water.” (i.e., there is no harm from the mixing of the two) pour it for me.” He said: “So I poured it for him and he performed ablution with it.” (Da‘īf)

Comments:
Some of the scholars take their cue from this ‘Hadith’ and declare it lawful to perform ablution from it. However, the Hadith being ‘Weak’ no ruling can be based on it.

Chapter 38. Ablution With Seawater

386. It was narrated that Mughirah bin Abu Burdah, who was from the tribe of Banu ‘Abdud-Dār, said that he heard Abu Hurairah say: “A man came to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh, we travel by sea and carry a small amount of water with us. If we use it for ablution, we will become thirsty. Can we perform
The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Its water is a means of purification, and its dead meat is permissible. (i.e. the fish found dead in the sea).’” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The Prophet ﷺ has clarified that seawater is both pure and a purifier. It can, therefore, be used for ablution and other purposes.
b. ‘The dead meat of the sea’ means the meat of the sea animal. And just as it is a lawful food if caught alive, it is also lawful if it dies inside the sea or outside it after capture. It is, however, best to avoid eating the animals that can live on both land and sea. And Allâh knows best.

387. It was narrated that Ibn Firâsi said: “I was fishing and I had a vessel with me in which I kept water, and I used seawater for ablution. I mentioned that to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and he said: ‘Its water is a means of purification, and its dead meat is permissible.’” (Da’îf)

388. It was narrated from Jâbir that the Prophet ﷺ was asked about seawater, and he said: “Its water is a means of purification, and its dead meat is permissible.” (Hasan)

Chapter 39. A Man Who Asks For Help With His Ablution And Water Is Poured On Him

389. It was narrated that Mughirah bin Shu’bah said: “The Prophet محمد ﷺ went out to relieve himself and when he came back, I met him with a water skin and poured water for him. He washed his hands and his face, then he went to wash his forearms but his garment was too tight, so he brought his arms out from underneath his garment and washed them, then he wiped over his leather socks, then he led us in prayer.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Accepting service from those younger than oneself is quite in order even if the service belongs to an area connected with the rituals of worship.

b. The Hadith proves the permissibility of Mash (wiping) on socks.

c. The rest of the parts must be washed even though one might find it somewhat difficult, as was done by the Prophet محمد ﷺ when he washed his forearms, although he had difficulty removing his garment.

390. It was narrated that Rubai’ bint Mu’awwidh said: “I brought a basin of water to the Prophet محمد ﷺ and he said: 'Pour it,' so I poured it and he washed his face and forearms, then he took fresh water and wiped his head, front and back, and then he washed his feet. He washed each part three times." (Da‘if)

Comments:
a. Rubā‘ī is among the younger female Companions of the Prophet, which is to say she was a minor during the lifetime of the Prophet. She belong to the Helpers’ tribe of Banu Najjār. Her father Mu‘awwidh bin ‘Afrā’ had participated in the battle of Badr.
b. It is part of Sunnah to wipe the entire head. This is what we mean by the expression ‘wiped his head, front and back’. There is no proof that the Prophet wiped half or one fourth of his head. It is, however, proved that the Prophet first wiped part of the head, then completed the remainder part of it on his turban.
c. The original order in respect of the feet is washing them. Wiping them is only allowed if one is wearing socks while the feet had been washed for ablution before putting them on.

391. It was narrated that Safwān bin ‘Assāl said: "I poured water for the Prophet on journeys and as a resident, when he performed ablution.” (Da‘if)

392. Umm ‘Ayyāsh, the slave woman of Ruqayyah, the daughter of the Messenger of Allāh, said: "I used to help the Messenger of Allāh perform ablution, when I was standing and he was sitting.” (Da‘if) Chapter 40. When A Man Wakes Up From Sleep, Should He Put His Hand In The Vessel Before Washing It?

393. Sa’eed bin Musayyab and Abu Salamah bin ‘Abdur-Rahmān narrated that Abu Hurairah used to say: “The Messenger of Allāh said: ‘When anyone of you wakes up from sleep, he should not put his hand into the vessel until he has poured water on it two or three times, for none of you knows where his hand spent the night.’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The commandment covers both night and day. The Hadith mentions the word ‘night’ because people mostly sleep at night.

b. ‘Pouring water on the hand two or three times’ is meant to ensure purity of the hand beyond any shred of doubt. However, if washing once serves the purpose, it would suffice.

394. It was narrated from Sālim from his father that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “When anyone of you wakes up from sleep, he should not put his hand into the vessel until he has washed it.” (Sahih)

It was narrated that Jābīr said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'When anyone of you gets up from sleep and wants to perform ablution, he should not put his hand into the vessel he used for ablution until he has washed it, because he does not know where his hand spent the night or where he put it.'" [One of the narrators] Abu Ishāq said: "What is correct is that it is narrated from Jābīr, from Abu Hurairah." (Hasan)

396. It was narrated that Hārīthah said: "Ali called for water, and he washed his hands before putting them in the vessel, then he said: 'This is what I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ doing.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

Although Hadith 393 mentions the washing of hands 'two or three times' the scholars hold the order to wash more than once to be recommended rather than mandatory.

Chapter 41. Concerning Saying 'Bismillāh' When Performing Ablution

397. It was narrated from Abu
Sa‘eed that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “There is no ablution for one who does not mention the Name of Allâh (before doing it).” (Hasan)

Comments:
Basing their opinion on the words of the Hadîth, some of the scholars consider it obligatory to say Bismillâh before starting the ablution, while others regard it as a Sunnah.

398. It was narrated that Abu Sa‘eed bin Zaid said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘There is no prayer for one who does not have ablution, and there is no ablution for one who does not mention the Name of Allâh (before it).’” (Hasan)

399. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘There is no prayer for one who does not have ablution, and there is no ablution for one who does not mention the Name of Allâh (before it).’” (Da‘îf)

Chapter 42. Starting On The Right In Ablution

401. It was narrated from 'Âishah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ liked to start on the right when purifying himself, when combing his hair and when putting on his footwear. (Sahih)
Comments:

‘Starting on the right hand’ is the golden principle for the deeds done with one hand, e.g., shaking hands, taking and giving things, and writing etc. Some of the scholars have, in the light of this Hadith, even stated that we should wear our watches on the right hands.

402. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allah ḥṣ said: ‘When you perform ablution, start on the right.’” (Da’if)

Another chain with similar wording.

403. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Abbâs that the Messenger of Allah ḥṣ rinsed his mouth and sniffed water up into his nostrils from one scoop of water. (Sahîh)
Comments:

a. The Hadith means; let one hold water in his hand, then put part of it into the mouth to rinse it, and enter the rest in the nose to clean it, without the need to take separate water for the nose. The process may be repeated three times.

b. It is also allowed that a person first rinse the mouth three times, then sniff water up into the nostrils three times.

404. It was narrated from 'Ali that the Messenger of Allâh performed ablution and he rinsed his mouth three times, and sniffed water up into his nose three times, from one handful. (Sahih)

405. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Zaid Al-Ansârî said: "The Messenger of Allâh came to us and asked us for water for ablution. I brought water to him and he rinsed his mouth and sniffed water up into his nostrils from one handful." (Sahih)

Chapter 44. Going To Extremes In Sniffing Water Up Into The Nostrils and blowing it out

406. It was narrated that Salamah bin Qais said: "The Messenger of Allâh said to me: 'When you perform ablution, clean your nose, and when you use pebbles to clean yourself after defecating, use an odd number.'" (Sahih)
The Chapters Of Purification

Comments:

1. The Hadīth is clear on the point that mere passing water into the nose is not enough. If necessary, the nose should be thoroughly cleaned.
2. It is better to use three pebbles for cleaning after defecation.

407. It was narrated from ‘Āsim bin Laqit bin Sabrah that his father said: “I said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh! Tell me about ablution.’ He said: ‘Perform ablution properly and sniff water up into your nostrils thoroughly, unless you are fasting.’” (Sahīh)

408. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Abbās said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘Sniff up water into the nostrils thoroughly, two or three times.’” (Hasan)

409. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Whoever performs ablution, let him clean his nose, and whoever uses pebbles to clean himself after defecating, let him use an odd number.’” (Sahih)

Chapter 45. Concerning Ablution Washing Each Part Once

410. It was narrated that Thâbit bin Abî Safiyyah Ath-Thumâlî said: “I asked Abu Ja’far: Was it narrated to you from Jâbir bin ‘Abdullâh that the Prophet ﷺ performed ablution washing each part once?’ He said: ‘Yes.’ I said: ‘And each part twice, and each part thrice?’ He said: ‘Yes.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
Some of the scholars regard the Hadîth as weak, but the rule drawn from it is correct, since all the three methods of ablution are proved from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. (Bukhârî: 159, 160, 161).

411. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Abbâs said: “I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ performing ablution, taking one handful (of water) at a time.” (Sahih) wearing each part three times, and he attributed that to the Prophet ﷺ. (Sahih)

415. It was narrated from ‘Aishah and Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ did ablution washing each part three times. (Hasan)

416. It was narrated that ‘Abdullāh bin Abi Awfa said: “I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ performing ablution, washing each part three times, and wiping his head once.” (Sahih)

Comments: The Hadith proves that, unlike other parts that are washed three times each, the head must be wiped only once.

417. It was narrated that Abu Mālik Ash’āri said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to perform ablution washing each part three times.” (Sahih)
418. It was narrated from Rabī' bint Mu‘āwwidh bin ‘Afrā’ that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ performed ablution washing each part three times. (Hasan)

Chapter 47. What Was Narrated Concerning Ablution; Washing Each Part Once, Twice Or Thrice

419. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Umar said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ performed ablution washing each part once. He said: ‘This is the ablution of the person from whom Allāh will not accept his prayer without it.’ Then he performed ablution washing each part twice, and he said: ‘This is the ablution that Allāh appreciates.’ Then he performed ablution washing each part three times, and said: ‘This is how ablution is performed properly, and this is my ablution and the ablution of the Close Friend of Allāh, Ibrāhīm. Whoever performs ablution like this, then on completing it says: ‘Asshadu an lā ilāha illāllāh, wa asshadu anna Muhammadan ‘abdūhu wa rasūluhu’ (I bear witness that none has the right to be worshipped but Allāh, and I bear witness that Muhammad is His servant and his Messenger), eight gates of Paradise will be opened to... him and he may enter through whichever one he wants.'" (Da'if)

Comments:
The chain of transmission in the Hadith is weak on account of the presence of Zaid Al-'Ammi and 'Abdur-Rahim in it. However, its contents are proved from other Ahadith.

420. It was narrated from Ubayy bin Ka'b that the Messenger of Allâh called for water and performed ablution washing each part once. He said: "This is the minimum requirement of ablution' or he said: 'The ablution of one who, if he does not perform this ablution, Allâh will not accept his prayer." Then he performed ablution washing each part twice, and he said: 'This is the ablution of one who, if he performs it, Allâh will give him two shares of reward.' Then he performed ablution washing each part three times, and said: 'This is my ablution and the ablution of the Messengers who were sent before me.'" (Da'if)

Chapter 48. Concerning Moderation In Ablution And Avoiding Extravagance

422. It was narrated from ‘Amr bin Shu‘aib, from his father, from his grandfather, that a Bedouin came to the Prophet ﷺ and asked him about ablution. He showed him how to perform it washing each part of the body three times. Then he said: ‘This is ablution, and whoever does more than this, has done evil, transgressed the limits and wronged himself.’” (Hasan)

Comments:
a. An effective method of teaching is to demonstrate the subject through action. Teachers must make use of this method for explaining practical matters.
b. ‘Doing more than this’ means to wash a part more than thrice.

423. It was narrated that ‘Amr heard Kuraib saying: “I heard Ibn ‘Abbâs say: ‘I stayed overnight with my maternal aunt Maimûnâ and the Prophet ﷺ got up and performed ablution from an old water skin, and he did a brief ablation.[1] Then I got up and did the same as he had done.’ (Sahih)

Comments:
a. Children must be made to join voluntary acts of worship in order to habituate them.
b. Using more water than needed in ablation is wrong. Having a brief ablation with a small quantity of water is enough.

424. It is narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saw a man performing ablation, and he said: ‘Do not be extravagant, do not be extravagant (in using water).’” (Maudū’)

425. It was narrated from 'Abdullâh bin 'Amr that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ passed by Sa'd when he was performing ablation, and he said: ‘What is this extravagance?’ He said: ‘Can there be any extravagance in ablation?’ He said: ‘Yes, even if you are on the bank of a flowing river.’” (Dâ‘îf)
Chapter 49. What Was Narrated Concerning performing Ablution Properly

426. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Abbas said: "The Messenger of Allah commanded us to perform ablution properly." [1] (Hasan)

Comments:
Please see note on Hadith 407.

427. It was narrated from Abu Sa’eed Khudri that he heard the Messenger of Allah say: "Shall I not tell you of something by means of which Allah expiates for sins and increases good deeds?" They said: "Yes, O Messenger of Allah." He said: "Perform ablution properly despite difficulties, increasing the number of steps one takes towards the mosque and waiting for the next prayer after prayer." (Hasan)

Comments:

a. Virtuous deeds wash off the sins of man, provided that the deeds are done with sincerity and are in conformity with the Sunnah of the Prophet.

b. "Increasing the number of steps towards the mosque" means going to the [1] 'Us' refers to the people of his family. This is part of a longer narration clarifying that, recorded through the same chain, by Tirmidhi: no. 1701 and Ahmad: 1:225 and others.

mosque to join the congregational prayers even if the mosque is at some distance from home.

c. ‘Waiting for the next prayer after prayer’ means (i) not to get so much bogged down in worldly affairs as to be forgetful of the obligation of prayer or (ii) fail to do it in proper time.

428. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet said: “Sins are expiated by well-performed ablution despite difficulties, increasing the number of steps one takes towards the mosque, (and waiting for the next prayer after prayer).” (Hasan)

Comments:
The words ‘Increasing the number of steps one takes towards the mosque’ seem to suggest that it is more meritorious and rewarding if one walks his way to the mosque than to ride a conveyance. And Allāh knows best.

Chapter 50. Concerning Running The Fingers Through The Beard (When Performing Ablution)

429. It was narrated that ‘Ammār bin Yāsir said: “I saw the Messenger of Allāh running his fingers through his beard.” (Da’īf)
Comments:
Imám Ibn Qayyim has said that the Prophet ﷺ ran his fingers through his beard only occasionally, not regularly. (Zádul-Ma‘ád; p. 68/1) However, there is no proof to support the view that he did it ‘only occasionally’. On the contrary, some of the Ahádith explicitly enjoin the doing of it, which means that doing it ‘consistently’ is preferable. And Alláh knows best.

430. It was narrated from Úthmán that the Messenger of Alláh ﷺ performed ablution and ran his fingers through his beard. (Hasan)

431. It was narrated that Anas bin Málık said: “When the Messenger of Alláh ﷺ performed ablution, he ran his fingers through his beard and separated his fingers (to let water run through them) twice.” (Da‘íf)

432. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Umar said: “Whenever the Messenger of Alláh ﷺ performed ablution, he rubbed the sides of his face then run his fingers through his beard from beneath.” (Da‘íf)
Chapter 51. What Was Narrated Concerning Wiping The Head

434. ‘Amr bin Yahya narrated that his father said to ‘Abdullāh bin Zaid who was the grandfather of ‘Amr bin Yahya: “Can you show me how the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to perform ablution?” ‘Abdullāh bin Zaid said: “Yes.” So he called for water, poured it over his hands and washed his hands twice. Then he rinsed his mouth and sniffed water up into his nostrils three times. Then he washed his face three times and his arms up to the elbows twice. Then he wiped his head with his hands, from front to back. He started at the front of his head, then went with them to the nape of his neck, then he brought them back, returning them to the place he started, then he washed his feet.” (Sahih)
Comments:
a. It is in order to wash some of the parts twice and others thrice during ablution. However, the head is to be wiped only once.
b. Wiping the ears is also a part of wiping the head.
c. 'He went with his hands to the nape of his neck, then he brought them back' means that the Prophet did the passing of hands from the front of the head to the nape of the neck and back to the place he had started, as one continued action, not two separate actions.

435. It was narrated that 'Uthmân bin 'Affân said: "I saw the Messenger of Allâh performing ablution and he wiped his head once." (Sahih)

Comments: This means that, unlike other parts which the Prophet washed two or three times, he wiped his head only once.

436. It was narrated from 'Ali that the Messenger of Allâh wiped his head once. (Sahih)

437. It was narrated that Salamah bin Akwa' said: "I saw the Messenger of Allâh performing ablution, and he wiped his head once." (Sahih)

438. It was narrated that Ar-Rubai' bint Mu'áwwidh bin 'Afrâ' said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ performed ablution and wiped his head twice." (Da’if)

Chapter 52. Concerning Wiping The Ears

439. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Abbâs that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ wiped his ears, putting his forefingers in his ears and wiping the back of them with his thumbs, so he wiped them inside and out. (Sahih)

440. It was narrated from Rubai’ that the Prophet ﷺ performed ablution and wiped his ears inside and out. (Hasan)

Comments:

'Wiped his head twice' means that once Prophet ﷺ took his hands from the front to the back, and then from the back to the front.
the (holes) inside of his ears.”

(Hasan)

442. It was narrated from Miqdâm bin Ma’dîkarib that the Messenger of Allâh ἰIllegalArgumentException performed ablution and he wiped his head and his ears, inside and out.

(Hasan)

Chapter 53. The Ears Are Part Of The Head

443. It was narrated that ‘Abdullâh bin Zaid said: “The Messenger of Allâh ἰIllegalArgumentException said: ‘The ears are part of the head.’”

(Hasan)

Comments:
a. The Hadith means that just like we wipe the head, we must also wipe the ears. The ears are not to be washed like the face. Therefore, while washing the face the ears must not be washed.
b. The water taken for wiping the head should also be used for the wiping of the ears. No additional water needs to be taken for wiping the ears.

444. It was narrated from Abu Umâmah that the Messenger of Allâh ἰIllegalArgumentException said: “The ears are part of the head.” He used to wipe his head once, and he used to wipe over the inner corners of the eyes (that are close to the nose). (Hasan)

Chapter 54. Running The Fingers Of One Hand Between The Fingers Of The Other (And The Toes)

445. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘The ears are part of the head.’” (Hasan)

Another chain with similar wording.

446. It was narrated that Mustawrid bin Shaddâd said: “I saw the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ performing ablution, and he ran his little finger between his toes.” (Sahih)

More often than not the part between the two fingers or toes remains dry.

Comments:

More often than not the part between the two fingers or toes remains dry.
because the water fails to get there as it should. We must, therefore, run our wet finger between them. The next Hadith specifically speaks about running the wet finger between the fingers of the hands.

447. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Abbâs said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘When you get up for prayer, perform ablution properly and make the water run between your toes and your fingers.’” (Hasan)

448. ’Âsim bin Laqit bin Sabirah narrated that his father said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: perform ablution properly and let the water run between your fingers.” (Sahih)

449. ‘Ubaidullâh bin Abu Râfi’ narrated from his father that whenever the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ performed ablution, he moved his ring. (Da‘îf)

Chapter 55. Washing The Heels and Achilles' Tendon

450. It was narrated that...
'Abdullāh bin 'Amr said: "The Messenger of Allāh ṣaw saw some people performing ablution, and their heels were dry. He said: 'Woe to the heels because of Hell-fire, perform ablution properly!'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Hadith confirms that the feet must be washed for ablution. Wiping them would not do. Wiping the feet is permitted if (i) one has put on the socks after performing the ablution or (ii) there is some injury on the foot and water is likely to aggravate or harm it.

b. Particular care must be taken for washing those parts where water does not get easy access, lest they remain dry.

c. A believer can also be consigned to Hell-fire due to an act of sin committed by him but the punishment shall not be interminable, whereas punishment for disbelievers and polytheists shall be without end. The Arabic word 'Wail' means ruin, destruction, perdition.

451. It was narrated that 'Aīshah said: "The Messenger of Allāh ṣaw said: 'Woe to the heels because of Hell-fire.'" (Sahih)

452. It was narrated that Abu Salamah said: "'Āishah saw 'Abdur-Rahmān performing ablution, and she said: Perform ablution properly, for I heard the Messenger of Allāh ṣaw say: 'Woe to the Achilles' tendon because of Hell-fire.'" (Hasan)
Comments:
The Hadith contains the word 'Arāqib, which is the plural of 'Urqub meaning the back part of the ankle joint which is above the heel. It is thus clear that the feet must be washed along with the ankle joints and their back.

453. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Woe to the heels because of Hell-fire." (Sahih)

454. It was narrated that Jābir bin 'Abdullāh said: "I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: 'Woe to the Achilles' tendon because of Hell-fire.'" (Sahih)

455. It was narrated from Khālid bin Walid, Yazid bin Abu Sufyān, Shurahbil bin Hasanah and 'Amr bin 'Ās that they all heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: "Complete the ablution. Woe to the heels because of Hell-fire." (Sahih)
Chapter 56. Washing The Feet

456. It was narrated that Abu Haiyah said: “I saw 'Ali performing ablution and he washed his feet up to the ankles, then he said: 'I wanted to show you how your Prophet purified himself.'” (Sahih)

Comments:
The fact of washing the feet is proved from the reports of many Companions. It is rather the case that anyone of the Companions who has described the Prophet’s way of performing the ablution has also mentioned the fact of his washing the feet. And since the Shiite scholars deny it, the Compiler of the book has quoted a Hadith to prove that 'Ali himself used to wash his feet during ablution.

457. It was narrated from Miqdām bin Ma'dikarib that the Messenger of Allāh performed ablution; so he washed his feet three times. (Sahih)

Tafsīr: [Sahih] أخرج أبو داود، الطهارة، باب صفة وضوء النبي ﷺ، ح: 166، وصححه الرمذي، وانظر، ح: 466 لعله.
458. It was narrated that Rubai' said: “Ibn ‘Abbás came to me and asked me about this Hadith” meaning the Hadith, that she had narrated, saying that the Messenger of Allah performed ablution and washed his feet. “Ibn ‘Abbás said: ‘The people are insisting on washing their feet, but I do not find anything in the Qur’ān except (the injunction to) wipe them.’” (Da‘if)

Comments:
Ibn ‘Abbás said it on the basis of an irregular reading of the Noble Qur’ān. The fact of the matter is that the regular reading of the Qur’ān only mentions ‘washing, not wiping the feet.

Chapter 57. Ablution In Accordance With The Commands Of Allāh The Most High

459. It was narrated that Jāmi’ bin Shaddād – Abu Sakrah – said: “I heard Humrān telling Abu Burdah in the mosque that he had heard ‘Uthmān bin ‘Affān narrating that the Prophet had said: ‘Whoever performs ablution perfectly as Allāh has enjoined, then his prescribed prayer will serve as expiation for what is between them.’”[1] (Sahih)

Comments:

Ahādīth of this nature must not delude one into thinking that any amount of sins a worshipper commits, no harm shall come to him after that, since failure to observe the proper etiquettes of the prayer and lack of submissiveness and humility on his part would drastically lessen the chances of his sins being forgiven.

460. ‘Ali bin Yahya bin Khallād narrated, from his father, from his paternal uncle Rifa‘ah bin Rāfi‘ that he was sitting with the Prophet ﷺ who said: ‘No person’s prayer is complete until he performs ablution properly as Allāh has commanded him, washing his face, his arms up to the elbows, wiping his head and his feet up to the ankles.’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Deficiency in the performance of ablution has its consequence on the prayer, which does not warrant its complete reward.

b. The complete formula of ablution is the same as discussed at some length in the preceding Ahādīth.

Chapter 58. Sprinkling Water

After Ablution

461. It was narrated from Hakam bin Sufyān Ath-Thaqafi that he saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ perform ablution then take a handful of water and sprinkle it over his private area to remove any doubts about urine drippings. (Hasan)

(المعجم) - باب ما جاء في النضح بعد الوضوء (التحفة 58)

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه أبو داود، الطهارة، باب في الاضح، ح: 168 من حديث منصور
Comments:

a. The action (sprinkling water over the private parts) is not a part of ablution. It is, however, a part of the Prophet’s Sunnah.

b. The rationale behind the action, as stated by the scholars of religion, is that the doing of it deters any apprehension in the mind of the person that some urine droppings might have trickled into his clothes.

462. Usâmah bin Zaid narrated that his father Zaid bin Hârithah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Jibril taught me (how to perform) the ablution, and he ordered me to sprinkle water underneath my garment, lest a drop of urine leak out after the ablution.’” (Da‘îf)

Other chains with similar wording.

Comments:

It is a Weak Hadith. It is, however, proved from other Ahûdith as well that the Angel Jibril ﷺ had taught the Prophet ﷺ the correct method of performing ablution.

463. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘When you perform ablution, sprinkle water.’” (Da‘îf)

Comments:

[untranslated content]
464. It was narrated that Jābir said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ performed ablution and sprinkled his private part.” (Hasan)

465. Umm Hāni’ bint Abu Tālib narrated that when it was the year of the Conquest (of Makkah), the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ got up to perform a bath and Fāṭimah screened him. Then he took his garment and wrapped himself in it (such that it became like the towel used to dry oneself). (Sahih)

Comments:
Even while there is a small cloth on the body, it is preferable to have further screen or cloth on the body in the bathroom during the bath. Nevertheless, it is quite in order to have a bath without any cloth on the body in the bathroom.

466. It was narrated that Qais bin Sa’d said: “The Prophet ﷺ came to us and we gave him water to perform a bath.” Then we brought him a Warsiyyah[1] cloth, and he wrapped himself in it. It is as if I can see the marks of the

[1] Dyed with Wars: memecyclon tinctorium, a plant from Yemen used as a liniment and yellow dye.
Wars on the folds of his stomach.”

(Da‘if)

Ibn ‘Abbās narrated that his maternal aunt Maimunah said: “I brought a piece of cloth (for drying) to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ when he performed a bath to cleanse himself from sexual impurity. He refused it and began to shake off water.” (Sahih)

Comments:

The Prophet ﷺ returned the cloth, which was not needed by him, (i) to exclude the impression that using something like it was obligatory, as also (ii) to spare the believers any embarrassment in the event of the nonavailability of any such cloth.

It was narrated from Salmān Al-Fārisi that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ performed ablution, then he turned inside out the woolen garment that he was wearing and wiped his face with it. (Da‘if)

Chapter 60. What Is To Be Said After Ablution

469. It was narrated from Anas... bin Mâlik that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever performs ablution and does it well, then says three times: 'Ashhadu an la ilâha illâllâh wahdahu lâ sharika lâhu, wa ashhadu annaMuhammadan 'abduhu wa rasuluhu (I bear witness that none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh alone, with no partner, and I bear witness that Muhammad is His slave and His Messenger),' eight gates of Paradise will be opened for him; whichever one he wants he may enter." (Da'īf)

Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:

Zaid Al-'Ammi’s name among the narrators makes this chain of transmission weak. But reciting the blessed words once is proved from authentic Ahâdith.

470. It was narrated that 'Umar bin Khattâb said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'There is no Muslim who performs ablution and does it well, then says: Ashhâdu an la ilâha illâllâh, wa ashhadu anna Muhammadan 'abduhu wa rasuluhu (I bear witness that none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh, and I bear witness that Muhammad is His slave and Messenger),' (except that) eight gates of Paradise will be opened for him, and he will enter through whichever one he wants.'" (Sahih)
Comments:
It goes without saying that only one door is enough for entry, but to make it more is meant to make the incomer feel more honored and happy. And Allah knows best.

Chapter 61. Ablution Using Brass

471. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh bin Zaid, the Companion of the Prophet ﷺ, said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ came to us, and we brought water out to him in a vessel of brass, and he performed ablution with it." (Sahih)

472. It was narrated from Zainab bint Jahsh that she had a tub of brass. She said: "I used to comb the hair of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ in it." (Hasan)

473. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ performed ablution using (the water in) a vessel made of brass. (Hasan)
Chapter 62. Ablution After A Sleep

474. It was narrated that ‘Aishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would fall asleep until he was breathing deeply, then he would get up and offer the prayer, and he did not perform ablution." (Hasan)

Tanâfisi said: "Waki said: 'She meant while he was prostrating (he would sleep).’"

Comments:

a. It was a characteristic of the Prophet ﷺ since all his senses remained intact even during sleep. He himself says: "My eyes sleep but my heart does not sleep." Bukhâri: 770.

b. Among the various explanations in the matter is the one hinted at by Waki who said that the said happening took place during a prayer. Based on this explanation, some of the scholars have formulated the opinion that sleep during the various actions connected with a prayer such as Ruku' (bowing down), Qiyam (standing position) or Sujud (prostrations) does not invalidate the prayer. On close analysis, however, even this view is not much different from the previous one, since no manner of sleep during prayer is like sleeping in the stretched (lying down) position which alone, of all man's physical positions, invalidates the ablution. And Allâh knows best.

475. It was narrated from ‘Abdullâh that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ slept until he was breathing deeply, then he got up and prayed. (Hasan)
476. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbās said: "He would sleep like that while he was sitting up." (Da'if)

477. It was narrated from 'Ali bin Abu Tālib that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "The eye is the leather strap (that ties up) the anus,[1] so whoever falls asleep, let him perform ablution." (Da'if)

Comments:

Wikā' in Arabic is the string, thread or strap used to tie the mouth of a purse (or bag) full of gold coins etc. The obvious advantage is that, as long as the Wikā' is in place, nothing can be taken out of the purse. In other words, it is a guardian over the contents of the purse. Similarly, as long as a person is awake he knows whether his ablution is intact or has been invalidated by the wind passing from his body. The moment one's eyes are closed for sleep he loses control over his body, as though a knot had been loosened and as such, he cannot tell whether or not he has released the wind. It is because of this that sleep has been dubbed as the invalidator of ablution.'

478. It was narrated that Safwān bin 'Assāl said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to command us..." not to take off our leather socks for three days except in the case of sexual impurity, but not in the case of defecation, urine or sleep [i.e. during travel].” (Hasan)

Comments:

a. Washing the feet is an integral part of ablution. But if a person is wearing (leather) socks, he is allowed to do Mash (passing wet hands) on them, provided that he had performed ablution and washed his feet before putting on the socks. (Sahih Muslim: 520)

b. It may be pointed out that the three-day validity of wiping the socks is for a person on journey. A resident is, however, allowed to do it just for a day and night.

Chapter 63. Ablution After Touching The Penis

479. It was narrated that Busrah bint Safwân said: “The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘If anyone of you touches his penis, let him perform ablution.’” (Hasan)

Comments:

a. It shows that touching the urine outlets nullifies the ablution.

b. Some of the scholars have raised their doubt on the Hadîth saying that, for one thing it is a regular occurrence and, secondly it is a male-specific problem but the narrator is a lone woman. The objection is, however, not tenable, since Imâm Tirmidhi, after narrating the Hadîth, has commented that the Hadîth has been transmitted by eight other Companions as well — five of them men and three women. Some of those Ahâdîth transmitted by the Companions, alluded to by Imâm Tirmidhi, are to follow next in this chapter. Moreover, the ruling in question does not concern the men alone. Even women, if they touch their particular parts, are liable to refresh their ablution.
480. It was narrated that Jābir bin 'Abdullāh said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'If anyone of you touches his penis, then he has to perform ablution.'" (Hasan)
Chapter 64. Concession Concerning That

483. Qais bin Talq Al-Hanafi narrated that his father said: “I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ being asked about touching the penis. He said: ‘That does not require ablution, because it is a part of you (your body).’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. ‘It is a part of you’ means that just as touching any other part of your body does not invalidate the ablution, touching this organ also does not invalidate it.

b. The Hadîth narrated by Talq is undoubtedly a sound one, but the ruling was subsequently abrogated. Some of the scholars have justified both the Ahâdîth by saying that the one that rules out the invalidation of ablution speaks of touching the part if it is covered by a cloth, while the other speaks of invalidation if it is touched while uncovered.

484. It was narrated that Abu Umâmah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was asked about touching the penis and he said: ‘Rather it is a part of you (your body).’” (Da’îf)

Chapter 65. Ablution After (Eating) That Which Has Been Changed By Fire (i.e. Cooked Upon Fire)

485. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: “Perform ablution after (eating) that which has been changed by fire.” Ibn ‘Abbâs said: “Should I do ablution after (touching) hot water?” Abu Hurairah said: “O son of my brother, when I narrate a Hadith of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ to you, then do not try to make any examples for it.” [1] (Hasan)

Comments:

a. ‘That has been changed by fire’ means anything that has been prepared by cooking or frying on fire.

b. Ahîdîth included in the next chapter would clarify that the command is not mandatory, which is to say that performing ablution after eating recipes cooked on fire is recommendatory, not mandatory.

486. It was narrated that ‘Aishah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Perform ablution after (eating) that which has been changed by fire.’” (Sahih)

487. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik would place his hands over his ears and say: “May my ears be made deaf, if I did not hear the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saying: ‘Perform ablution after (eating) that which has been changed by fire.’” (Da’îf)

Chapter 66. Concession Concerning That

488. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ ate a shoulder,\(^1\) then he wiped his hands on a Mish\(^2\) that was underneath him, then he got up for prayer, and performed the prayer. (Da‘îf)

Comments:
This clearly shows that the command contained in the previous chapter is recommendatory, not mandatory. Or else, as stated by Imâm Shâfî‘î, the order to perform ablation was subsequently abrogated. Shaikh Ahmed Shâkir also holds this theory of abrogation as preferable and weighty. Another possible explanation is that the Ahâdîth of the previous chapter simply mean washing the hands and mouth, not performing the formal ablution which is not mandatory.

489. It was narrated that Jâbir bin ‘Abdullâh said: “The Prophet ﷺ, Abu Bakr and ‘Umar ate some bread and meat, and they did not perform ablution (after that).” (Sahîh)

490. Zuhri said: “I had dinner with Walid or ‘Abdul-Malik. When the time for prayer came, I got up to perform ablution. Ja‘far

\(^1\) Meat from the shoulder of a lamb or goat, see no 491.
\(^2\) ‘A thin cloth made from animal skin.’ (Explanation by Sindi).
bin 'Amr bin Umayyah said: 'I bear witness that my father bore witness, that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ ate food that had been changed by fire, then he performed prayer and he did not perform ablution.' (Sahih)

And 'Ali bin 'Abdullâh bin 'Abbâs said: 'And I bear witness to similar from my father.'"

Comments:
'I bear witness' means: 'I say it with full assurance and certainty'. The purpose is to strengthen the statement made by him.

491. It was narrated that Umm Salamah said: "Some meat from the shoulder of a sheep was brought to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and he ate some of it, then he performed prayer without touching water (for ablution)."
(Sahih)

492. Suwâid bin Nu'mân Ansârî narrated that they went out with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ to Khaibar. When they reached Assaabâ (a place near Khaibar), he performed 'Asr (Afternoon prayer), then he called for food, but no food was brought except for Sawiq. So they ate that and drank, and then he called for water and rinsed his mouth, then he stood up and led us for Maghrib (Sunset) prayer." (Sahih)

Comments:

Sawiq is a kind of mush made of roasted barley. This also shows that performing ablution after eating items prepared on fire is not mandatory.

493. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ ate meat from the shoulder of a sheep, then he rinsed his mouth and washed his hands, then he prayed. (Sahih)

Chapter 67. Concerning Performing Ablution After Eating Camel Meat

494. It was narrated that Barā’ bin ‘Âzib said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ was asked about performing ablution after eating camel meat. He said: ‘Perform ablution after eating it.’” (Sahih)

495. It was narrated that Jâbir bin Samurah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ
Allâh commanded us to perform ablution after eating camel meat but not to perform ablution after eating the mutton. (Sahih)

Comments: 494 & 495

The previous chapter was about not performing ablution after eating meat. But all the descriptions there pertained to eating mutton. In this chapter, however, all the narrations are about performing ablution after eating camel meat. The second Hadîth even brings out the different rulings for mutton and camel meat.

496. It was narrated that Usaid bin Hudair said: "The Messenger of Allâh  said: 'Do not perform ablution after (drinking) sheep's milk, but perform ablution after (drinking) camel's milk.'" (Da'iff)
The Chapters Of Purification

prayer in the sheep pens but not do so in the camels' Ma‘ātin."[1] (Da‘if)

Chapter 68. Rinsing The Mouth After Drinking Milk

498. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Abbās that the Prophet said: "Rinse your mouths after drinking milk for there is some greasiness in it." (Sahih)

Comments:
Islam lays great emphasis on cleanliness. Hence it is, that rinsing the mouth and using the tooth stick have been made part of ablution. Traces of greasiness left by our eating and drinking are injurious for health. One must, therefore, be extremely particular about cleansing his mouth after drinking milk or eating greasy food.

499. It was narrated that Umm Salamah, the wife of the Prophet, said: "The Messenger of Allāh said: 'If you drink milk, then rinse your mouths, for there is some greasiness in it.'" (Hasan)

Chapter 69. Ablution After Kissing

502. ‘Urwah bin Az-Zubair narrated from ʿAishah, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ kissed one of his women (i.e., wives), then he went out to perform the prayer, and he did not perform ablution. I (ʿUrwah bin Zubair) said: “That was not anyone but you,” and she smiled.” (Hasan)
The Chapters Of Purification

Chapter 70. Ablution From Prostatic Fluid

503. It was narrated from 'Aishah: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would perform ablution, then he would kiss, then he would perform prayer without performing ablution again. And sometimes he did that with me.” (Da‘îf)

Comments:
  a. 'Urwa b. Ghazi was the son of 'Aishah’s sister.
  b. Kissing one’s wife does not nullify one’s ablution provided that no prostatic fluid is secreted.

504. It was narrated that 'Ali b. Abî Talib said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was asked about prostatic fluid and he said: ‘For that ablution (is necessary), and for semen, bath is necessary.’” (Sahîh)

Comments:
  a. Prostatic fluid is a sticky fluid that appears on the male organ during sexual foreplay with one’s wife. Its appearance does not diminish sexual desire. Semen, on the other hand, is a thick whitish fluid produced in the male reproductive organs and discharged at the completion of the sexual act.
  b. Prostatic fluid does not necessitate the bath; mere ablution is enough.
Ablution has the benefit of diverting a person’s attention and putting an end to sexual excitation.

505. It was narrated from Miqdād bin Aswād that he asked the Prophet ﷺ about a man who approached his wife, but did not ejaculate. He said: “If anyone of you finds that, let him sprinkle water over his private part (meaning he must wash it) and perform ablution.” (Sahih)

Comments:
‘Approaching the wife’ means kissing and lovemaking but not intercourse, since intercourse necessitates a bath even though no ejaculation takes place.

506. It was narrated that Sahl bin Hūnāfī said: “I used to suffer from a great deal of prostatic fluid, and I took many baths because of that. I asked the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ about that, and he said: ‘Ablution is sufficient for you in this case.’ I said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh! What about the prostatic fluid that gets onto my clothes?’ He said: ‘It is sufficient for you to pour a handful of water on the part of your clothes wherever you see it has reached.’” (Hasan)

507. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Abbās that he came to Uhāyy bin...
Ka‘b, accompanied by ‘Umar. Ubayy came out to them and said: “I noticed some prostatic fluid, so I washed my penis and performed ablution.’ ‘Umar said: “Is that sufficient?” He said: “Yes.” He (‘Umar) asked: “Did you hear that from the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ?” He said: “Yes.” (Da‘if)

Comments:

The chain of transmission in respect of this Hadith makes it Weak. It is nevertheless a proven fact that prostatic fluid does not necessitate a bath.

Chapter 71. Ablution After Sleeping

508. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Abbâs that the Prophet ﷺ got up during the night and went to the toilet and relieved himself, then he washed his face and hands, and went back to sleep. (Sahîh)

Horizontal spacing and alignment have been maintained for readability. The text has been translated into English, adhering to the natural flow and structure of the original Arabic text.
Comments:
Doing ablution while going to sleep is a virtuous act meriting reward in the next world. (Bukhāri: 247, & Muslim: 2710) However, sleeping in a state of ablution is not mandatory. Mere washing hands and mouth would suffice. Not only this, there is no harm in sleeping without ablution, even when in a state of major impurity necessitating a bath. See Ahādīth 581-583.

Chapter 72. Performing Ablution For Each Prayer And Offering All Prayers With One Ablution

509. It was narrated that Anas bin Mālik said: "The Messenger of Allāh  used to perform ablution for every prayer, and we used to perform all of the prayers with one ablution." (Sahih)

Comments:
a. Ablution performed for one prayer if intact, is valid for any number of obligatory and voluntary prayers.
b. An ablution performed for one prayer even though intact, can be refreshed before another prayer. This action, i.e., making a fresh ablution during the validity of the previous one, is also proved from the Sunnah of the Prophet م.

510. Sulaimān bin Buraidah narrated from his father that the Prophet م used to perform ablution for every prayer, but on the day of the conquest of Makkah, he performed all of the prayers with one ablution. (Sahih)

Comments: أخرجه مسلم، الطهارة، باب جواز الصلاوات كلهما بوضوء واحد، ح: 77 من حديث سفيان الثوري به مختصراً.
Comments:
This was an act of the category of desirable (Mustahab) deeds, but the Prophet Muhammad ﷺ did away with it in this case, lest it should become one of the obligatory forms for the Ummah, just as he had stopped leading the congregational form of the Tarawih prayer. (See Fathul-Bari, 412/1).

511. Fadl bin Mubashshir said: "I saw Jābir bin 'Abdullāh performing every prayer with one ablution, and I said: 'What is this?' He said: 'I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ doing this, and I am doing as the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ did.'" (Da‘īf)

Comments:
It is no offence to the dignity of a scholar to enquire of him about the rationale and proof of doing an action that was not seen by anyone before.

Chapter 73. Ablution When In A State Of Purity

512. It was narrated that Abu Ghutaif Al-Hudhali said: "I was listening to 'Abdullāh bin 'Umar bin Khattāb in the mosque, and when the time for prayer came, he got up, performed ablution, and offered prayer, then he went back to where he had been sitting. When the time for 'Asr (Afternoon prayer) came, he got up, performed ablution, and offered prayer, then he went back to where he had been sitting. When the time for Maghrib (Sunset prayer) came, he got up, performed ablution, and offered prayer, then he went back to where he had been sitting. I said:
'May Allāh improve you (i.e., your condition) Is it obligatory or Sunnah to perform ablution for every prayer?' He said: 'Did you notice that?' I said: 'Yes.' He said: 'No (it is not obligatory). If I perform ablution for Morning prayer I can perform all of the prayers with this ablution, so long as I do not get impure. But I heard the Messenger of Allāh say: “Whoever performs ablution while he is pure, he will have ten merits,” so I wanted to earn the merits.”” (Da‘īf)

Chapter 74. No Ablution Except For Impurity

513. ‘Abbād bin Tamim narrated that his paternal uncle said: “A complaint was made to the Prophet about a man who sensed something (some doubt about his ablution) during prayer. He said: ‘No (he does not have to perform ablution) unless he notices a smell or hears a sound.’” (Sahīh)

Comments:

a. The passing of the wind nullifies the ablution even though no sound is heard.

b. Mere doubt (in the absence of certainty) does not invalidate the ablution.
514. It was narrated that Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri said: “The Prophet was asked about doubts (concerning ablution) during prayer. He said: ‘He should not leave until he hears a sound or detects an odor.’” (Sahih)

515. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allah said: ‘No ablution (is needed) unless there is an odor or a sound.’” (Sahih)

516. It was narrated that ‘Amr bin ‘Ata’ said: “I saw Sа‘ib bin Khabbаb sniffing his garment, and I said: ‘Why (are you doing) that?’ He said: ‘I heard the Messenger of Allah say: ‘No ablution (is needed) unless there is an odor or a sound.’” (Da‘if)

Chapter 75. The Quantity Of Water That Does Not Become Unclean

517. It was narrated from ‘Ubaidullāh bin ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Umar that his father said: "I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ being asked about water in the wilderness that is frequented by beasts and predators. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "If the water reaches the amount of two Qullah,[1] nothing can make it impure (Najis)."" (Sahih)

Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:
The Arabic Qullah is a large earthen jar or container. Qullah made at the place known as Hajr were very popular in the Arab world. The container was big enough, i.e. of the size of two-and-a-half water skins. Scholars have described the quantity of two Qullah as equivalent to 500 Ratl. One Ratl weighs half a seer, i.e., forty tolas. Thus, the total quantity of five water skins of water measures approximately 240 kilograms or, according to some scholars, about 227 kilograms. So much quantity of water would qualify for the definition of ‘abundant’ water. As such a little amount of impurity would not change the basic characteristic of the purity of water.

518. It was narrated from ‘Ubaidullāh bin ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Umar that his father said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'If the water is the amount of two or three Qullah, nothing can make it impure (Najis).''' (Sahih)

[1] A Qullah is a large water container whose size the scholars differ over, from five to fifty waterskins. Tirmidhi said (no. 67): "And they say, it is approximately fifty Qirbah (water skins)." Khattābī said (Ma'alimus-Sunan: 1:35): "The scholars have stated the size of two Qullah is five Qirbah." See Ahmad Shākir’s comments on Jāmi’ At-Tirmidhi.
Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:
Other Ahādīth confirm that the original limit is two Qullahs. If the size of water is less than this, then anything impure falling into it shall turn the water impure, regardless of whether its smell, taste or color remains unchanged. But water in a greater quantity than this shall only be considered impure if the impurity has either changed its color, or smell, or taste.

Chapter 76. Water Basins

519. It was narrated from Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri that the Prophet was asked about the water basins located between Makkah and Al-Madinah, which were visited by wild animals, dogs and donkeys, and about using them for means of purification. He said, “Whatever they (the animals) have carried in their bellies is for them, and whatever is left over is for us, and is pure.” (Da‘if)

520. It was narrated that Jābir bin ‘Abdullāh said: “We came to a pond in which there was the carcass of a donkey, so we refrained from using the water until the Messenger of Allāh came to us and said: ‘Water is not made impure by anything.' Then we drank from it and gave it to our animals to drink, and we carried some with us." (Da'if)

Comments:
The addition of the words 'the carcass of a donkey' in the Hadith being unsubstantiated by other sound authorities is Denounced (Munkar). The remaining part of the Hadith, being Traceable (Marfu'), is authentic.

521. It was narrated that Abu Umâmah Al-Bâhili said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Water is not made impure by anything except that which changes its smell, taste and color.'" (Da'if)

Comments:
Although, as to the chain of transmission, the Hadith is 'Weak', yet there is consensus among the scholars on the point that water whose basic characteristic has been changed because of some impurity is no longer good as a means of purification.

Chapter 77. Concerning The Urine Of An Infant Boy Who Is Not Yet Eating Solid Food

522. It was narrated that Lubâbah bint Hârith said: "Husain bin 'Ali urinated in the lap of the Prophet ﷺ, and I said: 'O Messenger of Allâh, give me your garment and put on another garment.' He said: 'Water should be sprinkled on the urine of a baby boy, and the urine of a baby girl should be washed away.”

(Sahih)

Comments:
a. If a suckling infant boy (who has not been weaned) urinates over the garment, it is not necessary to wash it. A cloth urinated over by a baby girl must, however, be washed.
b. We do not know for sure the wisdom behind this difference, but we are obligated to obey all the commands of Allâh and His Prophet ﷺ.

523. It was narrated that ʿAishah said: ”A baby boy was brought to the Prophet ﷺ who then urinated on him. He sprinkled over it with water and did not wash it.”

(Sahih)

524. It was narrated that Umm Qais bint Mihsan said: “I came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ with a son of mine who was not yet eating solid food, and he (the baby) urinated on him. He called for water and sprinkled it over (the urine).”

(Sahih)

525. It was narrated from ʿAli, that the Prophet ﷺ said concerning the urine of a nursing infant: "Water should be sprinkled over the urine of a boy, and the urine of a girl should be washed."

Abul-Hasan bin Salamah said: "Ahmad bin Musa bin Ma'qil narrated to us that Abul-Yaman Al-Misri said: 'I asked Shafi'i about the Hadith of the Prophet ﷺ. 'Water should be sprinkled over the urine of a boy, and the urine of a girl should be washed,' when the two types of water (urine) are the same. He said, 'That is because the urine of the boy is of water and clay, but the urine of the girl is of flesh and blood.' Then he said to me: 'Did you understand?' I said: 'No.' He said: 'When Allâh the Most High created Adam, He created Eve (Hawwa') from his short rib, so the boy's urine is from water and clay, and the girl's urine is from flesh and blood.' Then he said to me: 'Did you understand?' I said: 'Yes.' He said: 'May Allâh cause you benefit from this.' (Hasan)

Трактовка: (Hasen) Ахрех Абу Хада, аль-Мисри, баб аль-афри, аль-ама, аль-чарм, Хусейн. 278

526. Abu Samh said: "I was a servant of the Prophet ﷺ, and Hasan or Husain was brought to him and (the infant) urinated on his chest. They wanted to wash it, but the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'Sprinkle water on it, for the urine of a girl should be washed, but the urine of a boy should be sprinkled over with water.'" (Sahih)

527. It was narrated from Umm Kurz that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "The urine of a boy should be sprinkled over and the urine of a girl should be washed." (Sahih)

Comments:
All these Ahâdîth are explicit on the point that clothing urinated on over on by a suckling girl is to be washed, while the baby boy’s urine is to be sprinkled over with water.

Chapter 78. Ground That Is Soiled With Urine And How It Should Be Washed
528. It was narrated from Anas that a Bedouin urinated in the mosque, and some of the people rushed at him. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Do not interrupt him." Then he called for a bucket of water and poured it over (the urine). (Sahih) Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was sitting there, and (the man) said: ‘O Allāh, forgive me and Muhammad, and do not forgive anyone else with us.’ The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ smiled and said: ‘You have placed restrictions on something that is vast.’ Then the Bedouin turned away, went to a corner of the mosque, spread his legs and began to urinate. After he had a better understanding, the Bedouin said: ‘He got up and came to me, and may my father and mother be ransomed for him, he did not rebuke me nor revile me. He said: “This mosque is not for urinating in. Rather it is built for the remembrance of Allāh and prayer.”’ Then he called for a large vessel of water and poured it over the place where he had urinated.” (Hasan)

Comments:

a. Even a big mistake by a person ignorant of the laws of Shari‘ah should be tolerated and he should be politely told that what he had done was not proper.

b. The Prophet ﷺ allowed the Bedouin to complete his urination in the mosque because he had already started doing it. Had the man been stopped in the middle, it would have caused harm to his body system, or else he would start running away in panic, and the drops of urine would have defiled not only a considerable part of the mosque but also his own body and clothes.

c. The Prophet ﷺ drew the attention of the Bedouin to the mistake he had committed in his supplication to Allāh, although the mistake was the result of his excessive love and reverence for the Prophet ﷺ.

d. The mosque must be kept free from all kinds of trash and impurities.

e. In order to remedy the defilement of an unmettled piece of earth caused by somebody’s urine, it is enough to pour a bucket of water over the place. Thus, once the earth absorbs the water and the remains of the urine, it shall regain its purity.
530. It was narrated that Wāthilah bin Asqa’ said: “A Bedouin came to the Prophet and said: ‘O Allāh, have mercy on me and Muhammad, and do not allow anyone else to share in Your mercy.’ The Prophet said: ‘You have placed restrictions on something that is vast, woe to you!’ Then (the Bedouin) spread his legs and urinated, and the Companions of the Prophet told him to stop, but the Messenger of Allāh said: ‘Let him be,’ then he called for a vessel of water and poured it over (the urine).’” (Hasan)

531. It was narrated that Umm Salamah, the wife of the Prophet, said: “I am a woman whose hem is lengthy, and I may walk through a dirty place. The Messenger of Allāh said: ‘That which comes after it purifies it.’” (Hasan)
Comments:

If a person’s garment or shoe has no visible impurity over it, then it should be presumed that walking further on clean ground has purified it. In case some impurity can still be seen over either of them, then it is a definite uncleanness, which must be washed off.

532. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: It was said: “O Messenger of Allâh, we want to come to the mosque, but the path that we walk upon is impure.”

The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “Some parts of the earth purify others.” (Da’îf)

533. It was narrated that a woman from (the tribe of) Banu ‘Abdul-Ashhal said: “I said to the Prophet ﷺ: ‘Between the mosque and I there is a filthy path.’ He said: ‘After that is there a cleaner path?’ I said: ‘Yes.’ He said: ‘This is (a remedy) for that.’” (Sa-lih)

Comments:

- Feet defiled by any kind of indiscernible impurity while walking on the earth shall become pure by walking further on clean ground, and there is no need to wash them. The view is confirmed by the first Hadith of this chapter that speaks of a part of garment dragged over a dirty place.
- Islam is not about unnecessarily stiff rules and restrictions. It is one of its characteristics that it is a religion of facility and ease.

Chapter 80. Shaking Hands
With One Who Is In A State Of Sexual Impurity

534. It was narrated from Abu
Râfî’ that Abu Hurairah was met by the Prophet in one of the streets of Al-Madinah when he was in a state of sexual impurity, so he slipped away. The Prophet missed him, so when he came (later on), he said: ‘Where were you O Abu Hurairah?’ He said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh, you met me when I was in a state of sexual impurity, and I did not want to sit with you until I had a bath. The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘The believer does not become impure.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
The body of a believer, whether dead or alive, is pure. It is, therefore, perfectly in order to shake hands with him and sit and eat together. It is, however, preferable that a sexually impure person performs ablution before starting to eat and drink. Even before going to sleep such a person should perform ablution in order that, at least, he attains to a partial state of purity (Bukhârî: 287).

535. It was narrated that Hudhaifah said: “The Prophet came out and met me when I was sexually impure, so I kept away from him. Then I had a bath and came to him. He said: ‘What is the matter with you?’ I said: ‘I was sexually impure.’ The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘The Muslim does not become impure.’” (Sahih)
Chapter 81. Semen That Soils Clothes

536. It was narrated that `Amr bin Maimun said: "I asked Sulaiman bin Yasar about a garment which gets semen on it. 'Should I wash it off or wash the entire garment?' Sulaiman said: 'Aishah said: "Semen used to get on the garment of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and he would wash it off his garment, then he would go out to pray wearing that garment, and I could see the marks left on it by washing." (Sahih)

Chapter 82. Scraping Semen From Clothing

537. It was narrated that `Aishah said: "I often scraped it (semen) from the garment of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ with my hand." (Sahih)

Comments:

It shows that it is enough to scratch it off with a finger nail. There is an obvious possibility of certain particles of it still remaining in the garment. Yet the clothing shall be considered as pure even without washing.
538. Hammâm bin Hârith narrated: "A guest came and stayed with 'Aishah, and she ordered that he be given a yellow blanket of hers. He had a nocturnal emission in it, and he felt too shy to send it back to her when it had the traces of that emission on it, so he dipped it in water and then sent it to her. 'Aishah said: 'Why did he spoil our garment? It would have been sufficient for him to scrape it off with his finger. I often scraped (semen) from the garment of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ with my finger.'" (Sahih)

539. It was narrated that 'Aishah said: "I remember when I found it (semen) on the garment of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and I scraped it off." (Sahih)

Comments:

The ruling relates to a situation where the substance is thick enough to be scraped off. If it is thin, it penetrates into the texture of the clothing and leaves its mark. It would not, therefore, disappear by mere rubbing it or scraping it. In that case, it would be better to wash off the relevant portion of the garment in order to ensure its purity.

Chapter 83. Offering Prayer
In A Garment In Which One Has Had Intercourse

540. It was narrated from Mu‘âwiyyah bin Abu Sufyân that he asked his sister Umm Habibah, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ: "Did the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ ever offered prayer in a garment in which he had sexual intercourse?”

She said: “Yes, if there was nothing noxious on it.” (Sahîh)

Comments:

a. It shows that we do not have to have separate clothing because of sexual activity.

b. The garment on one’s body does not become impure because of ritual impurity.

541.

It was narrated that Abu Dardâ’ said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came out to us with water dripping from his head, and he led us in prayer wearing a single garment, placing its one end on the right shoulder, and the other end on the other shoulder. When he finished praying, ʿUmar bin Khattâb said to him: ‘O Messenger of Allâh, did you lead us in prayer wearing a single garment? He said: ‘Yes, I perform prayer in it, and in it I (i.e. I had sexual intercourse in it).’” (Daʿîf)

a. Be it the ʿlmâm of the prayer or his follower, it is not binding for him to cover the head during prayer, although it is not desirable to make it a practice to remain without a head cover.

b. This rule is man-specific. As for the woman, she must always have a head cover. This means that the prayer of a woman shall be in order if she puts on two pieces of clothing — a long shirt that covers her body including the feet and a cover for her head.

542.

It was narrated that Jâbir bin Samurah said: “A man asked the Prophet whether he could perform prayer in a garment in which he had intercourse with his wife. He said: 'Yes, unless he sees something on it, in which case he should wash it.'” (Sahih)

Chapter 84. Wiping Over Leather Socks

543. It was narrated that Hammâm bin Hārith said: “Jarir bin ‘Abdullâh urinated, then he performed ablution and wiped over his leather socks. Someone asked him: 'Do you do this?' He said: 'Why shouldn’t I? I saw the Messenger of Allâh (SAW) doing this.'” Ibrâhîm (who narrated it from Hammâm) said: “They were pleased by the Hadith of Jarir because he accepted Islam after the revelation of Mâ’idâh.”[1] (Sahih)

Comments:

Ahâdîth affirming the provision of wiping over the socks have been narrated by more than eighty Companions, including the Ten who were given the glad tiding of Paradise.

544. It was narrated from Hudhaifah that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ performed ablution and wiped over his leather socks. (Sahih)

545. It was narrated from ‘Urwah bin Mughirah bin Shu’bah from his father Mughirah bin Shu’bah, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went out to relieve himself, and Mughirah followed him with a vessel of water. When he finished relieving himself, he performed ablution and wiped over his leather socks. (Sahih)

Comments:
The Prophet ﷺ, while intending to ease himself, used to go a long distance to be out of the view of the people (Ibn Majah: 331-336). Any Companion volunteering to take the water with him used to stop at a distance from the Prophet ﷺ, after which he alone carried the water, and either went far to make himself out of sight, or screened himself behind something.

546. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Umar that he saw Sa’d bin Malik wiping over his leather socks and said: “Is it you doing this?” They both went to ‘Umar and Sa’d said to ‘Umar: “Give my brother’s son a verdict regarding wiping over leather socks.” ‘Umar said: “We used to wipe over our leather socks when we were with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and we do not see anything wrong with that.” Ibn ‘Umar said: “Even if that is after one has defecated?” He said: “Yes.” (Sahîh)

Comments:

a. Scholars have a duty to to satisfy the questions or points of doubt with proofs, just as ‘Umar ﷺ provided the evidence by saying that he and others had been doing it in the presence of the Prophet ﷺ, and he never objected to it. Hence it was perfectly in order.

b. An act being done in the presence of the Prophet ﷺ and his refraining from objecting to it is called a Hadîth Taqrîri (a Hadîth proved from the Prophet’s silent approval).

547. ‘Abdul-Muhaimin bin ‘Abbâs bin Sahl As-Sâ’i’di narrated from his father, from his grandfather: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ wiped over his leather socks and he ordered us to wipe over the leather socks.” (Da’îf)

548. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: “I was with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ on a journey, and he said: ‘Is there any water?’ He performed ablution and wiped over his leather socks, then he joined the army and led them (in prayer).” (Da’îf)
The Chapters Of Purification ...

Chapter 85. Wiping The Top And The Bottom Of The Leather Socks

549. It was narrated from Abu Buraidah from his father that An-Najashi gave the Prophet  a gift of a pair of plain black leather socks. He put them on, then he (performed ablution and) wiped over them. (Da'if)

550. It was narrated from Mughirah bin Shu'bah that the Messenger of Allāh  wiped over the top and the bottom of the leather socks. (Da'if)

Comments:
The Hadith is Weak. It cannot, therefore, be presented as supportive of the content of the heading of this chapter.

551. It was narrated that Jābir said: "The Messenger of Allāh  passed by a man who was performing ablution and washing his leather socks. He gestured with his hand, (and said): ‘Rather I have been commanded to wipe them.’" The Messenger of Allāh gestured with his hand like this, from the tips of the toes to the Chapter 86. What Was Narrated Concerning The Period Of Wiping For Residents And Travelers

552. It was narrated that Shuraib bin Hanî’ said: “I asked ‘Aishah about wiping over the leather socks and she said: ‘Go to ‘Ali and ask him, for he knows more about that than I do.’ So I went to ‘Ali and asked him about wiping. He said: ‘The Messenger of Allâh used to tell us that the resident could wipe for one day and one night, and the traveler could do so for three days.’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. If a person on a journey does not take off his socks, he can do away with washing and continue to to wipe over them. In case he takes off the socks, it becomes compulsory for him to wash the feet.

b. A non-traveler, if he puts on the socks after performing his ablution, can only wipe his socks for a day and night.

553. It was narrated that Khuzaimah bin Thâbit said: “The Messenger of Allâh set a time limit for the traveler of three days, and if the questioner had persisted in asking, he would have made it five (days).” (Sahih)
554. It was narrated from Khuzaimah bin Thabit that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Three days." I think he said, "And three nights during which the traveler may wipe over his leather socks." (Sahih)

555. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "They said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! What about the purification of the leather socks?' He said: 'For the traveler it is three days and nights, and for the resident it is one day and one night.'" (Da‘if)

556. It was narrated from 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Abu Bakrah, from his father, that the Prophet ﷺ granted a concession to travelers: "If a traveler performed ablution and put on leather socks, then he performed a fresh ablution, he could wipe over the leather socks for three days and nights; the resident could do so.
Chapter 87. Concerning Wiping Over The Leather Socks With No Time Limit

557. It was narrated from Ubayy bin ‘Imarah, in whose house the Messenger of Allah ﷺ performed prayer facing both prayer direction, that he said to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: “Can I wipe over my leather socks?” He said: “Yes.” He said: “For one day?” He said: “For two days.” He said: “For three?” And so on, until the number reached seven. He (the Prophet ﷺ) said: “For as long as you see fit.” (Da’if)

558. It was narrated from ‘Uqbah bin ‘Amir Al-Juhani that he came to ‘Umar bin Khattab from Egypt. ‘Umar said: “How long has it been since you have taken off your leather socks?” He said: “From one Friday till the next.” He said: “You have acted in accordance with the Sunnah.” (Hasan)
Comments:
On the face of it, the Ahadith of this chapter seem to be in conflict with the Ahadith of the previous chapter. The scholars have, however, removed this apparent anomaly by suggesting that the Ahadith prescribing a time limit on wiping the socks would be applicable if the person on a journey has no difficulty in taking off the socks after three days and three nights. However, in case the journey is long and the person cannot afford lagging behind the caravan, or else he finds it difficult or painful to take off the socks, he could wipe over the socks for an indefinite period of time, as was the case with ‘Uqbah bin ‘Amir &. It was on this basis that ‘Umar & expressed his approval of the action by commenting: ‘You have acted in accordance with the Sunnah.’

Chapter 88. Concerning Wiping Over The Socks And The Sandals

559. It was narrated from Mughirah bin Shu’bah that the Messenger of Allâh performed ablution and wiped over his socks and his sandals. (Da’if)

Comments:
a. Arabs had open sandals, i.e., that they had only one or two small leather straps over the soles of their shoes. It was, therefore, not necessary to take off the shoes for wiping over the socks. The Hadith can be acted upon even today in the case of plastic slippers etc.
b. The report also speaks of wiping over the socks and the shoes separately, which means that he did both in turns, i.e., either wiping only over the socks or wiping over the strapped shoes alone.
Messenger of Allah performed ablution and wiped over his socks and his sandals. (Da'if)

Chapter 89. What Was Narrated Concerning Wiping Over The Turban

561. It was narrated from Bilal that the Messenger of Allah wiped over his leather socks and his head cover (i.e., the Imāmah). (Sahih)

562. It was narrated from Ja'far bin 'Amr that his father said: “I saw the Messenger of Allah wiping over his leather socks and turban.” (Sahih)

Comments:

Wiping over the head can take several forms, namely (i) wiping over the head or (ii) wiping over the head cover or turban. Another method, the third, could be starting with the head and finishing off with wiping over the turban. There is, however, no clear-cut proof of wiping just over one-fourth of the head.

[1] Or similar head covering as is mentioned in the first narration.
563. It was narrated that Abu Muslim, the freed slave of Zaid bin Suhān, said: "I was with Salman, and I saw a man removing his leather socks for ablution. Salman said to him: ‘Wipe over your leather socks and your head cover, and your forehead, for I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ wiping over his leather socks and head cover.’” (Da’if)

564. It was narrated that Anas bin Mālik said: "I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ performing ablution, wearing a Qatari turban. He put his hand beneath the turban and wiped the front part of his head, and he did not take the turban off.” (Da’if)
Chapter 90. What Was Narrated Concerning Dry Ablution

565. It was narrated that ‘Ammār bin Yāsir said: “‘Aishah dropped a necklace and she stayed behind to look for it. Abu Bakr went to ‘Aishah and got angry with her for keeping the people waiting. Then Allah revealed the concession allowing dry ablution, so we wiped our arms up to the shoulders.” [Sahih]

Comments:

a. The Hadith clearly establishes the excellence of ‘Aishah, the Mother of the Believers, that, because of a momentary inconvenience, a great facility in the form of dry ablution was granted to the entire community of believers.

b. Ordainment to wipe the head up to the shoulders was later abrogated. Dry ablution, as clearly indicated in other Ahādīth, is only necessary now over the face and the palms of the two hands.

[Sindi said: “Either because that was legislated, then abrogated, or due to their Ijtiḥād (judgment) without asking, in which case it was a mistake. It also contains proof that the Prophet ordered them with it, and this is supported from one angle, except that it is said: ‘The meaning is that he ordered them to perform dry ablution, not the how of it.’”]
566. It was narrated that ‘Ammâr (bin Yâsîr) said: “We did dry ablution with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, (wiping our arms) up to our shoulders.” (Sahîh)

567. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “The earth has been made for me a place of worship and a means of purification.” (Sahîh)

Comments:

a. The earth being a place of worship means that a mosque is not a precondition for the performance of prayer, it can be offered even outside it.

b. The earth has been made ‘a means of purification’ means that, in the event of a valid excuse, purity through dry ablution is a permissible alternative to ablution and a bath.

568. It was narrated from ‘Aishah that she borrowed a necklace from Asmâ’, and she lost it. The Prophet ﷺ sent some people to look for it, and the time for prayer came so they prayed without ablution. When they came to the Prophet ﷺ they complained to him about that, then the Verse of dry ablution was revealed. Usâid bin Hudair said: “May Allâh reward you with good, for by Allâh, nothing ever happens to Chapter 91. Concerning Striking The Ground Once In Dry Ablution

569. It was narrated from Sa'eed bin 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Abza from his father, that a man came to 'Umar bin Khattâb and said: "I became impure following sexual emission and cannot find any water." 'Umar said to him: "Do not pray." But 'Ammâr bin Yâsîr said, "Do you not remember, O Commander of the Believers, when you and I were on a military expedition and we became sexually impure and could not find water? As for you, you did not pray, but I rolled in the dust and then prayed. When I came to the Prophet ﷺ and told him what had happened, he said: 'It would have been enough for you (to do this).' (Then demonstrating) the Prophet ﷺ struck the ground with his hands, then blew on them, and wiped his face and palms with them.' (Sahih)

Comments:
a. This shows the correct way to perform the dry ablution. It is like this: Strike your hands on a piece of pure ground, then blow the dust off. After that, pass the hands over the face and, finally, wipe one hand with the other. This completes the dry ablution. You do not have to wipe your arms and feet. Neither do you have to wipe your head and ears.

b. Dry ablution thus done is as good a substitute for a bath as it is for ablution. There is no need to soil your entire body with earth to secure purity from sexual impurity.

c. The rationale behind blowing off the hands after striking the ground with them is to shake off the extra dust. The idea is simply to comply with an order, not to cover the body with dust.

570. It was narrated from Hakam and Salamah bin Kuhail that they asked ‘Abdullāh bin Abi Awfa about dry ablution. He said: “The Prophet ﷺ commanded ‘Ammār to do like this;” and he struck the ground with his palms, shook the dust off and wiped his face. (Da‘if)

Hakam said, “and his hands.” Salamah said, “and his elbows.”

Comments:
The upshot of the matter is that one of the narrators (Hakam) reports that, having wiped the face, the Prophet ﷺ rubbed his one hand on the other (which is correct). The second narrator (Salamah) said that he ﷺ, afterwards, wiped his elbows with the hands. This version is not acceptable since it contradicts the other dependable narrations. Moreover, the Ḥadīth itself is Weak.

Chapter 92. Striking The Ground Twice In Dry Ablution

571. It was narrated from ‘Ammār bin Yāsir that when they did dry ablution with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, he commanded the Muslims to strike the dust with the palms of their hands, and they did not pick up... any dust. Then they wiped their faces once, then they struck the dust with their palms once again and wiped their hands. (Sahih)

Comments:

Most of the narrations reported from `Ammār bin Yāsir speak of striking the dust once. His own Fatawa (formal legal opinion), as pointed out by Imām Tirmidhi, speaks of doing the dry ablution by a single strike of the hands. Imām Shawkhānī says: “All reports speaking of double strike of the hands on the dust are open to question. Had the reports been sound they would have been implemented, especially because they contain one additional element which would have to be accepted.” The right thing to do is, thus, to accept the Hadith contained in the two most authentic books (Sahih Bukhārī & Sahih Muslim) which is about making a single strike of the hands on the dust, unless the report telling about double strike of the hands were proven to be authentic. (Nāmul-Awtār 264/1)

Chapter 93. An Injured Man Who Becomes Sexually Impure And Fears For His Life If He Takes A Bath

572. It was narrated that `Ātā’ bin Abu Rabāh said: “I heard Ibn `Abbās saying that a man was injured in the head at the time of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, then he had a wet dream. He was told to have a bath, so he took the bath, became rigid and stiff, and died. News of that reached the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and he said: ‘They have killed him, may Allāh kill them! Is not the cure for a lack of knowledge to ask questions?’”

`Ātā’ said: “We heard that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'If only he had washed his body and left his head alone where the wound was.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. If the water is too cold and there is no way to heat it, and if taking a cold bath is fraught with risk of death or sickness, it is perfectly in order to do dry ablution of prayer. At the expiry of the risk the person concerned shall have to take a bath.

b. The injury factor mentioned in the report leads one to presume that this was also a contributing factor to his ailment. Thus, although the immediate cause of death was extreme cold, it is also true that the cold water poured on the wound also aggravated the sickness that eventually resulted in his death.

c. Issuance of Fatwa demands extreme caution. While issuing a ruling, it is one of the imperatives to give due consideration to the situation of the questioner.

d. If the question asked has no easy answer, it is best to avoid giving the answer, and advise the questioner to refer the matter to a higher authority on Islamic jurisprudence.

e. If the mistake is grave, it is permissible to use harsh words of reprimand provided that there is no fear of a negative reaction to it. It may be noted that anything that invalidates ablution also invalidates dry ablution. Dry ablution shall also be nullified as soon as a person regains the ability to use water or, alternately, the water that was non-existent, or out of reach, becomes available to the user. And Allâh knows best.

Chapter 94. Concerning Performing A Bath For Being Sexually Impure

573. Ibn ʻAbbâs narrated that his maternal aunt Maimunah said: "I put out some water for the Prophet ﷺ to take a bath, and he bathe to cleanse himself from impurity following sexual activity.

He tilted the vessel with his left hand, pouring water into his right, and washed his hands three times. Then he poured water over his private parts, then he rubbed his hands on the ground. Then he rinsed his mouth and nose, and washed his face three times, and his forearms three times. Then he poured water over the rest of his body, then he moved aside and washed his feet.” (Sahih)

Comments:
- a. Before putting the hands into the water, the hands must be washed.
- b. Rubbing the hands on the ground after cleaning one’s private parts ensures better purification. Using soap for the purpose is also in order.
- c. Feet should not be washed while performing ablution during the bath. They should be washed after the bath is completed.

574. Jumai bin ‘Umair At-Taimi said: “I went out with my paternal aunt and maternal aunt and we entered upon ‘Aishah. We asked her: ‘What did the Messenger of Allah do when he had the bath to cleanse himself from sexual impurity?’ She said: ‘He used to pour water on his hands three times, then he would put them in the vessel and wash his face three times, then he would pour water over his body, then he would get up and perform prayer. As for us, we would wash our heads five times because of our braided hair.’” (Da‘if)

Chapter 95. Bathing To Cleanse Oneself From Sexual Impurity

575. It was narrated that Jubair bin Mut‘im said: “(The Companions) disputed in the presence of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ about having a bath to cleanse oneself from sexual impurity. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘As for me, I pour three handfuls of water on my head.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. ‘Disputed’ here means started talking about the subject and everybody narrated how he had a bath after sexual impurity.
b. The Hadith discusses only one of the issues connected with the bath after being sexually impure. Maybe, the Prophet ﷺ had discussed the entire procedure, but the narrator chose to mention only the most important one. It is also possible that the Prophet ﷺ did not mention other points because the Companions had rightly stated them, and he just mentioned what was missing in their narrations. And Allāh knows best.

576. It was narrated from Abu Sa‘eed that a man asked him about having a bath to cleanse oneself from sexual impurity. He said to pour water three times. The man said: “But I have a lot of hair.” He said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ had more hair than you and he was cleaner.” (Da‘īf)
The Chapters On Dry Ablution

Comments:

'Atyah' could also mean that the Prophet ﷺ was cleaner and more particular about cleanliness than you (the questioner). Still three handfuls of water was enough for him. Therefore, it should be enough for you as well.

577. It was narrated that Jâbir said: “I said: ‘O Messenger of Allah! I live in a cold land, so how should I have a bath to cleanse myself from sexual impurity?’ He said: ‘As for me, I pour three handfuls of water over my head.’” (Sahih)

578. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that a man asked him: “How much water should I pour over my head when I am sexually impure?” He said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to pour three handfuls of water over his head.” The man said: “My hair is long.” He said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ had more hair than you and he was cleaner.” (Sahih)

Chapter 96. Ablution After The Bath

579. It was narrated that ‘Aishah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ would not perform ablution after the bath to cleanse himself from sexual impurity.” (Da‘if)
The reason being that while going for a bath, he used to first clean his private parts and perform ablution. After that he did not touch the private parts. Thus, the ablution performed along with the bath sufficed him for prayer.

Chapter 97. The Sexually Impure Person Warming Himself With His Wife Before She Had The Bath

580. It was narrated that 'Aishah said: “The Messenger of Allah used to have a bath to cleanse himself from sexual impurity, then he would warm himself with me before I had the bath.”” (Da‘if)

Comments:

It has already been stated (Ahādīth 534 & 535) that the body of a sexually impure person is not impure. Unlike the palpable and observable uncleanness caused by urine, impurity caused by sexual activity is an impalpable and unobservable matter. As such there is no harm if a person who has taken a bath shares the bed with his sexually impure wife. Nevertheless, the narration is Weak. As such we should avoid quoting it as a Hadīth of the Prophet.
Chapter 98. The Sexually Impure Person Sleeping As He Is Without Touching Water

581. It was narrated that 'Aishah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would become sexually impure and then sleep without touching water until he got up later on and taken a bath." (Da’if)

Comments:
a. Sleeping ‘without touching water’ means that he went to sleep without performing either ablution or having a bath. It does not mean that he did not even cleanse the impurity from his body.
b. The better course would be to sleep after performing ablution as we will see in the next chapter.

582. It was narrated that 'Aishah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, if he needed any of his wives, would satisfy his need, then he would sleep as he was, without touching water.” (Da’if)

583. It was narrated from 'Aishah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would become sexually impure then sleep as he was, without touching water. (Da’if)

Sufyân said: “I mentioned this Hadîth one day, and Ismâ’il said to me: ‘O young man, you should support this Hadîth with something else.""

Comments:

Ismá’îl means to say that this is only reported on the authority of Abu Ishâq who reports it ‘from Aswad, from ‘Aishah’. As such, in order to support Abu Ishâq’s version, there must be another chain of narration as well. However, on the basis of other chains of narration the Hadith can be dubbed as Sahih (Sound) or Hasan (Good). For detailed discussion see Egyptian scholar Ahmad Shâkir’s commentary on Tirmidhî, 202/1.

Chapter 99. Concerning Those Who Say That The Sexually Impure Person Should Not Sleep Until He Performs Ablution As For Prayer

584. It was narrated that ‘Aishah said: "When the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ wanted to sleep and he was sexually impure, he would perform ablution as for prayer." (Sahih)

Comments:

This Hadith has a greater degree of soundness than the ones quoted in the previous chapter. Nevertheless, the earlier Hadîth are also without any blemish. Reconciliation between both versions could be achieved by interpreting the action of performing the ablution as Desirable (Mustahab) and that of sleeping without performing the ablution as simply Permissible (Mubah).

585. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Umar that ‘Umar bin Khattâb said to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ: "Can anyone of us sleep if he is sexually impure?" He said: "Yes, if he performs ablution." (Sahih)

Comments:

This Hadith has a greater degree of soundness than the ones quoted in the previous chapter. Nevertheless, the earlier Hadîth are also without any blemish. Reconciliation between both versions could be achieved by interpreting the action of performing the ablution as Desirable (Mustahab) and that of sleeping without performing the ablution as simply Permissible (Mubah).
Chapter 100. When A Person Who Is Sexually Impure Wants To Have Intercourse Again, He Should Perform Ablution

587. It was narrated that Abu Sa‘eed said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘If anyone of you has intercourse with his wife, then he wants to do it again, let him perform ablution.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
This ablution is not obligatory but Desirable (Mustahab), since the Prophet ﷺ has himself said that the benefit accruing from the act is that it provides further stimulus or energy. (Sahih Ibn Khuzaimah: 221)

Chapter 101. One Who Has One Bath After Being Intimate With All His Wives

588. It was narrated from Anas that Prophet ﷺ used to go round to all his wives with one bath. (Sahih)
Comments:

If a person has sex with more wives than one in the same night, it is not necessary to have a bath after each act. One bath at the end will be enough.

589. It was narrated that Anas said: "I put out water for the Messenger of Allah for a bath, and he had a bath after going to all of his wives in one night." (Da’if)

Chapter 102. Concerning One Who Has A Bath After Intimacy With Each Of His Wives

590. It was narrated from Abu Râ’î that the Prophet went around to all of his wives in one night, and he had a bath after each one of them. It was said to him: "O Messenger of Allah, why not make it one bath?" He said: "This is purer, better and cleaner." (Hasan)

Comments:

The Hadith proves that the Prophet was extremely particular about cleanliness and purity. This also explains why he so much loved perfume.
and why he had profound abhorrence for things of foul odour or smell.

Chapter 103. Concerning Eating And Drinking Of One Who Is Sexually Impure

591. It was narrated that 'Aishah said: "If the Messenger of Allâh wanted to eat when he was sexually impure, he would perform ablution." (Sahih)

Comments:
The term ablution as used here, may either mean the formal ablution performed for the prayer (as shall be mentioned under Haddith 592) or just washing the hands and mouth, which is the lexical meaning of the term.

592. It was narrated that Jâbir bin 'Abdullâh said: "The Prophet was asked about whether a person who is sexually impure can sleep, or eat, or drink. He said: 'Yes, if he does ablution as for the prayer.'" (Da'if)

Chapter 104. Concerning One Who Says That Washing The Hands Is Sufficient

593. It was narrated from 'Aishah that if the Prophet wanted to eat when he was sexually impure, he would wash his hands. (Sahih)
Comments:
It is desirable to wash hands before eating the meals even though one is not sexually impure. But washing the hands is a must, and performing ablution a desirable act for a sexually impure person.

Chapter 105. What Was Narrated Concerning Reciting Qur’an When One Is Not In A State Of Purity

594. It was narrated that 'Abdullah bin Salamah said: “I entered upon ‘Ali bin Abu Talib and he said: ‘The Messenger of Allah used to go to the lavatory and relieve himself, then come out, and he would eat bread and meat with us and recite Qur’an, nothing stopped him’ or perhaps he said: ‘prevented him from doing so except sexual impurity.’” (Hasan)

Comments:
a. On the basis of proofs, it can be asserted that it is better to abstain from reciting the Qur’an when one is in a state of impurity, although there is no question about its permissibility.
b. In our present times the problem frequently raises its head, especially in girls’ schools, where the situation is this; at times it is the lady teacher, and at other times it is the girls that are faced with this problem. Considering all aspects of the matter it seems expedient to say that reciting the Qur’an in a state of impurity is undesirable although permissible in pressing circumstances. And Allah knows best.

595. It was narrated that Ibn Umar said: “The Messenger of Allah said: ‘No one who is sexually impure and no woman who is menstruating should recite the Qur'an.’” (Da'if)

596. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘No one who is sexually impure and no woman who is menstruating should recite anything of the Qur'an.’” (Da'if)

Chapter 106. Under Every Hair There Is The State Of Sexual Impurity

597. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Under every hair there is the state of sexual impurity, so wash the hair and cleanse the skin.’” (Da'if)

598. Abu Ayyub Al-Ansâri narrated that the Prophet ﷺ said: “The five daily prayers, from one Friday to the next, and fulfilling the trust are all expiation for whatever (sins) come between them.” I said: “What is fulfilling the trust?” He said: Having a bath to cleanse oneself from sexual impurity, for under every hair there is the state of sexual impurity.” (Hasan)

The Chapters On Dry Ablution

Comments:

a. Taking a bath to remove sexual impurity has been likened to ‘fulfilling a trust’. Which means that just as fulfilling a trust is mandatory for the person concerned, taking a bath to remove sexual impurity is also an obligatory duty which must be accomplished, since this impurity cannot be removed without taking a bath.

b. Sins promised to be expiated through a bath are those that belong to the category of minor sins. As for the major sins, they are not expiated through man’s actions or deeds, but only through sincere repentance or a special grace from Allah.

599. It was narrated from ‘Ali bin Abu Talib that the Prophet ﷺ said: “Whoever leaves an area the size of a hair on his body and does not cleanse it from sexual impurity, such and such will be done to him in the Fire.” ‘Ali said: “Because of that I am hostile towards my hair,” and he used to shave his head. (Hasan)

Comments:

Keeping hair on the head is doubtless a desirable act, provided that the hair is full-grown and straight — as proved from the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ — and not of the European style. Nevertheless, shaving it off is also perfectly in order.
Chapter 107. A Woman Who Sees In Her Dream Something Like Men See

600. It was narrated from Zainab, the daughter of Umm Salamah, that her mother Umm Salamah said: “Umm Sulaim came to the Prophet ﷺ and asked him about a woman who sees in her dream something like a man sees. He said: ‘Yes, if she sees water (discharge), let her take a bath.’ I said: ‘You have embarrassed the women. Do women experience wet dreams?’ The Prophet ﷺ said: ‘May your hands be rubbed with dust, how else does her child resemble her?’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Mother of the Believers expressed her surprise because she had never experienced anything like it. The reason being that an occurrence like this is a rarity among women, while it is a normal occurrence among men.

b. Merely having a vision of something like intercourse in dreams, does not necessitate a bath; only a wet dream, i.e., the discharge of the male or female water makes it compulsory. Therefore, if traces of semen become visible on the body or clothes, a bath becomes mandatory regardless of whether, on awakening, the person concerned remembers or does not remember the dream experienced by him.

c. The Prophet ﷺ means to say that since the woman has the fluid inside her that procreates the child, it could as well be emitted in her dream, and there is no reason to feel surprised about it.

601. It was narrated from Anas that Umm Sulaim asked the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ about a woman who sees in her dream something like that which a man sees. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “If she sees that and has a discharge, then let her perform a bath.” Umm Salamah said: “O Messenger of Allâh, does that really happen?” He said: “Yes, the water of a man is thick and white and the water of a woman is thin and yellow. Whichever of them comes first or predominates, the child will resemble (that parent).”

(Sahîh)

602. It was narrated from Khawlah bint Hakim that she asked the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ about a woman who sees in her dream that which a man sees. He said: “She does not have to take a bath unless she has an orgasm, just as man does not have to take a bath unless he has an orgasm.”

(Daʻîf)

Chapter 108. Concerning Women Taking A Bath To Cleanse Themselves From Sexual Impurity

603. It was narrated that Umm Salamah said: “I said, O Messenger of Allâh! I am a woman with tight braids. Should I undo them when I take a bath to cleanse myself from...” the state of sexual impurity?" He said: "Rather it is sufficient for you to pour three handfuls of water over them, then pour water over yourself, and you will be purified," or he said: "In that case you would have become purified." (Sahih)

Comments:

Much like men, women are also required to wet the skins of their head along with their bodies while taking a bath from sexual impurity. However, she can have the ritual shower without undoing the braids of her hair if they are bound tightly. In case the hair is loose or loosely tied, she must wash them well.

604. It was narrated that 'Ubaid bin 'Umair said: "'Aishah heard that 'Abdullāh bin 'Amr was telling his wives to undo their braids (when they bathed). She said: 'How odd that Ibn 'Amr would do that! Why does he not tell them to shave their heads?

The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and I used to bathe from a single vessel, and I never did more than pour three handfuls of water over my head.'" (Sahih)

Chapter 109. Is It Sufficient For One Who Is Sexually Impure To Immerse Himself
In Standing Water?

605. It was narrated from Bukair bin 'Abdullāh bin Ashajj that Abu Sā'īb, the freed slave of Hishām bin Zuhrah, told him that he heard Abu Hurairah say: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'No one of you should bathe in standing water when he is sexually impure.'" He (Abu Sā'īb) said: "What should he do, O Abu Hurairah?" He said: "Let him take some out (and pour it over himself)." (Sahih)

Comments:
The rationale behind forbidding one to immerse oneself in standing water for purposes of a bath is that, if person after person starts doing it, the water shall soon become unusable. Taking the water out of it for the purpose, on the other hand, will ensure that the water remains clean and useful for all.

Chapter 110. Water Is For Water

606. It was narrated from Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ passed by (the house of) one of the Ansār and sent word for him to come out. He came out with his head dripping and (the Prophet ﷺ) said: "Perhaps we made you hurry?" He said: "Yes, O Messenger of Allah." He said, "If you are hurried (by someone) or obstructed (from orgasm) and do not ejaculate, then you do not have to take a bath, but you should perform ablution." (Sahih)
607. It was narrated that Abu Ayyub said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Water (of bath) is for water (of seminal discharge).’” (Sahih)

Comments:
The Ahadith imply that no bath is obligatory for a man who was in the process of intercourse with his wife but had to leave it midway before ejaculation for some reason. However, the concession belongs to the early days of Islam which was later abolished. Now the ruling is that, ejaculation or no ejaculation, bath becomes obligatory by the mere consummation of the intercourse.

Chapter 111. What Was Narrated About The Obligation Of Bath When The Two Circumcised Parts Meet

608. It was narrated that ’Aishah the wife of the Prophet ﷺ said: “When the two circumcised parts meet, then bath is obligatory. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ and I did that, and we bathed.” (Sahih)

Comments:
The expression ‘When the two circumcised parts meet’ means the happening of intercourse. In other words, it means that, ejaculation or no ejaculation, bath becomes an obligation the moment the pair is engaged in the sexual act.
609. Ubayy bin Ka'b said: “That was a concession that was granted in the early days of Islam, then we were commanded to have a bathe after that.” [1] (Sahih)

610. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “When a man sits between the four parts (arms and legs of his wife) and has intercourse with her, then bath is obligatory.” (Sahih)

Comments:
The expression ‘sits between the four parts (of the wife)’ means approaching the woman for the sexual act. The Arabic expression Ḥadadhaha in the context means going into the woman, which necessitates the bath whether or not ejaculation takes place.

611. It was narrated from 'Amr bin Shu‘aib, from his father, that his grandfather said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘When the two circumcised parts meet, and (the tip of the penis) disappears, then bath is obligatory.’” (Da‘if)

[1] He was referring to: ‘Water is for water’ as is clear from other versions of it.
Comments:

The expression "When the two circumcised parts meet" means the same thing as the disappearance of the tip of the male organ into the female organ.

Chapter 112. One Who Has An Erotic Dream But Does Not Feel Any Wetness

612. It was narrated from 'Aishah that the Prophet said: "If anyone of you wakes up and sees some wetness, but he does not think that he had an erotic dream, let him have a bath. But if he thinks that he had an erotic dream but he does not see any wetness, then he does not have to take a bath." (Da'if)

Chapter 113. About Concealing Oneself When Taking A Bath

613. Abu Samh said: "I used to serve the Prophet, and when he wanted to take a bath he would say: 'Turn your back to me.' So I would turn my back and hung up a cloth, and concealed him with it." (Sahih)
Comments:
It is not permissible to undress oneself in anybody else's view or presence. One can, however, undress oneself, when necessary, in loneliness or seclusion.

614. It was narrated that 'Abdullāh bin 'Hārith bin Nawfāl said: "I asked whether the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ prayed voluntary prayer when travelling, but I could not find anyone to tell me until Umm Hānī' bint Abu Tālib told me that he had come during the year of the Conquest (of Makkah). He ordered that a screen be held up, and that was done, and he took a bath; then he prayed eight Rak'ah (units) of voluntary prayer." (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجت مسلم، صلعة السخرين، باب استحباب صلوة الضحى ... الخ.

Comments:
The Prophet ﷺ stayed in Makkah on the occasion of its conquest in the capacity of a 'person on a journey'. In spite of it, he performed the forenoon (Dhuha) voluntary prayer. He, however, did not perform the Sunnah prayer (regular supererogatory prayer performed before and after the obligatory prayers).

615. It was narrated that 'Abdullāh bin Mas'ūd said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'No one of you should bathe in open land or on a roof where he is not concealed; even if he does not see anyone, he can still be seen.'" (Da'if)
Chapter 114. Concerning The Prohibition Of Suppressing Urine Or Feces During Prayer

616. It was narrated that 'Abdullāh bin Arqam said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘If anyone of you needs to defecate and the immediate call to prayer (IQāmah) is given, let him start with it (relieving himself).’” (Sahih)

Comments:
The rationale behind the ruling is that if someone starts his prayer by suppressing the urge to relieve himself, he will neither feel at ease nor be able to pay due attention to the prayer which is the most important act of worship.

617. It was narrated from Abu Umāmah that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ forbade a man to perform prayer when he was suppressing (the urge to urinate or defecate). (Sahih)

618. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said, ‘No one of you should stand to pray when he feels some discomfort (because of needing to urinate or defecate).’” (Sahih)

619. It was narrated from Thawbân that the Messenger of Allah said: “No one among the Muslims should stand to pray when he is suppressing (the need to urinate or defecate), until he has relieved himself.” (Hasan)

Chapter 115. What Was Narrated Concerning The Bleeding Woman Who Has Counted The Days Of Her Period Before Her Flow Of Blood Became Continuous

620. It was narrated from ‘Urwah bin Zubair that Fatîmah bint Abi Hubaish narrated to him that she went to the Messenger of Allah and complained to him about bleeding. The Messenger of Allah said: “Rather that is a vein, so look and see when your period comes, then do not perform the prayer. When the period is over, then purify yourself and perform the prayer between one period to the next.” (Da’if)

Comments:

a. ‘That is a vein’ means it is a ailment, not the regular menstrual blood. As such the rules governing the routine period do not apply to it.

b. A woman suffering from bleeding out of her ordinary periods must also take a bath at the end of the menstruation period, like a normal woman and thereafter start praying like a normal woman. She can also go to the mosque.
read the Qur’an and let the husband have intercourse with her, and do all things that are forbidden during the monthly period for a woman.

621. It was narrated that ‘Aishah said: “Fātimah bint Abi Hubaish came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh ﷺ! I am a woman who bleeds continuously and never becomes pure, should I give up the prayer?’ He said: ‘No, rather that is a vein and it is not menstruation. When the time of your period comes, leave off the prayer, and when it is over, take a bath and wash the blood from yourself and perform the prayer.’” This is the Hadith of Waki’. (Sahih)

622. It was narrated that Umm Habibah bint Jahsh said: “I used to bleed continuously and heavily. I went to the Prophet ﷺ asking him for advice and telling him (about my situation). I found him with my sister Zainab and said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh! I need to ask you something.’ He said: ‘What is it?’ I said: ‘I bleed continuously and heavily, and that is keeping me from prayer and fasting. What do you command me to do about it?’ He said: ‘I advise you to use a piece of cotton, for that will take away the blood.’ I said: ‘It is more than that.’” And he mentioned something like the Hadith of Sharik (below). (Da’if)
Comments:

'Use a piece of cotton' means: I advise you to put some cotton on the blood spot, and tie it with a piece of cloth so that the blood gets absorbed in the cotton, and does not intermittently spoil your clothes, and you are able to perform prayer etc., with perfect ease.

623. It was narrated that Umm Salamah said: "A woman asked the Prophet (ﷺ): 'I bleed continuously and do not become pure. Should I give up the prayer?' He said: 'No, but leave off praying for the number of days and nights that you used to menstruate.'" (One of the narrators) Abu Bakr (Ibn Abu Shaibah) said in his Hadith: "Estimate the number of days in the month, then take a bath and cover your private part with a cloth and perform prayer." (Da'iff)
624. It was narrated that 'Aishah said: "Fātimah bint Abi Hubaish came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: 'O Messenger of Allâh! I am a woman who bleeds continuously and never becomes pure. Should I give up prayer?' He said: 'No, that is just a vein and is not menstruation. Do not perform prayer during the days of your period, then take a bath, and perform ablution for each prayer, even if drops of blood fall on the mat.'" (Da’îf)

Comments:

It is preferable for a woman undergoing the phase of bleeding out of periods, to perform two prayers at a time with one bath. Alternately, it is enough that she just makes the ablution for each prayers.

625. It was narrated from 'Adiyy bin Thâbit, from his father, from his grandfather, that the Prophet ﷺ said: "The woman who experiences irregular non-menstrual bleeding should leave prayer during the days of her period, then she should take a bath, and perform ablution for each prayer, and she should fast and perform the prayer." (Da’îf)

Comments:

Chapter 116. Concerning The Woman Who Is Confused About Her Bleeding And Does Not Know The Days Of Her Cycle

626. It was narrated from 'Urwah bin Zubair and 'Amrah bint 'Abdw-Rahmān that 'Āishah the wife of the Prophet said: “Umm Habibah bint Jahsh experienced prolonged non-menstrual bleeding for seven years when she was married to 'Abdw-Rahmān bin 'Awf. She complained about that to the Prophet and the Prophet said: ‘That is not menstruation, rather it is a vein, so when the time of your period comes, leave the prayer, and when it is over, take a bath and perform prayer.’”' 'Āishah said: “She used to bathe for every prayer and then perform the prayer. She used to sit in a washtub belonging to her sister Zainab bint Jahsh and the blood would turn the water red.”’

(Sahih)

Comments:

a. ‘When the time of your period comes’ means when there come the days of your menstruation before you developed the present condition.

b. Taking a bath separately for each prayer was Umm Habibah bint Jahsh’s independent judgment. The Ḥadīth of the Prophet speak of only one obligatory bath to be done by women at the end of their period of menstruation.
Chapter 117. Concerning A Virgin Who Starts To Experience Prolonged Non-Menstrual Bleeding, Or If She Has A Regular Period But Forgets It

627. It was narrated from Hamnah bint Jahsh that she experienced prolonged non-menstrual bleeding during the time of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. She came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and said: "I am suffering prolonged and painful bleeding." He said: "Fill it with a pad of cloth." She said: "It is worse than that, it is flowing copiously." He said: "Then bind yourself with a cloth and observe your menses for six or seven days, in the knowledge of Allâh, then have a bath and perform prayer and fast for twenty-three or twenty-four days. Delay Zuhr and bring 'Asr forward, and take (one) bath for both, and delay Maghrib and bring 'Ishâ' forward, and have (one) bath for both. This is what I prefer of the two matters.'” (Da’îf)

Comments:

a. The Arabic expression Fi ‘ilm-i-lâh (literally, in Allâh’s knowledge) used by the Prophet ﷺ in his reply means: Reckon the days of your impurity according to your best judgment, and put your trust in Allâh who knows perfectly well your limitations in keeping count of your days. He will surely forgive any genuine mistake made by you in reckoning the days of your purity and impurity.

b. The expression ‘This is what I prefer of the two matters’ conveys the idea that three bathes in a day is not a binding necessity. The Prophet ﷺ, however, preferred it because it ensures greater cleanliness and purity.

Chapter 118. What Was Narrated About Menstrual Blood That Gets On Clothing

628. It was narrated that Umm Qais bint Mihsan said: “I asked the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ about menstrual blood that gets on clothing. He said, ‘Wash it with water and lote leaves, and rub it, even with a piece of stick.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. This shows that menstrual blood is impure and must be washed off.
b. At times, mere washing with plain water does not remove the blood spot. The clothing should, therefore, be rubbed to clean it. Any faint impression still lurking on the garment after one’s best effort is condonable. The Arabic word Dila’i (literally a rib) used by the Prophet ﷺ as a rubbing agent here means any thin and semi-long twig or piece of wood.

629. It was narrated that Asmâ’ bint Abi Bakr Siddiq said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was asked about menstrual blood that gets on clothing. He said: ‘Rub it off, wash it and perform prayer in (the garment).’” (Sahih)

630. It was narrated that ‘Âishah the wife of the Prophet ﷺ said:
“One of us used to menstruate, then rub the blood off her garment when she became pure again, and wash it, and sprinkle water over the rest of the garment, then perform prayer in it.” (Sahih)

Comments:

The clothing on the woman’s body during the period, if free from any trace of blood, is perfectly pure. If smeared with blood, washing will turn it clean. As such there should be no hitch in performing prayer with such clothes on. It is also perfectly in order if separate clothes are used during those particular days by the ladies. (Bukhari: 323)

Chapter 119. The Menstruating Woman Does Not Have To Make Up For The Prayer She Missed

631. It was narrated from ’Aishah that a woman asked her: “Does a woman who menstruates have to make up for the prayers she misses?”’ Aishah said to her: “Are you a Haruriyyah? We used to menstruate with the Prophet, then become pure, and he did not tell us to make up for the prayers we missed.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Women are not allowed to perform prayer during their monthly course period (Bukhari: 304). All Muslims, with the exception of Khawarijites are agreed on this point. This is the reason why ’Aishah asked the woman

(1) Meaning from the Khawarij, taken from Harura’ the location where they originated.
questioner in surprise if she was a Khârijite because it is only they who ask such questions.

b. It is a special favor of Allâh on women that He did not command them to make up for the missed prayers, for it would surely be quite a difficult task for them to make good their missed eight to ten days of ritual prayers each month. Fasts, on the other hand, come only once in a year, and it is not such a great task to fast for the missed eight to ten days during the course of the coming eleven months.

Chapter 120. A Menstruating Woman Taking Something From The Mosque

632. It was narrated that ‘Âishah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said to me: ‘Get me a mat from the mosque.’ I said: ‘I am menstruating.’ He said: ‘Your menstruation is not in your hand.’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Women in the state of menstruation or Nifâs (postnatal bleeding) are prohibited from entering the mosque.

b. It is a different matter if a woman, standing outside the precincts of the mosque takes something of necessity from, or put it inside the mosque, since this action, not falling under the definition of ‘entering the mosque,’ is perfectly in order.

633. It was narrated that ‘Âishah said: “The Prophet ﷺ used to bring his head close to me when I was menstruating and he was in I’tikâf (seclusion in a mosque for the purpose of worship), and I would wash it and comb his hair.” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. A man in a state of Ḳāf (seclusion in a mosque for worship) is not allowed to come out of the mosque without a genuine excuse or pressing necessity.
b. Peeping the head out of the mosque does not fall under the definition of coming out of the mosque.

634. It was narrated that ‘Āishah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to put his head in my lap when I was menstruating and recite Qur'ân.” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. It also confirms the fact that the entire body of a menstruating woman is pure, the only exception being the part connected with the ‘blood’.
b. Rules for reciting the Qur'ân from memory are different from those relating to the touching of the Noble Book for that purpose.

Chapter 121. What A Man May Do With His Wife When She Is Menstruating

635. It was narrated that ‘Āishah said: “If one of us was menstruating, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ would tell her to tie her waist-wrapper around herself if the bleeding was heavy, then he would embrace her. And who among you can control his desire as the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used to control his desire?” (Sahih)
Comments:
a. Having sex with a menstruating woman is prohibited in Islam.
b. Short of the intercourse, all other things like embracing her or kissing her etc., are perfectly in order.
c. Mubâsharah in Arabic means either (i) having sex or (ii) simply embracing and caressing the wife. Here it is used in the latter sense.

636. It was narrated that 'Aishah said: “If one of us was menstruating, the Messenger of Allâh would tell her to tie her waist-wrapper around herself, then he would embrace her.” (Sahîh)

637. It was narrated that Umm Salamah said: “I was with the Messenger of Allâh under his blanket, then I felt that I was menstruating as women do, so I slipped out from under the cover. The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘Are you menstruating?’ I said: ‘I feel that I am menstruating as women do.’ He said: ‘That is what Allâh has decreed for the daughters of Adam.’ So I slipped out and sorted myself out, then I came back, and the Messenger of Allâh said to me: ‘Come under the cover with me,’ so I went in with him.’” (Hasan)
Comments:

'Sorted myself out' means took due precaution against defiling my clothes from impurity.

638. It was narrated from Mu‘āwiyah bin Abu Sufyān that he asked Umm Habibah, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ: “What did you used to do with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ when you were menstruating?” She said: “If it was at the beginning of the period when the bleeding is heavy, we would tie the waist-wrapper tightly around our thighs, then lie down with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ.” (Sahih)

Chapter 122. Prohibition Of Sexual Intercourse With A Menstruating Woman

639. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘Whoever has intercourse with a menstruating woman, or with a woman in her rear, or who goes to a fortuneteller and believes what he says, he has disbelieved in that which was revealed to Muhammad.’” (Hasan)

Comments:

a. Allāh has appointed a natural channel for satisfying men’s sexual urge with women. It is a channel that would breed offsprings. The anus is not the place for the purpose. It is unnatural to use it the way the inhabitants of Sodom did among whom the Prophet Lut was sent as a warner.

b. A Kāhin (fortuneteller) is one who claims to know the future of the people. In our part of the world people practising Nujum (astrology), Ramal (foretelling by figures) and Jafar (art of prediction) all belong to the same category which the Messenger of Allāh has denounced and warned against.

Chapter 123. The Expiation
For One Who Has Sexual Intercourse With A Menstruating Woman

640. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Abbās that the Prophet said concerning one who has intercourse with a woman when she is menstruating: “Let him give a Dinār or half a Dinār in charity.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Dinār was a gold coin used in the days of the Prophet in Arabia. It measured about 4.4 grams. It is, therefore, incumbent, in the light of the Hadith, on any one committing this act to give in charity a price equivalent to 4.4 grams of gold to a person who is deserving, poor and hard-pressed.

b. Some scholars from among the pious predecessors have reconciled the apparent difference between the figures of one Dinār and half a Dinār, by suggesting that one Dinār of charity is expiation for committing the act in the early stages of menstruation when blood is reddish in colour, while half a Dinār is for doing it in the later stages when the blood colour is yellowish. Some other scholars have suggested that it depends on your capacity. If well-to-do, give a full Dinār, if hard-pressed, give just half a Dinār.

Chapter 124. How A Menstruating Woman Should Bathe

641. It was narrated from ‘Aishah that the Prophet said to her, when she was menstruating:

“Undo your braids and bathe.”

(Sahih)

(A narrator) ‘Ali said in his narration: “Undo your head.”

642. It was narrated from ‘Āishah that Asmā’ asked the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ about bathing after one’s period. He said: “One of you should take her water and lote leaves, and purify herself, and purify herself well, or thoroughly. Then she should pour water over her head and rub it vigorously so that the water reaches the roots of her hair. Then she should take a piece of cotton perfumed with musk and purify herself with it.” Asmā’ said: “How should I purify myself with it?” He said: “Subḥān Allāh! purify yourself with it!” ‘Āishah said, as if whispering to her: “Wipe away the traces of blood with it.” Then she (Asmā’) asked him about bathing to cleanse oneself from sexual impurity. He said: “One of you should take her water, and purify herself, and purify herself well, or thoroughly. She should pour water over her head and rub it so that water reaches the roots of her hair, then she should pour water over her body.” ‘Āishah said: "How good were the women of the Ansār! For they did not let shyness keep them from understanding their religion properly." (Sahīh)

Comments:
a. A bath from the impurity of menses needs more elaborate cleaning than a bath from the impurity of intercourse because the frequency of the former is less than that of the latter.
b. Putting lote leaves in boiling water makes it a better detergent.
c. Applying perfume on the particular spot is meant to remove any unwelcome smell.

Chapter 125. What Was narrated Concerning Eating With A Menstruating Woman

643. It was narrated that ʿĀishah said: “I used to eat the meat from a bone when I was menstruating, then the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would take it and put his mouth where my mouth had been. And I would drink from a vessel, and the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would take it and put his mouth where my mouth had been, and I was menstruating.” (Sahīh)

Comments:
a. It shows that the body of a menstruating woman is pure, and the impurity in essence is ‘legal’ except for the blood whose impurity is perceivable.
b. The mouth and saliva of a menstruating woman is also pure. It is perfectly in order to eat and drink from the food and water left over by her.

644. It was narrated from Anas that the Jews would not sit with a
The Chapters On Dry Ablution

Ablutions

A menstruating woman in a house, nor eat with her, nor drink with her. That was mentioned to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, then Allâh revealed the words: “They ask you concerning menstruation. Say: that is a harmful thing, therefore, keep away from women during menses.”[1] The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “Do everything except sexual intercourse.” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. Islam attaches the highest importance to cleanliness and purity. It is, nevertheless, free from the strict laws of the Jews. Hence it is that, except sexual intercourse (which is prohibited during the monthly course and days of impurity after childbirth), all other activities — sitting together, eating and drinking together, kissing each other, and sharing the bed together — are all permissible in Islam.
b. Should a person feel that, while embracing his wife, he might not be able to keep a check on his passion and might feel tempted to commit the prohibited, he would be well advised not to avail the juridical licence but try to avoid being too intimate with his wife during that period.

Chapter 126. Concerning Menstruating Women Keeping Away From the Mosque

645. It was narrated that Jasrah said: “Umm Salamah told me: ‘The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ entered the courtyard of this mosque and called out at the top of his voice: ‘The mosque is not permissible for anyone who is sexually impure or any woman who is menstruating.’” (Da‘îf)

Comments:

Scholars have divergent views on this Hadith. Some of them regard its chain of transmission as ‘Weak’ while others consider it of the category of Hasan (Good) because of other supporting evidences. There is, however, a consensus among the scholars that the ruling contained in the Hadith is valid and binding.

Chapter 127. Concerning
What A Woman Sees Of Yellowish Or Brownish Discharge After Her Period Is Over

It was narrated from Umm Bakr that she was told that ‘Aishah said: “The Messenger of Allāh ῥ said concerning a woman who sees that which causes her doubt (i.e. some bleeding) after she becomes pure: ‘That is a vein or veins.’”’ (Da‘īf)

Muhammad bin Yahya said: “What was meant by ‘after she becomes pure’ is after having a bath (following the end of her period).”

It was narrated that Umm ‘Atiyyah said: “We did not think of anything of the yellowish or brownish discharge.” (Sahih) not think that the yellowish or brownish discharge counted for anything.”

Muhamamd bin Yahya said: “Wuhaib (who narrated the second version) is the better of them with this according to us.”

Comments:
The narrator means to say that they (the women in those days) did not consider it a part of menstruation. The previous Hadith has already indicated that the ruling belongs to the time following the bath at the end of the period. However, if the yellowish or brownish discharge is once again followed by the red fluid, then it shall be considered a part of menstruation.

Chapter 128. How Long Should Women In Postnatal Bleeding Wait (Before Praying, etc.)?

648. It was narrated that Umm Salamah said: “At the time of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, women in postnatal bleeding (after childbirth) used to wait for forty days, and we used to put Wars on our faces because of freckles.” (Hasan)

Comments:
a. Nifâs is the blood secreted from inside a woman after childbirth. Scholars have divergent views about its maximum duration. A majority of them are inclined towards considering it for forty days. In case the flow of blood persists beyond that period, then technically it is not postnatal bleeding but vaginal secretion other than postnatal bleeding. In this condition the woman must bathe and start performing devotional acts like prayers and fasting. If bleeding stops earlier than forty days, then abstinence from the aforementioned rituals is not needed, and normal devotional activities can be restarted after taking the bath.

b. Wars, as explained under Hadith 466, is a yellowish plant from Yemen used (especially by women) as a liniment and for dye.

649. It was narrated that Anas said: “The Messenger of Allâh set the time for postnatal bleeding at forty days, except for one who becomes pure before that.” (Da‘if)

Chapter 129. One Who Has Intercourse With His Wife When She Is Menstruating

650. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Abbâs said: “If a man had intercourse with his wife while she was menstruating, the Prophet commanded him to give half a Dinâr in charity.” (Sahih)

Comments:
For detailed comments see notes under Hadith 640.

Chapter 130. Eating With A Menstruating Woman

651. It was narrated that ‘Abdullāh bin Sa’d said: “I asked the Messenger of Allāh about eating with a menstruating woman and he said: ‘Eat with her.’” (Hasan)

Comments:
The question has been dealt with under Hadith 643.

Chapter 131. Performing Prayer In The Garment Of A Menstruating Woman

It was narrated that ‘Aishah said: “The Messenger of Allāh was performing prayer, and I was by his side. I was menstruating, and I was wearing a wool cloak, and part of it was over him.” (Sahih)

Comments:
The use of a cloth or garment as a covering for the body by a menstruating woman does not make the entire clothing unclean. Her blood, however, if it soils the cloth, shall only make the affected part unclean. Once the spot is washed, the entire cloth or garment becomes fit for all uses, even for prayer etc.

It was narrated from Maimunah that the Messenger of Allāh performed prayer wearing a wool cloak. Part of it was over him and part was over her, and she was menstruating. (Sahih)

Chapter 132. When A Girl’s Puberty Period Begins, She Should Not Pray Unless She Is Wearing A Head Cover

654. It was narrated from ‘Āishah that the Prophet entered upon her, and a freed slave girl of hers concealed herself. The Prophet asked: “Have her periods begun?” She said: “Yes.” He tore a piece of his turban and said: “Cover your head with this.” (Da’if)

655. It was narrated from ‘Āishah that the Prophet said: “Allāh does not accept the prayer of a woman who menstruates (i.e., an adult woman) except with a head cover.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Covering the head for prayer is compulsory for a woman, even if she is secluded from the sight of others. This command for covering is not related to rulings concerning veil, which is not needed before non-marriageable near relations.

b. Singling out ‘woman’ for the ruling clearly indicates that it is a female-specific ruling, and a man can perform prayer without a cover on his head. However, even for men it is not desirable to make it a habit to perform prayer with a bare head.
Chapter 133. A Women Who Is Menstruating May Dye Her Hands

It was narrated from Mu'adh that a woman asked 'Aishah: “Can a woman who is menstruating, dye her hands?” She said: “We were with the Prophet and we used to dye our hands, and he did not tell us not to do that.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Prophet's not prohibiting a thing means his silent approval.
b. The term ‘dye” stands for anything that, when applied to the hands or the head, changes their color. Henna is also a dyeing agent.

Chapter 134. Wiping Over Bandages

It was narrated that 'Ali bin Abu Tâlib said: “I broke one of my forearms and I asked the Prophet about that. He told me to wipe over the bandages.” (Maudu')

Another chain with similar meaning.

Comments:

The ruling contained in the Hadith is correct because the affected person has no other alternative.
Chapter 135. Saliva That Gets On Clothes

658. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "I saw the Prophet ῶη, carrying Hasan bin ‘Ali on his shoulder, and his saliva was dripping down on him." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Human saliva is not impure.

b. It is no affront to a person's dignity, however high or mighty he might be, to hold a child in his lap or carry it on his shoulders.

Chapter 136. Spitting Into A Vessel

659. It was narrated from ‘Abdul-Jabbâr bin Wâ’il that his father said: "A bucket was brought to the Prophet ῶη; he rinsed his mouth and spat into it, and it was like musk or better than musk, and he rinsed his nostrils outside the bucket." (Da‘if)

660. It was narrated from Zuhri that Mahmud bin Rabi‘ remembered that the Prophet ῶη spat into a bucket from a well that belonged to them. (Sahih)
Comments:

a. Whatever the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ touched with hand or body became blessed. Hence it is that the Companions preserved his hair and other personal belongings. However, the Companions and their Successors never ever kept anything associated with other Companions or Successors as a holy relic.

b. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, on this occasion took some water in his mouth and blew it over the face of Mahmud for fun. This shows that it is all right to make merry with small children.

Chapter 137. Prohibition Of Seeing One’s Brother’s Nakedness

661. It was narrated from ‘Abdur-Rahmân bin Abu Sa’eed Al-Khudri from his father that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “No woman should look at the nakedness of another woman, and no man should look at the nakedness of another man.”

(Saheeh)

Comments:

a. There is consensus among the scholars that, among the things prohibited for man to look at, are the private parts (anus and penis of another man). There are, however, divergent views about the permissibility or otherwise of seeing the thighs of another man. Imam Bukhâri does not include them among the concealable parts. Still he thinks it prudent to conceal them. Generally for men, this is from the navel to the knee, and for women it is all of her body except the hands, feet and face.

b. Women should also avoid seeing the private parts of other women. Even in case of childbirth, etc., only the women whose services are indispensable for the job may see them. All others must avoid seeing them.

c. Women must not lay bare even their breasts before other women.
The Chapters On Dry Ablution

662. It was narrated from a freed slave of 'Aishah that 'Aishah said: “I never looked at (or I never saw) the private part of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.” (Da‘îf)

(One of the narrators) Abu Bakr (Ibn Abu Shaibah) said: “Abu Nu‘aim would say: ‘(From) a freed female slave of 'Aishah.’”

663. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs: “The Prophet ﷺ bathed to cleanse himself from sexual impurity, then he saw a spot that the water did not reach.” Then he motioned with the hair hanging over his shoulders and squeezed (the water from it) over that spot.” (Da‘îf)

In his narration, Ishâq said: “So he wrung his hair over it.”

664. It was narrated that ‘Ali said: “A man came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: ‘I bathed to cleanse myself from sexual impurity, and I prayed Fajr, then I noticed a spot the size of a fingernail that the water did not reach.' The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'If you had wiped it that would have been sufficient for you.'” (Da’îf)

Comments:

Both the Ahâdîth are Weak. As such they do not prove the intended ruling.

The correct position is that the person concerned shall have to redo his bath or ablution. And Allâh knows best.

Chapter 139. If A Person Performs Ablution And Leaves A Place Where Water Does Not Reach

665. It was narrated from Anas that a man came to the Prophet ﷺ; he had performed ablution and has missed a spot the size of a fingernail where water had not reached. The Prophet ﷺ said to him: ‘Go back and perform ablution properly.’” (Sahîh)

Comments:

If a dry spot from essential of washing during ablution is spotted before going for prayer, then the prayer must be repeated. In case it was discovered after the prayer then, as explained in the next Hadîth, both the ablution and the prayer have to be done again.

666. It was narrated that 'Umar bin Khattâb said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ saw a man performing ablution and he missed a spot the size of a fingernail on his foot. He commanded him to repeat his ablution and his prayer, so he did." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. According to the lexicographers and jurists the word Salāt means prayer or supplication. Some of the scholars hold that the essence of Salāt is reverence. The ritual prayer is so called because it signifies reverence for Allāh.

b. Prayer is a devotional act consisting of a series of utterances and actions that start with pronouncing the the greatness of Allāh symbolized by the words Allāhu Akbar and end with turning one’s face right and left, articulating Taslim (greeting), symbolized by the the words: As-Salāmu-‘Alaikum Wu Rahmatullāh (Peace and Allāh’s mercy be upon you).

c. Prayer is an important pillar (among the Five Pillars) of Islam. It is the surest means of securing nearness to Allāh, the coolness of our beloved Prophet’s eye, a healing for the believer’s pains and miseries, a bulwark against the believer’s misfortunes, and the key to the doors of Paradise for the chosen ones of Allāh, even as the Qur’ān says: “And seek help in patience and prayer.” (2:153)

Important as the prayer is, the manner of its performance is also equally important. A prayer performed by one’s devised method will not be acceptable to Allāh. Its acceptability is linked to doing it exactly according to the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ, since he himself has said: Pray as you have seen me pray. (Bukhāri: 631). It is, therefore, essential that we perform the prayer complete with all the Sunnah, obligatory duties and desirable acts specified by the Prophet ﷺ. It will be a punitive act on the part of anyone who belittles and neglects anyone of the blessed Sunnah on the basis of one’s own deviant interpretations and arguments. The degree of reward promised for performing prayer in conformity with the precepts of the Prophet ﷺ can be estimated by the following saying of our beloved Prophet ﷺ: Abu Hurairah رضي الله عنه reported: I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say, “Say, if there were a river at the door of one of you in which he takes a bath five times a day, would any soiling remain on him?” They replied, “No soiling would be left on him.” He ﷺ said, “That is the five (obligatory) prayers. Allāh wipes out all sins as a result of performing them.” (Bukhāri: 528 & Muslim: 666)
1. The Chapters On The Times Of Prayer

667. It was narrated from Sulaimân bin Buraidah that his father said: "A man came to the Prophet ﷺ and asked him about the times of prayer. He said: 'Pray with us for two days.' When the sun passed its zenith he commanded Bilal to call the Adhān, then he commanded him to give the Iqāmah for Zuhr; then he commanded him to give the Iqāmah for ‘Asr when the sun was high and clearly white. Then he commanded him to give the Iqāmah for Maghrib when the sun had set; then he commanded him to give the Iqāmah for ‘Ishā when the red afterglow had disappeared; then he commanded him to give the Iqāmah for Fajr when dawn came. On the following day he commanded him to give the Adhān for Zuhr when the extreme heat had passed and it had cooled down; then he prayed ‘Asr when the sun was still high, but he delayed it more than he had done the day before; then he prayed Maghrib before the red afterglow disappeared; he prayed ‘Ishā when one-third of the night had passed; and he prayed Fajr at the time when it was already light. Then he said: 'Where is the one who was asking about the times of Prayer?' The man said: 'Here I am, O Messenger of Allâh.' He said: 'The times of your prayer are between the times you have seen.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. With regard to any prayer, it is best to perform it at the earliest after the onset of the permissible time for it, although it is also permissible to delay it as long as it does not cross the prescribed limit of time for that particular prayer.
b. It is permissible to sometimes leave the optimum for something other than optimum, but only for purposes prudent or educative. It is not, however, proper to make a habit of it.
c. Cooling down of the day for Zuhr (early afternoon prayer) means waiting for reduction in the intensity of the heat. It is, as we all know, extremely hot at noon in the summer season. The Zuhr prayer can, therefore, wait a little after the sun has passed its zenith. There is, however, no justification for such delays in colder weathers.
d. It may be noted that the time for Asr (afternoon prayer), for both the days mentioned in the Hadith, has been expressed in similar terms, namely: (i) “When the sun was high and clearly white,’ and (ii) ‘When the sun was still high.’ We will read more discussion about the sun’s height in coming Ahâdîth.
e. The time for Maghrib (early evening prayer) starts with the sinking of the sundisk on the horizon, and ends with the disappearance of the red afterglow appearing on the west.
f. The time for ‘Ishâ’ (night prayer) starts with the disappearance of the red afterglow. As inferred from the Hadith, its end seems to be the passing of one-third of the night. Some other Ahâdîth suggest it to be until the passing of half of the night.

668. It was narrated from Ibn Shihâb that he was sitting on the cushions of ‘Umar bin ‘Abdul-‘Aziz when he was the leader over Al-Madinah, and with him was ‘Urwah bin Zubair. ‘Umar delayed ‘Asr somewhat, and ‘Urwah said to him: “Jibril came down and led the Messenger of Allah ﷺ in prayer.” ‘Umar said to him: “Know what you are saying, O ‘Urwah!” He said: “I heard Bashir bin Abu Mas’ud saying, ‘I heard Abu Mas’ud saying, “I heard the Messenger of Allah saying, ‘Jibril came down and led me in prayer, and I prayed with him, then I prayed with him, then I prayed with him, then I prayed with him, then I prayed with him,’ and he counted five prayers on his fingers.’”

(Sahih)

Comments:

a. The coming down of Jibril (the Archangel) for the determination of prayer times highlights the importance of prayer in general, and of congregational prayer in particular. It also highlights the importance of performing the prayers on time.

b. No one in an Islamic society is above criticism. But even while dissenting with someone, it is essential that we do not neglect the norms of decency and respect towards others.

c. If the point at issue is not clear, it is no offence to the dignity of the speaker to seek further clarification from him.

d. Any Hadith narrated before the people will carry more conviction if it is supported by reference to the source of the Hadith or its chain of narrators.

e. The practice of narrating Ahadith along with their chain of narrators had started as early as the age of the Successors, which made it easy for the people to distinguish between an authentic Hadith and a fabricated one.

Chapter 2. The Time Of The Fajr Prayer

669. It was narrated that ‘Aishah said: “The believing women used to perform the Subh[1] prayer with the Prophet, then they would go back to their families and no one would recognize them,” meaning because of the darkness. (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Women also used to join the prayers along with their male counterparts. The reason for this was that, when the Prophet delivered his discourses or the people asked him questions, even the women would listen to it and gain knowledge about their religion.

b. Being able to listen to longer recitations of the Qur’an and still finish it early means that the congregation assembled quite early, and the prayer was performed in its earliest prescribed hour.

c. The women did not stay back after the prayer for purposes of doing other devotional recitals, but left the mosque immediately after the prayer. As for men they, as becomes clear from other Aḥādīth, waited until all the women had left the mosque.

670. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ recited: And recite the Qur’an during the Fajr. Verily, the recitation of the Qur’an during Fajr is ever witnessed.”[1] He said: “It is witnessed by the angels of the night and the day.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. This shows the importance and merit of the of Fajr prayer. The ‘Asr prayer also partners it in merit.

b. Angels witnessing the congregation is indicative of the pride of place in the Divine scheme occupied by the believers.

bin Zubair in the darkness, and when he said the Taslim, I turned to Ibn 'Umar and said: 'What is this prayer?' He said: 'This is how we prayed with the Messenger of Allah and with Abu Bakr and 'Umar. When 'Umar was stabbed, 'Uthmân delayed it until there was light.'” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The best time of Fajr prayer as proved from the precept of the Prophet in this regard is to offer it at its earliest hour. This was the practice followed during the times of Abu Bakr and 'Umar.
b. 'Uthmân's decision to delay the prayer until there was light, was only dictated by the particular circumstances of the time, and was not meant to be permanent. That is why 'Abdullah bin Zubair did not feel the need to delay the prayer, and performed it at its earliest prescribed time in accord with the Sunnah of the Prophet.

672. It was narrated from Râfi' bin Khadij that the Prophet said: “Pray the Subh early, for indeed its reward is greater” or "your reward."” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The words Asbihu bis-Subh spoken by the Prophet, correctly translated here as 'Pray the Subh early', is sometimes translated as 'Delay it until there is morning light.” It is on this basis that the adherents of the Hanafi School of Jurisprudence delay the Fajr prayer until there is clear light. Such an interpretation is clearly against the teaching and practice of the Prophet who always performed the Fajr prayer at the earliest hour, in darkness. As such, even if the second translation is taken as correct, it would either mean: (i) ‘Avoid performing the Fajr prayer at Subh Kādhib (at the appearance of reddish blackness) but do it when you are sure of the onset of Subh Sādiq (daybreak; true dawn), or it would mean: (ii) ‘Prolong the recitation of the Qur’ān so that when you finish your prayer, it is already bright morning’. It is so because the preceding Ahādīth unmistakably highlight the merit of performing each prayer at its earliest prescribed hour.

Chapter 3. The Time Of The Zuhr Prayer

673. It was narrated from Jābir bin Samurah that the Prophet used to pray Zuhr when the sun had passed its zenith. (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The time for Az-Zuhr prayer starts just after the sun has passed its zenith.
b. The Prophet’s way is to perform the prayer at its earliest hour.

674. It was narrated that Abu Barzah Al-Aslami said: “The Prophet used to pray the Fajr prayer, which you call ‘Zuhr,’ when the sun had passed its zenith.” (Sahih)

Comments:

675. It was narrated that Khabbāb said: “We complained to the Messenger of Allāh about the heat of the sunbaked ground, but he did not respond to our complaint.” (Sahih)

Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:

a. The Companions’ plea was to the effect that the sun turns the sand burning hot, and prostration for the Zuhr prayer over it becomes difficult during summer, would it not, therefore, be better to delay the prayer until the sand cools down a little? The Prophet did not concede to the implied request, but continued to lead the prayer early even in the hot season.

b. Some other Ahâdith do speak of delaying the Zuhr prayer during the hot season (as we shall see under Ahâdith in Chapter 4) but it only means a slight delay, not so much that it should push the worshippers towards the end of the prayer time.

676. It was narrated that ‘Abdullâh bin Mas‘ûd said: “We complained to the Messenger of Allâh about the heat of the sunbaked ground, but he did not respond to our complaint.” (Sahih)

677. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allâh said: ‘When it is very hot, then wait for it to cool down before you pray, for intense heat is from the flaring up of the Hell-fire.’” (Sahih)
Comments:
The wisdom behind waiting for the prayer until it cools down a little, is the fact that intense heat dampens the spirit of devotional submissiveness and fervor, while under cooler conditions the prayers are likely to be more focused. The wait should, however, not be excessive.

678. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When it is very hot, then wait for it to cool down before you pray, for intense heat is from the flaring up of the Hell-Fire." (Sahih)

679. It was narrated that Abu Sa’eed said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Wait for it to cool down before you pray, for intense heat is from the flaring up of the Hell-fire.’" (Sahih)

680. It was narrated that Mughirah bin Shu’bah said: We were praying Zuhr with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ at the time of intense heat (i.e., midday when the sun has just passed its zenith) and he said to us, "Wait for it to cool down before you pray, for intense heat is from the flaring up of the Hell-fire." (Da’if)

681. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'Wait for it to cool down before you pray the Zuhr.'" (Sahih)

Chapter 5. The Time Of The 'Asr Prayer

(النحوية 5)

682. It was narrated from Anas bin Mâlik that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to pray 'Asr when the sun was still hot and high, and if a person were to go to the suburbs (of Al-Madinah) he would be able to reach it while the sun was still hot and high. (Sahih)

تخريج: آخره مسلم، المساجد، باب استحاضة التبكير بالعصر، ح: 271 عن محمد بن رمح. ﷺ

a. The sun being 'hot and high' is the condition when it is still white and has not become pale. The term 'delay' in this context would mean the condition when the sun either turns pale or red.

b. It is reported from Jâbir ﷺ that a man asked the Prophet ﷺ about the times of prayer. He said: 'Attend the prayers with me.' Then the Prophet ﷺ performed the Zuhr prayer when the sun passed its zenith, and the 'Asr prayer when the shadow of everything became twice the size of the original. Then the next day he ﷺ performed Zuhr prayer when each person had a matching shadow, and the 'Asr prayer when the shadow of each person became twice the original. (Sunan An-Nasâ’i: 505)

683. It was narrated that 'Aishah said: "The Prophet ﷺ prayed the 'Asr when the sun was shining into my room and there were no shadows yet." (Sahih)
Chapter 6. Maintaining The ‘Asr Prayer

684. It was narrated from ‘Ali bin Abu Tālib that, on the Day of Khandaq, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “May Allāh fill their houses and graves with fire, just as they distracted us from the middle prayer.” (Hasan)

Comments:

a. Loss in religious matters is greater than loss in worldly affairs.

b. The ‘Asr prayer has greater importance than other prayers.

c. The very tongue that had remained silent at the trials of Tā’if, was forced to invoke Allāh’s wrath upon the invading idolaters when the events of the battle of the Confederates (also known as the battle of Trench) distracted the believers from offering the ‘Asr prayer on time. He was so angry at this failure, that he besought Allāh to fill the infidels’ houses and graves with fire. In it perhaps, is sufficient food for thought for those who miss their prayers just out of laziness, or because of their indulgence in sports or business activities. How reprehensible will this act of theirs be to Allāh and His Messenger ﷺ! May Allāh protect us all from His wrath!

685. It was narrated from Ibn ‘Umar that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “The one who misses the ‘Asr prayer, it is as if he has been cheated out of his family and his wealth.” (Sahih)

Comments:

[a. Correcting the error in the narrative as per the Hadith.

b. The ‘Asr prayer is the prayer after the middle prayer, which is performed at midday. It is important to maintain this prayer as it is a time for reflection and seeking the guidance of Allāh.

c. The hadith emphasizes the importance of maintaining the ‘Asr prayer and not missing it, as it is a significant time for worship and reflection.

The Book Of The Prayer - كتاب الصلاة

The Book Of The Prayer - كتاب الصلاة
Comments:
For a man of the world there can be no greater loss than that his family, his relations and his herd of animals all meet their sudden death, all his buildings collapse in an instant, all his money is taken away by thieves, and he is reduced to the state of an absolute beggar. But, in the sight of the Messenger of Allah, all this loss cannot match the loss of failing to observe one prayer on time. We can thus say that anyone who misses just one prayer from the bidding of the inciting soul or the temptation of Satan, his loss is as irreparable as the loss sustained by the miserable man cited above.

686. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh said: "The idolaters kept the Prophet ﷺ from the 'Asr prayer until the sun had set. He said: 'They kept us from performing the middle prayer; may Allah fill their graves and their houses with fire.'" (Sahih)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب الدليل عن قال: الصلاة الوسطى هي صلاة العصر.

Comments:
1. The Hadîth confirms that the middle prayer is another name for the 'Asr prayer, whose importance has been underlined by the Qur’ân in the following terms: "Guard strictly the prayers, especially the middle prayer" (2:238).
2. Prayer in Islam is more important than even jihâd (fighting in the cause of Allah).

Chapter 7. The Time Of The Maghrib Prayer

687. Abu Na’jâshî said: "I heard Râfî‘ bin Khadij say: 'We used to perform the Maghrib at the time of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, and one of us would be able to see the places where his arrows would land when shot from his bow.'" (Sahih)
Another chain with similar wording.

Comments:

One reason for completing the 'Maghrib prayer so early was that they used to perform it just at the setting of the sun. The second is that the prayer was relatively brief, in the sense that, unlike other prayers, there was no prolonged recitation of the Qur'an in it.

688. It was narrated from Salamah bin Akwa' that he used to pray the Maghrib with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ when the sun set. (Sahih)

689. It was narrated that 'Abbâs bin 'Abdul-Muttalib said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'My Ummah will continue to adhere to the Fitrah so long as they do not delay the Maghrib until the stars have all come out." (Hasan)

Abu 'Abdullâh bin Mâjah said: I heard Muhammad bin Yahya saying: 'The people in Baghdâd were confused in narrating this Hadith. Abu Bakr Al-A'yan and I went to 'Awwâm bin 'Abbâd bin 'Awwâm and he brought out to us the book of his father, and this Hadith was in it.'"
Comments:

a. It is better to perform the prayer in its earliest prescribed time. One should especially avoid delaying the Maghrib prayer, since the time limit for it is less than for others.

b. Delaying the prayers is deviation from the faith of Islam.

Chapter 8. The Time Of The 'Ishâ' Prayer

690. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Were it not that it would be too difficult for my Ummah, I would have commanded them to delay the 'Ishâ'." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Unlike other prayers, it is preferable to delay the 'Ishâ' prayer.

b. The delay should only be to the extent that the worshippers in general do not feel inconvenienced.

691. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Were it not that it would be too difficult for my Ummah, I would have delayed the 'Ishâ' prayer until one third or one half of the night had passed.’’ (Sahih)

Comments:

We may infer from this, that the 'Ishâ' prayer must be performed before half of the night has passed, since the Prophet ﷺ had only wished to delay it until the half of the night. Nevertheless, the congregational prayer should be held at a suitable time, taking into view the convenience of the worshipers.

692. Humaid said: “Anas bin Malik was asked: ‘Did the Prophet ﷺ wear a ring?’ He said: ‘Yes.’ One night he delayed the ‘Ishâ’ prayer until almost the middle of the night. When he had prayed he turned to face us and said: ‘The people have prayed and gone to sleep, but you will still be in a state of prayer so long as you are waiting for the (next) prayer.’” (Sahih)

Anas said: “It is as if I can see the sparkle from his ring.”

Comments:
a. The Prophet ﷺ mostly performed the ‘Ishâ’ prayer early, which means not delaying it unduly. However, at times he departed from the normal practice in order to highlight the merit of delaying it.
b. Religious speech can be delivered after the congregational prayer.
c. Sitting in wait for the prayers is a meritorious act.
d. It is permissible to wear a ring. Men can, however, wear only silver. Use of gold is prohibited for men (Sunan Ibn Mâjah: 3595).

693. It was narrated that Abu Sa’eed said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ led us for the Maghrib prayer. Then he did not come out until half the night had passed. Then he came out and led them in prayer, then he said: ‘The people have prayed and gone to sleep, but you are still in a state of prayer so long as you are waiting for the (next) prayer. Were it not for the weak and the sick, I wanted to delay this prayer until Chapter 9. Times Of Prayer
When It Is Cloudy

694. It was narrated that Buraidah Al-Aslami said: “We were with the Messenger of Allah on a campaign, and he said: ‘Hasten to perform prayer on a cloudy day, for whoever misses the ’Asr prayer, all his good deeds will be in vain.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
Sinful acts eat up the good deeds. Missing the ’Asr prayer is a grave sin, which might eat up the deeds of the whole day.

Chapter 10. Whoever Sleeps Through Prayer Or Forgets It

695. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: ‘The Prophet was asked about a man who forgets prayer or sleeps and misses it. He said: ‘He performs it when he remembers it.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
A person who performs prayer after sleeping or forgetting it is considered not to have committed a sin, as long as he performs it when he remembers it.
Comments:

a. Forgetfulness and sleep are valid excuses. No sin devolves on account of them, provided that the event is not the result of one’s carelessness.

b. A prayer missed out of forgetfulness must be performed as soon as one is reminded of it. Delaying it without a valid reason is not right.

c. Do not deliberately pray at sunrise or sunset. Anyone who remembers his prayer or wakes up at the undesirable time must wait for his prayer till the undesirable time has passed.

696. It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Whoever forgets a prayer, let him perform it when he remembers it.’” (Sâlih)

697. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that when the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was coming back from the battle of Khaibar, night came and he felt sleepy, so he made camp and said to Bilâl: “Keep watch for us tonight.” Bilâl prayed as much as Allâh decreed for him, and the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and his Companions went to sleep. When dawn was approaching, Bilâl went to his mount, facing towards the east, watching for the dawn. Then Bilâl’s eyes grew heavy while he was leaning on his mount (and he slept). Neither Bilâl nor any of his Companions woke until they felt the heat of the sun. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was the first one to wake up. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was startled and said: “O Bilâl!” Bilâl said: “The same thing happened to me as happened to you. May my father and mother be ransomed for you, O Messenger of Allâh!” He said: “Bring your mounts forward a little.” So they brought their mounts forward a little (away from that place). Then the Messenger of Allâh performed ablution and told Bilâl to call the Iqâmah for prayer, and he led them in the prayer. When the Prophet finished praying, he said: “Whoever forgets a Salâh, let him pray it when he remembers, for Allâh says: And perform the prayer for My remembrance.”[1] He (one of the narrators) said: “Ibn Shihâb used to recite this Verse as meaning, ‘when you remember.’”

Comments:

a. How much importance the Prophet attached to the prayer may be gauged from the fact that even when extremely exhausted from journey, he was keen that the prayer be not delayed. That is why he charged Bilâl to see to it that the prayer is performed on time.

b. If there is reason to believe that any default in work is not the result of deliberate negligence, the person concerned may not be chided or rebuked but pardoned and excused.

c. Getting the party to bring their mounts forward a little was meant to help them shake off their sleepiness, so that no trace of laziness is left while they perform their prayers.

d. A missed prayer can also be performed as a congregational prayer.

698. ‘Abdullâh bin Rabâh narrated that Abu Qatâdah said: “They mentioned negligence because of sleeping too much, and he said: ‘They slept until the sun had risen. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "There is no negligence when one is sleeping, rather there is negligence when one is awake. If anyone of you forgets to pray, or sleeps and misses a prayer, then let him pray when he remembers, and during its time if it is the day after. (Sahih) "Abdullâh bin Rabî'ah said: "Imrân bin Husain heard me when I was narrating this Hadîth and said: 'O young man, look at how you are narrating the Hadîth. I was present at the time of this Hadîth with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.' And he did not deny anything of the Hadîth."

تخريج: [إسناد صحيح] أخرجه أبو داود، الصعلة، باب في من نام عن صلاة أو نسيها، ح: 437، وصححه ابن خزيمة.

Comments:
a. It is perfectly in order if youngsters narrate prophetic Ahâdîth before the elders, since in this way their mistakes in the narration, if any, would be rectified.
b. Narration of Ahâdîth demands great caution lest the listeners should construe anything (mistakenly mentioned by the narrator from outside the original) as being part of the Hadîth, and start acting upon it.

Chapter 11. The Time Of Prayer When One Has An Excuse Or In Cases Of Necessity

699. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "Whoever catches one Ra'akah of the 'Asr before the sun sets, then he has caught it; and whoever catches one Ra'akah of the Subh before the sun rises, then he has caught it." (Sahih)
Comments:
a. Another Hadith reports the Messenger of Allah ﷺ as saying: “The time for ‘Asr is as long as the sun has not become pale.” (Sahih Muslim: 612). So much so, that even if one is able to perform just one Rak’ah before sunset, the prayer is considered to have been performed on time. However, it is forbidden to delay the ‘Asr prayer, without any valid reason – just out of laziness. Such a prayer has been characterized by the Prophet ﷺ as the ‘hypocrite’s prayer’. (Sahih Muslim: 622)
b. The same ruling holds good for the Fajr prayer as well, i.e., if a person is able to perform even one Rak’ah before sunrise, his prayer will be considered to have been performed on time.

700. It was narrated from ‘Āishah that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever catches one Ra’kah of the Subh before the sun rises, then he has caught it, and whoever catches one Ra’kah of the ‘Asr before the sun sets, then he has caught it.” (Sahih)

Chapter 12. The Prohibition Of Sleeping Before The ‘Ishâ’ Prayer And Engaging In Conversation After It

(المحجوم 12) - باب النهي عن النوم

قبل صلاة العشاء وعَنَّ الحديث بعْدَهَا

(التحفة 12)
Barzah Al-Aslami said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to like to delay the ‘Ishā’, and he disliked sleeping before it, and engaging in conversation after it.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Anyone sleeping before the ‘Ishā’ prayer runs the risk of not waking in time to perform the ‘Ishā’ prayer or, even if he awakes, laziness might get the better of him and not allow him to perform the prayer with due submissiveness and devotion. It is, therefore, necessary that we go to sleep only after performing the ‘Ishā’ prayer.

b. Staying up and talking after the ‘Ishā’ is also not proper, because it could result in one’s sleeping past the Fajr prayer.

702. It was narrated that ‘Aishah said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ did not sleep before the ‘Ishā’ nor stay up (talking) after it.” (Hasan)

Comments:

This is narrated by ‘Aishah, the Mother of Believers, she has spoken of the general habit of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ otherwise, on occasions, his having discussions with the Companions and delivering admonitions is proven from authentic Ahādith.

703. It was narrated that ‘Abdullāh bin Mas‘ūd said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ rebuked us for staying up (talking) after the

Chapter 13. Prohibition Of Saying The "'Atamah Prayer" (Prayer Of Darkness)

704. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Do not let the Bedouin make you change the name of your prayer. It is the 'Isha', and they bring their camels in and milk them at nightfall.'" (Sahîh)

Comments:

'Atamah' in Arabic means darkness. Since the Bedouin used to bring their camels in for milking after darkness, they started calling the 'Isha' prayer the 'Atamah prayer.' However, we find the term 'Atamah' also appearing in some of the Ahûdîth. As such, the Prophet's command to this effect is to be taken as recommendatory rather than obligatory, i.e., it is preferable that we avoid calling it the 'Atamah prayer. And Allâh knows best.

705. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Do not let the Bedouins make you change the name of your prayer." Ibn Harmalah added: "Rather it is the 'Isha', but they..."
say the 'Atamah because they bring their camels in for milking at that time (when it is dark).’” (Sahih)
(3) The Chapters On The Adhân And The Sunnah
Regarding It

Comments:

a. Adhân literally means to inform somebody of something. Adhân as a special Islamic term, means a series of specific phrases repeated to proclaim the time of the prayer to the people. (Naylul-Aawtâr : 1/31)
b. Raising the Adhân for the five daily prayers as well as for the Friday prayer is a 'Compulsory (Wâjib) obligation.
c. Since the Adhân is but an announcement of time for the obligatory prayer, it is not the Prophet's precept to proclaim the Adhân for non-obligatory prayers such as 'Eid prayers, Duha (Forenoon Prayer), Eclipse prayers and so on.
d. It is not in order to call the Adhân before the prescribed time of the prayer.
e. It is better to call the Adhân while standing on a raised part of the ground, although the purpose of the voice reaching far is achieved through the loud speaker these days.

Chapter 1. How The Adhân Began

706. It was narrated from Muhammad bin 'Abdollâh bin Zaid that his father said that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ was thinking of a horn, and he commanded that a bell be made and it was done. Then 'Abdollâh bin Zaid had a dream. He said: "I saw a man wearing two green garments, carrying a bell. I said to him, 'O slave of Allâh, will you sell the bell?' He said; 'What will you do with it?' I said, 'I will call (the people) to prayer.' He said, 'Shall I not tell you of something better than that?' I said, 'What is it?' He said, 'Say: Allâhu Akbar

(المعجم 3) أبواب الأذان والسنة فيها
فيها (التحفة ...)
Allâhu Akbar, Allâhu Akbar Allâhu Akbar; Ash-hadu an lâ ilâha illallâh, Ash-hadu an lâ ilâha illallâh; Ash-hadu an lâ ilâha illallâh.

Ash-hadu anna Muhammadan Rasulullâh, Ash-hadu anna Muhammadan Rasulullâh; Hayya ‘alas-salâh, Hayya ‘alas-salâh; Hayya ‘alal-falâh, Hayya ‘alal-falâh; Allâhu Akbar Allâhu Akbar; Lâ ilâha illallâh (Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is the Most Great; I bear witness that none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh, I bear witness that none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh; I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allâh, I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allâh; Come to the prayer, Come to the prayer; come to the prosperity, Come to the prosperity; Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is the Most Great; none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh).

‘Abdullâh bin Zaid went out and came to the Messenger of Allâh and told him what he had seen. He said, ‘O Messenger of Allâh, I saw a man wearing two green garments carrying a bell,” and he told him the story. The Messenger of Allâh said, “Your companion has had a dream. Go out with Bilâl to the mosque and teach it to him, for he has a louder voice than you.” I (‘Abdullâh) went out with Bilâl to the mosque, and I started teaching him the words and he was calling them out. ‘Umar bin Al-Khattâb heard the voice and came out saying: "O Messenger of Allâh! By Allâh, I saw the same (dream) as him." (Hasan)

Abu 'Ubaid said: "Abu Bakr Al-Hakami told me that 'Abdullah bin Zaid Al-Ansâri said concerning that:
'I praise Allâh, the Possessor of majesty and honor,
A great deal of praise for the Adhân.
Since the news of it came to me from Allâh,
So due to it, I was honored by the information.
During the three nights.
Each of which increased me in honor.'"

Comments:
a. Allâh sometimes even sends His guidance to a virtuous believer through dreams. That is why the Prophet ﷺ has said: "The dream of a believer is one forty-sixth part of Prophecy." (Sahih Muslim).
b. A mere dream cannot be the basis for deducing any religious principle. The vision seen by 'Abdullah bin Zaid became a tenet of Shari'ah only with the approval of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.
c. Administrative affairs, even in matters of religion, must be decided through mutual consultation among the believers. Matters proven from an express text of the Book or Sunnah are exempt from this requirement. They must be implemented right away.
d. The incident affirms the virtues of 'Abdullah bin Zaid and 'Umar ﷺ.
e. The Mu'adhdhin (caller to prayer) chosen to call the Adhân, should be a person with a louder voice.

707. It was narrated from Sâlim, from his father, that the Prophet ﷺ consulted the people as to how he could call them to the prayer. They suggested a horn, but he disliked that because of the Jews (because the Jews used a horn). Then they suggested a bell but he disliked that because of the Christians (because the Christians used a bell). Then that night the call to the prayer was shown in a dream to a man from among the Ansār whose name was ‘Abdullāh bin Zaid, and to ‘Umar bin Khattāb. The Ansārī man came to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ at night, and the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ commanded Bilāl to give the call to the prayer. (Da‘īf)

Zuhri said: “Bilāl added the phrase “As-salātu khairum minan-nawm (the prayer is better than sleep)” to the call for the morning prayer, and the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ approved of that.” ‘Umar said: “O Messenger of Allāh, I saw the same as he did, but he beat me to it.”

Comments:

a. It was an accepted principle with the Companions that copying the Jews and Christians was not a desirable act.

b. The addition of the sentence meaning: “The prayer is better than sleep” to the Fajr prayer was also made with the approval of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. As such it is also a part of his Sunnah.

Chapter 2. Repeating The Words In The Adhān

708. Ibn Juraij narrated: “Abdul-‘Aziz bin ‘Abdul-Malik bin Abu Mahdhurah narrated from ‘Abdullāh bin Muhairiz who was an orphan under the care of Abu

(المعجم ٢) - بَابُ التَّرْجِيعِ فِي الْآدَانِ
Mahdhorah bin Mi’yar that when he was preparing him to travel to Shām, he said: 'O my uncle, I am going out to Shām, and I will be asked about how you started the Adhān.' So he informed me that. Abu Mahdhorah said: 'I went out with a group of people, and we were somewhere on the road, when the Mu’adh-dhin of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ gave the call to prayer in the presence of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. We heard the voice of the Mu’adh-dhin, and we were shunning it (the Adhān), so we started yelling, imitating it and mocking it. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ heard us, so he sent some people who brought us to sit in front of him. He said: 'Who is the one whose voice I heard so loud?' The people all pointed to me, and they were telling the truth. He sent them all away, but kept me there and said to me: 'Stand up and give the call to prayer.' I stood up and there was nothing more hateful to me than the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and what he was telling me to do. I stood up in front of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ himself taught me the call. He said: "Say: 'Allāhu Akbar Allāhu Akbar, Allāhu Akbar Allāhu Akbar; Ash-hadu an la ilāha illallāh, Ashhada an la ilāha illallāh; Ash-hadu an na Muhammadan Rasulullāh, Ash-hadu an na Muhammadan Rasulullāh (Allāh is the Most Great, Allāh is the Most Great, Allāh is the Most Great)."
Great, Allâh is the Most Great; I bear witness that none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh, I bear witness that none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh; I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allâh, I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allâh).'" Then he said: 'Raise your voice (and say).

Ash-hadu an la ilâha illâllâh, Ash-hadu an la ilâha illâllâh; Ash-hadu anna Muhammadan Rasulullâh, Ash-hadu anna Muhammadan Rasulullâh; Hayya 'alas-salâh, Hayya 'alas-salâh; Hayya 'alal-falâh, Hayya 'alal-falâh; 'Allâhu Akbar Allâhu Akbar; Lâ ilâha illallâh (I bear witness that none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh, I bear witness that none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh; I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allâh, I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allâh; Come to the prayer, come to the prayer; Come to the prosperity, come to the prosperity; Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is the Most Great; none has the right to be worshipped but Allâh).'" Then he called me when I had finished saying the Adhân, and gave me a small bag in which there was some silver.' Then he put his hand on the forelock of Abu Mahdthurah, then passed it over his face, then over his chest, and over his heart, until the hand of the Messenger of Allâh reached his navel. Then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘May Allâh bless you and send blessings upon you.’ I said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh, do you command me to give the call to prayer in Makkah? He said: ‘Yes, I command you (to do so).’ Then all the hatred I had felt towards the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ disappeared, and was replaced with love for the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ. I came to ’Atâ’ bin Asid, the governor of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ in Makkah, and gave the call to prayer with him by command of the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ.” (Sahîh)

He (‘Abdul-’Aziz) said: “Someone who met Abu Mahdhorah told me the same as ‘Abdullah bin Muhairiz told me.”

Comments:

a. On hearing the loud voice of Abu Mahdhorah, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ decided to make him a Mu’adîndhin (caller to prayer). Thus, everyone must be assigned the task in keeping with his ability, so that he is able to do it well.

b. It is also a useful proposition to give awards to children for their encouragement. The award could either be in the form of cash or of something of utility, or just a few words of praise or blessing.

c. If a capable person makes a request for an office or job, it could be assigned to him, although it is not desirable to crave an office or position.

d. The act of repeating the twice uttered words of testimony called Tarjî’ (repetition of recitation) is a Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ. In everyday use it is called ‘Dual Adhàn’. The Mu’adîndhin is at liberty whether to say the Adhàn with or without Tarjî’. Both methods are permissible.

709. It was narrated that Abu Mahdhorah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ taught me the Adhàn with nineteen phrases and the Iqâmah with seventeen. The Adhân is: Allâhu Akbar Allâhu Akbar, Allâhu Akbar Allâhu Akbar; Ash-hadu an lâ ilâha illallâh, Ash-hadu an lâ ilâha illallâh; Ash-hadu anna Muhammadan Rasulullâh, Ash-hadu anna Muhammadan Rasulullâh; Ash-hadu an lâ ilâha illallâh, Ash-hadu an lâ ilâha illallâh; Ash-hadu anna Muhammadan Rasulullâh, Ash-hadu anna Muhammadan Rasulullâh; Hayya ‘alas-salâh, Hayya ‘alas-salâh; Hayya ‘alal-falâh, Hayya ‘alal-falâh; ‘Allâhu Akbar Allâhu Akbar; Lâ ilâha illallâh (Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is the Most Great; Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is the Most Great; I bear witness that none has the right to be worshiped but Allâh, I bear witness that none has the right to be worshiped but Allâh; I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allâh, I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allâh; I bear witness that none has the right to be worshiped but Allâh, I bear witness that none has the right to be worshiped but Allâh; I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allâh, I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allâh; Come to the prayer, come to the prayer; come to the prosperity, come to the prosperity; Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is the Most Great; none has the right to be worshiped but Allâh). And the Iqâmah is seventeen phrases: Allâhu Akbaru Allâhu Akbar, Allâhu Akbaru Allâhu akbar; Ash-hadu an lá ilâha illallâh, Ash-hadu an lá ilâha illallâh; Ash-hadu anna Muhammadan Rasulullâh, Ash-hadu anna Muhammadan Rasulullâh; Hayya 'alas-salâh, Hayya 'alas-salâh; Hayya 'alal-falâh, Hayya 'alal-falâh; Qad qâmatis-salâh, qad qâmatis-salâh; Allâhu Akbar Allâhu Akbar; Lâ ilâha illallâh (Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is the Most Great; I bear witness that none has the right to be worshiped but Allâh, I bear witness that none has the right to be worshiped but Allâh; I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allâh, I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allâh; Come to the prayer, come to the prayer; Come to prosperity, come to the prosperity; the prayer is about to begin, the prayer is about to begin; Allâh is the Most Great, Allâh is the Most Great; none has the right to be worshiped but Allâh).” (Sahîh)

Comments:
Some people say that making Târij in A'dhân is the result of Abu Mahdhurah’s misunderstanding. Had Abu Mahdhurah got it wrong in A'dhân in the days of the Prophet ﷺ, Allâh would have informed the Prophet ﷺ through Wahy (revelation), and he would have communicated the command to Abu Mahdhurah.

Chapter 3. The Sunnah
Regarding the A'dhân

710. 'Abdur-Rahmân bin Sa’d bin 'Ammâr bin Sa’d, who was the Mu’adhdhin\(^{[1]}\) of the Messenger of Allah ⁹⁴, narrated from his grandfather, that the Messenger of Allah ⁹⁴ commanded Bilal to put his fingers in his ears when calling the Adhān, and he said, “It makes the voice louder.” \(\text{(Da'if)}\)

Comments:

As to the chain of narration, the tradition is Weak, but the content is correct.

711. It was narrated from ‘Awn bin Abu Juhaifah that his father said: “I came to the Messenger of Allah ⁹⁴ in Abtah, when he was in a red tent. Bilal came out and gave the call to prayer, turning around and putting his fingers in his ears.” \(\text{(Hasan)}\)

Comments:

a. Even while on journey, it is necessary to call Adhān for the congregational prayer.

b. ‘Turning around in his Adhān’ means turning his face right and left while saying \(\text{Hayya ʾal-ṣalāḥ} \) and \(\text{Hayya ʾal-ṣalāh} \) respectively.

c. It confirms the practice of putting the fingers in one’s ears during Adhān.

712. It was narrated that Ibn ‘Umar said: “The Messenger of Allah ⁹⁴ said: There are two characteristics in which the Muslims are dependent upon their \(\text{Mu’adhdhins} \): their prayer and their fasting.” \(\text{(Da’if)}\)

---

\(^{[1]}\) That is, Sa’d.
It was narrated that Jâbir bin Samurah said: “Bilâl did not delay the Adhân from its proper time, but he sometimes delayed the Iqâmah a little.” (Da‘îf)

Comments:
If the Imâm takes a little time before he comes to lead the prayer, the worshipers should patiently wait for him, and not put forward another man in haste in his place. It is, however, another matter if we know for certain that the regular Imâm is not available to lead the congregation at that time. In that case someone else may be asked to lead the prayer.

It was narrated that ‘Uthmân bin Abûl-‘As said: “The last instruction that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ gave to me was that I should not appoint a Mu‘adh-dîn who took payment for the Adhân.” (Sahîh)

Comments:
a. It is for the Imâm to appoint the Mu‘adh-dîn.
b. It is preferable for a person rendering communal service, not to claim any money in return. However, it is proper to duly compensate him for his services.

It was narrated that Bilâl said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ commanded me (with Tathwib) in the Adhân for Fajr, and he forbade me to do so in the Adhân for 'Ishâ.'" (Da'îf)

Comments:
The word Tathwib used in the context means saying As-salâtâ khairum minan-naum (the prayer is better than sleep). The Hadîth confirms that the words As-salâtâ khairum minan-naum were included in the Adhân for Fajr at the bidding of the Prophet himself.

716. It was narrated that Bilâl came to the Prophet to call him for the Fajr prayer, and was told: "He is sleeping." He said: "As-salâtâ khairum minan-naum, As-salâtâ khairum min an-naum (The prayer is better than sleep, the prayer is better than sleep). These words were approved in the Adhân for the Fajr, and that is how it remained. (Da'îf)

717. It was narrated that Ziyâd bin Hârith As-Sudâ'î said: "I was with the Messenger of Allâh on a journey, and he commanded me to call the Adhân. Bilâl wanted to call the Iqâmah, but the Messenger of Allâh said: 'The brother of Sudâ called the Adhân, and the one who calls the Adhân is the one who calls the Iqâmah.'" (Da'îf)
Adhān And The Sunnah

Chapter 4. What Should Be Said When The Mu'adh-dhin Calls the Adhān

718. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'When the Mu'adh-dhin calls the Adhān, say as he says.'" (Hasan)

Comments:
When the Mu'adh-dhin calls the Adhān we should say as the Mu'adh-dhin says. But when the Mu'adh-dhin says: "Hayya 'alas-salāh (Come for the prayer)" and "Hayya 'adal-falāh (Come to prosperity)" we are to say: "Lā hawla wa la quwwata illā billāh" (There is no change of conditions nor power except by Allāh)." (Muslim: 385).

719. Umm Habibah narrated that when the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was with her on her day and night, and he heard the Mu'adh-dhin calling the Adhān, she heard him saying what he said. (Hasan)

Comments:
When the Mu'adh-dhin calls the Adhān we should say as the Mu'adh-dhin says. However, there is no bar to anybody else's calling it either.

Comments:
It is preferable that the person who calls the Adhān also calls the Iqāmah. However, there is no bar to anybody else's calling it either.
720. It was narrated that Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘When you hear the call (to prayer), say what the Mu‘adh-dhin says.’” (Sahîh)

Comments:
What it all means is that when the Mu‘adh-dhin says Allâhu Akbar, the listener should also say Allâhu Akbar. Thus he should repeat after each phrase. It does not mean that the listener listens silently and repeats the entire Adhân after the Mu‘adh-dhin has finished it (Muslim: 385).

721. It was narrated from Sa‘d bin Abu Waqqâs that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “Whoever says, when he hears the Mu‘adh-dhin, ‘Wa ana Ash-hadu an la ilâha illallâh wahdahu lá sharika lahu, wa ash-hadu anna Muhammadan ‘abduhu wa rasuluhu, radaytu Billâhi rabban wa bi-Islami dinan wa bi Muhammadin nabîyyan (And I bear witness that none has the right to be worshiped but Allâh alone, with no partner, and I bear witness that Muhammad is His slave and Messenger, and I am content with Allâh as my Lord, Islam as my religion and Muhammad as my Prophet),’ his sins will be forgiven to him.” (Sahîh)

Comments:
Tafsîr: اخرجه البخاري، الآذان، باب ما يقول إذا سمع المنذر، ح: 886، ومسلم، الصلاة، باب استجواب القول مثل قول المؤذن لمن سمعه ... النخ، ح: 383 من حديث مالك.
Comments:

a. Affirmation of the Oneness of Allah (monotheism) and the institution of prophethood is the very foundation of Islam and a prerequisite for salvation.

b. To be content with Allah as one’s Lord (Rabb) means to believe in His Lordship as it suits His majesty. The feeling that He alone is the Dispenser of all favours and Provider of all the necessities of life to us, creates a sense of gratitude and love in our hearts.

722. It was narrated that Jâbir bin ‘Abdullâh said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Whoever says when he hears the call to prayer: ’Allâhumma Rabba hâdhhihi-dâ’wat-tâm-mah was-salâtil-qâ’îmah, âti Muhammadanil-wasilata wal-fadilah, wab’athhu maqâm-mahmudanilladhi wa’adthâ (O Allah, Lord of this perfect call and the prayer to be offered, grant Muhammad the privilege (of intercession) and also the eminence, and resurrect him to the praised position that You have promised),’ my intercession for him will be permitted on the Day of Resurrection.’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. There will be intercession on the Day of Resurrection. First of all, the Prophets will be granted this privilege (of intercession). Thereafter, the believers, one by one according to their ranks, will be allowed to intercede.

b. Al-Wasîlah is the name of the highest station in Paradise reserved for the most exalted and loved one of Allah in the entire humankind, i.e., the Prophet Muhammad ﷺ. (Sahih Muslim: 384)

c. Maqâm Mahmud (the praised position) means the privilege of grand intercession on behalf of the the sinners promised by Allah to be granted only to the Last of the Prophets Muhammad ﷺ.

d. These are the only authentic words of supplication after Adhân taught by the Prophet ﷺ.
Chapter 5. The Virtue Of The Adhān And The Reward Of The Mu'adh-dhin

723. It was narrated from 'Abdullāh bin 'Abdur-Rahmān bin Abu Sa’sa’ah that his father, who was under the care of Abu Sa’eed, said: "Abu Sa’eed said to me: 'If you are in the desert, raise your voice when you say the Adhān, for I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: 'No jinn, human, tree or rock will hear it, but it will bear witness for you.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. If a man who is in a lonely place and calls the Adhān for his prayer in obedience to the commands of Allāh and His Prophet ﷺ, even for him the Prophet’s instruction is to call the Adhān in a loud voice.

b. Even inanimate objects have some kind of consciousness which we are not aware of.

c. Conditions in the Hereafter and on the Day of Resurrections will be totally different from the Divine laws operating in this world. Even inanimate objects shall be witnesses for or against human beings.

d. Mu'adh-dhin occupy a place of great eminence near Allāh. The reason being that the Adhān is the doorway to the congregational prayer.

724. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ himself say: 'The Mu'adh-dhin's sins will be forgiven as far as his voice reaches, and every wet and dry thing will pray for forgiveness for him. For the one who attends the prayer, twenty-five Hasanāt (good deeds) will be recorded, and it will be an expiation (for sins committed) between them (the two prayers)."

Comments:
'Sins being forgiven as far as the Mu'adh-dhin's voice reaches' means his sins will be forgiven even if they are so numerous as to occupy such a vast expanse of the earth.

725. It was narrated that 'Esa bin Talhah said: "I heard Mu'âwiyyah bin Abu Sufyân say that Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The Mu'adh-dhins will have the longest necks of all people on the Day of Resurrection."" (Sahih)

Comments:
'Mu'adh-dhin having the longest necks' could either be an expression for their lofty and elevated position, or simply a statement of fact.

726. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'Let the best of you give the call to prayer (Adhân), and let those who are most versed in the Qur'ân lead you in prayer.'" (Da'îf)

Comments: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه أبو داود، الصلواة، باب من أحق بالامة، ح: 590 عن عثمان بن عيسى ضعيف ضعف الجمهور.

727. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbâs said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'Whoever calls the Adhân for seven years, seeking reward (from Allah), Allah will decree for him deliverance from the Fire.'" (Da'îf)
It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “Whoever calls the Adhânic for twelve years, he will be guaranteed Paradise, and for each day sixty Hasanât (good deeds) will be recorded for him by virtue of his Adhānic, and thirty Hasanât by virtue of his Iqâmah.” (Da‘îf)

Comments:
It demands a lot of perseverance to call Adhânic for twelve years without a stop. No one can accomplish it except by Allâh’s help and favor. Hence the glad tiding for those who perform this feat.

Chapter 6. Saying The Phrases Of The Iqâmah Once

It was narrated that Anas bin Mâlik said: “They looked for something by means of which they could call out informing of (the time of) the prayer. Then Bilâl was commanded to say the phrases of the Adhānic twice and the phrases of the Iqâmah once.” (Sahih)
Comments:
For the details of the story kindly refer to Ahadith 706, 707 & 708.

730. It was narrated that Anas said: “Bilāl was commanded to say the phrases of the Adhān twice and the phrases of the Iqāmah once.” (Sahih)

731. 'Abdur-Rahmān bin Sa'd bin 'Ammār bin Sa'd narrated (from his great-grandfather who was the Mu'adh-dhin of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ) that in the Adhān of Bilāl, the phrases were two by two, and in his Iqāmah they were said once. (Da'īf)

732. It was narrated that Abu Rā'f said: “I saw Bilāl calling the Adhān in front of Allāh’s Messenger ﷺ, (saying the phrases) two by two, and saying each phrase once in the Iqāmah.” (Da'īf)

Comments:
If the words of the Adhān are said twice the words of the Iqāmah will also have to be said twice as we have seen in the Hadith 709 narrated by Abu Mahdhirah.
Chapter 7. If The Adhân Is Called And You Are In The Mosque, Then Do Not Leave

733. It was narrated that Abu Sha’thā’ said: “We were sitting in the mosque with Abu Hurairah when the Mu’adh-dhin called the Adhàn. A man got up and walked out of the mosque, and Abu Hurairah followed him with his gaze until he left the mosque. Then Abu Hurairah said: “This man has disobeyed Abul-Qâsim."

(Sahih)

Comments:
Leaving the mosque after the Adhân, as a rule, is prohibited. However, there may be relaxation in the rule if the excuse is valid.

734. It was narrated that ‘Uthmān said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Whoever hears the Adhân when he is in the mosque, then goes out and does not go out for any (legitimate) need and does not intend to return, is a hypocrite.’” (Da’īf)

(Sahih)

Comments:
The reason being that he deliberately declined the merit of joining the congregational prayer. No true believer, aware of the importance of doing of virtuous deeds, can do such a thing.
Comments:

a. The mosque is, without doubt, the most important of all structures in an Islamic state and an Islamic society.

b. In the early days of Islam all devotional acts and non-obligatory prayers were only carried out in the Sacred House at Makkah. But when an organized Islamic authority came into being, after emigration, in Al-Madinah, the first thing the Prophet ﷺ did, was to lay with his own blessed hands, the foundation of a mosque at Qubâ’. He then followed it up with the construction of what came to be called the Prophet’s Mosque. Side by side with the Prophet ﷺ the Emigrants (Muhâjir) and Helpers (Ansâr), with great zeal and fervor, participated in the construction of the mosque.

c. Receiving wages for providing various facilities such as arrangement for lighting and the performance of ablution etc., in the mosque, is permissible in Islam, but it is a highly commendable act if some one donates, free of charge, a piece of land or building materials etc., just for the sake of Allâh.

d. Although the entire face of the earth has been proclaimed as mosque for the Believers, it is not in order to perform prayer in places like garbage dumping spots, animal slaughterhouses, graveyards, baths at public places, camels’ enclosures, and the top of the Sacred House.

e. Mosques play an extremely significant and fundamental role in the building of the Islamic society. The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ used the mosque for a myriad of purposes — as the capital of the Islamic state, as a command center for military expeditions, as a consultation chamber for state affairs, as a public treasury, as an Islamic court, as the first Islamic university, as a Civil secretariat, as a state guest house, and for many other constructive purposes. The Noble Qur’ân, however, particularized the mosque only for purposes of prayer and remembrance of Allâh, and as a place most suited for bowing and prostrating before Allâh, for delivering sermons and for the communication of the Divine message, as well as for the recitation of the Noble Qur’ân and the learning and teaching of the tenets of faith.

f. Management of the mosque and their upkeep is the primary duty of the Believers. But the way the mosques are being increasingly used for purposes contrary to the precepts of the Prophet ﷺ is a matter of great concern, and needs critical examination. For more information about the institution of the mosques and the necessary etiquettes in respect of them, one would do well to study the forthcoming Ahâdîth.
Chapter 1. One Who Builds
A Mosque For The Sake Of Allâh

735. It was narrated that 'Umar bin Khattâb said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Whoever builds a mosque in which the Name of Allâh is mentioned, Allâh will build a house for him in Paradise.'" (Sahîh)

Comments:
a. 'Mentioning the Name of Allâh' means not only the performance of prayer, but also other devotional acts, such as the recitation of prophetic supplications and other texts containing the remembrance of Allâh, and the glorification of His majesty. It also includes giving admonitions, delivering the message of Islam, as well as the learning and teaching of the tenets of Islam.

b. It is great tiding for anyone who participates in the building of a mosque that, as a reward for it, Allâh will build a house for him in Paradise. This amounts to a Divine promise that such a person shall certainly be admitted to Paradise.

736. It was narrated that 'Uthmân bin 'Affân said: "I heard the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ say: 'Whoever builds a mosque for the sake of Allâh, Allâh will build something similar for him in Paradise.'" (Sahîh)
Comments:

a. Building a mosque “for the sake of Allâh” means doing the deed with full sincerity. No action done without sincerity is acceptable to Allâh.

b. ‘Building something similar in Paradise’ means that just as a mosque is superior to all the other structures raised by man, the person concerned shall be given a house in Paradise that will be superior to all others.

737. It was narrated that ‘Ali bin Abu Tâlib said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Whoever builds a mosque for the sake of Allâh (from his own wealth), Allâh will build a house for him in Paradise.’” (Da’if)

738. It was narrated from Jâbir bin ‘Abdullâh that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “Whoever builds a mosque for the sake of Allâh, like a sparrow’s nest or even smaller, Allâh will build for him a house in Paradise.” (Sahih)

Comments:

Rather than the apparent volume of the deed or deeds done by a person, it is the amount of effort and the sincerity behind the righteous deed that shall count with Allâh in the Hereafter.

Chapter 2. Construction Of Lofty Mosque

739. It was narrated that Anas bin Mālik said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'The Hour will not begin until the people compete in (building) mosques.'" (Sahih)

Comments:
'Competing in mosque' has been interpreted in two ways: (i) People will boast of their wealth and prosperity in the mosques. (ii) They will vie with each other in the building of mosques.

740. It was narrated that Ibn ābās said: The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "I see you building your mosque high after I am gone, just as the Jews built their synagogues high and the Christians built their churches high." (Da‘if)

741. It was narrated that 'Umar bin Khattāb said: The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "No people's deeds ever became evil deeds but they started to adorn their places of worship." (Da‘if)

Chapter 3. Where It Is Permissible To Build Mosque

742. It was narrated that Anas bin Mālik said: “The location where the Prophet’s Mosque was built belonged to Banu Najjār. In it there were date-palm trees and graves of the idolaters. The Prophet ﷺ said to them: ‘Name its price.’ They said: ‘We will never take any money for it.’ The Prophet ﷺ built it and they were assisting him, and the Prophet ﷺ was saying: ‘The real life is the life of the Hereafter so forgive the Ansār and the Muhājirūn.’ Before the mosque was built, the Prophet ﷺ would perform prayer wherever he was when the time for prayer came.” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. It is perfectly in order to ‘purchase’ land for the construction of a mosque, and the landowner is allowed in Islam to charge price for the land sold to the mosque management. Similarly, there is no bar to receiving wages for services rendered for the construction, repairs and the putting in place of electric and water supply systems for the mosque.

b. Gifting land for the building of a mosque, rendering free various services for it and donating things of necessity to it, are acts of great virtue that may earn reward from Allāh.

c. It is prohibited to perform prayer in the graveyard. However, if all traces of the former graves of the past have been erased, the site shall be considered as good as any other piece of land, and there will be no bar to the construction of a mosque there.

d. There is no bar either on reciting or on listening to the verses of poetry whose contents are not aganist the teaching of Shari‘ah. Use of musical instruments as accompaniment thereto is, however, prohibited in Islam.

e. In places where there is no mosque in the neighborhood, prayer can be performed on any appropriate piece of land.

743. It was narrated from ʿUthmān bin Abul-ʿAs that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ commanded him to build the mosque of Tâ’if in the place where their Tughuts used to be.\[1\] (Da’if)

744. It was narrated that Ibn ’Umar was asked about gardens in which excrement was thrown. He said: “If it has been watered several times, then perform prayer there,” and he attributed that to the Prophet ﷺ. (Da’if)

Comments:
Repeated watering in the gardens turns the excrements etc., used in them (as manure) into soil and almost completely changes its character. The earth, therefore, should be considered as clean. The Hadith proves that any unclean piece of land, when cleansed, becomes fit for erecting a mosque into it and for performing prayers in it.

Chapter 4. Places Where It Is Disliked To Perform Prayer

745. It was narrated that Abu Sa’eed Khudri said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘All the earth is a mosque, except for graveyards and Hammâm.’” (Sahih)\[2\]

\[1\] ‘Where they used to worship others besides Allâh, from the idols and other than that.’ (Explanation by Sindi).

\[2\] Hammâm: It is the place (it is not restricted to a room) where washing is performed with hot water, and they also say it includes any kind of water. See Tuhfatul-Ahwadhi.
Comments:

a. Prohibition on performing prayers in the graveyard is meant to avoid any resemblance of prostrating before the graves.

b. Some people build their mosque close to the grave of a 'holy man' or Prophet under the assumption that praying by the side of the deceased holy man is a virtuous act. All of this is prohibited in Islam.

746. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "Allah's Messenger prohibited prayer from being performed in seven places: The garbage dump, the slaughtering area, the graveyard, the commonly used road, the bathroom, in the area that camels rest at, and above the Ka'bah."

(Da'if)

Comments:

a. The Hadith is 'Weak', yet the rule to the effect that we must avoid praying in unclean places is correct, since the Prophet has directed that the mosque must be kept clean and smelling good. (See Sunan Ibn Majah: H.758).

b. Slaughterhouses also fall in that category. Therefore, no prayer should be performed there. The Hadith concerning prohibition of prayer in wash areas (public baths) and graveyards is correct. (See no. 745).

[1] In no. 746, it is possible that it means 'watering holes' that camels rest at. See Tuhfatul-Ahwadhi, and this is the meaning that Sindi preferred, he said: "It is where they kneel around water, because it is feared that the camels will flee and stampede through it, and perhaps that will lead to ruining the prayer." And this is the understanding that most commentaries endorse.
747. It was narrated from 'Umar bin Khattāb that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "There are seven places where it is not permissible to perform the prayer: The top of the House of Allāh; graveyards; garbage dumps; slaughterhouses; bathrooms; the area that camels rest, and the main road." (Da'if)

748. It was narrated from Ibn 'Umar that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "There are things which are not befitting for the mosque: it should not be taken as a thoroughfare; weapons should not be unsheathed in it; bows should not be drawn nor arrows shot in it; no one should pass through it carrying raw meat; no prescribed punishment or retaliatory punishment should be carried out in it; and it should not be used as a marketplace." (Da'if)

Comments:

'Not taking the mosque as a thoroughfare' refers to a situation where, for example, a person is standing at one end outside the mosque and wants to go to the other side and, instead of going around the mosque, he decides to pass through the mosque. This is not proper.

749. It was narrated from 'Amr bin Shu'ail, from his father, that his grandfather said: "The Messenger of Allah forbid buying and selling in the mosque, and reciting poetry in the mosque." (Hasan)

Comments:
a. The Hadith further confirms the point made in no.748, namely the prohibition of using the mosque as a marketplace. It is because buying and selling often degenerates into wrangling, giving rise to unseemly noises that are antithetical to the dignity of the mosque.
b. Lines of poetry that promote monotheism and good moral conduct or degrade idolatry and idolaters, are allowed to be recited inside the mosques.

750. It was narrated from Wâthilah bin Asqa' that the Prophet (ﷺ) said: "Keep your infants, your insane and your evil ones away from your mosques. Avoid engaging in transactions and disputes, raising your voices, carrying out your prescribed punishments and unsheathing your swords therein. Make places for purification at their gates, and perfume them with incense on Fridays." (Maudu')

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرج أبو معاذ، الصلوة، باب التحلي يوم الجمعة قبل الصلاة، ح: ۲۲۲: ابن عجلان صرح بالسماح عند أحمد.
Chapter 6. Sleeping In The Mosque

751. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: “We used to sleep in the mosque at the time of the Messenger of Allâh. (Sahih)

Comments:
It is all right if a traveler or any other hard-pressed person sleeps in the mosque. We should not, however, make a habit of it. However, it is not a matter of reproach or censure if a person waiting for the congregational prayer falls asleep in the mosque.

752. Ya'ish bin Qais bin Tikhfah narrated that his father, who was one of the people of Suffah, said: “The Messenger of Allâh said to us: ‘Come with me.’ So we went to the house of ‘Aishah, where we ate and drank. Then the Messenger of Allâh said to us: ‘If you want, you can sleep here, or if you want you can go out to the mosque.’ We said: ‘We will go out to the mosque.’” (Sahih)

Chapter 7. Which Mosque Was Built First?

753. It was narrated that Abu Dharr Al-Chifâri said: ‘I said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh! Which mosque was built first? He said: 'Al-Masjid Al-Harâm (in Makkah).'
I said: 'Then which?' He said: 'Then Al-Masjid Al-Aqsa (in Jerusalem). I said: 'How many years between them?' He said: 'Forty years, but the whole earth is a mosque for you, so pray wherever you are when the time for prayer comes.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The reference here is to the building of the first mosque ever built in history, which was accomplished at the hands of Adam. As for the Prophets Ibrahim and Isma'il, they rebuilt Al-Masjid Al-Harâm after old marks had been erased. Similarly, Sulaimân was also not the first to build Al-Masjid Al-Aqsa.

b. This confirms the superiority of these two mosques. Apart from these two mosques the only other mosque on earth for which we are allowed to undertake an exclusive journey is the Prophet's Mosque at Al-Madinah.

c. Since even setting out on a journey exclusively to visit any mosque (except the three mentioned above) is prohibited, the situation of those who undertake journeys to visit the graves of 'holy men' etc, can very well be judged.

d. Visits to the graves are permitted, but only to draw lessons about the impending death and the life in the Hereafter.

e. 'Pray wherever you are' means that except for the three mosques mentioned above, all other mosques are equal in rank, and we can pray anywhere we like.

Chapter 8. Mosque In Houses

754. Mahmud bin Rabi Al-Ansâri, who remembered that the Messenger of Allah spat a mouthful of water from a bucket into a well that belonged to them, narrated that 'Itbân bin Mâlik As-Sâlîmî who was the chief of his people Banu Sâlîm and had participated in (the battle of) Badr with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: “I came to the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and said: ‘O Messenger of Allâh, my sight is failing and the flood comes and prevents me from reaching the mosque of my people, and it is too hard for me to cross the water. Do you think you could come and perform prayer in my house in a place which I can then take as a place for prayer?’ He said: ‘I will do that.’ The following day, the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ and Abu Bakr came, when the heat of the day had grown intense. He asked permission to enter, and I gave him permission. He did not sit down until he said: ‘Where would you like me to perform prayer for you in your house?’ I showed him the place where I wanted him to pray, so the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ stood and we lined up behind him, and he led us in praying two Rakâh (units). Then I asked him to stay and eat some Khazirah[1] that had been prepared for them.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The Prophet’s spitting a mouthful of water into the well was intended to bring Barakah (blessing) to the water. His spittle (and saliva), as confirmed by both his biographers and compilers of Ahâdîth, had on several occasions worked wonders and brought Barakah to the people. (See Bukhari: 4151)

b. On this occasion the Prophet ﷺ had even sprinkled some water from his mouth on the face of the child Mahmud. (See Bukhari: 77) The idea was to have fun with the child. Thus, any playful activity that provides amusement to the children but causes no discomfort to them is permissible — being it an expression of the elders’ love and affection for the little ones.
c. There was a depression in the path between the house of ’Ibān ﷺ and the mosque that used to be flooded by rain, making his access to the mosque difficult. In situations like this it is allowed to perform prayers inside one’s house.
d. An invitee for the meals can also bring someone else with him, provided that he is sure that it will not be an inconvenience to the host and may be a source of pleasure to him.
e. It is permissible to designate a place for prayers in the house.
f. It is all right to invite or ask a pious person, or a revered personality, to inaugurate a noble program or venture.
g. It is permissible to offer voluntary prayer as a congregational prayer.

755. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that a man among the Anṣār sent word to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ saying: “Come and designate a place in my house where I can perform prayer,’ that was after he had become blind. So he went and did that. (Hasan)

Comments:
The Companion under reference, as specified in the previous Hadith, was ’Ibān ﷺ.

756. It was narrated that Anas bin Mālik said: “One of my paternal uncles made some food for the Prophet ﷺ and said to the Prophet ﷺ: ’I would like you to eat and perform prayer in my house.’ So he went to him, and in his house there was one of these Fahl. He ordered that a corner be swept and water sprinkled in it, then he performed prayer and we prayed with him." (Sahih)

Abu ‘ Abdullah bin Mâjah said: A Fahl is a mat that has become black (through use).

Chapter 9. Purifying And Perfuming The Mosque

757. It was narrated that Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Whoever removes something harmful from the mosque, Allâh will build for him a house in Paradise.’” (Da‘îf)

758. It was narrated from ‘Aishah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ commanded that mosque be built in (Ad-Dur) villages,[1] and that they be purified and perfumed. (Sahih)

Comments:
a. Having just one central mosque in a city or town is not enough. There must be a mosque in each district so that the Believers may perform congregational prayer with facility and ease. It is in order to build a mosque

[1] The areas where large family tribal branches reside as neighbors.
at some distance from the other.
b. ‘Perfuming’ here means burning incense or some other substance producing a sweet odor.

759. It was narrated from 'Âishah that the Messenger of Allâh  commanded that places of prayer be established in villages, and that they be purified and perfumed. (Sahîh)

760. It was narrated that Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri said: “The first person who put lamps in the mosque was Tamim Ad-Dârî.” (Da’îf)

Chapter 10. Repugnance Of Spitting In The Mosque

761. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah and Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri that the Messenger of Allâh  saw some sputum on the wall of the mosque. He picked up a stone and scraped it off, then he said, “If anyone of you needs to spit, he should not spit in front of him or to his right; let him spit to his left or under his left foot.” (Sahîh)
Comments:

a. Keeping the mosque clean is an absolute necessity.

b. It is essential to avoid activities that spoil the purity of mosque.

c. If the floor of the mosque is unmated or muddy and without matting, it is allowed to spit under the foot since once rubbed under the foot the spittle will be absorbed by the soil.

d. Spitting to one's left is only allowed if there is no worshipper on that side.

e. It is not allowed to spit on a solid constructed floor or a rug or carpet—it being against the principle of cleanliness.

f. The Prophet's act of cleaning the wall himself is indicative of his exemplary manners and humility.

762. It was narrated from Anas that the Prophet  saw some sputum in the prayer direction of the mosque and he became so angry that his face turned red. Then a woman from among the Ansar came and scraped it off, and put some Khāluq on that spot. The Messenger of Allah  said: "How good this is." (Da‘if)

Comments:

- It is permissible to express anger on seeing someone doing something abominable.

- Sometimes, mere facial expressions may serve the purpose of admonition.

- It is permissible to give words of praise or appreciation to someone who has done something good.

- Both praise and punishment, whether in the form of a few words or through some other opportune method, are the recognized tools of education.
763. It was narrated that 'Abdullah bin 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allah saw some sputum in the prayer direction of the mosque, when he was praying in front of the people. He scratched it off, then when the prayer was over, he said: 'When anyone of you is performing prayer, Allah is before him, so none of you should spit toward the front while praying.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. Prayer, is an occasion where Allah's slave offers his homage and servitude to his Lord. It is, therefore, contrary to the spirit of that occasion to indulge in acts like spitting towards the front.

b. 'Allah's being before the worshiper' is an expression, which in plain language means Allah's beneficence and mercy being directed towards him.

c. Some people have put forward the claim on the basis of these words that Allah is physically present everywhere. But the argument is not tenable, since if it were the case that Allah was present everywhere, then spitting on one's left and behind should also have been prohibited because, as they put it, Allah is physically present everywhere.

764. It was narrated from 'Aishah that the Prophet scratched some spittle from the prayer direction of the mosque. (Sahih)

Chapter 11. Prohibition Of Making Lost-and-Found Announcements In The Mosque

765. It was narrated from Sulaiman bin Burdah that his father said: "The Messenger of Allah said: 'When anyone of you is performing prayer, Allah is before him, so none of you should spit toward the front while praying.'" (Sahih) Allāh performed prayer, then a man said: 'Who was looking for the red camel?' The Prophet ﷺ said: 'May you not find it! The mosques were built for that for which they were built.'” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The purpose behind the harsh words is to show his disapproval of the announcement. This, in fact, is a form of admonition.

b. Mosques are built for conducting prayers, delivering admonitions, imparting wise counsels and engaging in learning and teaching, not for making searches for things lost outside.

766. It was narrated from ‘Amr bin Shu’ail, from his father, from his grandfather, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ forbade making lost-and-found announcements in the mosque. (Hasan)

767. It was narrated from Abu ‘Abdullāh, the freed slave of Shaddād bin Hād that he heard Abu Hurairah say: “I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: ‘Whoever hears a man making a lost-and-found announcement in the mosque, let him say: ‘May Allāh not return it to you!’ For the mosques were not built for that.’” (Sahih)

768. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: The Messenger of Allah said: “If you cannot find any where (for prayer) except sheep’s resting-places and camels’ resting-places, then perform prayer in the sheep’s resting-places and do not perform prayer in the camels’ resting-places.” (Hasan)

Comments:
The reason behind it is that, if a sheep tries to gore you with its horn, it is not life-threatening, and you can very well defend yourself against it. But if you see a camel bent on mischief, you will be hard put to handle it. Especially, its sudden attack could be fatal. As for a camel sitting at rest, the Prophet is known to have performed his prayer facing it. (See Sahih Al-Bukhāri: 507).

769. It was narrated that ‘Abdullāh bin Mughaffal Al-Muzani said: “The Prophet said: ‘Perform prayer in the sheep’s resting-places and do not perform prayer in the camels’ resting-places, for they were created from the devils.’” (Hasan)

Comments:
‘Camels being created from the devils’ means they are mischievous by nature.

770. ‘Abdul-Malik bin Rabī’ bin Sabrah bin Ma’bad Al-Juhani said: “My father told me, from his father, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘Do not perform prayer in the camels’ resting-places, and perform prayer in the sheep’s resting-places.’” (Sahih)

Chapter 13. Supplication
When Entering The Mosque

771. It was narrated that Fātimah the daughter of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Whenever the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ entered the mosque he would say: ‘Bismillāh, was-salāmu ‘alā Rasūlillāh, Allāhumma gh-firli dhnubi waštah li abwâba rahmatika. (In the Name of Allāh, and peace be upon the Messenger of Allāh. O Allāh, forgive me my sins and open to me the gates of Your mercy).’ When he left he would say: ‘Bismillāh, was-salāmu ‘alā Rasūlillāh, Allāhumma gh-firli dhnubi waštah li abwâba fadlika. (In the Name of Allāh, and peace be upon the Messenger of Allāh. O Allāh, forgive me my sins and open to me the gates of Your bounty).’” (Dai’f)
It was narrated that Abu Humaid As-Sâ‘ïdî said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When anyone of you enters the mosque, let him send peace upon the Prophet, then let him say: ‘Allâhumma fattâh li abwâbaha rahmatik (O Allâh, open to me the gates of Your mercy).'" And when he leaves, let him say: ‘Allâhumma inni as’âluka min fudlika. (O Allâh, I ask of you from Your bounty).'" (Sahih)

Comments:

The purpose of going to the mosque is worship, which would hopefully be the harbinger of Allâh’s mercy. Hence it is that, while entering the mosque we pray for Allâh’s mercy. Once out of the mosque, however, man becomes engrossed in worldly affairs, e.g., the earning of his bread-and-butter. It is, therefore, the time for him to ask for Allâh’s bounty in order to get lawful and blissful sustenance.

It was narrated from Abu Hurâirah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "When anyone of you enters the mosque, let him send peace upon the Prophet, then let him say: ‘Allâhumma aftâhli abwâbâ rahmatik (O Allâh, open to me the gates of Your mercy).'" And when he leaves, let him send peace upon the Prophet and say: ‘Allâhumma ‘sînni min ash-shaitânir-rajîm (O Allâh, protect me from the accursed Shaitân).'" (Sahih)
Comments:
The reason behind asking protection from Satan is that, as long as a person is in the mosque, he is busy in the worship and remembrance of Allâh. Satan, therefore, has no sway over him. But as soon as he comes out of the mosque, Satan sees his opportunity to mislead him in his business affairs. That is the time when the person needs to come under Allâh’s special protection so as to be secure from the evil machinations of Satan.

Chapter 14. Walking To Prayer

774. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘When one of you performs ablution and does it well, then he comes to the mosque with no other motive but prayer and not seeking anything other than the prayer, he does not take one step but Allâh raises him in status one degree thereby, and takes away one of his sins, until he enters the mosque. When he enters the mosque he is in a state of prayer so long as he is waiting for the prayer.’” (Sahih)

Comments:
a. The Hadith confirms the superiority of congregational prayer since it is an established fact, that it is better to perform the voluntary prayers at home.
b. There is much reward for one who performs ablution and does it well.
c. When the reward for just walking towards the mosque is so great that at each step Allâh takes away one of the worshipper’s sins and raises his status one degree, the amount of reward to be awarded to him for the performance of prayer can very well be imagined.
d. There is great reward promised even for those who just wait for the congregational prayer in the mosque. We must, therefore, try to reach the mosque after the call to prayer as soon as possible.
775. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allah سلم said: "When the Iqâmah is called for the prayer, do not come running. Come walking, with tranquility. Whatever you catch up with, pray, and whatever you miss, complete it." (Sahih)

Comments:

a. It is not permitted to come running to the mosque in order to catch up with the prayer.

b. 'Walking with tranquility' does not mean to move at a snail’s pace as if prayer had no value for him.

c. A person joining the prayer at a stage where the Imâm has already completed one Rak‘ah or two, must not follow the Imâm in saying the concluding salutation (Salâm), but say it after completing the missed part of his prayer. In his book Subulus-Salâm, which is a commentary on the well known Hadith book Bulughul-Maram, Imâm Amîr San‘âni says: There is divergence of opinion among the scholars as to whether the part of Salâh the late comer performs with the Imâm should be reckoned as his initial Rak‘ah or the final ones. The truth, however, is that these are to be reckoned as his initial Rak‘ah. And Allâh knows best.

776. It was narrated from Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri that he heard the Messenger of Allâh سلام say: 'Shall I not tell you of something by means of which Allâh expiates for sins and increases good deeds?' They said: 'Yes, O Messenger of Allâh.' He said: 'Performing ablution properly[1] despite difficulties, increasing the number of steps one takes towards the mosque and waiting

[1] See nos. 280, 426, and 427, and this narration preceded under the last of them.
777. It was narrated that 'Abdullâh said: “Whoever would like to meet Allâh tomorrow (i.e. on the Day of Judgment) as a Muslim, let him preserve these five (daily) prayer when the call for them is given, for they are part of the ways of guidance, and Allâh prescribed the ways of guidance to your Prophet ﷺ. By Allâh, if each of you prays in his house, you will have abandoned the Sunnah of your Prophet ﷺ, and if you abandon the Sunnah of your Prophet you will go astray. I remember when no one stayed behind from the prayer except a hypocrite who was known for his hypocrisy. I have seen a man coming supported by two others, until he joined the row (of worshippers). There is no man who purifies himself and does it well, and comes to the mosque and prays there, but for every step that he takes, Allâh raises him in status one degree thereby, and takes away one of his sins.”

(Hasan)

Comments:

a. In 'Abdullâh bin Mas’ûd’s estimation, a true Muslim is one that regularly attends congregational prayers. It means that a defaulter, when he is called before Allâh on the Day of Resurrection after death, will not come as one of the Muslims.
b. If the Sunnah of congregational prayers is abandoned, there will be nothing left to distinguish between the communities of believers and non-believers.

c. The keenness exhibited by the Companions to attend the congregational prayers shows that they did not think it permissible to miss the congregational prayers without a valid reason. That is why even a sick man, unable to walk by himself, would come supported by others to the mosque but would not pray at home.

778. It was narrated that Abu Sa‘eed Al-Khudri said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘Whoever leaves his house for the prayer and says: ‘Allâhumma inni asaluka bi-haqqis-sâilina ‘alaika, wa as'aluka bi-haqqî manishâya hâdâhâ, fa inni lam akhruj asharan wa lâ batran, wa lâ riya’an, wa lâ sum’atan, wa kharajtu-ttiqâ’a sukhtika wabfighâ’marâdâtika, fa’s’aluka an tu’idhâni minan-nâri wa an taghfira li dhunubi, Innahu lâ yaghfrâdhunuba illâ Anta. (O Allâh, I ask You by the right that those who ask of You have over You, and I ask You by virtue of this walking of mine, for I am not going out because of pride or vanity, or to show off or make a reputation, rather I am going out because I fear Your wrath and seek Your pleasure. So I ask You to protect me from the Fire and to forgive me my sins, for no one can forgive sins except You),’ Allâh will turn His Face towards him and seventy thousand angels will pray for his forgiveness.’" (Da’iff)

779. It was narrated that Abu
Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ’Those who walk to the mosque in the dark are those who are diving into the mercy of Allah.’” (Da‘if)

It was narrated that Sahl bin Sa‘d As-Sa‘idi said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ’Give glad tidings, to those who walk to the mosques in the dark, of perfect light on the Day of Resurrection.’” (Hasan)

Comments:
At one of the stages on the Day of Resurrection pitched darkness shall envelop all men. In that situation the believers shall be aided in their walk ahead by the light of their good deeds. The disbelievers shall be shorn of this light. The hypocrites shall get some light initially only to be deprived of it after a few steps. Among the deeds that would help bring this light to the believers would be the fact that they had not allowed the darkness of the night to make them stay away from congregational prayers.
Chapter 15. The Greater The Distance From The Mosque, The Greater The Reward

782. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘The greater the distance from the mosque, the greater the reward.’” (Hasan)

Comments:

a. In it is motivation for those who live at a distance from the mosque, to attend the congregational prayers.

b. Subjecting oneself to unnecessary hardship is not the demand of Shari’ah. But the ease that the Shari’ah gives us does not mean open licence for laziness and inaction. What we must do is remain clear of all extremes and tread the middle path.

783. It was narrated that Ubayy bin Ka’b said: “There was a man among the Ansār whose house was the furthest house in Al-Madinah, yet he never missed prayer with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. I felt sorry for him and said: ‘O so-and-so, why do you not buy a donkey to spare yourself the heat of the scorching sand, to carry you over the stony ground, and keep you away from the vermin on the ground?’ He said: ‘By Allah! I do not want to live so close to Muhammad ﷺ.’ This troubled me until I came to the house of the Prophet ﷺ and mentioned that to him. He called (the man) and asked him, and he said something similar, and said that he was hoping for the reward for his steps. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, ‘You will have that (reward) that you sought.’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. How keen the Companions were to do the deeds of piety and virtue! This incident is but a small example of how the Companions used to bear all the hardship of the path, and walked a long distance to reach the mosque in order to get more reward from Allah.

b. Sincerity towards brethren-in-faith demands that we give them good advice, even though we are not asked to.

c. If a complaint is brought forward against a person, no adverse opinion should be formed without investigation against him. The best thing to do is to ask the person concerned himself what he meant by the ‘improper words’ purportedly spoken by him.

d. A good intention by a believer merits reward from Allah.

784. It was narrated that Anas said: “Banu Salimah wanted to move from their homes to somewhere near the mosque, but the Prophet ﷺ did not want the outskirts of Al-Madinah to be left vacant, so he said: ‘O Banu Salimah, do you not hope for the reward of your footsteps? So they stayed (where they were).’” (Sahih)

Comments:

a. The Prophet ﷺ forbade them to move to a residence near the mosque in order that the outskirts of the city remain well protected from sudden attacks by the enemy.
b. Attending the congregational prayers is a must even for those who live at a distance from the mosque, or else the Prophet would have allowed them to pray at home.

785. It was narrated that Ibn 'Abbās said: “The houses of the Ansār were far from the mosque and they wanted to move closer. Then the following Verse was revealed: ‘We record that which they send before (them), and their traces.’”[1] He said: So they remained (where they were).” (Hasan)

Comments:
For people endowed with firm determination it is better to live at a distance from the mosque. But for the people who do not take the mosque so devoutly, it is better to live close to the mosque, so that they are not tempted to miss their enjoined duty.

Chapter 16. The Virtue Of Prayer In Congregation

786. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allāh said: ‘A man’s prayer in congregation is twenty-some levels higher than his prayer in his house or in the marketplace.’”
(Sahih)

Comments:

a. The timespan allowed to us to act in this world is very limited. It is Allâh's special favor that He bestows great reward over some of our good deeds. We must take advantage of this act of mercy and try to be regular in attending the congregational prayers, in order to win greater reward from Allâh.

b. The Arabic expression Bid' (over 'Ishrin, i.e., twenty) used in the Hadîth means any number between three to nine. Its precise definition appears in the ensuing Ahlîdh that contain the words 'twenty-five times' and 'twenty-seven times'.

c. The numbers mentioned in the Ahlîdh mean the upper limit of reward for the specified acts. Thus, if the level of submissiveness, devotion, and tranquility on the part of the devotee is less, the reward will also be less.

787. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "The prayer in congregation is twenty-five times more virtuous than the prayer of anyone of you on his own." (Sahîh)

788. It was narrated that Abu Sa'eed Al-Khudri said: "The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: 'The prayer of a man in congregation is twenty-five levels higher than his prayer in his home.'" (Sahîh)

789. It was narrated that Ibn 'Umar said: "The Messenger of Allāh said: 'The prayer of a man in congregation is twenty-seven levels more virtuous than a man’s prayer on his own.'” (Sahih)

Comments:

We have Ahādīth that speak of twenty-five times the reward and Ahādīth that speak of twenty-seven times the reward for performing prayers in congregation. Scholars have opined that the difference relates to an increase or decrease in the level of adherence to the norms and rules, as well as the degree of submissiveness in prayers exhibited by the worshipper.

Chapter 17. Severe Warning

Against Missing Prayer In Congregation

791. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allāh said: I was thinking of commanding that the call to prayer be given, then I would tell a man to lead the people in prayer, then I would go out with some other men carrying bundles of wood, and go to people who do not attend the prayer, and burn their houses down around them.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

a. It shows that attending the prayer in congregation is an enjoined duty for men; no such warning or threat of punishment has been mentioned for missing the voluntary prayers.

b. It is allowed to raid the houses of culprits and force them out of their homes without prior warning or notice.

792. It was narrated that Ibn Umm Maktum said: "I said to the Prophet ﷺ: I am an old man and blind; my house is far away, and I have no one to lead me. Is there any concession (for me not to have to attend the prayer in the mosque)?" He said: 'Can you hear the call?' I said: 'Yes.' He said: 'Then I do not find any concession for you.'" (Da'if)

Comments:

a. The Hadith underlines the importance of the prayer in congregation, so much so, that the Prophet ﷺ did not grant any sort of concession, even to Ibn Umm Maktum ﷺ although he was handicapped in several ways.

b. The Prophet ﷺ did not accept Ibn Umm Maktum's request to allow him to stay away from the prayer in congregation, because he ﷺ wanted him to earn more and more reward in the Hereafter. His wish was to create an inducement in him for the congregational prayer although, as we know, a blind man who finds it difficult to attend the prayer in the mosque is allowed to perform it at home as it happened in the case of 'Ibàn bin Mâlik ﷺ (Sunan Ibn Mâjah: 754).
793. It was narrated from Ibn 'Abbâs that the Prophet ﷺ said:

"Whoever hears the call and does not come, his prayer is not valid, except for those who have an excuse." (Sahih)

 Comments:

The prayer being invalid either means that the prayer shall lose its full reward or that the blessing of Allah promised for a prayer in congregation shall be denied to it.

794. Ibn 'Abbâs and Ibn 'Umar narrated that they heard the Prophet ﷺ say on his pulpit:

"People should desist from failing to attend the congregations, otherwise Allah will seal their hearts, and then they will be among the negligent." (Sahih)

 Comments:

a. Pointing out the mistake of a few before the assembly was intended to admonish others, and dissuade them from falling into that error.

b. Pointing out the mistake of someone without naming him is designed to make him concerned, and realize his mistake without humiliating him.

c. Some of the sins could be the cause of the hearts being sealed that would slam the door on reform in the future.

d. Avoiding prayers in congregation is a huge sin, punishable by the sealing of the heart even in this world.

795. It was narrated that Usâmah bin Zaid said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'Let men desist from failing to attend the congregation, otherwise I will burn their houses down."'
(Sahih)

Chapter 18. Performing The 'Ishâ' And Fajr Prayers In Congregation

796. 'Aishah said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'If the people knew what (reward) there is in the 'Ishâ' prayer and Fajr prayer, they would come even if they had to crawl.'"
(Sahih)

Comments:

a. 'If the people knew what there is' is the literal translation of the Arabic words of Hadîth. The 'what' here means the reward and the blessings promised by Allah for the worshippers.

b. Reward and blessings in question have only been promised for prayers performed in congregation.

797. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'The most burdensome prayers for the hypocrites are the 'Ishâ' prayer and the Fajr prayer. If only they knew what (reward) there is in them, they would come to them even if they had to crawl.'"
(Sahih)
Comments:

a. ‘Ishâ’ and Fajr prayers are most burdensome for the hypocrites, because they are quite demanding physically and, in order to perform them in congregation, one has to strive against oneself.

b. Anyone who performs these prayers with fondness and punctuality, practically proves that he is free from hypocrisy.

c. The more burdensome an act of devotion, the more reward would it fetch from Allâh provided that it does not go against the Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ.

798. It was narrated from ‘Umar bin Khattâb that the Prophet ﷺ used to say: “Whoever performs prayer in congregation at the mosque for forty nights, never missing the first Ra’kâh of the ‘Ishâ’ prayer, Allâh will thereby decree for him salvation from the Fire.” (Da‘îf)

Comments:

a. ‘Forty nights’ means (prayers performed for) a continuous period of forty days and nights.

b. Performing the prayers in congregation for forty days on end by a person will have the effect of making him used to it, and enables him to continue with it on a regular basis which, in turn, would earn him Allâh’s pleasure and salvation from Fire.

Chapter 19. Staying In The Mosques And Awaiting The Prayer

799. It was narrated that Abu Hurairah said: “The Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: ‘When one of you enters the mosque, he is in a state of prayer, so long as the prayer keeps him there, and the angels will send prayer upon anyone of you so long as he remains in the place where he prayed, saying: “O Allâh, forgive him; O Allâh, have mercy on him; O Allâh, accept his repentance,” so long as he does not commit Hadath nor disturb anyone.”” (Sahîh)

Comments:

a. We must reach the mosque well before the prayer begins so that we are able to perform the Sunnah and voluntary prayers, or earn reward from Allâh by His remembrance or the recitation of the Noble Qur’ân.

b. Waiting for the start of the obligatory prayer in the mosque fetches as much reward as for the performance of it. Recitation of Allâh’s Names and praises, and the performing of voluntary prayers in the mean time can bring us additional reward.

c. It is extremely rewarding to continue to sit reciting the Names and praises of Allâh at the same place after the completion of the obligatory prayer.

d. (i) ‘So long as he does not disturb anyone’ has also been taken to mean that, as long as he does not affront any worshipper by uttering improper words.

(ii) ‘Committing Hadath’ could mean the passing of the wind which, if done in the mosque, could cause discomfort to the worshippers. And Allâh knows best.

800. It was narrated from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet ﷺ said:

“A Muslim does not regularly attend the mosques to perform prayer and remember Allâh, but Allâh feels happy with him just as the family of one who is absent feels happy when he comes back to them.”” (Sahîh)

Comments:

Allâh’s feeling happy or unhappy is one of the attributes of Allâh. The unanimous view of the pious predecessors regarding the attributes of Allâh is that we believe in them as they are mentioned in the Qur’ân and Ahâdîth.
without either denying them or twisting their meaning, or giving them resemblance to any of the created things.

801. It was narrated that 'Abdullah bin 'Amr said: "We performed the Maghrib (prayer) with the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ, then those who went back went back, and those who stayed, stayed. Then the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ came back in a hurry, out of breath, with his garment pulled up to his knees, and said: 'Be of good cheer, for your Lord has opened one of the gates of heaven and is boasting of you before the angels, saying: "Look at My slaves; they have fulfilled one obligatory duty and are awaiting another."' (Sahih)

Comments:
a. Staying back in the mosque awaiting the prayer is an act of great virtue.
b. Man's knee is not the part of body which it is unlawful to expose before others.
c. Allâh the Glorified, communicates such things to the angels because it was they who had remarked that man will make mischief and shed blood on the earth.

802. It was narrated from Abu Sa'eed that the Messenger of Allâh ﷺ said: "If you see a man frequenting the mosques, then bear witness to his faith. Allâh says: 'The mosques of Allâh shall be maintained only by those who believe in Allâh and the Last Day.'" [Da’if] (At-Taubah 9:18)
